Miss Ollie Pennell is home for the Easter holidays.

THE session of the Legislature should by all means be limited to 60 days.

SOME of the men who were in the Legislature this year will never be returned by the people who sent them.

EASTER brings to the bereaved heart HOPE. For as in Adam all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive! He is not here for He is risen, as He said. So with those who have departed, for "as I live so ye shall live also."

THOSE who abuse "that man Anderson" would do well to look at the crowd on the other side. The liquor lobby was composed of men who required just such a man as Mr. Anderson to check their efforts to carry through their schemes.

SOME Baltimoreans seem worried by the discovery that the large majority of the teachers of children in the schools are women. They are alarmed and think an investigation should be made. When that is finished, they had better investigate the fact that ALL the mothers of children are women, and that so far it has not tended to "feminization" of the boys.—Cecil News.

HE IS RISEN!

The glad Easter festival is here again, and with its coming brings new hopes and new aspirations. The gladness of the Easter celebration will never die out—it is eternal.

But in order to get out of the world's festival more than usual we must make it our experience. Our own resurrection can be now. The promise, "Because I live ye shall live also," means now is the time, and right here is the place, for us to live—for us to have our resurrection. Is our business planned and controlled in harmony with our belief in Christ's great sacrifice for us? Do we rise above self and enter into the great joy of doing for others rather than doing others, all for self?

Christ is risen, indeed; and he came, as he said, that we might have life, and that we might have it more abundantly.
