AMERICAN CANDIDATES.

FOR PRESIDENT.

MILLARD FILLMORE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

ANDREW JACKSON DONELSON.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS.

FOR THE STATE AT LARGE:
J. DIXON ROMAN,
JAMES WALLACE.

1st District—ROBERT GOLDSBOROUGH,
2d " EDWIN H. WEBSTER.
3d " CORNELIUS L. L. LEARY,
4th " THOMAS SWANN,
5th " FREDERICK A. SCHLEY,
6th " AUGUSTUS R. SOLLERS.

The Fillmore Club of Westminster will hold a meeting on Tuesday evening next.

A Protracted Meeting is now being held in the M. P. Church of this place, and has been quite successful during the week in conversions.

An unusual press of advertising this week has crowded out the proceedings of the National Whig Convention, the meeting at Brown's and a number of original articles.

☞The Whig National Convention in session at Baltimore last week, endorsed the nomination of FILLMORE for the Presidency, with the greatest unanimity. We regard this movement as equivalent to Fillmore's election.

Robbery in the County.

The House of Mr. Adam Trone, in Myers' District, this county, was broken into and robbed of $100 in money, on Sunday of last week. No person was in or about the house at the time it was entered. Suspicions of a German having committed the deed, are entertained, who has since left the neighborhood. A little while ago Mr. Trone lost $75 in the same way.

The Cause in Ohio

The prospects for the election of our glorious nominees are daily becoming brighter and brighter, and as the day of election draws nigh, the clouds that some time back lowered portentously, are pierced by the sunlight of true American party [illegible]

War from Mexico.

Guaymas has lately [illegible] much alarm, and excites considerable excitement among the officials there, in consequence of a report which had reached the island of a serious difficulty between the Government of Mexico and the British Minister to that country. The affair is represented to have been of so grave a nature, that the Minister had demanded his passports, and orders had been transmitted to Havana for the sailing of a British squadron from that port for Mexico, to enforce the demands.

Fremont and His Religion.

The Charleston Courier, alluding to its previous assertion that Col. Fremont was always regarded as a member of the Catholic Church during his residence in that city, says:

"We agree with the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, and cannot think that Fremont will dare to deny publicly the assertion we have made. Since our first statement of that assertion, we have received corroborative evidence from distinct and independent sources, and we leave it before the public, inviting and requesting a refutation and authoritative contradiction, if such can be given.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—This popular periodical for October has already been received, and contains 60 engravings, 100 pages and 74 articles. There are three full page colored engravings in this number, and some of the most interesting and instructive articles that we have ever read. We will send the Book and Sentinel one year for $3.

Another New Work.

T. B. Peterson, 102 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, has in press, to be ready for sale on Saturday, September 27th, "The Banished Son, and other stories of the Heart," by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz, author of Linda, Rena, Planter's Northern Bride, &c. Complete in one large duodecimo volume, neatly bound in cloth, for $1.25, or in two volumes, paper cover, for $1. Copies of either edition of the work will be sent to any part of the United States, free of postage, on remitting the price of the edition they may wish, to the publisher in a letter.

Holloway's Ointment and Pills. The whole world has, with one voice, endorsed the favor of these wonderful medicines as being the only remedy for old Wounds, Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, even when all other remedies have failed. Sold at the manufactories, No. 80, Maiden Lane, New York, and No. 244, Strand, London; and by all druggists, at 25c., 62½c., and $1 per pot or box.

☞The Democracy will hold a grand rally at Westminster on Thursday, October 23.

☞The bogus democracy of Baltimore last week nominated Robert Clinton Wright as their candidate for Mayor.

☞The steamer Persia sailed from New York for Liverpool on the 17th, with $1,500,000 in specie.

☞DINSMORE'S AMERICAN RAILROAD AND STEAM NAVIGATION GUIDE.—A copy of this work is before us, furnished by the Publisher. It contains correct tables for the time of starting from all stations, distances, fares, &c., on all the Railway lines in the United States and Canadas, together with a railway map; also the principal steamboat and stage lines running in connection with railways. It is an excellent work. Price, 25 cents. Address Dinsmore & Co., 9 Spruce st., New York.

CORRESPONDENCE.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Sept. 16th, 1856.

Mr. Editor: Never since the memorable days of 1840,—nay not even the splendid pageants of that thrilling and excited canvass, nor yet the previous one of 1828—have the political demonstrations of the people of this country assumed such unmistakeable and determined opposition to the Democratic and Abolition parties, and such fervor in behalf of that time-hon ored principle, "Americans to rule America," as at this moment. Every part of the country is in commotion, from East to Westand from North to South; we see, hear or read of in the news papers, immense gatherings of Americans to attest their devotion to the American candidates and the principles they espouse. Indeed, these meetings appear to be a ceaseless succession of human avalanches. A deep, uncontrollable feeling pervades these massive assemblies, and the most sensitive chord in the human bosom—the love of country—seems soonest touched by the reverberating shouts of Young America.

Judging from the "signs of the times," the American party are thoroughly aroused, and are making no small strides towards elevating FILLMORE and DONELSON to the Presidency and Vice Presidency of the United States.—Throughout the State of Ohio, the most energetic measures are employed, and the first men of the party are on the stump. Fillmore papers are springing up, and papers which have heretofore occupied neutral ground, and others which have advocated the election of the other candidates, are running up the only National candidates in the field—Fillmore and Donelson. In sections where Fremont was represented to be the only man known in the contest, Fillmore Clubs are being organized, sound American doctrines proclaimed, and thousands of patriotic men are rushing to the rescue.

Fillmore is the only man in this contest who is capable of guiding the ship of State safely out of anarchy. The old line Whigs of this State are rallying to his support, as his principles approximate nearer to Whig principles and measures than either of the other candidates. It is the innovative duty of every lover of the memory of HENRY CLAY, to oppose the "Platform" candidate, JAMES BUCHANAN, the originator, the projector of the infernal slanders against that incorruptible patriot, HENRY CLAY. If the Whigs have any regard for the memory of the just departed dead, they cannot be so lost to every sense of honor and integrity, as to vote for and support a man who has done more to destroy the Whig party than all other foes combined. Can they embrace and hold to their bosoms the man who was base enough to originate a vile slander, and who never had the manliness to retract it? I like to see men have some consistency, and I think every Whig—if he is or ever was consistant—will do his utmost to defeat the man who is no longer himself, but the "Platform" of a decaying party. They should show him but little favor, he merits none.

Fremont's chances of being elevated to the Presidency are growing "small and beautiful" [illegible] the chance of electing him by the people, [illegible] all if the election goes to the House, Mr. Fillmore will do more towards bringing peace to this distracted country, and bind the Union more firmly with a band of brotherly love, than either of the other candidates. He is the man for the times—the exigencies of the times require that he should be elected. The people themselves deem the election of Fillmore highly essential for the welfare of the Union.

Raise the battle cry! Let the conservative masses rush to the rescue! The battle must be fought—the Union saved. And who is the man to do it? MILLARD FILLMORE. You cannot doubt it, because he has furnished unmistakable proof that he is capable of managing the affairs of the nation.

C. F. D.

To Joseph Shaw, Editor and Proprietor of the "Carroll County Democrat."

FRIEND JOSEPH: I took occasion some days since to counsel thee in relation to thy language, and feeling a strong interest in thy welfare, I must again address thee. In thy paper of the 18th September, thou hast certainly committed many errors; and if thou last any aspirations for preferment among thy fellow men, thou should certainly be more careful. I have been informed that thou art a learned man, a graduate of Dickinson College, and thou should therefore be very cautious in thy conduct, and particularly careful with thy Orthography, thy Etymology and thy Syntax. In thy article above referred to, thou hast most unmercifully mangled thy mother tongue, and given thine adversaries, nay, even thy friends, good reason to set thee down as a perfect ignoramus. Why dost thou spell the same word in two different ways nearly in the same line? Was it because thou wast at a loss as to which was correct? Thou should pay more attention to thy lexicon.

Thou hast spelled many words improperly; for instance, "pear," "manor," "speach," and "pole," which are very easy words, and thou should st be able to spell them without the book; and where the words are polysyllables such as "tendancy," "consumation," and the like, thou should st use thy lexicon. In regard to the spelling of proper names, this is an arbitrary matter, but thou canst see the names of most of our public men published in the papers of the day, and thou mayst, if thou will, learn thence to spell them properly. Bad spelling, friend Joseph, is a mark of ill-breeding; thou should st therefore, in thy present position, endeavour to spell properly.

Next to correct spelling, thou should st use correct language. Thou must not here understand me to refer to the low vulgarity with which thy paper was filled some weeks back; thou seemest truly well posted in that language; but where thou tries t to use the language of a gentleman, and an enlightened christian, thou art wholly at fault. I shall pass over many of thy errors, and call thy attention to one only.

Thou sayest "all the Southern States has promised." Hast thou forgotten, friend Joseph, that "A verb, must agree with the noun, which is its nominative case in number and person." (See Comly's Grammar, Rule 24.) Thou hast also undertaken to manufacture new words; or thou hast in thy possession perhaps an unpublished Dictionary. Wilt thou inform me from whence thou didst get the word "declince," for I have carefully searched in Walker, Webster, Sheridan and Johnson, and cannot find it. Please publish the etymology of the word in thy next issue.

Friend Joseph, I assure thee I am very much interested in thy welfare, but I greatly fear thou hast mistaken thy calling; and I seriously believe that thy capacities are better adapted to the superintendence of thy father's barn-yard, than they are to the publishing of a literary and political journal.

Thy late attempt at polite literature is certainly a perfect failure; whereas, thy former scurrility proves thee well adapted to the business of feeding swine, or driving oxen.—I therefore suggest to thee the propriety of disposing of thy Tropes per so as thou most, for it is evident to every one that thou canst not sound it either with credit to thyself or advantage to thy party, and retire again to thy paternal home, where thy modest virtues will be more fully appreciated, and thou wilt not expose to the world thy want of mental culture and ability. Truly, thy friend,

JONATHAN BROADBRIM.
