EIGHTH ANNUAL REPORT
OF THE
President and Directors
OF THE
Western Maryland Railroad Company
TO THE STOCKHOLDERS
AT THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.

GENTLEMEN: Another year has transpired since you were called together for the purpose for which you are now assembled,—to choose your representatives to conduct and promote the great interests which you have at stake in the welfare of this Road.

It may not be misplaced to remind you that the expiring fiscal year of this Company has been fraught with changes in the commercial, financial and political world of the most momentous and disastrous consequences to every enterprise and pursuit in life, perhaps, that of agriculture; the products of which, in the keeping of a benign Providence, you have been enabled to secure and safely house. None have felt the terrible blight of the hand of war and political dissensions that have been raging through the land more than undersigned; like that in which we are to-day, and have been for the last four years, embarked in.

We appreciate the force of this remark more fully, when we note the fact that the Western Maryland Railroad has been builed throughout the land in the public prints, as being one of but two roads at this time in this country that are in progress of construction.

As these facts are staring you in the face with all the force of their dread reality, we would remind you to shelve not your pace yet, but to keep steadily on until the goal is reached, Your Board have had many trials and difficulties, perhaps more than have or will devolve upon any other year in the existence of this Road, yet they are not disheartened, and counsel you all to keep steadily on with every means in your power, which are the friends of the Road, have always been willing and ready to accord. Until every rail is laid, we want your friendship, counsel and aid, rather than the apathy and indifference which has been manifested by some whose interests would point out a different course.

While the City of our State is passing through an ordeal of commercial pay and distrust, and merchants and manufacturers are compelled to surrender securities to meet their necessity wants, it cannot be expected that we should obtain much, if anyaid, from them, but rather from our assistance we should, by whatever means remain in our power, render them that assistance which a just pride for our Superiors would prompt us to give. To no better way do we think can this be done, than by extending aid and fostering interests so with them, at the same time enriching the well known prosperity of our fertile lands. But we ask aid of our friends in the city that unshaken confidence in our work which its character justly merits.

We think the present crisis with its vandalism has fully demonstrated the fact, that local Roads of this character are much less liable, if not entirely exempt from the destructive results of sectional animosity, and we have no doubt that if the Western Maryland Railroad were linked to Hagerstown, its extension to Cumberland would be but a question of the shortest time, and a Road to the West over soil not unfriendly to Maryland interests, would be of no mean advantage.

Since your assembling here one year ago, twelve miles of track have been laid, and now reaches to Turkey-foot Branch, which waters the fertile fields of Wakefield Valley,—and we are assured by the Contractors that by the first of December, the rails will be laid to New Windsor, and in running order. The Iron already purchased will lay thirty eight and one-quarter miles, of which one and one quarter is occupied by siding and turnouts, leaving thirty-seven miles of continuous single track from the Relay House Westward, to a point one mile beyond New Windsor, leaving but three miles of Iron to be provided for, to reach Union Bridge, to which place every effort should be exerted from now forward, and it should not be unsparing in reaching as early in the winter as is possible.

A passenger and freight station have been built at Westminster; a new Locomotive of superior construction has been put upon the road, two new Passenger Cars have been added for the accomodation and comfort of passengers; eight new lime cars are in use, and ten new house freight cars, under construction, soon to be finished. The cars, of all classes, now on the road number thirty-four.

The entire grading is now finished, with the exception of about one hundred yards, on the farm of Jonas Smith, Esq., one and a half miles East of New Windsor,—which is rapidly being pushed forward, and will be completed in about three weeks. The completion of this part of the work would have been done long ere this, had not very unexpected difficulties been encountered by exhorbitant claims for the right of way. Two suits are still pending; the result of three injunctions granted to suspend operations at a point East of Westminster in April last; the injunctions were suspended by agreement of Council, and one of the cases settled. A suit for Stock subscription in progress of trial at this time in the Superior Court of Baltimore City.* Cases in other Courts will be prosecuted as soon as may be;—irrespective of the result of this.

The evidences of thrift, and stimulus to trade that has been effected since the completion of the road to Westminster, give continued assurances in the belief that it must ultimately be remunerative even to its Stockholders, as an investment.

Already a very commodious and substantial warehouse is being erected in Westminster by gentlemen of wealth and enterprise, and others are in contemplation, and the people are realizing the advantages of a home market, whereat they can find ready and profitable sale for the products of the farm. Your Board have been able to dispose of a portion of their Depot lot at Union Bridge, on which there is being erected a substantial warehouse by responsible parties:—having reserved a large lot for the use of the public, and the erection of Locomotive and other building.

A sufficient amount of siding room has been laid at Union Bridge, and other amounts at public and private places along the Road as fast as completed, to accomodate the wants of the public.

For a full and itemized statement of the financial operations of the Company for the past year, the Board refer to the able Report of the Treasurer, J. Henry Hoppe, Esq.

In closing this Report, it is only candid to say that Messrs. Irwin & Taylor, the contractors of our Road, have heartily co-operated with the Board in all its efforts to advance the work. Their contract thus far has been performed to the satisfaction of this Board; and in the distracted condition of the country, confusing and interfering in every way with the ordinary operations of business, they have evinced a financial ability highly creditable to them.

AUG. SHRIVER, President.

The important fact that the awful consequences of self-abuse may be effectually removed without internal medicines or the dangerous applications of caustics, instruments, medicated bougies, and other empirical devices, is here clearly demonstrated, and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the celebrated author fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day. This lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
