Twenty-Two Russian Warships Sunk or Captured by Japs.

Official reports from Admiral Togo reached the Japanese legation from Tokio show that the main engagement between the hostile fleets ended in the afternoon of May 28, when the Japanese accepted the surrender of the remaining vessels of the Russian line of battle.

The battleship Suavoroff, Admiral Rojestvensky's flagship, was sunk at 5 29 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, but Rojestvensky and about 80 officers and men escaped to the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Biedovy, which tried to escape, but was overhauled shortly off the Corean cost by a Japanese destroyer and compelled to surrender. Rojestvensky and another Russian Admiral, whose name is not given by Togo, were found to be severely wounded.

Togo reports that the Russian ships sunk or captured, numbered 22, including all the eight battleships of Rojestvensky's fleet. Rough estimates made of the Russian losses in the battle, exclusive of nearly 4,000 prisoners, vary from 7,000 to 9,000.

TOLCHESTER OPENING

Resort Opened Under Favorable Auspices—Mayor Timanus and Other Distinguished Guests Present—Big Supper and Pretty Surroundings.

Tolchester commenced its 28th season Thursday in a most memorable manner. In honor of the long and successful career of Tolchester as a mecca for summer amusement hunters the management made the opening day a memorable occasion of pleasure, and a large number of representative men of Baltimore, including Mayor Timanus, made the trip as the specially invited guests of Capt. William C. Eliason, president of the company, and the board of directors, who were met at Tolchester by representative citizens of Chestertown and vicinity.

No finer day could have been selected, and about 1,000 persons made the trip. The vessel, with new appointments and improvements to comply with all the latest regulations for the inspection of steamboats, was neat and snug in every particular, and with music and dancing and the enjoyment of the cool air and bright sunshine, the excursionists pleasanily passed the time during the trip down the bay.

Tolchester presented an unusually attractive appearance even for this very pretty spot, and it could be seen at a glance that never has the resort been in better shape than at this opening of the present season. Grassplots, flower-beds and the park effect everywhere show the skilful gardener's hand. The picnic booths have been newly arranged, and the buildings have been repainted and otherwise improved. Everything shows clearly the unusual preparation for a busy and successful season.

Fine Amusements.

In amusements, too, Tolchester Beach has been very much improved. All the old amusements have been thoroughly rebuilt, and a number of new ones added to those which have been run heretofore. The most unique of the new amusements is the "Funny Dip," a free amusement similar to the funnel fire-escape chutes, where one takes a long slide in a sitting posture down smooth planks, to be shot out upon a soft cushion at the finish. Another new feature is the free gymnasium, where the young men and boys may cultivate their muscle without danger. The Pike's Peak, scenic railway, dancing pavilion, horses, carousels and the hundred or more catch-penny contrivances which delight the multitude, are on as large a scale as ever.

At 5:30 the invited guests sat down to a fine dinner in the Tolchester Hotel, consisting of crabs, fish, chicken and crab salad and delicacies of the season. Superintendent George E. Noland and Mr. William A. Potts, the manager of the amusements; Capt. N. S. Hudson, secretary of the company, and Captain Naudain, assisted Captain Eliason in doing everything for the comfort and pleasure of the excursionists.

Invited Guests.

The invited guests were Mayor and Mrs. E. C. Timanus, Col. and Mrs. J. Frank Supplee, Mrs. Wm. C. Eliason, Mr. E. Walter Giles, Miss Emma Giles, City Collector Henry Williams, J. W. Stoddard, Sherlock Swann, H. J. Broening, Walter Snyder, Samuel Pattison, Steamboat Inspectors Capts. Charles Wright and Edward White, Harvey Coale, G. B. Skinner, Police Captain George Henry, of the Southern district; H. C. McComas, Dr. J. C. Clark, Prof. Charles F. Raddatz, Jonathan Pennell, Supervising Inspector General of Steam Vessels George Uhler.
