WESTMINSTER:
THURSDAY, DEC. 5, 1867.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

In consequence of a change in the business management of this Office on the First of January, next, it becomes positively necessary that all out-standing accounts be closed at an early day. We therefore give notice to all persons indebted to us for Subscription, Job Work or Advertising, to call and settle the same by the 21st day of December, next, or all bills will then be placed in proper Officer's hands for collection, without regard to persons. This step has now become imperative in consequence of our former appeals for settlement in so many instances being utterly disregarded. But it cannot now be delayed longer, and we give all delinquents fair warning.

No Fight.

Since the adjournment of Congress in July last, the Rebel and Conservative press has been full of editorial stuff as to what Johnson should do when Congress convened; some were very beligerent indeed, and went so far as to advise his Accidency to disperse the vagabonds when they appeared at Washington, and not let them assemble, but as great a fool as he is, he had more sense than to attempt it. He has seen the strength of the nation tested, he knows the fury of the loyal people when once roused, and he dared not brave it! Now they tell him, "Andy, if that rump Congress attempts to impeach you, arrest the whole pack and call a Congress composed of members from the unreconstructed States, and set them to legislating." We have met with men in our town foolish enough to believe this would be done, but such ideas are truly laughable—he dare not do it, and whiskey enough cannot be poured into his capacious throat to make him crazy enough to attempt such a thing. Congress has assembled quietly and peacefully; there has been no fight; rebel editors and hangers on of the rebellion whose minds are heated to madness by recollections of the lost cause, we have no doubt fought imaginary battles in their own brains, and in their dreams, (such is the wildness of their hopes, and the madness of their despair,) have seen the "chivalry" charging through the Halls of Congress bearing the renegade republican in triumph over the bodies of the loyal legislators; but alas! for their case, it is only a dream, all such ideas are merely floating specks before their eyes, which the slightest breath of the nation will scatter like chaff before the wind. Hostilities ceased when the arms were surrendered; when Davis fled a fugitive, then the dungeons of Libby were opened, and the gates of Andersonville were unlatched, all that was real substantial of the so called Confederacy perished from the earth. You may curse and threaten now, but the power of blighting is gone, the means of executing is not with you. There is no use in quibbling, quit palavering and let those rule who saved it. You do not better your condition, but only make your terms harder. The course of Reconstruction proves it!—Beckley Un.

Jeff. Davis' Trial Postponed.

Jeff. Davis' trial was again 'postponed' last week owing to the absence of Chief Justice Chase. The 22d of March is the day now fixed upon. In his charge to the Grand Jury Judge Underwood regretted the absence of Judge Chase. He cautioned them that no party or class prejudices should influence their deliberations. An offence connected with the rebellion claimed their first attention. If it should be brought to their knowledge that any one had committed treason he must be indicted, as he had been specially partoned, or by general amnesty, or by law and penalties and violations of the law claim their attention, sparing in the cases engaged in it if any. Mr. Evarts, for the defence, stated the intention of the Jury Davis some day for consideration in fixing a time when Judge Chase and the Government ready after the adjournment of the Court for this trial, which could sit with Judge Underwood said the bill by the Government the Court, and particularly earnestly desired it could sit upon the case when renewed, and fixed upon for Great Democratic Victory.

The Democratic majority at the recent election in the State of New York is 50,283, and in the city over 60,000. How much cause the Democrats have to rejoice over this verdict may be understood when Fernando Wood, who will probably be elected Mayor of the city, in a recent speech deliberately asserted that fraudulent votes in the late elections were made and polled by thousands, that these frauds were organized in different wards, and that bands of men voted in sixteen wards and more than one hundred and twenty-five electoral districts. Colonel Charles G. Halpine, another leading Democrat, editor of the New York Citizen, solemnly asserts that not less than from seventeen to twenty thousand fraudulent votes were registered, of which from ten to twelve thousand reached the ballot box in the recent election. Is this one of the evidences of Radical unpopularity?

IMPEACHMENT.

Three Reports from the Committee.

On Monday week the Judiciary Committee made three reports on the question of the impeachment of acting President Johnson. The majority report, favoring impeachment was signed by Messrs Boutwell, Frank Thomas, Williams, Lawrence and Churchill. This report after setting forth the duties assigned them, and the facts the inquiry has developed, concludes with the following charges:

In accordance with the testimony herewith submitted and the view of the law herein presented, the committee are of opinion that Andrew Johnson President of the United States, is guilty of the crimes and misdemeanors, requiring the interposition of the constitutional powers of this House.

In that upon the final surrender of the rebel armies, instead of convening Congress for the purpose of organizing Constitutional and legal Governments, he assumed the right to establish such governments himself.

In that he usurped and exercised powers vested solely in Congress by the Constitution, in convening conventions of disloyal and treasonable men in Southern States for the purpose of forming State governments, and afterwards assumed to accept and ratify such State governments even after Congress refused to recognize them. In that he pardoned a large number of public and notorious traitors with the design of receiving their aid in such conventions, with the design to constrain Congress to accept their illegal and unconstitutional proceedings.

In that he created the office of Provisional Governor, so-called, an office unknown to the Constitution, and appointed to such office men known as public and notorious traitors, and directed their payment, contrary to the laws of the land.

In that he deliberately set aside and dispensed with a law passed July 2d 1862 entitled. 'An act to prescribe an oath of office and other purposes.'

In that he appointed to office persons who had been guilty of treason, who could not take the oath under said act without committing perjury, or otherwise criminally violating the same.

In that he used and applied property taken from the enemy in time of war, for the support of said illegal governments by him established, and in violation of the Constitutions and his oath of office, he authorized a levy of taxes upon the people of said States, thus usurping a power which the Constitution vested solely in Congress.

All of which acts was a usurpation of power contrary to the laws and Constitution of the United States, and in violation of his oath of office as President of the United States.

In that the said Andrew Johnson President of the United States, has in messages to Congress and otherwise, publicly denied substantially the right of Congress to provide for the pacification, government and restoration of said States to the Union, and in like manner he has asserted his exclusive right to provide governments therefor, and to accept and proclaim the restoration of said States to the Union, all of which is in derogation of the rightful authority of Congress and calculated to subvert the Government of the United States.

In that in accordance with said declaration he has vetoed various bills passed by Congress for the pacification and governments of the States recently in rebellion and their speedy restoration to the Union and upon the ground and for the reason that the said States had been restored to their places in the Union by his aforesaid illegal and unconstitutional proceedings, thus so interposing and using a constitutional power of the office he held as to prevent the restoration of the Union upon a constitutional basis.

In that he has exercised the power of removal from, and appointment to, office for the purpose of maintaining his usurpation, such removals and appointments resulting in great frauds and enormous losses to the public revenue.

In that he pardoned 193 men, belonging to West Virginia, who were marked on the records of the War Department, as deserters from the army in time of war, for the purpose of obtaining their support and knowing that this pardon would entitle them to large sums of money from the treasury.

In that he used every effort in his power to prevent the ratification of an amendment to the Constitution, which among other things provided for the validity of the public debt, and rendered impossible the payment of any claim for slaves, or any debt incurred in aid of any insurrection or rebellion against the United States.

In that he has made official and other declarations calculated and designed to injure and impair the credit of the U. S., and prevent the reorganization of the rebel States on Republican basis. In that he has exercised the pardoning power, veto power, the power of removal and appointment, and other constitutional powers of his office, and for the purpose of hindering, obstructing and preventing the restoration of the Union by Constitutional means, and for the further purpose of alienating from the government and laws those who had been engaged in the rebellion, and who without the aid, comfort and encouragement thus given by him, would have assumed their allegiance in good faith.

In that he turned over many millions of dollars worth of railway property belonging to the government, to those who were known as active rebels during the war, and sold other large quantities of railway stock to irresponsible corporations without demanding any security for payment for the same. That he directed the postponement of the collection of the sums due for the same, thus securing for himself large sums from said corporations in which he is a stockholder.

In that he has used the military for unlawful purposes, and in the interest of parties who were endeavoring to overthrow the Government.

This is a very brief synopsis of the majority report, which is very strong.

Messrs. Wilson and Woodbridge submitted a report dissenting from the above and Messrs. Marshall and Eldridge still another, which defends the President a...

Local Items.

Methodist E. Church.—

Sunday, December 8th. Preaching at 10-30 A. M., and at 7 P. M., by Rev. James H. Brown, of Baltimore.

New Law Firm.—

We refer with pleasure to the card of Messrs. Smith & McKellip in another column. As intimated some time since, they have formed a copartnership in the practice of Law in the several Courts of this County, and will be found to be courteous and obliging in their deportment, as well as well versed, deep and profound in the intricacies of their profession.

In's and Out's.—

Monday last was a stirring day among the Politicians at the Court House, the old incumbents of the various offices packing up their duds and vacating, and the newly elected ones being inducted into their several positions. We believe that all the newly elected officials have duly qualified and entered upon their duties, and we are now completely under another regime, whether for better or worse, time alone may show. There was also a host of applicants present urging their claims for the minor positions, but up to the present writing no appointments have been made that we are aware of.

The Lutheran Church Fair.—

Notwithstanding there has been little said publicly about the Fair to be held during Christmas week at the Odd Fellows' Hall, for the benefit of the new Lutheran Church, the work goes bravely on, and the preparations for making it more attractive than the preceding one, being perfected in a manner that leaves little doubt as to the result. It is a well known fact that when the Ladies determine upon an undertaking, they know no such word as "fail," and the adage is being fairly exemplified in the present instance. Already great quantities of useful and ornamental articles have been prepared, embracing more in number and variety than the brain of a poor Local could either conceive or remember, or even know the use of, but gotten up with such taste and skill that the ladies will readily make their poor Benedict's and Bachelor friends believe that they are really indispensible articles, and they will sell accordingly.—Besides these, arrangements are being looked to to provide more substantial requisites, in the way of a Grand Christmas Dinner, together with the attractive features and tempting fare of the famous New England Kitchen, so popular upon the former occasion. We need only add to our young readers, especially, that as they are likely saving up their funds for a gay Christmas, the Fair is THE place to patronize.

Secretary Stanton.

Persons who are conversant with the views of Senators on the removal of Secretary Stanton assert that the Senate will reject any nomination for Secretary of war intended to supersede the late Secretary, and will by a decided majority, declare Mr. Stanton to be lawfully entitled to hold the office, irrespective of the President's order or desire. The decision of the Senate that the November session of Congress is but a continuation of the March session, is taken by the Administration as determining another question, namely: at what time the twenty days commence to run, within which the Executive is required to furnish a list of his appointments and suspensions of officers under the Tenure of Office law. According to the ruling of the Senate on Friday last, the twenty days commenced on Wednesday, and the President has until the 21st instant within which to send that body an account of his action in the Stanton and other cases.

The Case of Senator Thomas

The Senate Judiciary Committee has still under consideration the case of Ex-Governor Philip Frank Thomas, Senator elect from Maryland. Mr. Thomas appeared before the committee himself and answered the charge made against him, that while Mr. Cobb was Secretary of the Treasury he conspired with him to depreciate the Government securities. He denied the charge and offered proof to substantiate the same. He cited John J. Cisco and other New York brokers as witnesses to the fact that he did all in his power to aid the Government whilst Secretary of the Treasury. The committee will meet again on Saturday and will probably report on the case some time next week.

Georgia Loyalty.

Georgia, strange to say, seems to possess more loyalty than any other State lately in rebellion. At a term of the U. S. District Court held at Savannah recently, most of the grand jurors were challenged on the ground of their inability to take the oath of the office prescribed by Act of Congress of June 17th, 1862. Ex. Gov. Brown was counsel on the occasion referred to, and was sustained by Judge Erskine, presiding officer. At the recent election for a Convention, over 36,000 whites cast their votes for a Convention, showing a more hearty acceptance of the Reconstruction laws than any other of the Southern States that have yet voted on this question.

"Spoons."

This appellation which has been for so long a time applied to Gen. B. F. Butler, we think, can now be applied in another direction. We are informed that upon the occasion of the serenade to Col. Bowie, Governor elect, at his home in Prince George's county, on the evening of Monday week, a number of silver spoons belonging to the Colonel were abstracted from the supper table by some one present. We do not know, of course, by whom they were taken, but it happened upon an occasion when no doubt General Butler was denounced for the same thing. Democrats let upon Butler. Persons living in glass houses should not throw stones.—Annapolis Gazette.

☞ A terrible railroad accident occurred on the Cincinnati and Dayton Railroad, on the 22d ult. A freight train ran into a passenger car by which the car was set on fire, and five persons were roasted alive, four ladies and one gentleman. The ladies were residents of New Orleans, and were returning from the summer spent at St. Catharine's, Wells, Canada. A gentleman, seeing the perilous position of the ladies, attempted to rescue them, but was overpowered by the smoke and flames and perished with them.

Eminent men of Science have discovered that electricity and magnetism are developed in the system from the iron in the blood. This accounts for the debility, low spirits and lack of energy a person feels when this vital element becomes reduced. The Peruvian Syrup, a protoxide of iron, supplies the blood with its iron element and in it the only form in which it is possible for it to enter the circulation.

☞ Speculators in Southern Indians are buying flour at $13 per barrel to hold until they get $20 for it. They will in all probability have to hold it quite a while.

☞ One of the evidences of the high honor and profound reverence with which the memory of Mr. Lincoln is held by the people of France is shown by an incident which occurred to an American gentleman who was paying a visit to Gustave Dore. Upon ushering this gentleman into his studio, Dore pointed to Marshall's portrait of Mr. Lincoln. It was fixed upon the centre of the wall, in the place of honor, and surrounded by the works of art, the productions of Dore and other men of genius. "There," said the artist, "I have placed this exquisitely engraved portrait of the greatest man in the country where every one who enters here can see it and do him honor." Another gentleman, while visiting the silk factories at Lyons, was taken into a room by the director, who showed him the same portrait, beautifully reproduced in silk, telling his guest, 'This is the fourth instance where we have undertaken the difficult task of weaving a portrait in this costly fabric. The first was Washington; the second the Emperor Napoleon; the third Alexander the Emperor of Russia; the last your great Lincoln.'

General Grant on the Laws of Maryland.

General Grant, in his report as Secretary of War and General-in-Chief to the President, says that "apprenticeship in Maryland still holds large numbers of colored children in virtual slavery. The evils and cruelties resulting from this system, sanctioned by the State laws, are matters of constant complaint. As many as two thousand cases have been presented in a single county." How will Democracy and Conservatism take this opinion of the "reticent" Generals? It places Grant in accord with Chief Justice Chase.

☞ In Kansas the Republicans have carried everything. Both Houses of the Legislature are four-fifths Republican.—The clauses enfranchising women and colored men are both defeated by about the same majority. Young Kansas will yet engraft the principle of Equal Rights into her fundamental law, and accord to her small colored population, equal political rights.

Dr. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
Where this article is known it is a work of supererogation to say one word in its favor, so well is it established as an unfailing remedy for Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Asthma, diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, as well as that most dreadful of all diseases, Consumption, which high medical authority has pronounced to be an incurable disease. Those who have used this remedy know its value; those who have not, have but to make a single trial to be satisfied that of all others it is the remedy.
The Rev. JACOB SECHLER,
well known and much respected among the German population of this country, writes as follows:
HANOVER, PA., Feb. 16, 1859.
Messrs S. W. FOWLE & SON, Boston.
DEAR SIRS:—Having realized in my family important benefits from the use of your valuable preparation—WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY—it affords me pleasure to recommend it to the public.—Some eight years ago, one of my daughters seemed to be in a decline, and little hopes of her recovery were entertained. I then procured a bottle of your excellent Balsam, and before she had taken the whole of it there was a great improvement in her health. I have, in my individual case, made frequent use of your valuable medicine, and have always been benefitted by it. I would, however, caution the public against imposition because there is a good deal of spurious Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry offered throughout the country. JACOB SECHLER

Dr. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup.
This great medicine cured Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, the Proprietor, of Pulmonary Consumption, when it had assumed its most formidable aspect, and when speedy death appeared to be inevitable. His physicians pronounced his case incurable, when he commenced the use of this simple but powerful remedy. His health was restored in a very short time, and no return of the disease has been apprehended, for all the symptoms quickly disappeared, and his present weight is more than two hundred pounds.
Since his recovery, he has devoted his attention exclusively to the cure of Consumption and the disease which are usually complicated with it, and the cures effected by his medicines have been very numerous and truly wonderful. Dr. SCHENCK makes professional visits to several of the larger cities weekly, where he has a large concourse of patients and it is truly astonishing to see poor consumptives that have to be lifted out of their carriages, and in a few months healthy, robust persons. Dr. SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC, and MANDRAKE PILLS are generally all required in curing Consumption. Full directions accompany each, so that any one can take them without seeing Dr. SCHENCK, but when it is convenient it is best to see him. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respirometer his fee is three dollars.
Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor—one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health—are on the Government stamp.
Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Price $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half doz. Letters for advice should always be directed to Dr. Schenck's Principal Office, 15 North 6th St., Philadelphia, Pa. No. 969. EQUITY
In the Circuit Court for Carroll County.
Isaac Hesson. vs. George Everly and Mary Everly, his wife.
THE object of this suit is to procure a Decree for the Conveyance to the Complainant, by the Defendants of the interest in certain real estate in said County, which was purchased by Magdalena Hesson, in her life time, and devised by the last Will and Testament to the Complainant.
The Bill States that Peter Hesson died in the year 1856, having first made a last Will and Testament in writing, whereby he appointed Joseph Hesson and the Complainant his Executors. That said Testator at his death, left a valuable real and personal estate, in said County, and a Widow, Magdalena Hesson, and the following children and heirs at law, viz:—Joseph Hesson, Isaac Hesson, the Complainant, Sarah Yingling wife of Frederick L. Yingling, Hannah Frounfelter, wife of Peter Frounfelter, all of Carroll County aforesaid, and Mary Everly, wife of George Everly, of Fulton County, in the State of Illinois. That said Joseph Hesson and the Complainant, as Executors, as aforesaid, sold a part of the real estate of which the said Testator died seized, and particularly described in Exhibit A, filed with the Bill, to the said Magdalena Hesson, that the sale thereof was reported to and finally ratified by the Orphans' Court of said County. That the whole of the purchase money for said real estate were paid by the said Magdalena Hesson in her lifetime, whereupon she became entitled to a Deed of Conveyance therefor. That the said Magdalena Hesson, failing to obtain said Deed on application to the said Executors, instituted proceedings against them in the Circuit Court for Carroll county, as a Court of Equity, to procure said Deed, but died pending said proceedings, and before said Deed had been Executed. That said Magdalena Hesson, by her last Will and Testament, duly executed, probated and recorded, devised the said real estate to the Complainant. The Bill further states that disputes and controversies arose amongst a portion of the heirs of said Peter Hesson and the Complainant in regard to a claim which he had against the estate of said Peter, (which was afterwards established,) and in regard to the sale of said real estate to the said Magdalena, and that suits at law and in Equity were instituted to determine the matters in controversy and the right of the parties thereto. That all of said disputes and controversies were at length settled, adjusted and compromised between all the heirs at law of said Peter and the Complainant, and in consequence thereof the said Joseph Hesson and wife, Sarah Yingling and her husband, and Hannah Frounfelter and her husband, all united in a Deed of Conveyance of their respective interests, rights, title and claims in said real estate to the Complainant to complete as far as they could, his title thereto. The Bill further states, that the Complainant, as one of the Executors, as aforesaid, on the 14th day of October, 1862 settled his second and final account in said Orphans' Court, in and by which he charged himself with the full amount of the purchase money of the said real estate, and the interest thereon received by him from the said Magdalena Hesson, and that in the distribution on said settlement said Mary Everly as one of the heirs of said Peter Hesson, was allowed the sum of $772 69, which said said sum of money was paid by the complainant to the said Mary Everly, as appears by a copy of a full and final release executed by said Mary and her husband, filed with the bill, and that in consideration thereof, and of the settlement of the controversies aforesaid, the said George Everly and Mary, his wife, became bound, and promised and agreed to execute to the complainant a good and sufficient Deed in law of all their interest, right, title and claim in and to said Real Estate, and did, in fact, execute a Deed therefor, which was defective and inoperative. That the Complainant has frequently applied since said defective conveyance to the said George Everly and Mary, his wife, for a good and sufficient Deed of their interests in said real estate, and that he caused said Deed to be prepared for them to execute and acknowledge according to law, which was delivered to the said George Everly months ago, and that he, the said Everly, promised on his return to his home in Illinois, to execute and acknowledge, (with his said wife,) and forward the same to the complainant so that he could have the same recorded and his title to said real estate perfected; but that notwithstanding said promises and assurements, and after repeated solicitations, they, the said Everly and wife, after the lapse of many months, have refused, and still refuse to execute and acknowledge and forward said Deed without reason or excuse. The Bill further states that the said George Everly and wife reside in the State of Illinois, and that the complainant is remediless without the aid of this Court. The Bill then prays that the said George Everly and Mary Everly his wife may by good and sufficient Deed in law, properly and legally executed and acknowledged, convey to the complainant all their interest, right, title, claim and demand in and to said real estate, or in the event of their refusal that a Trustee may be appointed to make such Deed of Conveyance at their costs and expense and for general relief.

It is therefore adjudged and ordered this 25th day of November, 1867, that the complainant by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll county, aforesaid, once in each of four successive weeks before the twenty-eighth day of December next, give notice to the said absent Defendants of the object and substance of this bill, and warn them to appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the First day of April, next, to answer the premises and show cause if any they have why a Decree ought not to pass as prayed,
