SWEEPING REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN CARROLL COUNTY PREDICTED

The tour of Messrs. Goldsborough, Soper and Cunningham, the Republican state candidates, a notice of which appeared in the last issue of The Sentinel, began Monday morning, at Tannery, this county. A large delegation of enthusiastic Republicans in fifteen automobiles belonging to Messrs. Henry Cassell, E. M. Newton, Russell V. Lewis, George L. Stocksdale, Joseph L. Mathias, Theo. Englar, Elias G. Shipley, Oscar D. Gilbert, Geo. K. Mather, Jacob H. Handley Monroe Englar, Andrew P. Frizzell, Samuel H. Mehring, Nathan Zentz and Jacob Brehm, and all decorated with flags and posters met Mr. Goldsborough and Mr. Soper at the station on the Western Maryland Railroad, and after all of the candidates, including both state and local ones, had made a tour of the large Schlosser Tannery and had shaken hands with all of the employes the line of automobiles was headed for Hampstead with Messrs. Goldsborough, Soper and representatieves of the Sun and The American in Mr. E. M. Newton's powerful National car in the lead.

Upon reaching Hampstead the candidates were met at the upper end of the town by a large band of music and escorted to the Firemen's Building where a large audience of representative citizens and all the school children of the high school greeted them. After short addresses by Messrs. Cunningham, Soper and Goldsborough, the party proceeded to Manchester. At Hampstead the delegation was joined by Mr. Charles H. Sapp and a number of his friends in Mr. Sapp's automobile. A short stop was made at Manchester to give the candidates, both state and local, an opportunity to speak to a number of the citizens. No speeches were made. The next stop was at Union Mills. Here the delegation was met by the large Union Mills Band and escorted to the public hall where an adjournment was had for dinner. Mr. Ira G. Lawyer entertained the candidates and the delegation at an elegant dinner, after which Messrs. Cunningham Soper and Goldsborough delivered short addresses. The turnpike in front of the hall was packed with citizens who listened attentively to every word uttered by the speakers.

The next stop was at Taneytown, Gibralter of Republicanism, of this county. Here the candidates were received by a crowd that filled the square and that listened—as they always do in Taneytown—to excellent addresses by Messrs. Cunningham, Soper and Goldsborough. Brief stops were then made at Keymar and Middleburg. Union Bridge was reached in the middle of the afternoon. The candidates, both state and local, called upon many of the residents, and an address was delivered by Mr. Cunningham. Mr. Goldsborough's Mr. Soper's time was taken up in shaking hands with a large number of Republicans and Democrats who promised them their support.

After a brief visit to the Tidewater Cement and Lime Plant the delegation headed for New Windsor, where a large, enthusiastic and representative audience awaited it. A temporary platform had been erected in front of the Presbyterian Church and from it Messrs. Cunningham, Soper and Goldsborough delivered three excellent addresses. Here, as at every other place, the audience listened attentively and cheered the candidates whenever a telling point was made. The delegation arrived in this city at 6 p. m., tired, dusty and hungry, but mighty happy and very much encouraged. Messrs. C. J. Ganter, of Manchester, and W. Frank Thomas, of this city, joined the delegation at Union Mills.

The mass meeting at the Court House at 8 p. m., was a success in every way. The large court room, the four communicating rooms, aisles, stairways and downstairs hall were simply packed with people eager to hear the addresses of Messrs Cunningham, Soper and Goldsborough, and Mr. Frank E. Williams, editor of the Cecil Whig. Many of them could not get into the building and were compelled to go away. The First Regiment Band furnished the music. Dr. Geo. E. Baughman presided and made two short and telling speeches. After the meeting Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham entertained the state candidates and a large number of citizens at lunch. Messrs. Goldsborough and Soper being compelled to keep an engagement in Baltimore early Tuesday morning left Westminster Monday night, in Mr. E. M. Newton's automobile, driven by Mr. Edward Baker, of New Windsor, for Reisterstown, where they caught a trolley car for Baltimore.

It was a successful tour and a successful meeting and everything points to a sweeping Republican victory in Carroll this year.

Why She Chose the Gown.

A woman in Cherryvale, Kan., was allowed her choice between a new parlor rug and a summer gown. The Journal says that after three sleepless nights she decided on the dress. She argued: "I can darken the parlor and the rug will look all right in subdued light, and besides, hundreds of folks will see the dress who would never see the rug."

The Sleep of Children.

There is no physiological reason for concluding that either the night or the morning sleep is the more healthful. Children are, generally, night-sleepers, nevertheless there are children who, after they reach their third year, sleep in the morning. If a child sleeps late, there is no reason for anxiety as long as his sleep is calm and of adequate length.

Electric Light for Sterilizing Milk.

Scientific American.

We read in a Daily Consular Report a note from Consular Mahin, of Amsterdam, according to which a local periodical refers to the effect of ultra-violet beams on bacteria and to the fact that such beams are abundantly developed by mercury incandescent lamps, and relates that through this medium milk may now be sterilized in a few minutes. An apparatus has been constructed, it is explained, whereby the milk flows in a thin stream along an electric light. Demonstrations were first made with water infected with different kinds of bacteria, and it is said that the water was purified in a few minutes, without appreciably increasing its temperature. The result is attributed to the ozone formed under the influence of the light, but the demonstrations must be conducted where there is sufficient room for the light, to burn freely. This method of sterilization, without heating or adding preservatives, is believed to have great hygienic value in respect to nursing children.

Towing Locomotives for the Panama Canal.

Scientific American.

The Isthmain Canal Commission will shortly advertise bids for an experimental towing locomotive for towing vessels through the locks of the Panama Canal. Should this machine be successful, bids will be asked for thirty-nine more. Four locomotives will be used for each vessel, one on each bow and one on each quarter. The locomotives will run on rack railways, and they will be sufficiently powerful to hold the largest vessel in absolute control.
