FRIDAY, Jan. 27.

To-day, at the appointed hour, the order of the day—the police and election bills—were taken up. The minority report is signed by Senators Smith, of Carroll, and Goldsborough, of Dorchester, and assumes bad consequences from the haste with which the bills was passed. Speeches were made by Mr. Goldsborough, of Dorchester, Mr. Yellott, Mr Kimmell and Mr. Smith, all in opposition to the bills. None of the friends of the measures had spoken up to the hour of closing the report.

E PLURIBUS UNUM

WESTMINSTER:

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1860

The U. S. Senatorship.

The contest in the ranks of the dominant party at Annapolis, for the U. S. Senatorship, waxes hotter and hotter every day. As things stand at present, if our informant be correct, and we think it is not far out of the way, the conflict lies between Pearce, Stewart, Grayson and Hambleton. There is a possibility that the feuds between the friends of these gentlemen may run so high, as to compel them to look out for a compromise candidate.

Democratic Caucus Nominations.

The democratic members of both branches of the Legislature held their caucus on Thursday night of last week to nominate candidates for State Treasurer, State Librarian, and Keeper of Chancery Records. Much discussion ensued as to the claims of the respective candidates to party rewards and honors, and the demands of different counties to have their sections considered in the distribution of party offices. On the first ballot Sprigg Harwood, of Anne Arundel, was declared the nominee for State Treasurer. After several ballotings George H. Waters, of Prince George's, was nominated as keeper of Chancery Records, and Edwin M. Shipley, of Carroll county, as State Librarian

The Speakership.

The National Intelligencer is unable to see any indications that justify a hope of relief from the lamentable state of paralysis in which the Representative branch of Congress, has during seven weeks past, lain helpless; and so unyielding, it remarks is the temper manifested, as almost to extinguish the hope of any organization at all. It must sadden the heart of every true friend of free institutions to witness, on so many successive occasions, the extreme difficulty, not to say incapacity of the popular branch of our Government to discharge its constitutional functions. Well may the shrewd and observant men here who represent the despotic and monarchical institutions of the Old World silently exult in the apparent failure, among the most intelligent people of the earth, of the experiment of self-government, for this palsy in the great popular constituent of our free system renders it, as an element of government, almost a dead failure. What an opening does this disastrous juncture in the House offer for winning an honored name throughout our land, if some manly spirit would rise up, and proclaiming that he for one would no longer consent to obstruct the constitutional duty of the House, call upon all kindred hearts to join him, and, casting away the trammels of party, step forth and redeem the country from despondency and the Government from dishonor!

On Thursday, after two weeks wrangling without a vote, they again commenced balloting, and we had hoped would have ere this, closed the contest, but up to the time of closing our form the farce was still progressing.

Maryland Penitentiary

We are indebted to some considerate friend for a copy of the Report of the President and Directors of the Maryland Penitentiary, made to Governor Hicks, January, 1860, from which we learn that during the two years ending with the above date, the liabilities do not exceed its resources in a larger sum than $10,019 94, without including fuel and provisions on hand, valued at $1,665 28. Taking these articles in the estimate, the losses of the Prison on its business operations during the two years, is reduced to the sum of $8,354 66, and this shows an improvement over its products of the two or three years previous, which encourages the hope that the Institution will pay its expenses in its future operations.

The Warden reports, "We have 422 prisoners in keeping—404 males and 18 females. The highest number we have had in the Institution was 470, in April the 2d of this year, which is 12 more than was in the Institution on the corresponding date of 1858, and 18 more than in 1857, showing a steady increase notwithstanding the relief received by the action of the law of 1858, providing for the sale of free negro convicts. Of those who cannot read or write, 94 are negroes and mulattoes, and 80 are white—total, 174. Of the prisoners, 15 have been sent from Carroll county.

The Disunion Locofocos.

The locofocos at Annapolis are determined to merit the name of disunionists, as will be seen by the proceedings of the Senate. The resolutions of the notorious Freaner came up, and Mr. Yellott moved to add the following:

"Resolved, That the citizens of Maryland cannot regard as a true friend to his country any public man, of any section or party, who advocates the dissolution of the American Union, or a secession of any State or States from this Union; and her representatives in Congress would misrepresent the wishes of her people by voting for any such man for Speaker, or for any other office."

The Locofocos voted to lay this resolution on the table. Keep this before the people. Is there a democrat who doesn't feel ashamed of his party in the legislature? They say by their votes that they are in favor of a man for Speaker of the House of Representatives, who proposes a dissolution of the Union. The leaders of the party in Maryland have fairly taken their position on the Union question, and have declared they favor its dissolution. Is there no hemp for such traitors?

A Day of State Conventions.

The 22d of February, the anniversary of the birth of Washington, will be a great day this year for the holding of State conventions. The opposition convention of Tennessee will meet at Nashville; the democratic convention of Iowa will meet at Des Moines; the democratic convention of Michigan will meet in Detroit; the whig convention of North Carolina will meet in Raleigh; the people's party convention of Pennsylvania will meet in Harrisburg; the opposition convention of Virginia will meet in Richmond, and the republican convention of Indiana will meet in Indianapolis.

Retributive Justice.

A little more than a week ago a poor woman, the wife of a laborer and the mother of a family of young children, was cruelly and wantonly murdered in the western part of Baltimore city.—The sharp word which it is the license of her sex to give, was repaid by the sharper crack of the pistol, and a murdered woman, hanging from the window of her own house, with her blood bespattering the pavement below, was the shocking spectacle presented to the husband from whom the wife had parted but a few minutes before without any anticipation that death was already hovering over her. There was no doubt then, nor has there been since, as to who committed that murder. A noted desperado, hardly equalled even among his own class for truculent ferocity, was strongly suspected of having perpetrated the shocking deed. The suspicion though strong, was not of the nature of legal evidence, and no measures were taken to strengthen it by any official investigation. Perhaps such an effort would have been useless, for the suspected murderer belonged to class that are free of the law. On Friday morning this man perished miserably, after hours of agonized suffering. The law of violence by which he lived brought its penalty even to him; a chance shot, whether given in anger or in the gentle playfulness of a "freeman's spirit" it is hardly worth inquiring, fired by one of his own associates in their midnight rendezvous, was unerringly directed by retributive justice, and the outlaw met an outlaw's death. It would be an affectation to express anything like regret over such a result. The party who fired the pistol may deserve the punishment of the law as much as if his recklessness or carelessness had sacrificed a valuable life, but the consequence of his act is one over which the community will have no regrets to waste. It is but another example of that retribution which in that city within the last ten years has so repeatedly brought desperadoes who have defied the law and oppressed society with their misdeeds, to an accountability from which they could not escape.

Old Sam and the Union.

General Houston devotes much of his Inaugural to the Union. It's a favorite topic with him, but he doesn't talk right out, as he used to do, upon it, since he has gone back into the ranks of Locofocoism. It is strange how the least meddling with this political organization, tends to poison the better nature of a man. It is the Upas tree—its poison taints even the air in which it grows.

The time was when it was refreshing to hear Old Sam on the Union, but now, he talks about the rights of Texas as a slave State, as if any party sought to deprive her of them. But there is still enough left to show how brightly the Union fire burns on the old man's heart. He holds, as we do, that when the political thoughts of a man become treason, the utterer of them is a traitor to the whole country. There is no real cause of alarm, however, in his view of the case, (we believe he is right,) but he maintains the right every where in the nation, to hold adverse opinions, and to express them boldly and fearlessly.—He exhorts the Representatives in Congress, to seek to bring back fraternal concord.

Earthquake in Central America.

The earthquake which was felt in Guatemala on the evening of the 8th ult., did much damage in Salvador. It was almost equal in violence to that of the 16th of April, 1854. A letter says:

At Dolores Izalco the parish church was nearly destroyed, the two towers and bells falling, and the walls being broken on all sides. Thirty-two houses fell to the ground, and all were injured. During the night several other shocks did some damage. At Tepecoya the church, city hall and several houses were destroyed. In almost all the towns which felt the shock the churches and town halls, (these always being the largest and most solid buildings,) were either destroyed or greatly damaged. In Nanhuisalco, after the earthquake had destroyed several houses, a fire broke out which burned 200 houses, or nearly the whole town. On the night of the 10th, at 9½ o'clock, there were two more severe shocks. No loss of life is reported.

From Mexico.

A letter from the City of Mexico, dated January 5, confirms the details previously published of the engagement between the Miramon and Juarez forces at Collima and the disastrous defeat of the latter, although their numbers largely exceeded those under Miramon. A newspaper was about to make its appearance in advocacy of a Papal monarchy in Mexico. General Marquez was still in prison. Miramon was to re-enter the capitol on the sixth of January, and was immediately to leave on his expedition against Vera Cruz.

Methodist Conferences.

The Baltimore and East Baltimore Conferences will both assemble on the 29th of February, instant. The first named will assemble at Winchester, Va., and be presided over by Bishop Simpson. The East Baltimore Conference will meet at Lewisburg, Pa., and will be presided over by Bishop Morris.—These will be amongst the most important sessions of those bodies, as delegates will be elected to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, north, to assemble at Buffalo, N. Y., on the 1st of May.

Severe Punishment.

There is a person in the Massachusetts State Prison under a sentence of fourteen years imprisonment for petty larceny, and another for ten years for the same offence. These fearful sentences were inflicted by courts to appease local excitements! In the same prison is a man sentenced for eighteen months for bigamy, in successively marrying and deserting four respectable young women, under no extenuating circumstances.—They seem to be experimenting in Massachusetts in a strange way.

Stephens and Hazlett.

The Legislature of Virginia having authorized a special term of the Circuit Court for the County of Jefferson, Judge Parker has directed notice to be given that the term would commence on the 1st of February. It is understood that Stephens and Hazlett, two of the Harper's Ferry conspirators, will be tried. Business not reached at the last regular term is also to be dispatched.

The New China War.

The late advices from England state that the export of ammunition, guns, shot, shells, wagons, smiths' forges, intrenching carts and tools, clothing, harness, hospital stores, provisions, &c., is proceeded with the utmost diligence, and every department throughout Woolwich arsenal is engaged in preparations for the war with China. The second batch of ten guns made in the rifle gun factories at Woolwich was fired, experimentally, with perfect success. The engagement to turn out for proof twenty guns per week has been, thus far, fulfilled to the letter. The "Khersonese," of 1,272 tons burden, is now at Woolwich, preparing to embark marines.—She is the seventh transport taken up in the Chinese service.

Bursting a Stump.

Mr. John McClendon, at Hickory Grove, Ga., wishing to have some fun, ordered his negro man a few days ago, to bore a hole in a Hickory Stump, ram and plug it with powder. The negro did so, but before he was ready to touch it off, a lighted candle fell on some scattered powder which communicated with that in the stump, burst the stump to flinders, and mortally wounded three persons, including Mr. McClendon himself, who died the same night.

Holloways Pills and Ointment.

Beware of Imposture! The public are hereby informed of a sure test whereby to ascertain the genuineness or the contrary of these medicines. This consists of a water-mark—the words "Holloway New York and London," in semi-transparent letters in every leaf of the book of directions around each box or pot.

Sold at the manufactory, No. 80 Maiden Lane, New York, and by all druggists, at 25c., 63c., and $1 per box or pot.

No Distribution of Seeds.

We learn from the Washington Evening Star that there will be no distribution of seeds from the Patent Office this year. The office, from the limited appropriation of last year, has been circumscribed in its operations, and therefore unable to purchase seed for distribution as heretofore.

Awful Loss of Life.

The Ship Flora Temple, of Baltimore, was wrecked in the China Sea, on the 14th of October, on her way from Macao, with a crew of fifty, and eight hundred and fifty laborers, (called coolies,) from China. The whole number of Chinese perished, and 18 of the crew!

☞ At Easton, recently, a German died on a Friday morning before daylight, was buried about noon, and the same afternoon his goods were sold at auction. Rather quick work, that.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY is no picture Magazine, each issue comprising about 150 pages of solid reading matter of the most interesting and instructive character, furnished by authorsin both sides the Atlantic The February issue alone is almost worth the price of subscription for an entire year Published by Ticknor and Fields, Boston, at $3 per annum.

THE GENESEE FARMER is the title of a profusely illustrated and ably conducted agricultural journal, published monthly at Rochester, N. Y., by Joseph Harris, at 50 cents a year, in advance, five copies for $2 Too cheap to be good, the reader may think but we assure all that it is a first class journal, eminently worthy of enlarged support.

THE MAN IN BLACK.—An Historical Romance of the days of Queen Anne, by G. P. R. James, the most exciting novel writer of the age. Published by T. B Peterson and Brothers, Philadelphia, in one volume of 160 pages. Price 50 cents. We have not had leisure to read it, but by way of recommendation quote the remarks of the Editor of Forney's Daily Press: "We spoke highly of the Man in Black, and it merited, of "The Man in Black," a new romance by G. P. R. James,—equal, we think, to the very best of the numerous fictions with which he has enriched our literature. We have been tempted, by the singular and fascinating interest of the story, to reperuse it, and our opinion of its remarkable merit has there by been greatly strengthened. It is a tale of domestic life, the scene in England, and the incidents, characters, and manners, belonging to the Augustan reign of Queen Anne.—From the first sentence to the last, the attention of the reader is never allowed to flag.—He who reads the first chapter cannot help himself—he must read the book right through to the end, without laying it aside, and then grieve that he has arrived at a conclusion.—"The Man in Black" is a work of great ability, almost unequalled in dramatic force, and we would advise all that love to read a good book to get this at once.

BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURG MAGAZINE.—The January issue comprises the following interesting table of contents: St. Stephens; Norman Sinclair: an Autobiography; Mr. Bull's Song; The Sly Little Man; The Elements of Drawing; The Last French Hero: being some chapters of a very French Novel not yet published; The Luck of Ladysmede; The Public Service; Rambles at Random in the Southern States; The Voyage of the "Fox" in the Arctic Seas.—Price $3 a year. Price of Blackwood and any one of the Four Reviews, $5; the four Reviews and Blackwood, $10. Address Leonard Scott & Co., 79 Fulton street, New York.

The difficulties in the Cabinet at Washington are stated to be first with Postmaster General Holt, who refuses to hold office unless liberty is given him to remove Isaac Cook from the Chicago Post office; second, with the Secretary of War, who insists on ordering off to Florida Captain Montgomery C. Meigs, now engaged on the aqueduct in Washington. Jefferson Davis and Senator Toombs resent this, and the President takes part with them. Mr. Floyd, however, seems resolved to have his own way.

☞ A man by the name of Crozier, recently denounced Henry Winter Davis in very coarse language, whereupon Parson Brownlow rebuked the speaker with the remark, that it was distance that nerved him to say, what in Mr. D.'s presence, he would no more think of saying, than "to run his arm into a common hickory fire."

☞ The coolness with which the President undertakes to interfere in the election of Speaker, is only a precursor of what we may expect, if the Aristocratic dynasty is continued in power.—We shall have some Bonaparte entering Congress at the head of a file of marines, and compelling them to do his bidding.

☞ Senator Bigler has introduced a bill in Congress to punish hostile expeditions from one State against another, making the offence treason; and any person who happens to know about the fitting out of any such expedition and does not disclose, shall be fined and imprisoned.

☞ A young man, calling himself Davis Ferguson, and other aliases, has been traveling recently through Wisconsin and Iowa, and doing a large business in the way of marrying young girls and appropriating other people's property Within three weeks he married, no less than six wives.

☞ It is said to be a fact, that the Government pays the Oregon and California members of Congress $7,000 a session for mileage, and yet these same members travel to Washington on free passes.

Pennsylvania has spoken out boldly and truly through her Legislature, in placing the responsibility of the non-organization of Congress upon the shoulders of the Aristocratic party, led on by the President.

REV. WILLIAM COSGROVE,
No. 330 Sabin Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.
January 12,—3m.

THE PECULIARITIES of the female constitution and the various trials to which the sex is subjected, demand an occasional recourse to stimulants. It is important, however, that these shall be of a harmless nature, and at the same time accomplish the desired end. Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters is the very article. Its effects in all cases of debility are almost magical. It invigorates the tone of the digestive organs, infuses fresh vitality into the whole system, and gives that cheerfulness to the temperament which is the most valuable of feminine attractions. The proprietors feel fastened from the fact that many of the most prominent medical gentlemen in the Union have bestowed encomiums upon the Bitters, the virtues of which they have frequently tested and acknowledged. There are numerous counterfeits offered for sale, all of which are destitute of merit, and positively injurious to the system.

OBITUARY

On the death of ADDISON D. ZEPP, who died January 13th, in the 23d year of his age.

"Death with love a shining mark."

In the midst of life we are in death; there are indeed solemn words, and it is upon a solemn occasion that we hear them. Death has rent red our midst, and taken from us a friend and brother, one whom we loved and honored as a friend, and whom as a christian we cherished; and his death has scattered sorrow here and sorrow there,—but time in its remorseless career sweeps before him the young and active, along with the aged and infirm In the hands of God rests the line of our existence, in one moment He may see fit to snap it asunder, and the silver cord be loosened, the golden bowl broken. Thus it is that friend after friend departs, and star after star fades from our firmament. Hearts that beat warm and high when the flowers bloomed in spring, when the flowers fell and withered in autumn have been laid in the cold icy hand of death. But why should we grieve for our friends?—By giving them up are we not adding angels to Heaven, and though the ties of love are broken, and loved ones separated will they not again be united in

"——a land of pure delight,
Where saint's immortal reign;
Infinite day excludes the night,
And pleasure banish pain."

The subject of this humble memorial died in the full hope of everlasting life, and left behind him the glorious assurance that "Jesus was with him," and that he had secured "an inheritance incorruptible, undefiled and that fadeth not away, reserved in Heaven." Happy are the dead who die in the Lord, and who numbered among the blood washed throng, who have washed their robes in the blood of the Lamb; and whilst parents and friends mourn for a loved son and cherished companion, let us take courage knowing that though mortal eyes behold him no more, eyes immortal will see him in the resurrection, beaming with the glory of an incorruptible body. And though his form is no longer seen at the family fireside, he has entered the Heavenly kingdom, and stands in glory in the presence of the Eternal. Around his grave will cluster many precious memories, and his friends as they pass the solemn place will point to the little spot, and promptly acknowledge that the silent tomb before them contains the ashes of a dutiful son, a faithful friend, and an humble christian.

His grave shall be a blessed shrine,
Adorned with nature's brightest wreath;
Each glowing season shall combine,
To incense there to breathe;
And oft upon the midnight air
Shall viewless harps be murmuring there

BALTIMORE MARKET.

FEBRUARY 1.—FLOUR AND MEAL.—The market for all descriptions of Flour continues very quiet, and the only sale reported to day was 300 bbls City Mills Super at $5 25 per bbl; we continue to quote City Mills Super at 5 25@5 37½, and Howard street and Ohio do, at $5 50 per bbl, but although the demand is very limited holders do not seem generally disposed to press sales. Extra is unchanged in price, viz: 5 75@5 87½ for choice brands of Ohio, 5 87½@6 for Howard street, and 6 12½@6 37½ per bbl for City Mills. READ! READ! READ!—"Ye afflicted read," the following Certificate of a cure of over 20 years' standing:

H. T. HELMBOLD.—Dear Sir: I have been troubled with an affliction of the Bladder and Kidneys for over twenty years. I have tried Physicians in vain, and at last concluded to give your Genuine Preparation a trial, as I had heard it highly spoken of. It afforded me immediate relief. I have used three bottles, and I have obtained more relief from its effects and feel much better than I have for twenty years previous. I have the greatest faith in its virtues and curative powers, and shall do all in my power to make it known to the afflicted. Hoping this may prove advantageous to you in assisting you to introduce the medicine,

I am truly yours, M. MCCORMICK.
