CLOSING OF THE TRACK OF THE BALTIMORE AND OHIO RAILROAD.—The Wheeling Gazette says that on the evening of the 24th inst., at five minutes after 6 o'clock, the track from the east, under the direction of Mr. Roseby Carr, sr., and that from Wheeling, under the direction of Mr. Roseby Carr, jr., met on the 188th section about 2½ miles from Moundsville. The last rail having been placed, Mr. Carr addressed his men as follows:

"We have now laid the last bar of the long link of railroad which connects the Chesapeake Bay and the waters of the Ohio, and I call upon you to give three cheers for our President, Thomas Swann, and three more for our Chief Engineer, Benj. H. Latrobe. May they both live to make many more connexions of the western waters and the sea-board."

The roar of the stream was drowned in the answering cheers from the now united parties of tracklayers, and it being proposed that three more should be given for their immediate superior, Roseby Carr, sr., they were given with a will, aad the tired workmen retired to their respective camps.

HON. JOHN P. KENNEDY, Secretary of the Navy, is complimented by the New York Journal of Commerce, for his zeal in behalf of the extension of knowledge and science in connection with his Department. The Journal says:

"No less than four learned bodies have passed resolutions commendatory of the liberality of the Secretary of the Navy in promoting physical research. But for him, the Surveying Expedition of Commander Ringgold to the Eastern and Japanese Seas, would have been a merely Hydrographic affair of lead-lines and triangulations. Lieut. Page is preparing, under the same liberal auspices, for an exploration of the Plata and Paraguay—a region rich in resources. Commander Lynch has been started on a mission to Africa, to select a sanctarium for future colonization—a mountain site, where elevation will give that exemption from tropical lassitude and disease which is now the greatest drawback of the coast settlements. Finally, Dr. Kane, with his troop of volunteers, will start for the Polar Regions."

BALTIMORE MARKET.

GRAIN—Wheat.—On Monday an advance in prices was realised, and sales of good to prime Md. and Va. reds were made at 115a118 cents, and of whites at 118a125 cents. On Wednesday the sales of reds were at 110a116 cents, and of whites at 116a125 cents. To-day we quote reds at 110a114 or 115 cents, and whites at 115a125 cents—with very little in market.

Corn.—The market opened on Monday with sales of white at 60a61 cents, and of yellow at 62a63 cents, and these prices have since prevailed, including sales to-day at 59a61 for white, and 61a63 cents for yellow. Parcels not fit for shipment sell from 40 to 45 cents.

Rye—Md. is worth 80a82 cts.

Oat:—We quote Md. and Va. at 36a40 cts.

Cloverseed—Sales of prime at $6.

Beans and Peas—Continue scarce and are a little higher. We quote Beans at $1.50a1.62½ per bushel, and Peas at $2.62½ per bag of two bushels.

HAY.—Prices are a shade higher. We quote baled Hay at $22a$24 per ton; loose, do., by wagons, $18a$22; and Straw, baled, at $14a$16.

TOBACCO.—The lateness of the season, the small stock on hand for sale, and the high rate of freights to Europe, deter shippers from entering the market, and we are without any transactions of moment. We continue former quotations, viz: Maryland Ground Leaf $3.50a7; frosted $3.25a4; inferior $4a4.50; good common $4.75a5.25; brown $6a7.50 and fine brown $8. Ohio is equally dull. We quote nominally, inferior and common Ohio $3.75; good common middling $4a5; good $5a6.50; fine red $6a8; fine wrappery $10a15; and yellow $10a16. A careful estimate of the stock in first hands, made to-day, represent the quantity to be as follows: Maryland, including Ground Leaf, 1500 hhds.; Ohio, 2000 hhds.; and Kentucky and Virginia, 400 hhds.—total 3900 hhds. The inspections of the week are 155 hhds. Maryland, and 153 hhds. Ohio—total 308 hhds.

The Flying Ship.

WHEN Mr. PORTER issued his prospectus or proposition to construct machinery for ærial navigation, and offered shares therein for cash in advance, it was supposed or suspected by most people—probably nine tenths of those who read his prospectus—to be a mere trick to raise money, but without any serious intention to proceed in the construction of said machine or areoport. But the proposition having received the confidence of a sufficient number to obtain the sum required in said prospectus, Mr. Porter did proceed in good faith in the work of constructing the said areoport; and notwithstanding that he encountered a series of adversities which much retarded the work, and nearly doubled the estimated expense thereof, he nad brought the areoport nearly to completion when interrupted by the inclemency of winter weather. An unlucky oversight, which required a laborious portion of the work to be wrought over again, only prevented the completion of the areoport in November. He now believes that his areoport may be put in full operation in two or three weeks of mild, calm, and pleasant weather. But, in consequence of delay and the expense of the safe-keeping of the machinery, (some part of which being 160 feet long, is rather difficult of storage,) he finds it expedient to sell a larger number of shares than he had heretofore intended to do; and in consideration of the forward state of the work, and having thus far discovered nothing to shake his confidence in the ultimate success thereof, he reasonably expects the public to entertain more confidence, and attach more value to the said shares, than at or prior to the commencement. Mr. Porter's proposition was and is, to construct two aeroports—the first to be 160 feet long, propelled by steam-engines, and capable of carrying six persons, and travel forty miles per hour; and the other to be 700 feet long, capable of carrying 150 persons, and travel ninety miles per hour. The large aeroport is estimated to cost $15,000, in 3,000 shares at five dollars each. And he rationally estimates that at that speed the aeroport will make the trip to either California or to Europe and back once a week; and that if 150 passengers shall pay $200 per passage each way, the proceeds would be $60,000 per week, which would be twenty dollars per week on each $5 share.—Though Mr. Porter does not really expect that the shares will produce such enormous rates of profits, he does expect that the percentage of profits will far exceed that of any other enterprise ever projected. He gives full title-deeds, beautifully executed, to all subscribers who send him five dollars or more in advance; and we shall be disappointed if some of our readers should not venture a V to aid the noble enterprise.
N. B.—Application for shares may be addressed to RUFUS PORTER,

PROSPECTUS
OF THE
Southern Literary Messenger
FOR 1853.
NINETEENTH VOLUME.
Price reduced to Three Dollars, or Four Dollars if not paid before the 1st of July in any year.

IN ISSUING the Prospectus of the Nineteenth Volume of the Southern Literary Messenger, the Proprietors beg to assure the public that no exertions will be remitted on their part to maintain the high character of the work, and to challenge the patronage of all who value sterling literary merit. For eighteen years the Messenger has endeavored to reflect faithfully the Southern mind, while disdaining all narrow and sectional views, and has been alone among the monthly periodicals of America in defence of the peculiar institutions of the Southern States. To this office it will still be devoted, and will be prompt to repel assaults upon the South, whether they come under the specious garb of fiction as in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," or in the direct form of anti-slavery pamphlets. At this critical juncture, while our enemies are employing literature as their most potent weapon of attack, the Southern people will surely not withhold their encouragement from a work whose aim it shall be to strike blows in their defence.

The Messenger will, as heretofore, present its readers with Reviews, Historical and Biographical Sketches, Novels, Tales, Travels, Essays, Poems, Critiques, and Papers on the Army, Navy, and other National Subjects.

And while the Proprietors do not appeal to the public on the score of a long list of contributors, they may refer with pride to the following names, as among those who are enlisted in behalf of the Magazine:

Lieut. M. F. Maury,	Rev. C. R. Vaughan,
Prof. H. A. Washington	Rev. J. C. McCabe,
Geo. Frederick Holmes	Dr. S. H. Dickson,
Wm. M. Burwell,	Judge A. B. Meek,
Rev. Sydney Dyer,	Caroline Howard,
Rev. M. D. Hoge,	Prof. Schele De Vere,
J. M. Legare,	Hugh R. Pleasants,
J. A. Turner,	Rev. W. H. Foote,
Mrs. A. P. Dinnies,	Rev. J. H. Bocock,
Miss Margaret Junkin,	W. Gilmore Simms,
Prof. J. T. L. Preston,	Judge B. F. Porter,
Prof. Geo. E. Dabney,	Mrs. E. H. Evans,
M. R. H. Garnett,	Miss S. A. Talley,
John B. Dabney,	Lucian Minor.

Col. P. St. George Cooke, U. S. Dragoons.

With a view to ensure a larger circulation of the Messenger, the Proprietors have determined upon a reduction of the price of subscription to Three Dollars per annum, in advance, or Four Dollars if not paid before the 1st of July in any year.

Clubs remitting us fifteen dollars in one letter will be entitled to six copies.

The Proprietors, in making this announcement, appeal to the Messenger's friends every where to sustain them in the step by procuring additional subscribers to the Magazine.

The editorial and critical department of the Messenger will continue as heretofore under the charge of JOHN R. THOMPSON, Esq., and will embrace copious notes on current literature and reviews of all new American or Foreign works of general interest and value. The editor's opinions will be always fearlessly and honestly avowed.

Hereafter the business department will be conducted by the undersigned, to whom all communications of a business nature must be addressed.

THIS medicine has been manufactured by Smith & Atkinson for several years, and has been used with great success by physicians and others, in verious parts of the United States, many thousand bottles having been sold, and the universal approval it has met with in all quarters where it has been introduced, proves that it needs only a trial to satisfy the most incredulous of its great value.
