The Democratic State convention, which met in Baltimore on Thursday, renominated Dr. J. W. Hering, of this city, for Comptroller, and nominated J. Frank Turner, of Talbot county, for Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Comments on the proceedings of the convention are reserved for a future date, but it may be said that the memory of Thomas Jefferson was again loaded down with all the long black list of the (so-called) Democratic party.

A Strange Omission.

In the report of the proceedings of the Democratic convention held in this city on Monday, published in the local columns of the SENTINEL, this week, it is noted that while Comptroller Hering was complimented upon his administration of the affairs of the Treasury Department, not an intimation of approval of Governor Smith and his administration was given by the convention. In view of the severe criticism to which the Governor has been subjected by the Republicans, this is a remarkable omission, and many Democrats, as well as Republicans, are wondering what it means.

To suppose that the numerous experienced Democratic politicians, present and participating in the proceedings of the convention, accidentally overlooked His Excellency, is scarcely a tenable conclusion. Governor Smith's course in relation to the extra session of the Legislature has been the subject of severe and persistent attack by the Republicans and has been condemned, also, by many Democrats. His connection with the matter has been too constantly and prominently before the public to have been forgotten or overlooked by any Maryland Democratic convention, much less by a Carroll county gathering of representative Democrats, who, it is said, have never heretofore failed to commend and endorse a Democratic State administration.

What is the meaning, then, of the failure to adopt a word of confidence in the Chief Executive of the State, or a syllable of endorsement of his acts during the past year? Can it be that the Democratic party of Carroll county repudiates the extra session, with its useless expenditure of the taxpayers' money and its failure to make a Democratic victory certain? Surely the Governor is not a man of such little consequence, or his official acts of such an insignificant character, as to have been entirely forgotten by the members of the convention, to say nothing of the experienced chairman of the county central committee, who occupied a seat on the platform, throughout the proceedings, upon the invitation of the convention.

To have forgotten the Governor, at such a juncture, would have been a greater political sin than to have openly antagonized his administration, or to have repudiated his part in bringing about the passage of an election law, the effect of which has been and will be to disfranchise many Democrats and make enemies of them and of their families.

The last suggestion may afford a solution of the strange failure of a Carroll county Democratic convention to endorse Governor John Walter Smith. If so, however, it is not likely to have the effect desired. Democrats, who are humiliated by being forced to vote blindly, or to admit their illiteracy by seeking instruction as to the manner of marking their ballots, are not apt to forget the indignity to which they have been subjected by their own party, and will not be placated by the snubbing of the Governor by a Carroll county Democratic convention.

Democratic County Convention.

The Democratic county convention held in this city on Monday last endorsed the administration of the Comptroller's Department by Dr. J. W. Hering, and elected delegates to the State convention in favor of his renomination. It also endorsed Wm. H. Thomas, Esq., as the choice of the convention as the nominee for associate judge of the Fifth judicial circuit, and elected five delegates who will vote for his nomination in the judicial convention to be held in this city on the 14th inst. A bitter feeling was manifest in the convention between the friends of D. N. Henning, Esq., and the friends of Mr. Thomas, and its session at times was marked by considerable uproar and disorder. But the Thomas men were in the ascendant, having elected 38 out of 65 delegates constituting the convention, and though they said little they acted in concert and cast their votes solidly.

The convention did not meet till half-past 11 o'clock, nearly two hours having been consumed in conferences between delegates and friends of the respective candidates for the judgeship nomination. Mr. Henning's supporters held that as both he and Mr. Thomas are residents of Westminster, the decision of the voters of the district should control the action of the convention, as it has been the practice of the party not to nominate a man for office who has been repudiated by his own district. Efforts to convince delegates from the country districts that this was a proper theory were unavailing, although it was more than hinted that some such understanding had existed previous to the primaries. Several incidents which occurred during the proceedings indicated a feeling of intense bitterness between the rival factions.

The convention was called to order by Mr. Benjamin F. Crouse, chairman of the County Central Committee. Mr. T. Herbert Shriver, of Union Mills, was elected president, and Mr. Charles Jones, of New Windsor, and Mr. John J. Reese, of Westminster, secretaries.

OBJECTION TO MR. CROUSE.

The first exhibition of inharmonious feeling occurred immediately after the organization. Mr. Crouse, after calling the convention to order, remained seated on the platform beside the chairman, and, as has been customary in Democratic conventions in this county, took some part in directing its proceedings. A motion had been made and adopted for the appointment of a committee on credentials, and the call of the roll of the districts had been commenced. Taneytown did not respond very promptly and Mr. Crouse repeated the call, "District No. 1." At this juncture State's Attorney Weant, one of the delegates to the convention from Middleburg district, moved that he be requested to retire. A scene of considerable confusion and noise followed the motion, but the chairman, when able to make himself heard, ruled that, as the chairman of the County Committee, Mr. Crouse was entitled to remain on the platform. Mr. Crouse, however, against the loud protests of many delegates, left the stage and retired to the rear of the hall, declaring that everything he had ever done in politics he had done for the benefit of the Democratic party. At this point a delegate moved that Mr. Crouse be invited to a seat on the platform; the motion was adopted, the invitation accepted and order, if not peace, was restored. The appointment of a committee on credentials was completed, and the committee, after a short conference, reported all the districts fully represented and the credentials correct, and recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent, which was done without opposition.

The convention then proceeded to elect delegates to the state convention, and a Thomas delegate nominated Messrs. T. Herbert Shriver, Benjamin F. Crouse, J. Oliver Murray, Wm. N. Gettier and Samuel D. Shipley. A Henning delegate nominated Messrs. Edward P. Brundige, T. Herbert Shriver, Charles Jones, Robert Sellman and E. O. Weant. The ticket first named was elected by a vote of 43 to 22. The Manchester delegation, which favored Mr. Henning's nomination, voted with the Thomas men.

When nominations for delegates for the judicial convention were called for Michael E. Walsh, Esq., of this district, a member of the Westminster bar and of the Maryland House of Delegates, put in nomination the following gentlemen as delegates in favor of the nomination of David N. Henning, Esq., for associate judge: John J. Reese, Nevin Hiteshew, John P. Klee, Wm. N. Gettier and Dr. N. A. Hitchcock. Dr. Hitchcock declined, and E. O. Weant nominated Robert Sellman in his stead.

In putting the names in nomination Mr. Walsh paid a high compliment to Mr. Henning, urging his eminent fitness for the judgeship and his fidelity as a Democrat. Then, leaving the personal question, he made one of the boldest and most remarkable speeches ever uttered in a Democratic convention in this county.

"SOUNDING THE DEATH KNELL."

"The Democratic party in this county," he said, "has reached the parting of the ways, and the death knell is about being rung by this convention for the Democracy of the county."

A scene of wild confusion ensued, and the speaker was interrupted by loud applause and no less loud protests. When order was restored Mr. Walsh continued in much the same strain. He said that the Democrats of the county had said: "You people in Westminster should settle your own troubles," and we have done so. It was a gang of officeholders against the people and the people against the officeholders. The friends of our beloved Comptroller participated against the people and went down to defeat. Now it is proposed to turn down the understanding that as Westminster district went, so should the convention. With a party in the condition ours is, we should act wisely, and should not be governed by officeholders. We hear talk about the organization. What is the organization? Is it the Comptroller's chief clerk?"

Mr. Walsh wound up his remarks by declaring that if such things continued to be, the members of the convention would attend the funeral of their party.

Mr. E. O. Weant, Esq., also spoke in favor of the election of the Henning delegates and against favoring a candidate who had been defeated in his own district.

Frank I. Lewis, of Mount Airy district, put in nomination as delegates to the judicial convention, Charles Jones, J. W. Little, Oscar M. Spurrier, Thomas Jefferson Gunn and Henry Galt, and said, if elected, he hoped they would vote in convention for William H. Thomas as the nominee for the associate judgeship. He spoke of Mr. Thomas in high terms, commending him as eminently qualified for the discharge of the duties of associate judge. The vote was then taken, and stood 38 for the Thomas delegates and 27 for the Henning ticket; Mr. Sellman receiving 17 votes and Dr. Hitchcock, who had declined, 10 votes.

The last act of the convention was the adoption by a majority vote of the following resolution:

"The Democrats of Carroll county, in convention assembled, endorse the excellent administration of Comptroller J. W. Hering, and also commend to the Democrats of the Fifth judicial circuit William H. Thomas, of Westminster, as an able and competent lawyer for associate judge."

After the chairman had announced an invitation from Mr. Thomas to the members of the convention, without regard to their preferences for a nominee, to visit him immediately after adjournment at his residence, a motion to adjourn, subject to the call of the presiding officer, was made and carried.

Those who availed themselves of Mr. Thomas' invitation, and who included most of of his supporters in the convention, were handsomely entertained and served with luncheon.

The supporters of Mr. Henning generally dined with State's Attorney Weant, upon his invitation, at the Hotel Albion. Hon. Frank T. Shaw, who was among Mr. Weant's guests, made a strong speech, in which, among other things, he dwelt at length upon the failure of the convention to say a word in favor of the administration of Governor Smith. He pointed out, as a fact, that it was the invariable practice of Democratic conventions in this county, to make some favorable comment upon Democratic State administrations. Speeches were made by several others along the same line, among them Messrs. Wm. N. Gettier, E. P. Brundige, John J. Reese and E. B. Arnold.

A New Attraction at Pen-Mar Park.

A beautiful new lake called "Lake Royer" has just been completed and opened for the benefit of the hosts of excursionists and other visitors to Pen-Mar, and the mountain resorts nearby. Lake Royer is a lovely sheet of water, covering about 21 acres, and is located near Buena Vista Station, and within easy reach of Pen-Mar, Blue Ridge, Monterey and Blue Mountain. It has been equipped with a number of pleasure boats, which can be hired at a very low rate. Bath houses have also been erected, and bathing suits are for hire for the small sum of 25c. The water of the lake is delightful for boating and bathing, and by this means this almost perfect mountain resort has been supplied with the one only thing necessary to make it an ideal spot to spend either a day's outing or while away a summer's vacation.
