THE WRONG ELEMENT ON TOP.

In revolutions of whatever character the trashiest elements of society always rise to the top as inevitably as the churning of a body of water brings to the surface the debris which would otherwise sink to the bottom. That or something very much like it is what has happened in the State of South Carolina. The old time statesmen, the men of Wade Hampton's stamp, have with a few very notable exceptions been relegated to the background, or have betaken themselves in disgust from the field of political life, and in their stead has sprung up the race of Tillmans and their ilk to make the state a laughing stock and a reproach in the eyes of the country. We never saw a Tillman (we trust we never shall) but unless all signs are an absolute failure the "brute bestial" prevails about as largely in their make-up as is possible. It is a disgrace that such men should play so prominent a part in the affairs of any State with as many nice, decent people in it as has the "Palmetto State," and doubly a disgrace that they should represent her in the councils of the nation. Let us hope there will be a change for better things.

COUNTRY HOMES IN MARYLAND.

As elsewhere stated in the columns of The News, Capt. Allen Lester Fowler, formerly of Chicago, has taken advantage of the cheap land and exceptional natural advantages of Anne Arundel county to make himself a home. He has located on the banks of the Severn, which he enthusiastically designates as the prettiest spot in Maryland, the garden spot of the earth. Captain Fowler says he has traveled all over the world, but has not found in Italy, Greece, France, England or Ireland a place so beautiful as the banks of the Severn. And the locality is as healthful as it is beautiful. Captain Fowler feels well satisfied as a globe-trotter with the spot which he has finally selected as a home.

This testimony is interesting, and may serve to awaken in many Marylanders an appreciation of attractions in our State which are too often ignored by our own people. There is, for instance, a district between Washington and Baltimore, but nearer the latter city, where land can be had at a ridiculously low figure. It is all within a short ride by steam or electric cars of the capital of the United States, and as convenient to the great port of Baltimore. Philadelphia and New York are not far off. The country is pretty, the climate is mild, and the soil is kindly. Located at the point where the North and South meet and clasp hands, this territory is capable of producing anything in the way of fruits, grains and vegetables which can be produced anywhere in the temperate zone. It is a centre to which population must inevitably gravitate. There is to be a chain of great cities along the Atlantic seaboard from North to South, and Baltimore, with its railroad and water facilities, will be one of the greatest. Through these points will flow the vast and ever-increasing commerce moving from the United States to Europe and from Europe to the United States. And from each of these centres will spread a suburban and an inter-urban population which will fill all the surrounding territory.—Baltimore News.

DOUBT HERRAN'S CREDENTIALS

His Authority to Sign Colombian Treaty Questioned.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Senator Morgan, chairman of the interoceanic canal committee, yesterday offered in the senate a resolution questioning the credentials of Thomas Herran, charge d'affaires of Colombia, who recently signed the Isthmian canal treaty. Mr. Aldrich immediately made the point that the subject must be considered in executive session, and the senate went into executive session on the motion of Mr. Hale.

The point which Mr. Morgan made was that the validity of the government which accredited Herran to the United States was doubtful, and that it should be inquired into by the United States. As soon as the doors were closed Mr. Morgan took the floor and discussed the subject at some length. He said there had been an election in Colombia since 1898, and that it was questionable whether the present acting government had authority to send a representative to the United States.

Senator Morgan's resolution, after considerable discussion in executive session, was referred to the committee on foreign relations.

LYNCHED AND CREMATED

After Being Riddled With Bullets Negro Was Burned in His Home.

New Orleans, Jan. 27.—John Thomas, who shot and killed Sheriff Benjamin F. Ory, in St. Charles Parish, early yesterday, was lynched yesterday afternoon. Although wounded in the arm he escaped and hid in the drainage ditch of Ashton plantation a mile away. He was discovered by his pursuers, riddled with bullets placed in his cabin home and cremated, with all of his effects. Thomas was the bully of the section and had assaulted a negro with a pistol. Sheriff Ory went to serve the warrant, and Thomas killed him with a shotgun, the sheriff succeeding in reaching him with one bullet as he fell.

Hubbard Taylor Smith Ill.

Washington, Jan'y 22.—Angelo Boragino, Deputy United States Consul at Genoa, Italy, telegraphs the State Department that Hubbard Taylor Smith, Vice-Consul General of the United States at Cairo, Egypt, is desperately ill in Genoa. Mr. Boragino says Mr. Smith is suffering from a tropical affection of the kidneys and heart.

Mr. Smith is best known as the author of "Listen to My Tale of Woe" and other musical compositions. He has been in the Government service off and on since 1876. Recently he was extremely ill in Cairo, but last month he had sufficiently recovered to start for the United States. He had just reached Genoa on his way home when his present critical illness developed.

No man in the Consular service is more popular than Mr. Smith, who was known to his intimates as "Hub," and great regret was expressed at the State Department when the news came that he was at the point of death. One of his songs, "Sweethearts and Wives," is sung on every naval vessel throughout the world at mess on Christmas night.

ICE DISAPPEARING FROM BAY.

Steamboats Getting Ready To Resume Regular Schedules.

The ice situation in the Chesapeake and its tributaries was much improved yesterday. There is practically no ice below Seven Foot Knoll, and very little is to be seen anywhere along the western shore.

Yesterday morning the Chester River Steamboat Company sent the steamer B. S. Ford to Centreville. The iceboat Latrobe accompanied the steamer to break a channel up the Corsica and Chester rivers. Today the Company will send the Emma A. Ford to Chestertown and hopes to resume its regular schedule on Monday.

Capt. W. C. Ellison, president of the Tolchester Company, received a message yesterday morning from Mr. G. E. Noland, superintendent of Tolchester Beach, saying that the ice extended for more than a mile from the resort, and was very thick.

It was stated at the Baltimore, Chesapeake and Atlantic Railway Company's wharf at Baltimore yesterday that its boats had made all landings and practically no trouble was encountered Thursday night on account of the ice. The St. Mary's of the Weems Line left Baltimore this morning.

A very noticeable effect of the recent cold spell on the boats is that nearly every steamer has had the paint scraped from her hull up to the water line.

MR. VROOMAN'S PLAN FAILS.

Mr. Walter Vrooman, formerly of Baltimore, the leader and backer of the Western Co-Operative Association, who has been conducting a socialistic experiment in Kansas City and neighborhood has decided, according to accounts from there, to dispose of the stores bought by the organization and which were operated on the co-operative plan. The experiment did not prove a success, and, according to Mr. Vrooman's representatives, cost him about $40,000

The stores will be turned over to the individuals who have paid cash for them, and will be in future conducted as any other stores are conducted.

The failure of the plan is attributed to lack of interest shown by the men who had charge of the stores, and, in some instances, to injudicious use of the money of the Co-operative Association. Mr. Vrooman is said to be in New York at present.

DeWitt C. Handley.

DeWitt C. Handley, a well known citizen and formerly a very prosperous farmer of this county, died this morning at the home of Mr. Marion H. Marshall, Horn's Point. Mr. Handley was born in September, 1821, and was therefore nearly 82 years of age. His wife, who was Miss Catharine Sewell, died ten years ago. They had no children. Funeral services will be held at the residence at 1 o'clock Wednesday. The interment will be in Cambridge Cemetery.

February 10 Story Book.

The February 10 Story Book out as usual attracts attention with a most striking cover design. A story by Mary E. Wilkins is featured. General Charles King comes second on the list with "A Honeymoon Hold-up" Among other well known writers in this issue are H S. Canfield, Mrs. Moses P. Handy and Lynn Roby Meekins. In the series of short story masterpieces is presented a snatch by Thomas Hardy, the famous English novelist. Miss Wilkins' story is particularly apropos for the month of February, it being entitled "A Truant Valentine." This popular authoress shows all her old time cleverness in touching the heart strings. As in all her work we find in this production that it is only a step from laughter to tears Gen. Charles King's story is of more than usual interest. In "A Honeymoon Hold-Up" there is the soldier, the bandit and the love-lorn maid, meeting all the requirements of the most romantic enthusiast. H. S. Canfield's story is in his usual happy vein. He deals with Bohemian life, of which he is apparently thoroughly familiar. "The Rout of the Golden Fleece," by Mrs. Moses P. Handy, is a trifle Frenchy, but, nevertheless, it is done so delicately that it cannot offend. "The Lady Penelope," the story by Thomas Hardy, is equal to his best, and that is saying much, for all of those who are familiar with his "Tess." All in all the February issue of 10 Story Book is an exceedingly strong one.

Wedding Anniversary Celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. William L. Brewington celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage by a reception given at their home Thursday night, says a special dispatch from Salisbury. The entire house was brilliantly illuminated and the decorations were mistletoe, palms and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Brewington, assisted by their children, received the guests in the library. All of the local social world called to pay their respects during the evening, and many out-of-town guests were present also. Mr. and Mrs. Brewington were the recipients of many handsome presents in pearl and silver.

Dredge Boat Captains Heavily Fined

During the snow storm on Saturday Commander Howard, in the State steamer Governor Thomas, went up the Choptank river and found about fourteen boats dredging apparently in forbidden waters above the line drawn from the lighthouse near the long wharf, but on account of the snow, it was impossible to locate them exactly on forbidden ground. Five of them, however, had their numbers defaced or concealed. These were put under arrest. Two of them were tried Monday before Justice Sullivan, the trials being concluded that evening. The first one, Al Fisher, pleaded guilty and was fined $50 and costs. The second, Jake Robbins, was tried and found guilty. He was fined $100 and costs. The other three cases have not yet been tried.

Deputy Commander Jesse Stevens, of the local Choptank boat Eagle Willis, was on Monday suspended for one month by Commander Howard for alleged neglect of duty.

Mary A. D. Jones, Plaintiff, vs. Benjamin J. Linthicum and Mary E. Linthicum, his wife; Carrie L. Harrison and Walter M. Harrison, her husband; Henry R. W. Dixon and Charlotte L. Dixon, his wife; and the heirs of Benjamin Dixon, deceased.

In the Circuit Court for Dorchester Co.

No. 2503 Chancery.

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree for the sale and partition of certain real estate in Dorchester county, State of Maryland.

The bill states that Mary A. D. Jones, the plaintiff, and the said Benjamin J. Linthicum, Carrie L. Harrison, Henry R. W. Dixon, and the heirs of Benjamin Dixon, deceased, defendants, are tenants in common of certain valuable real estate located in Dorchester county and State of Maryland, and described as follows:

First, all that dwelling house and lot situate in the village of Church Creek on the north-east side of the county road in said village.

SECOND, all that farm or tract of land situated on the Blackwater river, in Church Creek election district, containing 25 acres of land, more or less; both of the above said pieces of property being the same property mentioned in a deed from James A. Stewart, trustee, to Sarah Dixon, dated March 11th, 1896, and recorded in Liber F. J. H. No. 3, folios 427 and 428, one of the land record books of Dorchester county, and being also the same property that was devised to Eliza Caroline Dixon and Nicey T. Dixon by the said Sarah Dixon by her last last will and testament now of record among the Will Records of Dorchester county in Liber E. W. L. No 2, folios 151 &c.

That the said Mary A. D. Jones and Henry R. W. Dixon are each entitled to a one fourth interest, that the said Benjamin J. Linthicum and Carrie L. Harrison are each entitled to a one eighth interest, that the heirs of Benjamin Dixon, deceased, are entitled between them to a one fourth interest in the said real estate;

That the said real estate is not susceptible of partition without loss or injury to the parties entitled to interests therein as above stated, and that in order to make division of said interests it will be necessary that said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof divided amongst the parties according to their respective interests.

The bill then prays for a sale of said real estate and such other relief as the plaintiff may require, and prays for the writ of subpoena against the resident defendants and for an order of publication against the said Henry R. W. Dixon, Charlotte L. Dixon and the said heirs of Benjamin Dixon, deceased, who are mentioned as non-resident defendants.

It is therefore ordered this 21st day of October by the Circuit Court of Dorchester county, in equity, that the plaintiff by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Dorchester county, once in each of four successive weeks before the 6th day of December next, give notice to the said Henry R. W. Dixon, Charlotte L. Dixon and the heirs of Benjamin Dixon, deceased, the non-resident defendants, of the object and substance of this bill, and warning them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 22nd day of December next, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed.

Miss Annie O. Jones has returned home after a two weeks visit to her cousin, Mrs William Linthicum.

Mr. Charles Richardson, a prominent young man of this place, has accepted a position with the Phillips Hardware Company, Cambridge, and we wish him a world wide success in his new enterprise.

You will enjoy the "Evening of Pictures" at St. Paul's M. P. Church on Friday evening next, given by the pastor, Dr. S. B. Fridway.

Poultry Shippers.

Extended correspondence and much observation leads us to believe that this poultry season will be one of the safest and best for years. Short crops of Turkeys owing to a rainy summer in the Western States is good reason for our prediction. As our trade for fancy Maryland Turkeys increases each year, we will call the poultry shippers attention to it. 47 years continuously in the poultry business means long experience, and good service to shippers. Write for some of our shipping cards. Prompt returns and highest market prices for choice stock, our motto.
