WESTMINSTER:

THURSDAY, NOV. 7, 1867.

THE RESULT.

The result of Tuesdays Election we give in another column as far as we have been able to obtain it up to the hour of going to press, and it is certainly not very gratifying. We are beaten, but not demoralized; defeated but not disheartened, and all left for us now to do is to retreat in as good order as possible to a better position and fight them again. At the time of going to press Uniontown, Middleburg and New Windsor Districts had not yet sent in their returns, but from estimates made we suppose the Democratic majority in the County will be about four hundred.—We are not those who rack their brains for imaginary causes, and attempt to palliate defeat by attaching blame to some special quarter, but frankly own up beat in this campaign, and simply because the people so willed it. It has not, however, either shaken or modified our confidence in the principles we have upheld, but only served to strengthen and confirm them, and we confidently believe to-day that the time is not far distant when a greater reaction of public sentiment than the present, will sweep the State, and thousands of men favor the principles they now so emphatically denounce.

Gen. McClellan.

Some of the Copperhead journals are waxing wroth at the idea of nominating McClellan for the Presidency. There was a time when they cried up McClellan as the greatest hero that ever existed; but they have got beyond him now, and require a candidate of more pronounced disloyalty. The taste for treason grows upon them like a taste for strong drinks. The toper who begins with small beer is satisfied at last with nothing weaker than raw brandy. So the Democrats start with McClellan, and in less than four years get to Jeff. Davis or some other traitor.

Growing Bold.

Jesse D. Bright, the expelled-for-treason Indiana Senator, very cogently expressed the ideas entertained by every leading Democrat in the land, at a public meeting in Kentucky recently. He declared "that the war was unconstitutional: Congress was an unconstitutional body: its acts are null and void; the national debt is not binding; slavery is not abolished; slaves must be returned to their masters; Southern men must be paid for all losses sustained during the war, and they must be governed by the principle of State rights." And he closes by advising the people "not to pay another dollar of the taxes to the National Government."

The New Bankrupt Law.

The thirty-third section of the Bankrupt law, passed at the last session of Congress provides that "in all proceedings in bankruptcy commenced after one year from the time this act shall go into operation, no discharge shall be granted to a debtor whose assets do no pay fifty per centum of the claims against his estate, unless the assent in writing of a majority in number and value of his creditors, who have proved their claims, is filed in the case at or before the time of application of discharge." Persons as well as corporations, who contemplate availing themselves of the Bankrupt law, must do so previous to March 2, 1868, as the 50 per cent. clause takes effect on that day.—There are only about one hundred and fifteen working days left, and those who are to be benefited thereby must commence proceedings as soon as possible.—All claims against a bankrupt who applies after next March, will, as a matter of course, be proven in terms of the law.

Senator Brownlow.

We think the Republicans of Tennessee will never regret the promotion of Governor Brownlow to the United States Senate, although they had other able men worthy of their choice. The new Senator is one of those "rough and ready" men who were not exactly the ideal of cultivated communities for a position in the highest legislalative branch of the Government but he has sterling qualities well calculated to outweigh all short comings in the line of accomplishments. He comes from the Tennessee school of politics illustrated by Andrew Johnson, but he never turned his back on principle, while he has grown wiser as he advanced in years till his patriotism is as broad as his country and as firm as the loyal cause itself. He only needs the continued improvement of his health to become a decided acquisition to the United States Senate and the means of increased usefulness to the Union.

☞ Hon. Aaron Shaw, ex-Congressman and ex-Judge of Illinois, while attending court at Lawrenceville, challenged the prosecuting attorney to a foot race for five dollars a side. The challenge was accepted, the race run and won by Judge Shaw The Grand Jury has found an indictment against both gentlemen for gaming.

☞ Have you a Cough, Cold, pain in the Chest, or Bronchitis? In fact, have you the premonitory symptoms of the "insatiate archer," Consumption? If so, know that relief is within your reach in the shape of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which in many cases where hope had fled, has snatched the victim from the yawning grave.

A Kansas editor says "Greely claims that he went Jeff. Davis' bail to allay his soreness of feeling at being detained in prison so long without a trial, and to produce a kindlier sentiment towards the North among Southern people: Horace deserves the title of Jeff. Davis' Pain Killer."

☞ The names in italics are Conservatives.

Politicians Who Do Not Deserve Success.

The Richmond papers are full of amazement and disgust at the result of the election in Virginia. Yet they ought not to be, because it is their own work.

First they urged all their readers to stay away from the polls; but those people who favored a Convention were sure to vote; and to ask those who opposed a Convention to stay away was, of course, to throw away the election.

But this is not all. The same journals now revile the negroes for voting against their former masters, and actually urge that employers shall discharge those of their servants and workmen who dare to vote contrary to their wishes! If these masters had been wise and shrewd enough they might have but a little while ago secured the majority of the negro vote to their own side. It needed only kind treatment, a liberal and humane policy, to accomplish this. A Georgia paper very rightly remarked on this subject last year, that the old masters, knowing the freedmen, might easily if they choose, gain a strong and permanent influence over them. But in Virginia and elsewhere they have not done so. They have alienated, by their folly, the good-will of the negroes; and now that they find themselves left in a minority, and find the blacks voting against them, they cry out in dismay, and begin anew to indulge in threats. But threats from them do not any longer scare anybody.—N. Y. Post.

Southern Elections

In Tennessee, Alabama and Virginia elections have been held during the last few months (the last two very recently) and in all of them negroes voted. In Tennessee the Radical ticket, supported by the great body of the blacks, was successful by a large majority, and in Alabama the Radicals have swept everything the call for a State Convention being ratified by a large majority, while the known political views of the delegates elected to the Convention insure the insertion into the new Constitution of the principle of Manhood Suffrage. No other result, however, could well be looked for in Alabama, because the negro vote largely outnumbers the whites, but in Virginia it is different, and the result of the late election there presents a strange anamoly.—The white registered vote exceeded the negro vote by 20,000, yet the Convention is called by nearly thirty-thousand majority! and two-thirds of the members of the Convention will be Radicals! The negroes could not of themselves have secured any such result, and the fact is clear that the people—the white people—of Virginia fully realize the necessity of reorganizing their State upon the Congressional platform, and have, disregarding the counsels of the old fogy rebels and nullifiers of the State, voted with the negroes, and assisted in putting Virginia under Radical control.

☞ Chief Justice Chase has writen a letter to Judge Underwood in which he says he will be present in Richmond at the opening of the United States Court in November, for the trial of Jefferson Davis.—Mr. Davis is required by his bail bond to be present in Court on the fourth Monday in November. The Chief Justice announces that he will be ready to proceed with the trial at once. Mr. Davis' counsel have been notified to this effect.

☞ Sheridan's ovation in New England surpasses anything of the kind which has taken place since the days of Washington. He is received everywhere with the greatest enthusiasm, and in many instances business is entirely suspended in order to do honor to the gallant hero. These grateful manifestations of public Joy are confined to no political party, but are the spontaneous outburst of the popular heart—Long live the Hero of the Shenandoah!

☞ At the present election the people of Kansas vote on three amendments to their State Constitution, one enfranchising all male citizens irrespective of color, another conferring the elective franchise on females, and restricting the elective franchise to loyal persons.

The Reformation Jubilee.

The Lutheran churches throughout the country on Thursday, celebrated the 350th Anniversary of the Reformation of the Fifteenth Century, dating from the nailing of Luther's celebrated Ninety-five Theses, or Declaration of Faith, on the door of the Castle Church at Wittenberg. This memorable historic epoch was observed with very impressive ceremonies at the New Street Lutheran Church, Philadelphia. Rev. Dr. Hutter, pastor, formerly of this city. Dr. Hutter opened the services with an invocation, and then announced the purposes the festivities were designed to subserve. This assembly of Christian men and women, he said, was not here, as was too often the case, to heap obloquy on the Roman Catholic Church, its priesthood or its membership, or by remotest implication to deny to them, along with other Christians, "a title clear to mansions in the skies." Rising superior to any narrow partisanship, their aim was simply for themselves to testify their own convictions as to the teachings of God's Word—and to do their own work, in their own way, assailing no one, molesting no one, maligning no one, but awarding to all men the liberty of thought, and speech, and action, in which they themselves rejoiced, and which, he said, is the crowning glory of the free institutions, under which our lot has been providentially cast. Nor did the Rev. speaker interpret these festivities to signify mere glorification of Luther. That would be an expenditure of time and talent, affording no adequate compensation. Regarding Luther as an illustrious instrument, raised up by Divine Providence to be the author of one of the most stupendous and far reaching moral revolutions recorded in mankind's historic annals, the restorer of light and liberty to the Church, and to the world—his name and memory, he said, were, of course, inestimably dear to the worshippers here assembled. But they, nevertheless, do not deify Luther, do not swear by Luther, do not regard Luther as they do the Apostles, as under the immediate inspiration of heaven. They do not receive or regard Luther's writings as they do the canons of Scripture, as free from the possibility of mistake or error. Above all things, they seek ever to bear in mind, that it was not Luther who was nailed to the cross—that they were not baptized in Luther's name—nor are they saved, in any sense, by or through Luther. A higher purpose hence animates these worshippers in these festivities than the profitless expenditure of incense at the shrine of Luther. Our purpose, said the speaker, is to rejoice in the sublime truths which Luther and his coadjutors of the Reformation enunciated, and in the glorious work they wrought out, and the blessings they obtained, especially in this, that to them, under God, we owe the imprescriptible right of private judgment in the solemn concerns of the soul, as over against all human decrees and devices.—And as thankfulness consists not in mere words, but in correspondent acts, they would seek to testify their appreciation of these inestimable blessings, by extending their enjoyment to others, and perpetuating them, by means of moral suasion, to the end of time. This they would do by founding missions, fostering education, and spreading a pure Gospel everywhere.—Lancaster Express.

Another Falsehood Nailed

The Southern Editor who through the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun and other Democratic papers, has been sending out a report of a pretended conversation with General Grant, in which the latter avowed himself a Conservative, etc., has been forced to disavow his false statements. He now authorizes a statement that the report was totally unauthorized and erroneous. Gen. Dent, of Gen. Grant's staff, acting as Secretary of War, during Gen. Grant's absence, also denies the story of Dr. Bard of the Atlanta New Era. He says that Bard had an interview with Gen Grant, which lasted for only about two minutes, and no such conversation took place. From this it would appear that Dr. Bard made a false statement, and that Grant had refused to talk politics with him.

Local Items.

Circuit Court.—The November Term of the Circuit Court will commence its session on Monday next, we are not advised as to the number of cases on the docket, or the probable length of the session. Of one fact, however, we are sure, and that is any of our delinquent patrons who has business at Court, will find it an excellent opportunity to call upon us and settle their accounts, which we hope they will promptly and cheerfully do.

Democratic Barbecue.—The great Democratic, Conservative, Johnson, Swann Barbecue came off on Saturday last, and in point of numbers of horses, women, children and boys, was a decided success, but was certainly a slim affair so far as voters were concerned. We are happy to note, however, that their behaviour was far better than on several previous occasions, and for this, at least, give them due credit. We was not upon the ground to hear the addresses, but are told they were but a rehash of the old tirade of abuse they usually indulge in, and the old rehearsal by Gov. Swann of what HE had done.

Radical Torch-Light Procession.—The Radical Torch-Light Procession on Monday night was a grand and imposing affair, and although gotten up only as a demonstration of Carroll Union League, and Westminster District, was participated in by large delegations from other Leagues and Districts. After marching through town, the crowd was addressed at Odd Fellows' Hall, by Wm. M Marine, Esq., of Baltimore, in a most able and eloquent manner, also by Hon. John E. Smith, and Col. Wm. A. McKellip. Many of the houses was brilliantly illuminated, and the soul-inspiring music discoursed by the Mt. Pleasant, Uniontown and Carroll Bands, rendered the occasion one of the most pleasant we have witnessed for a long while.

The Lutheran Fair.—The press upon our columns for the few past weeks has prevented our mentioning the progress of this enterprise, but we are happy to announce that the ladies have not been idle during this time, but have held several interesting meetings, collected considerable funds, and are preparing an extensive variety of articles, both useful and ornamental, in order to render the display eminently attractive.

We might also mention here that the work on the new Church is now being rapidly pushed forward, and the probabilities are that it will be ready for the dedicatory services by the latter part of this month. When finished it will be an edifice of which the congregation may well feel proud, as well as being quite an ornament to that section of the town. To the ladies, this congregation is under many obligations for their persevering energy in its erection, and we hope to see them liberally sustained by the members as well as a generous public, in their efforts to liquidate the remaining debt, and furnish the Church in a style corresponding with its acknowledged architectural beauty.

Mr. Stevens' Views

Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, fearing from his greatly enfeebled condition that he will not be able to speak in Congress, has published an address, embodying his views upon public affairs. He says that since the adoption of the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution he has no doubt of our full power to regulate the elective franchise, so far as regards the whole nation in every State in the Union. "The law-givers of America are now as free to act as Samson when the fire had touched the flax. May they never be beguiled by any Conservative Delilah—suffer their locks to be shorn and their limbs to be bound by the withes of a twisted Constitution." After arguing that the elective franchise is one of the inalienable rights of man, without which his liberty cannot be defended—and that it was suspended by the arbitrary Constitution of 1789, he says that suspension has been removed, so as to leave our hands unrestrained in restoring its full vigor, while still acting under the Constitution. "If by the amended Constitution every American citizen is entitled to equal privileges with every other American citizen, and if every American citizen in any one of the States should be found entitled to impartial suffrage with any other American citizen in any State, then it follows as an inevitable conclusion that suffrage throughout this nation is impartial and universal, so far as every human being, without regard to race or color, shall be found concerned, and so far as it effects the whole nation." He contends that suffrage by the ballot is due to every being without this realm to whom God has given immorality."

Latest Foreign News.

The news from Italy by the cable is of momentous importance. The movement against Rome has touched a crisis which must have a prompt solution either in the surrender of the city to Italy, or if France really intervenes, a war for its possession that can scarcely fail to involve other powers. Garibaldi has defeated the Pope's troops in a pitched battle, and driven them in confusion within the walls of Rome, and was with his force at its gates preparing for the attack. Within the city confusion and excitement prevailed, and the extremity of the position is shown in the fact that the Pope had left the Vatican and taken refuge in the Castle St Angelo.—The battle which had given Garibaldi such splendid success was fought at Monte Rotando, he having from ten to twelve thousand men concentrated there. The fight was stubborn, and at one time doubtful, but Garibaldi put himself at the head of his volunteers and was completely successful. He rapidly followed up the Papal troops, and advanced his whole force to the outer fortifications of Rome. In Italy the excitement is intense, and the whole nation is not only demanding Rome, but also preparing to resist French intervention.

SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC.

This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyme, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. SCHENCK makes professional visits in New York Boston, and at his principal Office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place or his pamphlet on consumption for his days for visitation.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, price $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. SCHENCK'S Principal Office, No. 15 North 6th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.—General Wholesale Agents: Demas Barnes & Co., N. Y.; S. S. Hance, Baltimore, Md.; John D. Parke, Cincinnati, Ohio; Walker & Taylor, Chicago, Ill.; Collins Bros., St. Louis, Mo. Jan. 24.

Unsought Advice.

The "Democratic" papers advise Gen. Grant not to accept the Republican nomination for the Presidency; and kindly add that they will defeat him if he should run on that ticket!

Grant never kept out of a fight for fear of defeat; and never asked his enemies how he should act. He carried on the war in his own way, and without regard to the advice of the Rebels, who all the while insisted that they were winning victories. So he will act in politics, in contemptuous disregard of the opinions and wishes of the Copperheads, whom he detests for their cowardly desertion of the country when it was betrayed into the hands of traitorous enemies.

IRON IN THE BLOOD.

The necessity of a due proportion of iron is well known to all medical men; when it becomes reduced from any cause whatever, the whole system suffers, the weakest part being first attacked, and a feeling of languor, lassitude, and "all goneness" pervades the system. Stimulants only afford temporary relief, and have the same effect as giving a tired horse the whip instead of oats. The true remedy is to supply the blood with the necessary quantity of iron. This can be done by using the a protected solution of the protoxide of Iron, which is so prepared that it assimilates at once with the blood, giving strength, vigor and new life to the whole system.

To take medicine to cure diseases occasioned by a deficiency of IRON IN THE BLOOD, without restoring it to the system, is like trying to repair a building when the foundation is gone.

An eminent divine says: "I have been using the PERUVIAN SYRUP for some time past; it gives me new vigor, buoyancy of spirits, elasticity of muscle."

Pamphlets containing certificates of cures, and recommendations from some of the most eminent physicians, clergymen and others, will be sent free to any address.

The genuine has "PERUVIAN SYRUP" blown in the glass.

Consumption Curable by Dr Schenck's Medicines.

TO CURE CONSUMPTION, the system must be prepared so that the lungs will heal. To accomplish this, the liver and stomach must first be cleansed and an appetite created for good wholesome food, which, by these medicines will be digested properly, and good healthy blood made; thus building up the constitution. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS cleanse the stomach of all billious or mucuous accumulations, and, by using the Sea Weed Tonic in connection, the appetite is restored

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP is nutricious as well as medicinal, and by using the three remedies all impurities are expelled from the system, and good wholesome blood made, which will repel all disease. If patients will take these medicines according to directions, Consumption very frequently in its last stages yields readily in their action.—Take the pills frequently, to cleans the liver and stomach. It does not follow that because the bowels are not costive they are not required, for sometimes in diarrhœa they are necessary. The stomach must be kept healthy, and an appetite created to allow the Pulmonic Syrup to act on the respiratory organs properly and allay any irritation. Then all that is required to perform a permanent cure is, to prevent taking cold. Exercise about the rooms as much as possible, eat all the richest food—fat meat, game, and, in fact, anything the appetite craves; but be particular and mastificate well.
