Not Patriotic.

Mr. Blaine's triumph over Lord Salisbury in the diplomatic correspondence that has taken place between them, concerning pelagic sealing in Behring sea, appears to be turning our brethren of the Democratic press green with jealousy. The course they are pursuing is far from patriotic. Mr. Blaine is accused of sensationalism, a lack of statesmanship and a wanton, reckless disregard of consequences. The advantage he has thus far gained over Lord Salisbury is too clear to be entirely ignored, but it is belittled in every conceivable fashion, and the general tone and spirit of this portion of the American press, on this subject, seems by reason of antagonism to the great premier of our own country, and jealousy at his success, to be really in sympathy with the foreign nation that has been violating our rights in the premises.

Certainly the situation is sufficiently grave to call for something higher than mere partisan criticism of the head of the State Department. The apprehension of these Democrats that the Administration may gain some eclat by maintaining American rights in the premises seems to blind their eyes to the propriety of exhibiting a becoming spirit of patriotism concerning the matter. They are committing a great mistake. They will find the sympathy and moral support of the people are with our own government in the controversy. And why not? America is demanding only her just rights. Mr. Blaine's contention as to those rights in no manner differs from the position assumed by Secretary Bayard during the Cleveland Administration. Both hold and assert the opinion that the exclusive jurisdiction of Russia over Behring sea was fully recnized from 1799 until the cession to the United States in 1867, and that the encroachments complained off by this country began only in 1886. Mr. Bayard sought to procure a joint protectorate of the several powers interested to prevent pelagic sealing. Lord Salisbury managed to procrastinate the matter while the Canadian subjects of the Queen continued, undisturbed, in their work of destruction among the seals in Behring sea. This was the situation when Mr. Blaine came into office. He properly determined to prevent the unlawful taking of seal by the exercise of the necessary force, and sent revenue cutters to the scene with instructions to seize vessels engaged in violating the rights of our people. The gravity of the matter lies in this action. The indisposition of the English government to bring the case to a conclusion by entering into a convention for the protection of seal life, indicates a purpose to give freedom to the poachers as long as possible. To this Mr. Blaine has opposed the prompt capture of the depredators, an act that has elicited from Lord Salisbury the declaration that the American government shall be held responsible for this course. Blaine ignores the threat and maintains an unchanged attitude on the subject.

What American will undertake to condemn his action and thus, by inference at least, express approval of the system, practiced by Canadian sealers, that is fast destroying seal life in Behring sea? Either Mr. Bayard and Mr. Blaine are wrong in their views, or the latter is only performing a crying duty by interposing force to suppress these piratical depredations.

The performance of this duty may lead to war. Such a result is a possibility. Shall America forbear to insist upon and enforce her rights rather than take up the gauntlet and meet the issue in an honorable, patriotic way? We should not court war. It is a ghastly and a horrible evil to be avoided if possible, with honor. But honor and duty combine to demand, in this case, the enforcement of the rights of the people of America.

Our Democratic contemporaries may not entertain a different opinion, but as a rule, their attitude is that of hostility or indifference to the infringement of the rights of their own country and countrymen. This is too partisan to be patriotic, and if the issue of war arises, they will be forced by their patriotic readers to pursue a different policy.

State Senator Benjamin Silver, son-in-law of Mr. Stevenson Archer, died at his home in Harford county, on Saturday last, after an illness of a few days, of peritonitis. Mr. Silver was broken down by the trouble caused by his father-in-law's misconduct and fell an easy victim to disease. He was about thirty-one years of age and was married to Mr. Archer's daughter in 1888. His death is a sad blow to the already grievously afflicted family for whom the sincerest sympathy is felt by every one with a heart that can be touched by human sorrow. The misguided man whose crime has brought so much misery and sorrow upon those whom he should have shielded is said to have been utterly prostrated by his son-in-law's death.

About the "cheekiest" proceeding on record is the suit of Ex-Alderman Duffy, of New York, against his associates who voted away the valuable Broadway railroad franchise. For some reason Mr. Duffy failed to get his share of the "boodle" in this transaction, and now he enters suit for its recovery, alleging that from one-half to three-quarters of a million of dollars was paid to secure this franchise. A number of the boodle Aldermen were prosecuted, but the prosecutions having failed, Mr. Duffy wants to be made a full sharer in the corruption fund. He will probably fail in his effort to secure it, for, while the "boodlers" could not, for some reason, be successfully prosecuted, the immorality of decreeing the payment of a bribery fund is too apparent to suppose that any court would countenance it.

A fire occurred in Chicago on Wednesday night which burned ten acres of lumber yards and entailed a loss of $300,000.

The Tariff Bill in the Senate.

While Mr. Blaine was at a disadvantage in writing his letter to Senator Frye concerning certain propositions in connection with the pending tariff bill, because he was in possession of information of a confidential nature that could not be divulged, his views have exercised a material influence in regard to the matter, and it now seems probable that the Republican Senators will agree upon a modification of the McKinley tariff bill that will "empower the President to impose again the revenue duties on sugar, coffee, rubber and hides imported from countries which do not within a limited time admit agricultural and manufactured products from this country on favorable terms or which persist in export duties on articles admitted free by the United States."

The committee having the bill in charge in the Senate is nearly ready to submit an amendment substantially to this effect, and going perhaps still further on the same line and providing that "importations of products from counties which arbitrarily discriminate against or exclude American products, "may be suspended by the President."

This action will make a radical change in the McKinley tariff bill, but will not be inconsistent with the purposes of that measure. Some of the countries, from which we import largely, discriminate against American prodncts, while others impose export duties and products admitted to this country free. For instance, Spain imposes such a duty on American flour, exported to Cuba, as to practically exclude it, and Brazil imposes an export duty on coffee. If the imposition of import duties on sugar, or the exclusion of coffee from Brazil will relieve us from these discriminations there would seem to be no valid reason to pursue a different course. The consideration and introduction of such an amendment in the Senate will not, by any means, indicate that Republican Senators are opposed to the McKinley tariff bill, in its general features, or adverse to the principle of protection.

Outside of the changes suggested the main outline of the McKinley bill will be preserved and the measure will be passed with only unimportant modifications in other respects, if even these propositions should prove acceptable to the Senate, which is not yet certain. The New York Tribune says: "It is easy to see these propositions are not antagonistic to the protective policy, but would in fact broaden and strengthen it, and render it more effective. The revenue duties which are not needed for protection of any home industry can be taken off or put on according to the advantages which may be obtained for American industries and consumers in negotiations with foreign Powers. As to such duties large discretionary power within limits defined by Congress can safely be intrusted to the Executive."

Prohibition Nominations.

The State convention of the Prohibition party, which met at Glyndon on Wednesday last, made the following congressional nominations:

First District—George W. Covington, of Kent county.

Second District—George Balderston, of Cecil county.

Third District—Wm. J. H. Gluck, of Baltimore city.

Fourth District—P. L. Perkins, of Baltimore city.

Nominations for the Fifth and Sixth Districts were deferred and will be announced hereafter. It is supposed that Mr. H. B. Moulton, of Montgomery county, will be the candidate in the Sixth District. A State Central Committee was appointed and Mr. John W. Angel, of Middleburg, named as the member for Carroll county. A long platform, embracing many other subjects than prohibition and woman suffrage, the principal issues of the party heretofore, was adopted. On the two subjects of the tariff and the federal election bill the platform is in harmony with the views held by the Democratic party and must be antagonistic, to some extent, to the opinions of those members of the party who, outside of the question of prohibition, are in sympathy with the Republican party. It looks very much as if the Democratic element in the party had obtained control and shaped its policy.

The counties of Charles, Anne Arundel, Calvert, Prince George's, St. Mary's Allegany, Garrett and Queen Anne's were not represented.

A speech was made by Gov. St. John, in which he denounced the protective tariff and substantially declared for free-trade.

The Board of Park Commissioners of New York having permitted the erection of a large, unsightly horse-stable in close proximity to the tomb of Gen. Grant, at Riverside Park, a number of prominent and influential citizens have petitioned for the removal of the structure. Gen. Grant was entombed at Riverside Park with the distinct understanding that certain improvements should be made around the spot of his burial. Instead the Park Commissioners erect a horse-stable. No wonder decent New Yorkers are ashamed of the conduct of its officials. The act complained of is a disgrace to the city. If she does not mean to keep the remains of the dead hero with fitting respect they should be removed to some place where his memory is more highly revered, and where the embellishment of his last resting place would not be left to the discretion of a lot of scaly ring politicians, who think more of plunder than of patriotism.

Shortly after 9 o'clock last Saturday morning the town of Lawrence, Mass., was visited by a cyclone which cut a swarth 200 feet wide and a mile long through the town. Seventy-five to a hundred buildings were destroyed or badly damaged; a beautiful square of 500 trees, was leveled; 500 people were rendered homeless, and, worst of all, 9 persons were killed and 40 others injured by the storm. The wonder, however, is that the destruction of property and loss of life was not greater. Cyclones are of rare occurrence in the Atlantic States and the event at Lawrence was a genuine surprise. There was no storm insurance on any of the property destroyed.

Mr. Thaddeus S. Sharretts, of Baltimore, has been appointed by the Senate as one of the nine General Appraisers created by the recent law. This completes the list. Five of these Appraisers are Republicans and four Democrats. Mr. Sharretts is a Democrat.

Drowning of Past Grand Master Tyson.

Mr. John S. Tyson, a prominent Mason, and an eminent and successful lawyer of Baltimore, was accidentally drowned in the Gunpowder river, near Magnolia Station on the P. W. & B. R. R., last Saturday afternoon. Mr. Tyson kept a boat at the boat-house at that point and was in the habit of running out in the afternoon and taking a sail, returning home by an evening train. His boat was not considered safe for sailing, and he had been frequently warned to that effect, but he was expert in handling it, and had no fear. He went out to the Gunpowder as usual on Saturday afternoon and was advised by the man in charge of the boat-house not to risk a sail; but did not heed the warning. As he did not return to the boat-house search was made on Saturday night, but his capsized boat was not found until Sunday morning and his body Sunday evening. The manner of his death must have been very tragic, as the water was only about five feet deep where his body was found; but he was held fast by the mud at the bottom, which is quite deep.

Mr. Tyson was about 53 years of age, and was an eminent member of the Masonic Fraternity in this State. In the Grand Lodge he succesfully held the offices of Senior Grand Warden, Deputy Grand Master and Grand Master. He was re-elected to the last station several times and held the office from 1880 to 1884. He was also Past Grand High Priest of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons and Past Deputy Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery, Knights Templar. His practice as a lawyer was large and lucrative. In 1864 Mr. Tyson was a member of the Maryland House of Delegates from Howard county, but since that period has not been prominent in politics. He was a man of pure and unsullied character, and his tragic death is a source of sincere sorrow to his Masonic brethren throughout the State. His remains were interred at Loudon Park Cemetery, on Tuesday afternoon, with Masonic rites conducted by Grand Master Thomas J. Shryock. Mr. Tyson was married but leaves no children.

The President on the Louisiana Lottery.

On Tuesday last President Harrison sent a message to the Senate and House of Representatives recommending the amendment of the postal laws in such manner as to effectually prevent the use of the mails for the business of lotteries generally and the Louisiana Lottery in particular. The message also suggested that it might be necessary to regulate the carrying of letters by express companies in the same interest. Following is the full text of the message, which is worthy of all commendation and the recommendations and suggestions of which should receive prompt attention by Congress:

"To the Senate and House of Representatives: The recent attempt to secure a charter from the State of North Dakota for a lottery company, the pending effort to obtain from the State of Louisiana a renewal of the charter of the Louisiana State lottery, and the establishment of one or more lottery companies at Mexican towns near our border, have served a good purpose of calling public attention to an evil of vast proportions. If the baneful effects of the lotteries were confined to the States that gave the companies corporate powers and a license to conduct a business, the citizens of other States, being powerless to apply legal remedies, might clear themselves of responsibility by the use of such moral agencies as were within their reach. But the case is not so. The people of all the States are debauched and defrauded. The vast sums of money offered to the States for charters are drawn from the people of the United States, and the general government, through its mail system, is made the effective and profitable medium of intercourse between the lottery company and its victims. The use of the mails is quite as essential to the companies as the State license. It would be practically impossible for these companies to exist if the public mails were once effectually closed against their advertisements and remittances. The use of the mails by these companies is a prostitution of an agency only intended to serve purposes of legitimate trade and a decent social intercourse. It is not necessary, I am sure, for me to attempt to portray the robbery of the poor, and the widespread corruption of public and private morals which are the necessary incidents of these lottery schemes.

"The national capital has become a subheadquarters of the Louisiana Lottery Company, and its numerous agents and attorneys are conducting here a business involving probably a larger use of the mails than that of any legitimate business enterprise in the District of Columbia. There seems to be good reason to believe that the corrupting touch of these agents has been felt by the clerks in the postal service and by some of the police officers of the District. Severe and effective legislation should be promptly enacted to enable the Postoffice Department to purge the mails of all letters, newspapers and circulars relating to the business. The letter of the Postmaster-General, which I transmit herewith, points out the inadequacy of the existing statutes and suggests legislation that would be effective. It may, also, be necessary to so regulate the carrying of letters by the express companies as to prevent the use of those agencies to maintain communications between the lottery companies and their agents or customers in other cities. It does not seem possible that there can be any division of sentiment as to the propriety of closing the mails against these companies, and I therefore venture to express the hope that such proper powers as are necessary to that end will be given to the Postoffice Department.

(Signed,) "BENJ. HARRISON.

"Executive Mansion, July 29, 1890."

Dr. Eli J. Henkle, of Baltimore, who has represented Anne Arundel county in the House of Delegates and State Senate, and the Fifth Congressional District two terms in Congress, as a Democrat, besides holding other important political offices, has been held to bail to answer a charge of forgery preferred by a Mr. Pumphrey, of Anne Arundel county. Dr. Henkle protests his innocence and his son avers that Mr. Pumphrey endorsed the notes and that the signature he repudiates is genuine. A note of Dr. Henkle, endorsed by Michael Bannon, has been filed against the estate of the latter in the Orphans' Court at Annapolis, which his executors say is a forgery.

This is the way the Morning Herald, of Baltimore, defends Gov. Jackson against the assertion of George Alfred Townsend that he does not know much more than that he is a Democrat: "'Gath' is unjust. Governor Jack does know more 'than that he is a Democrat.' It is true that in so simple a case as that of Max Juhn he was compelled to call in as a mentor Attorney-General Whyte, but he should not be condemned on that case alone. Governor Jackson, indeed, knows many things. For instance, he knows how to get under shelter when it rains.'

The Emmitsburg Water Company last week declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent. on the capital stock.

Fatal Collision.

The Bay Line steamer Virginia and the steamer Louise, which has been carrying excursionists from Baltimore to Tolchester, collided with fatal results on Monday evening last, in the channel near Fort Carroll, in the Patapsco river. The Louise was returning from Tolchester carrying about fifteen hundred passengers and the Virginia was on her way down on her regular trip, when the collision occurred. The Louise was struck beind the wheel, the bow of the Virginia crushing into her side and carrying wounds and death to a number of her passengers. A scene of the wildest disorder ensued and many incidents are related which were not creditable to the male passengers. For instance a lady who had charge of a little girl says she asked a man to assist her in fastening a life preserver to her person, and instead of doing so he appropriated it to his own use. This selfish act is a fair example of the selfish conduct of many men on the occasion. They were panic-stricken and forgot the claims of humanity. In the rush and struggle many persons were more or less hurt, and one lad, aged about twelve years, named Daniel Kopp, was literally trampled to death. Two other persons were killed outright by the collision; a number were seriously and others slightly wounded, and ten reported missing. The killed are:

Charles Grenzer, four years old, son of Wm. Grenzer, No. 236 East Cross street.

Mrs. Catharine H. Keyser, forty-two years old, wife John H. Keyser, No. 35 South Caroline street.

Daniel Kopp, eleven years old, son of Henry Kopp, Canton avenue and Caroline street.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

Mrs. Catherine Limberg, wife of Charles Limberg, 1144 Sassafras street.

Louise Limberg, seven years old daughter of Charles Limberg, 1144 Sassafras street.

Mrs. James A. Radigan, 7 South Central avenue.

Alice Radigan, ten years old, daughter of Mrs. Radigan, 7 South Central avenue.

MISSING.

Magdalene Beetz, twelve years old, 2126 Calverton road.

Willie Beigel, eleven years old, son of Paul Beigel, 129 South Central avenue.

Maggie Eller, fourteen years old, 43 N. street Northwest, Washington.

Mrs. Sophie Faber, forty-seven years old, No. 7 South Central avenue.

Mrs. Wm. Grenzer, wife of Wm. Grenzer, No. 236 East Cross street.

Miss Lillie Griggs, fourteen years old, daughter of George W. Griggs, of 122 South Washington street.

Willie Haas, seven years old, 2118 Calverton road.

Henry Kopp, nine years old, son of Henry Kopp, Caroline street and Canton avenue.

Mrs. Margaret Oesterich, fifty years old, 1143 East Lombard street.

Annie Ruth, twelve years old, daughter of John Ruth, tailor, 1036 Hanover street.

As usual the captains of the steamers both declare that they could not avoid the collision, but this is a very poor compliment to their seamanship and not very reassuring to excursionists and other travelers by water. The matter will, of course, be thoroughly investigated by the proper authorities and the responsibility may be fairly determined. Somebody should be held to a strict accountability for the disaster. There must have been carelessness and a reckless disregard of consequences on the part of the commander of one or the other of the steamers.

Of those in the above list of seriously injured Alice Radigan died on Wednesday. Of those reported missing the dead bodies of the following have been found in the river: Mrs. Margaret Oesterich, Mrs. Sophie Faber, Mrs. Lizzie Grenzer, Lillian Griggs, Annie Ruth, Magdalene Beetz, Harry Kopp, Wm. Beigel, Maggie Ellen and Willie Haas. These are believed to include all who were drowned.

Five children were struck by the engine of a fast passenger train on the bridge of the Erie Railroad over the Passaic river, in New Jersey, last Tuesday afternoon. Jennie Drews, aged thirteen; Nellie Warren, age ten, and Mamie Warren, her sister, aged eight, were crushed to death. Jane Warren, aged thirteen, was frightfully injured. Willie Warren was hurled into the river, where he was found alive in about a foot of water. The Warren children all belonged to the same family. When the parents were notified, their anguish was such as to move the policemen and undertakers to tears.

Some days ago Wm. Lyles, colored, of Frederick, accompanied some of his white fellow brickyard laborers on a seining expedition to the Monocacy river. During the afternoon several of the white men while in bathing were taken with cramps and were in imminent danger of drowning. They called to Lyles, who was on the bank, to come to their rescue. He plunged into the river and succeeded, after a hard struggle, in saving the men, but himself was also attacked with cramps, and was caught in the same sinkhole from which he had rescued the white men and drowned. The body was recovered. Lyles was about 35 years old.

A fire broke out in the town of Seneca Falls, N. Y., about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning, which raged for six hours and burned over fifteen acres of buildings, in the business portion of the place. The aggregate losses swell up to a very large amount, the rough estimate being a million of dollars. The description of a good deal of the property destroyed would indicate that this can hardly be much of an exaggeration.

Eugene Coulfield, 17 years old, shot and killed his stepfather, R. H. Boyden, a tanner, at 2517 North Thirteenth street, St. Louis, on Wednesday. Boyden choked his wife severely, and young Coulfield interfered. Boyden told Coulfield to leave the house, and when he refused he began beating him. The boy then shot his stepfather through the head

While C. Thomson, his wife and son's wife were gathering berries Tuesday on Goose Island, Me., they discovered the remains of the bodies of two children. On a rock were four hands and four feet recently cut off. A large fire had been built near by, and in the charred wood were bones, as if the children's bodies had been burned.

Ex-Gov. Bowie's Belle d'Or won a mile race at Saratoga, on Wednesday.

The so-called revolution in the Argentine Confederation was nothing more than a gigantic insurrection against the government in the city of Buenos Ayres. It was promptly suppressed. The city was bombarded by the iron clad fleet for two days. Much property was destroyed and 1,000 people were killed and 5,000 injured.

Mr. E. B. Prettyman formally succeeded Prof. M. A. Newell in the State Normal School, Baltimore, on Thursday. Gov. Jackson, Prof. James A. Diffenbaugh, of Westminster; Mr. John D. Worthington, of Harford county, and other members of the State Board of Education were present when the transfer was made.

Dr. Milton A. Lauver was arrested at Emmitsburg Tuesday night on the charge of disorderly conduct. He is also accused of shooting at Constable Nunemaker, who arrested him, the bullet grazing the officer's neck. The prisoner, in default of bail, was committed to jail at Frederick.

An explosion of fire-damp occurred in the Pellissier pit at St. Etienne, France, on Tuesday, by which ninety-eight lives were lost. The bodies of the dead were recovered. Fifty-nine of the miners at work in the pit were rescued alive.

The San Salvadorians have been successful thus far in the war with Guatemala, having won a number of small battles, driving the Guatemalans before them.

Oliver P. Horner, who was accidentally shot while gunning near Emmittsburg, is in a critical condition and will probably die.

Gov. Jackson has appointed Dr. Robt. Ward State Veterinary Inspector.

FERTILIZERS

We appear again before the farming public in this our second year, greatly encouraged both in the amount of sales and from the flattering reports that we are receiving daily from all sections of the county as to the good results on last year's crops. We could produce hundreds of testimonials verifying this fact without going back over a series of years to get them; but as we have sold goods over nearly all this county, we prefer to refer you to your neighbors who have used them.
We challenge competition in analysis, drilling condition and bulkiness of our goods, as our sacks will show, and we also challenge competition in and we invite the farmer to go to the full extent of finding out the truth of this assertion. We believe that we are selling more goods than all of the factories of the county combined, and it is because of the large amount of our sales that we are able to do business on small profits.

We Make Our Own Goods

from material with a guaranteed analysis, and

We know what we Sell,

and do not have them manufactured by the cheapest BIDDER IN SOME OBSCURE PLACE, but do it right under the eyes of our customers. We will give a large reward if any such insoluble matter as hoofs, horns, leather or marl, or such cheap materials as plaster, ashes or dirt of any kind can be found in them. We invite the farmer to our factory and ask that you encourage home manufacture by buying from
