Thos. Ivens Dies In France.

A telegram was received at Worton on Thursday last that Private Thomas Ivens, of the U. S. Expeditionary Force had died in France on Oct. 2 of pneumonia. He was a son of Mrs. J. W. Ivens, of Worton, and well known in that section of Kent as a most estimable young man.

The causalty list printed in the Baltimore Sun, of Monday, contained the name of Collins Chambers, of Chestertown, killed in action. The local draft board's record do not give the name of any such person as having been called into the service from Kent, but we learn that this man enlisted from Baltimore. He is well known here as "Possum." His parents lived in town for some years.

MAIL XMAS GIFTS TO FRANCE BEFORE NOVEMBER 15TH

Only One Parcel Can Go To A Soldier Is Ruling Of War Department. . .

The War Department announces that Christmas packages f or the 2,500,000 or more American soldiers who will be in France during the holiday season this year, will be delivered under an arrangement with the Red Cross.

In order to control the flood of gifts that otherwise would make the handling of them impracticable, the Department has decided that only one parcel will be accepted for each man. General Pershing is forwarding coupons bearing the name and address of each member of the Expeditionary Force, to be distributed to the next of kin.

These coupons must be attached to standard containers, nine by four by three inches in size, which will be provided by the local Red Cross chapters upon application.

Pachages must be mailed before November 15th.

A telegram from the War Department yesterday to Washington College says that the S. A. T. C. Unit at Washington College has been discontinued and the 34 boys here will be transferred to some other place.

Henry Miller, an employe of the paper mill, while turning out the mules at 5.30 a. m. Sunday discovered a fire at Brooks' big mill. He awakened John Nickerson and Jas. Allen and the alarm given in town. These men however extinguished the blaze. We are sorry to report that the fire looked like incendiarism.

Auctioneer Startt sold $1200 worth of diamonds at public sale at Rock Hall. They were the property of Mrs. S. J. Wickes. Mrs. John C. Wood was the purchaser. One of the diamonds went up to nearly $600 and it was a beauty. The purchaser was anxious to keep the valuables in the family.

King W. Agnew, of Baltimore, a "steeple Jack," of national reputation is at work this week painting the cross on top and other metal and wood work of the M. E. Church steeple. The extreme height of this steeple is 130 feet. He reached the apex of the steeple by cutting a small hole from within, and attaching a block and fall by which he drew himself up about two-thirds the distance. From this point he climed bare-handed to the cross and readjusted his ropes. Mr. Agnew has worked in every section of the country and at heights up to 630 feet. While in town he has painted the smokestack at the strawboard mill, and will also paint the town water tank. He is a Worcester county boy.

The Kent County Savings Bank calls attention of all holders of First Liberty Loan Converted 4s and Second Liberty Loan 4s, to the fact that these bonds must be presented on or before November 9th, if conversion into 4¼% bonds of the same maturity and interest dates is desired.

Morris---Hubbard Nuptials

Notable Social Event Of The Season Took Place Saturday at "Widehall".

The marriage of Miss Miriam Warren Hubbard and Lieut. George Maurice Morris, U. S. A., took place at seven o'clock Saturday evening October 26th, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Watson Hubbard, "Widehall," Chestertown.

A special pullman train conveyed the guests from Washington, Baltimore, New York and Philadelphia. Eastern Shore society motored from as far down the Peninsula as Cambridge to do honor to the bride, who is one of the most beautiful and popular girls in Maryland.

"Widehall" the colonial home of the bride's parents, was an ideal setting for the wedding, which conformed to the historic period of the mansion.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. S. Parks Cadman, of the Central Presbyterian Church of Brooklyn, N. Y., in the great Arheed Hall, which lent itself beautifully to the decorative floral scheme. On the Altar which stood in the turn of the colonial stairway, were vases of white bride's roses flanked with candelabra holding white wax candles An aisle of white satin ribbon extended from the foot of the stairs through the corridor of arches to the altar, the ribbon being supported by standards holding containers filled with white chrysanthemums. The stair-rail was wreathed with green asparagus fern and smilax and banked with white chrysanthemums and bride's roses. Hanging baskets of bride's roses and trailing green hung in each of the four great arches, which make "Widehall" one of the notable mansions of the Shore.

The bride, who was given away by her father, Wilbur Watson Hubbard, wore a colonial period gown of Ivory satin, panniered over a skirt of rose point lace draped with blossoms and satin roses, with court train, trimmed at the bottom with the same flowers. The bride wore a lace veil which had been worn by five generations of brides in the Woodburn family, with a coronet of rose-point lace. Her bouquet was an old fashioned nosegay, bordered with lace ruffle from which fell a shower of ribbons and roses.

Madame Mariano Bruell, wife of the Secretary of the Cuban Legation at Washington, was matron of honor. She wore an heirloom gown of pale green satin which descended from the sister of Col. William Ross, of revolutionary fame, the great, great, great grandfather of the bride and carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart bordered with a lace rufle to conform with the period of the gown.

Miss Rachel Hamilton, of Indianapolis, cousin of the groom, who acted as train-bearer, wore the white satin wedding gown of Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard, mother of the bride. During the ceremony Miss Hamilton sang "Oh Perfect Love" with harp and orchestra accompaniment.

Mrs. Wilbur W. Hubbard wore a gown of blue brocaded chiffon over cloth of silver, with solid beaded waist of iridescent cut steel and court train.

The best man was Lieut. John Carlton Sterling, U. S. A. The ushers were Capt. John Gregory Hope, of the British Royal Flying Corp, at present with the British Mission at Washington. Lieut. Kenneth L. Allen, U. S. A.; Capt. Rhea R. Higgins, U. S. A.; Major Herbert L. Brown, U. S. A.; Lieut. Kent Roberts Greenfield.

The house guests included: Dr. Mariano and Madam Bruell, Lieut. and Mrs. John Carlton Sterling, Capt. and Mrs. Gregory Hope, Hon. Boaz Walton Long, American Minister to San-Salvador; Mrs. Hester Dorsey Richardson, of Baltimore; Miss Katherine Wallace, of Cambridge; Mr. and Mrs. Hardings Schole, Military Attache of American Legation at Honduras; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hazelton, of New York, Mrs. F. E. Hansell, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hansell, of Philadelphia; Wm. Neilson Edwards, of Philadelphia.

Music was furnished by Louis Fisher's orchestra of Baltimore.

The wedding presents which were unusually handsome, included several heirlooms of historic interest.

A reception followed the ceremony, after which the bride and groom left by motor for a wedding trip.

Lieut. and Mrs. Morris will live in Washington, D. C., pending Lieut. Morris orders for overseas duty.

—Washington Post.

The house party for the week-end at the Morris-Hubbard wedding included about twenty-five of Miss Hubbard's Washington friends. They were entertained at the Custom House the Eastern Shore Inn and the home of the bride. Mrs. Crane entertained the bride on Thursday afternoon at a tea Mrs. H. L. Wood entertained the house party on Friday afternoon. On Friday evening the house party was entertained with an oyster roast in the old den of the Custom House.

"FLU NOTES

To the doctors of Kent the people owe a great debt. They worked incessantly during the past month and sacrificed rest and strength in their efforts to relieve the people.

The flu claimed the largest man in Sussex county as one of its victims Saturday, when Louis W. Dean, of Seaford, died. He was 47 years old, and weighed more than 400 pounds. Dean had been a fish peddler since early manhood. He is survived by a widow, who weighs 90 pounds.

There are 70,000 cases of influenza in Bogota, Columbia. Business has virtually been suspended.

The epidemic of influenza in India the deaths from which have been 13,394 since the early part of September, has declined appreciably in the last four days. Three hundred and eighty-two deaths were reported in the last 24 hours.
