ELECTION—TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 6TH, 1900.

Monopoly is impossible in this country unless it be enjoyed through a patent issued by the United States.

The aggregate collections from internal revenue from Collector Parlett's district, this State, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1900, were $9,002,373.14.

Bryan may be too busy to talk about the ratio, but his opponents may be depended upon to remind him of it about twenty-five times a day from now on to the ides of November.

The Republicans will be satisfied with nothing less than a majority of 300,000 in the State of New York this fall, and they feel confident of securing it.

Information from Germany indicates that much alarm is felt in shipping circles there lest the passage of the American ship subsidy bill will restrict the development of German shipping in the American foreign carrying trade.

A Berlin dispatch states that the Germans are hoping for the election of Bryan and a Democratic Congress, in order to prevent the passage of the American ship subsidy bill at the next session of Congress.

If the American shipping bill passes Congress at the next session, the increase in the world's shipping will, in a very short time, largely reduce ocean rates of transportation, an accomplishment that will largely increase the foreign markets for our surplus productions.

The Democrats carried North Carolina on Thursday by a large majority and adopted a new constitution which practically disfranchises the colored voters of the State, who were intimidated by the "Red Shirts" and generally remained away from the polls.

English newspapers have been keeping a keen watch on the development of American shipping, and they express well grounded fears that the passage next winter of the ship subsidy bill will bring a large American shipping into sharp competition with British shipping in the American foreign trade.

It seems to be reasonably certain that the members of the various foreign legations at Pekin, the northern capital of China, were alive at a recent date, and that they are held as hostages by the Chinese government as a means of preventing the Powers from making war upon the empire. A communication, apparently authentic, has been received at Washington from Minister Conger. The condition of affairs was alarming and all the foreign ministers and their private and official households were in great danger. A forward movement of 20,000 allied troops has begun from Tientsin toward Pekin, but Li Hung Chang, China's great diplomatist, warns the allies that to persist in it will endanger the lives of the ministers. There seems to be no idea of drawing back from the movement, however, on the part of the allies. This country is taking part in the effort to rescue the beleagured representatives of the various nations, and will join in subjecting China to a serious reckoning if harm shall come to Minister Conger or the Americans with him.

KING OF ITALY ASSASSINATED.

Humbert, King of Italy, was assassinated at Monza, in that country, on Sunday afternoon or evening. A brief account of the crime was wired from that place and published in the daily newspapers, all over Europe and America, on Monday morning. The account was as follows:

MONZA, ITALY, July 29.—King Humbert has been assassinated.

He was shot this evening by Angelo Bressi and died in a few minutes.

Monza is a city of Northern Italy, nine miles northeast of Milan. It has a population of 25,000, and has been visited a number of times by King Humbert.

The King had been attending a distribution of prizes in connection with a gymnastic competition. He had just entered his carriage with his aide-decamp amid the cheers of the crowd, when he was struck by three pistol shots fired in quick succession. One bullet pierced his heart. He fell back and expired in a few minutes.

The assassin was arrested and, with some difficulty, was saved from the fury of the populace. He gave his name as Angelo Bressi, describing himself as of Prato, in Tuscany.

Fuller details of the assassination indicate that this brief statement gives a correct, though meagre, account of the atrocious deed. The first shot fired by the assassin struck the king in the neck and inflicted a severe wound. The second shot was in the region of the heart and the third broke the king's arm. Death ensued in a few minutes.

The assassin declared that he had no accomplices, but it is probable that he was chosen as the instrument to carry out the purpose of a band of Italian conspirators, moved by hatred of the monarchy rather than by enmity to the king. Humbert was beloved by the masses of his people. He was Democratic in his tendencies and favored constitutional government. He exhibited earnest interest in the working people and sought to promote their welfare. He was not a man of great mental ability, but possessed many noble qualities which endeared him to the masses:

King Humbert was born in 1844 and succeeded his father, Victor Emmanuel, on the throne of Italy in 1878. In 1868 he married his cousin, Princess Margharita of Savoy, who has been very popular with the Italian people. He He leaves one son, Victor Emmanuel, Prince of Naples, who will be his successor on the throne of Italy.

Bressi, the assassin, was, until recently, employed in Paterson, N. J., where he bore a good reputation as an industrious and peaceable man.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION.

WESTMINSTER, JULY 30, 1900.

Pursuant to call, a Republican county convention was held at Odd Fellows' Hall, Westminster, this day, for the purpose of electing delegates to the Republican convention to nominate a candidate for Congress in the Second district of Maryland, to be held at Towson on Monday, August 6th, 1900.

The convention was called to order by George E. Sharrer, chairman of the county central committee, and Wm. Wood, of Union Bridge, was elected chairman; A. Bailey Morelock, of Westminster, and Louis E. Shriver, of Union Mills, secretaries. The chairman stated the object of the convention, and a motion that committees of one from each district be appointed on credentials and resolutions, respectively, was adopted. Pending the motion Lewis T. Reese, of Uniontown district, stated that while without credentials, he was present by the action of Republicans of that district, who assembled for the purpose of holding a primary, but in the absence of a member of the central committee to call the meeting to order, informally agreed that any person present should be authorized to represent the district in the convention. The chairman expressed the opinion that the precedents were in favor of seating Mr. Reese, but objection was made, and a motion to admit him was lost.

The committees named were as follows, the first in order being on credentials, and the second on resolutions:

Taneytown.—J. W. Reck, Wm. W. Witherow.

The convention then elected Frank T. Schaeffer, of Westminster; Chas. H. Smith, of Mt. Airy; Jos. D. Brooks, of Westminster; Dr. Chas. H. Diller, of Double Pipe Creek, and Asa Hepner, of Sykesville, as delegates to said nominating convention.

On motion the convention adjourned.

J. C. Clark, who passed a number of bogus checks on citizens of Frederick several weeks ago, has been arrested at Paterson, N. J., charged with similar operations in that city. A request from the authorities of Frederick county, that he be turned over to them for trial for issuing bogus checks and obtaining diamonds and a refrigerator upon false pretenses, was refused, the officers at Paterson intending first to try him on several charges of crime committed there.

The program of the twenty-first biennial meeting of the Supreme Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and of the encampment of the Uniform Rank of the order, to be held in Detroit, Mich., August 25 to September 1, have been completed.

An attempt was made to assassinate the Shah of Persia, at Paris, France, on Thursday. A man supposed to be an Italian jumped upon the step of the Shah's carriage and endeavored to shoot him, but was overpowered by the police and failed in the attempt.

For the Sentinel.

SENATOR WELLINGTON.

The Democratic Populists in this State seem to be much exercised over Senator Wellington's attitude this fall. They have abandoned the imperialistic name of "Duke," heretofore applied to him, and having swallowed all the Populisticism injected into their party, by all sorts of cranks, are now ready to gulp down the senator, however nauseous the dose.

The senator opposed the ratification of the Spanish treaty in the Senate, and to be consistent in his opposition to what he pleases to call imperialism, he must needs support Wm. J. Bryan, who lent his influence to secure Democratic Senators to vote for it, without whose support it could not have been ratified.

A still small voice whispered that it is not so much imperialism which impels the senator to cut loose from political friends, but the loss of his senatorial perogative (which he so prided himself upon) to make appointments, that power now being in the hands of the junior senator who uses it as effectively as Mr. Wellington formerly did.

It is believed that when the power of the "Boss" passed from Mr. Wellington to his colleague, he became so piqued and disgruntled that the Republican party was no longer large enough to hold them both, and Mr. Wellington therefore thought it best to go forth, and roam the wide, wide world with his prerogative, in search of an abiding place, where he would be received and the fatted calf slaughtered for his delectation.

As Democracy will say when Wellington, the statesman, (not as they used to say Duke Wellington,) gets up and spreads himself and flings around that old senatorial prerogative of his, there will be a hot time in the old town, and the faithful will gather up the tattered pieces, and preserve them in honor of the Duke that was.

The remains of the late Rev. A. H. Zimmerman were interred in the Methodist Episcopal Church Cemetery at Reisterstown on Monday. Mr. Zimmerman died at Bremen on July 4th, after a short illness. He sailed from Baltimore on June 24th, on the North German Lloyd steamer Rhein, was taken ill with gastric catarrh the day he landed, and died in the Bremen hospital. His body arrived in New York on the steamer Groesser Kurfurst, and Dr. Edwin Zimmerman, of New York, a brother of the deceased, accompanied the remains to Baltimore, where he was joined by other relatives. The pallbearers were Rev. John P. Dean, Rev. John Harris, Rev. Dr. Barnes, Rev. George T. Leech, Rev. James North and Rev. William Lambright, all members of the local preachers' association. Rev. Joseph S. Whittington conducted the funeral services.

The Banner of Liberty says: "About 1 o'clock Tuesday morning 12 masked men entered the steam flouring mill of Wm. H. Turner at Ijamsville, Frederick county, and, with drawn revolvers, held up Mr. Wm. Haines, the night miller, and Mr. Lucket Wolfe, the engineer. While the two men were holding up their hands they were bound hand and foot and put into the engine room, where they were tied securely together and locked in. Leaving some on guard the others went to work on the safe in the office. This they blew open and found $65 in it. After ransacking the place and finding that the men were securely bound the burglars left.

A straw ballot, taken aboard the Hamburg-American Line steamship Kaiser Friedrich, which arrived on Friday from Hamburg, disclosed a strong sentiment for McKinley in both the first and second cabins among passengers who are American citizens. Sixty-three voters in the first cabin declared themselves for McKinley and only four for Bryan. In the second cabin forty-seven were for McKinley and twenty-five for Bryan. Three in the first and nineteen in the second cabin had not made up their minds on the subject.

A woods meeting which will be in charge of Rev. B. F. Clarkson, pastor of Linganore circuit, M. E. Church, will be held in Whitehill's woods, near Unionville, Frederick county, from Sunday, 19th inst., till Sunday, 26th inst., inclusive. On Monday, Wednesday and Friday, during the period named, only night services will be held, but on each of the other days they will be continued all day.

Joseph Harbaugh, a carpenter, aged about forty-five years, living on the Smithburg road, in Washington county, about one and one-half miles from Highfield, was run over and instantly killed by a westbound freight train on the Baltimore and Harrisburg Division of the Western Maryland Railroad, about two o'clock Tuesday morning. The accident occurred at Highfield.
