"As the campaign progresses, 1 shall fully discuss my views concerning the issues." Particular significance was attached to a meeting held by

Mr. Bruce at the Lord Baltimore Hotel before he made this announcement. Attending the session, which lasted more than an hour, were Mayor Jackson, who has not publicly announced which of the candidates he will support although he has said he would not be neutral in the primary campaign; William C. Walsh, Attorney General and a Demoeratic power in Allegany and Garrett counties: E. Brooke Lee, former Speaker of the House of Delegates and a leader in Montgomery county, and David C. Winebrenner, 3rd; party force in Frederick county. Local Democratic politicians pointed out that the western Maryland contingent supported Mayor Jackson when he was a candidate for the party's Gubernatorial nomination won by Herbert O'Conor, whose forces were led by Mr. Bruce. Her beauty was apparent to everyone and often it was suggested that she turn actress and try for a career on the screen. She finally relented, and that is how Helen Gilbert came to play the part of the drama teacher in "Andy Hardy Gets Spring Fever." Miss Gilbert, having completed a role in "The Secret of Dr. Kildare," is now playing the feminine lead in "Florian."
