WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

W. L. W. Seabrook - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JULY 7, 1894.

Congressman Talbott, who, in conjunction with Senator Gorman, has endorsed Mr. Jos. B. Boyle for P. M. of this city was at the Department in Washington, on Thursday, urging that the appointment be made as soon as possible. General Bissell informed him that he would get around to the Maryland offices as soon as possible. In the meantime the public is suffering no inconvenience by the delay, Postmaster Sharrer supplying a perfectly satisfactory service.

Two of the appointments made by Collector Shaw were held up in consequence of charges made against the appointees, Henry Seebach and Thomas B. Friese, both of Baltimore, by the Evening News. According to that paper both these men are disreputable characters, Friese having made a great deal of money keeping a policy shop and low saloon, and Seebach being a tough who has killed his man. The appointments have since been revoked and the men informed by Dr. Shaw that they are not proper appointees for the government service.

Among other nominations made by the Illinois Democratic State convention, last week, was that of Franklin McVeagh for United States Senator. Mr, McVeagh is a free-trader and a violent bimetalist. His nomination for the Senate by a State convention called to name candidates for State officers is a queer proceeding, but the Democrats of Illinois are not alone in being a queer lot. The aggregation of Democrats in the Senate at Washington isn't very different. The Illinois convention heartily endorsed the administration of Governor Altgeld, who pardoned the anarchists who were serving terms in the penitentiary for complicity in the Haymarket murders.

Hicks' guesses for June were about as reliable as usual. He predicted very warm weather about the 3rd and again on the 9th and 10th, and unseasonable cold following a storm period on the 20th and 21st. For the other portions of the month nothing was said about temperatures, but frequent storms, winding up the month with earthquakes, were foretold. Some of the storm periods hit and others did not, while the thermometer on some occasions obstinately refused to sanction the judgment of the weather-prophet. Warm, but not oppressive weather occurred on the 3rd and 4th, and on the 9th and 10th. The 11th and 12th began to get unconfortably warm, but the days following the 21st, which according to Hicks were to have been unseasonably cold, were among the hottest of the month, the temperature reaching 90° on the 22nd and going up to 98° on the 24th. Don't pin your faith to weather prophets.

The convention of the National Republican League was in session in Denver, Col., last week. The convention pronounced strongly for the Republican doctrine of protection and also adopted a resolution in favor of the use of gold and silver as money metals, "maintained on a perfect parity and inter-convertibility." While the convention was not authorized to speak for the Republican party, and the influence of its surroundings—Denver being in the very heart of the silver region—may have induced a liberal utterance on the subject, the phraseology quoted amply qualifies any declaration that might be construed into a concession to the silverites. There is no objection to the use of silver, as a money metal, if it can be maintained at a standard of "perfect parity and inter-convertibility" with gold. That, however, cannot be done by the United States alone. It will require the co-operation of the leading nations of the earth; and the Republicans are in favor of making every possible effort to promote that co-operation.

It Has Passed the Senate.

The mongrel tariff bill passed the Senate on Tuesday night, by a vote of 39 to 34. The majority vote includes all the Democratic Senators present except Hill, of New York, with the addition of Allen and Kyle, Populists. Every Republican present, including Senator Stewart, who has shown a disposition to act with the Populists, voted against the measure, and Senator Peffer, of Kansas, voted with them. The bill as passed by the Senate differs widely from the House bill, about five hundred amendments having been adopted. An amendment offered by Senator Hill, on Monday, to make the sugar schedule operative from the date of the passage of the bill, was adopted by the votes of the Republicans and a few Democrats. While this will deprive the Sugar Trust of the immense profits anticipated during the first year, it still leaves heavy protection for that greedy monopoly and does not relieve the people of any part of the immense burden entailed by the sugar tariff, which is left at forty per cent. and one-eight of a cent per pound on the higher grades.

A Conference Committee will now consider the question and endeavor to bring the widely divergent measures of House and Senate to the point of agreement. Doubtless the work will be accomplished in some shape, but no man can tell what that will be. An effort will be made, it is said, to put coal and iron ore on the free list, as they were in the House bill, and the influence of the administration will be exerted in that direction. It is worse than useless, however, to speculate on what may be done. The differences among the Democrats are numerous and radical, but they will agree upon something, no matter how heterogeneous, merely for the sake of passing a bill of some sort, and it need not surprise anybody if the measure finally adopted shall be more mongrel and nondescript than the bill just passed by the Senate.

Isaac Shriver, a young white man, has been arrested and lodged in jail in Frederick to await the action of the grand jury, charged with poisoning sheep, cattle and horses on the place of Elder John Utz, at Johnsville.

More Humor.

It is becoming more than ever evident that the Advocate is cultivating the role of a humorist, and pokes fun at its readers on the most serious subjects. The style of its humor is not new in character, but has been practiced successfully by some of the most accomplished humorists of history. It consists simply in stating facts and things in directly reverse order, as if one were to speak, for instance, of the darkness of noonday and the brilliant light of midnight. Here is a specimen from the columns of last week's Advocate:

"All indications point to a near at hand season of prosperity. The country is fast recovering from the depression that began in 1891," &c.

We have italicised the quotation, though it was scarcely necessary to do so. The intelligent reader will catch the point—both points in fact—with little difficulty. What a funny perversion, for instance, to begin with the latter sentence quoted, is "the depression that began in 1891." It is particularly strong in that direction. It so naively ignores the actual conditions then existing and suggests a state of things so utterly in opposition to the actual facts that some intelligent readers of the Advocate, not catching the humor so adroitly concealed, loudly questioned the intelligence of that journal and began to inquire what this sort of thing meant, any how. We are glad to be able to furnish these gentlemen with an explanation of this contradiction of the actual state of affairs from, say, July 1st, 1891, to June 30th, 1892, a period in which the home and foreign trade of this country vastly exceeded anything in its commercial history; when exports exceeded in value a thousand millions of dollars and imports eight hundred millions, showing a balance of trade in our favor of more than two hundred millions. The Advocate calls that a period of depression with, no doubt, the keenest sense of the fun involved in the statement. It was humor, gentlemen, humor of the subtlest sort, and we hope our self-sacrificing efforts to show the Advocate's readers the point will be properly appreciated by that journal.

And then, the "indications" of that "near at hand prosperity." They are so very, very evident. Who can fail to see them? Wheat at 50 cents a bushel, for instance, must charm the farmer with its promise of a rousing income. Hundreds of men in enforced idleness and their wives and children crying for bread. Hundreds of thousands more refusing to work because they or their fellow-workmen are required to accept a large reduction in wages. The military in our own State and in other portions of the country being called upon to preserve order and prevent these strikers from violations of law. Even the strong power of the federal army being invoked in this behalf. Distress and trouble on every hand. Not to particularize further, these are some of the indications pointing to that near at hand season of prosperity and furnishing the Advocate material for its stupendous jokes. Opinions, however, may differ as to the wisdom of this sort of joking. The condition of the country and of the people is almost too serious to furnish a fair subject of humor.

The Railroad Strike.

The strike of the American Railway Union is one of the most causeless in the history of the labor troubles. It was ordered by Eugene V. Debs, president of the Union, as a boycott of the Pullman Palace Car Company because the latter insisted on a heavy reduction in the wages of its employees, and is directed against all railroads using Pullman cars. Thus far it has operated mainly against railroads west of Chicago, centering at that point, although all transportation companies are feeling its effect, directly or indirectly. The cost to property directly, is incalculable and the interruption of interstate trade and commerce almost unlimited. Notwithstanding all this, however, it might be conceded that the strikers had a right to refuse to work, no matter what the consequences to the public, if their action went no further. Even that, however, is doubtful, as the proceeding has strongly the appearance of a conspiracy to injure property and incommode the public. But the strikers have gone far beyond this and are deliberately using violence to prevent the roads from conducting their business. The authority of the Federal Courts is being resisted and the United States troops, sent to enforce judicial mandates, defied to some extent in the discharge of their duties.

The anarchist Democratic Governor of Illinois has requested President Cleveland to withdraw the United States troops, but fortunately, the National Executive is well enough informed to understand that it is his duty to maintain the Federal Courts by the whole power of the U. S. Army, if necessary.

The situation is critical and alarming, but it seems to us there can be but one termination of the trouble. Law and order must be restored and maintained at all hazards.

As to the merits of the controversy between the Pullmans and their employees we are uninformed. Probably the latter have just grievances, but the American Railway Union has undertaken to redress them in a manner utterly at war with the principles and character of this government.

The Union is a new organization, having been formed only about a year ago, and the strike was probably ordered by Debs purely to exhibit his authority and to gain notoriety. It may prove, however, a sort of boomerang that will destroy him in the end. The federal authorities are moving for his indictment, with his fellow officers, for criminal conspiracy and he may find himself behind prison bars as a result of his folly. In the meantime, however, untold loss and misery are visited upon millions of innocent people.

Mr. John H. Von der Host, the well known Baltimore brewer, died at his home, No. 1204 N. Caroline street, in that city, on Wednesday, of cancer of the stomach.

Ex-Deputy Collector of Customs Geo. M. McComas was severely injured by a kick from a horse, at his home at Blue Ridge Summit, on Tuesday evening.

Joseph Channels, a middle aged colored man was fatally injured by a blast at Schley's lime kilns, near Frederick, on Wednesday.

An Example Worthy of Imitation.

Senator C. K. Davis, of Minnesota, has set an example to the public men of this country, worthy of their commendation and imitation, in connection with the strike of the American Railway Union. Senator Kyle having introduced resolutions forbidding the intervention of National authority to prevent the lawless conduct of the strikers, the following telegram was sent to Senator Davis, on behalf of the organization in whose interest the resolution was offered:

DULUTH, MINN., July 1, 1894.

Hon. C. K. Davis, U. S. Senate, Washington.

We, the railway employes of Duluth, earnestly request you to support Senator Kyle's mail-train resolution, now before Congress. Please answer.

D. D. M'INNIS, President 209, A. R. U.

To this request the following emphatic reply was promptly wired:

To D. D. McInnis, Duluth, Minn.

I have received your telegram. I will not support Senator Kyle's resolution. It is against your own real welfare. It is also a blow at the security, peace and rights of millions of people who never have harmed you or your associates. My duty to the Constitution and the laws forbids me to sustain a resolution to legalize lawlessness. The same duty rests upon yourself and your associates. The power to regulate commerce among the several States is vested by the Constitution in Congress. Your associates have usurped that power by force at Hammond and other places, and have destroyed commerce between the States in those particular instances. You are rapidly approaching the overt act of levying war against the United States, and you will find the definition of that act in the Constitution. I trust that wiser thoughts will regain control. You might as well ask me to vote to dissolve this Government.

C. K. DAVIS.

Here is no attempt to gloss over and make excuses, for the purpose of placating a formidable organization that may make its power felt in the elections. The art of the demagogue is not invoked to take away the sting of the refusal to comply with an objectionable request, but the plainest possible language is employed to convey to the strikers the Senator's reprehension of their lawless conduct.

Senator Palmer, of Illinois, also telegraphed his purpose to vote against the Kyle resolution, but qualified his message by assertions of sympathy with the organization of labor, a question not involved in the proceedings. The point at issue is whether any body of men, of any calling, shall be permitted to interfere, by violence, with the rights of other citizens; and Senator Davis has not left his attitude on the subject to conjecture. He is on the side of law and order and isn't afraid to say so. He deserves the thanks of the country for his manly utterance.

Mr. John J. Jackson, of Baltimore, has been appointed State Fire Marshal by Gov. Brown, under the law creating the office, which was passed last winter. Mr. Jackson is a naturalized citizen, being a native of England. "The duty of the fire marshal under the law creating the office will be to investigate the causes of all fires occurring anywhere within the State. He has power to summon and examine witnesses and to compel the attendance of such persons as he may wish to examine. If he becomes convinced that the fire is of incendiary origin, then it is his duty to report the case to the State's attorney of the city or county where the fire occurred and to furnish a list of witnesses to go before the grand jury. The object of the insurance department in asking the creation of this office was to check incendiary fires and to aid in reducing the rate of insurance in the State," and, it might be added, to create a couple of good offices for faithful partisan Democrats, the marshal having the appointment of a clerk at a salary of $1,200. It strikes us that the State's attorneys and grand juries of the several counties are required to investigate fires of a suspicious character without waiting the action of the fire marshal.

McDonough School Alumni Association held its annual meeting at the school, on the Western Maryland Railroad, on Wednesday. Seventy-nine alumni assembled to hear the oration by Robert Briesen, of Baltimore. The officers elected for the ensuing year were: President, C. E. Cochrane; vice-president, James V. Smith; secretary and treasurer, Chas. F. Griffin, orator-elect, Mayor J. D. Brooks, of Westminster. The alumni ball nine defeated the school team 16 to 14.

L. E. Washler, of Thurmont, a fireman on the Western Maryland Railroad, was run over Wednesday morning at 3 o'clock in the vicinity of Smithburg and killed. His train had pulled into a switch to await the passage of another train. He sat down on the main track and fell asleep. The train for which they were waiting came along and cut off both feet, mashed his head and breast and otherwise multilated his body. He was taken to Hagerstown where he died shortly afterwards.

Prendergast, the murderer of Mayor Carter Harrison, of Chicago, has been declared sane by a jury in that city, and his execution has been ordered to take place next Friday, 13th inst. It may, however, be postponed by further legal proceedings.

The Agricultural, Mining, Electricity, Administration, Manufacturers' and Transportation Buildings, and the Terminal Station, on the Columbian Exposition grounds, at Chicago, were given to the flames on Thursday, as no purchaser for the structures could be found.

The use of postal notes having been discontinued by the P. O. Department, money orders will now be issued at money order offices, for small sums, the lowest fee for the service being three cents.

In the Circuit Court for Carroll County, sitting as a Court of Equity.

Charles P. Babylon, Howard S. Babylon, Mordecai W. Babylon, Fannie M. Walters, Harry Walters, her husband; Emma Myers, A. Kurtz Myers, her husband; F. Thomas Babylon, Delia M. Fuhrman, George A. Fuhrman, her husband; George W. Babylon, William E. Babylon, Martha B. Handley, Philip M. Handley, her husband; Harry G. Babylon, Jesse F. B. Babylon, Peter Babylon, William Babylon, Lavina Boyd, Nelson Boyd, her husband; Catherine Babylon, J. Thomas Eckard, Theodore Eckard, Ann L. Eckard, Luther F. Eckard, William W. Eckard and George W. Eckard, Plaintiffs, vs. Margaret A. Babylon, widow of Jeremiah Babylon, deceased, Jacob O. Eckard, adults, Lawrence R. Babylon, Mary Lee Babylon, Fannie B. Babylon, Willie Josiah Babylon, infants, Daniel Babylon, heirs of Daniel Babylon, Ephraim Babylon, heirs of Ephriam Babylon, The Westminster Savings Institution, defendants.

The object of this suit is to procure a decree for the sale of certain real estate, situate in Carroll county, Maryland, of which a certain Jeremiah Babylon, late of said county and State, died seized and possessed.

The Bill states:

First, That Jeremiah Babylon departed this life on the —— day of April, 1894, in Carroll county, Maryland, intestate, seized and possessed of several parcels of land, situate in said county containing about one hundred and thirty acres, which are correctly described in Exhibits "A," "B," "C," "D" and "E," filed with the Bill, less certain portions of said real estate heretofore conveyed by said intestate in his life time.

Second, That said intestate left surviving him, Margaret A. Babylon, his widow, and the following persons his only heirs at law, to-wit: Charles P. Babylon, Howard S. Babylon, Mordecai W. Babylon, Fannie M. Walters, wife of Harry Walters, Emma Myers, wife of A. Kurtz Myers, F. Thomas Babylon, Delia M. Fuhrman, wife of George A. Fuhrman, George W. Babylon, William E. Babylon, Martha B. Handley, wife of Philip M. Handley, Harry G. Babylon, Jesse F. B. Babylon, children and heirs at law of Josiah Babylon, who was a brother of the said Jeremiah Babylon, deceased as aforesaid, and who departed this life before the said Jeremiah Babylon: Peter Babylon, William Babylon, Lavina Boyd, wife of Nelson Boyd, and Catherine Babylon children and only heirs at law of Samuel Babylon, late of Carroll county, deceased, and who was a brother of said Jeremiah Babylon, deceased as aforesaid, and who died long before the said Jeremiah Babylon, J. Thomas Eckard, Jacob O. Eckard, Theodore Eckard, Ann L. Eckard, William W. Eckard, George W. Eckard, children and only heirs at law of Susan Eckard, wife of Jacob Eckard, and who was a sister of the said Jeremiah Babylon, deceased, and who died long before the said Jeremiah Babylon, as did also the said Jacob Eckard, Lawrence R. Babylon, Mary L. Babylon, Fannie B. Babylon, Willie Josiah Babylon, children and heirs at law of the said Josiah Babylon heretofore mentioned, all of whom reside in Carroll county, in the State Maryland, except Howard S. Babylon and Willie E. Babylon who reside in the State of Ohio, Jesse F. B. Babylon who resides in the State of Illinois, Jacob O. Eckard who is supposed to reside in the State of Minnesota, and are adults, above the age of twenty-one years, except the said Lawrence R. Babylon, Mary Lee Babylon, Fannie B. Babylon and Willie Josiah Babylon, who are infants under the age of twenty-one years.

Third, That the said Jeremiah Babylon, deceased, as aforesaid had two other brothers to-wit: Daniel Babylon and Ephraim Babylon, both of whom went West a number of years ago, that the Plaintiffs do not know where they reside or whether they are living or dead, whether they left any heirs surviving them. Plaintiffs pray for an order of publication against them, or any unknown heirs surviving them.

Fourth, That the said Jeremiah Babylon and his said wife executed during his life time their separate Mortgages on certain parts of his real estate to one John L. Reifsnider, which Mortgages by several assignments have been assigned to The Westminster Savings Institution (body corporate of the State of Maryland) as appears by copies of said Mortgages filed with Bill, marked Exhibits "W," "X" and "Y."

Fifth, That The Westminster Savings Institution also obtained in the life time of the said Jeremiah Babylon a judgment against him, which is still outstanding and unsatisfied, and which is a lien against the said real estate of the said Jeremiah Babylon, deceased as aforesaid, as appears by a certified copy of said judgment filed with the Bill, marked Exhibit "Z."

Sixth, That said real estate is not susceptible of partition, without material loss or injury to the parties interested therein.

The Bill prays for general relief and that a decree be passed for the sale of the real estate, and that the proceeds of said sale may be distributed among the parties thereto according to their respective rights and interests.

And also for an order of publication against the said Jacob O. Eckard of the State of Minnesota, Daniel Babylon or the heirs of Daniel Babylon and Ephraim Babylon or the heirs of Ephraim Babylon who are unknown, and all of whom are non residents of the State of Maryland, and for the writ of subpoena of the State of Maryland directed to the said Margaret A. Babylon, widow of Jeremiah Babylon late of Carroll county, Maryland, deceased, adult, and Lawrence R., Mary Lee, Fannie B. and Willie J. Babylon, infants, and The Westminster Savings Institution (a body corporate in the State of Maryland.)

It is thereupon this 22nd day of June A. Our Fertilizer Department.

All large concerns have their business divided off into separate departments, and special attention given to each department. We have for years had our business divided into various departments. We mention them:

Our Grocery

or Retail Department,

OUR FEED DEPARTMENT,

OUR FERTILIZER DEPARTMENT,

OUR MILLING DEPARTMENT,

OUR HAY

AND

STRAW DEPARTMENT.

In this advertisement we wish especially to speak of

Our Fertilizer Department.

In this department we have taken especial pains to study the character of the soil of this vicinity, and the

GREAT DEMAND

FOR

in the past ten years fully demonstrates how successful we have been in suiting the soil.

We sell the Oldest Home-made Brands of Fertilizer in this market.

Farmers are now being bored by agents soliciting their orders for Fertilizer for fall seeding. We know all farmers are busy and will not bother you in that way, but ask you to call on us before you place your orders, as

We have Bargains in our Fertilizer Department and offer special inducements, to those who buy their Fertilizer from us, in the sale of their Hay and Straw.

Don't fail to call on us before placing your order for your fall Fertilizer.

Very Respectfully,

N. I. Gorsuch & Son.

OLD WHEAT

is getting Scarce

and we would especially call the attention of families to the importance of getting a barrel of

OLD WHEAT FLOUR

BEFORE HARVEST.

In fact many families should have more than one, as new wheat flour will not give satisfaction, for family use, before September.

REMEMBER,

OUR BRANDS ARE

SEA FOAM,

WHITE LILY,

COOK'S DELIGHT.

All first-class grocers have our flour for sale at same prices as it is sold at the mill. Insist on your grocers giving you our flour; otherwise they may recommend an inferior grade.

FARMERS

are especially urged to bring their wheat to our mill and exchange for flour. We give thirty-eight pounds of good flour and eleven pounds of feed for a bushel of wheat. There is no waiting for flour at our mill. You get flour and feed as soon as wheat is delivered.

WE HAVE FRESH MILL FEED ALWAYS ON HAND.

Farmers having Wheat for sale will do us a favor by giving us a call.

Very Respectfully,
