The election of Mr. Rayner to the United State's Senate is largely the victory of the Baltimore Sun, which made the greatest fight ever put up by a great newspaper for a public man in this country.

Readers of the Advocate will watch its editorial columns this week with more than ordinary interest. People are curious to see whether it will meekly "eat crow" and swallow the Rayner dose without making a wry face.

Ex-Governor Jackson and Ex-Congressman Miles are to be credited with breaking the power of the ring in the senatorial fight. They were determined that Smith should not win and adopted the only certain course to prevent it.

It is to be hoped that "Gormanism," which the Democrats of this county, led by B. F. Crouse, Esq., once denounced bitterly, as "denying the rights of the people," has received a blow, by the election of Mr. Rayner to the United States Senate, from which it will never recover. It has been just as intolerant in recent years as it was when the anathemas of a Carroll county Democratic convention were fulminated against it.

Mr. Gorman's Presidential aspirations have received a serious backset by the election of Mr. Rayner to the U. S. Senate. If, almost on the eve of the national convention which is to make the nomination, the Democrats of his own State think so little of his wishes as to throw down the man whose cause he espoused and elect one known to be inimical to his political interests, what standing will he have with the Democrats of the country at large?

While the Democratic party, as an organization, with its customary propensity for blundering, is antagonizing the canal treaty between this country and the new Republic of Panama, and endeavoring to convict the administration of President Roosevelt of bad faith and unfair dealing with the Republic of Colombia, several Democratic U. S. Senators from Southern States have risen above the petty spirit of opposition which marks the party upon all measures inaugurated by the Republicans, and are openly advocating the ratification of the treaty. Senators Clarke, of Arkansas, and Clay, of Georgia, have both been announced as speakers on the affirmative side of the question this week. In fact, only party discipline, apparently, keeps the Southern Senators from being a unit in favor of the treaty. On this and many other questions Republican policy is for the best interests of the South, which is, at heart, Democratic only on the race question. If that could be eliminated, by federal action, from Southern politics, there is reason to believe that a strong Republican organization would soon be developed in that section.

Death of Ex-Judge John A. Lynch, of Frederick.

Ex-Judge John Alexander Lynch, of Frederick, died at his home in that city, on Sunday morning, aged about 78 years. His death resulted from the shock occasioned by a fall, by which his hip was fractured, about two weeks previously. He had been a prominent figure in public life in Frederick county for half a century. His father was William Lynch, who three times represented Frederick county in the House of Delegates, and who was a staunch member of the Whig party. On his mother's side he was a relative of Hon. A. P. Boteler, who ran several times for Congress against the elder Chas. James Faulkner, of Virginia, and finally defeated him. He was educated at Pennsylvania College, which he left at the end of the Junior year and spent two years in Alabama, recuperating his health, which had become seriously impaired. In 1849 he returned to Frederick, studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1851. In 1855 he was elected State's Attorney of the county on the American ticket. During the war his sympathies were with the Southern cause and he subsequently acted with the Democratic party. In 1867 he was elected associate judge of the Sixth judicial circuit and was re-elected in 1882, serving 30 years on the bench. He maintained a high character for integrity and honesty of purpose through life.

He was the oldest member of the Masonic Fraternity in Frederick, and Lynch Lodge, of that city, was named after him. He was a Royal Arch Mason and Knight Templar. In 1865 he was elected Deputy Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Masons, of this State. From early manhood he was a member of the Episcopal Church.

For several years in the fifties the writer was closely associated with him personally and politically and frequently accompanied him on his electioneering trips through Frederick county. His wife died several years ago and leaves no children.

Pushing Extension of W. Md. R. R.

While the heavy snowfall and inclement weather of the winter has interfered to some extent with the work of extending the lines of the Western Maryland Railroad, satisfactory progress has been made, and there seems to be little doubt that its tracks will soon be laid to tidewater. It is reported that material for track-laying has begun to arrive and the rails will be delivered in several weeks. It is said that all the track to tidewater can be laid in a month after grading is finished.

The construction of the large trestle at Walbrook has been started and it will be 600 feet long. The driving of piles for the large freight and coal piers at the terminals at Fort Covington has been considerably pushed. All the right of way for the extension of the road has been acquired except one piece.

The building of the 60-mile line from Cherry Run to Cumberland is reported to be progressing rapidly. This link will connect the Western Maryland with the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg road and open up a line to Baltimore from the rich coal fields of Western Maryland and West Virginia.

A bill has been introduced by Senator Betts, in the Senate at Annapolis, to amend the charter of the road and give it all necessary power to extend its line to the water front in Baltimore city, including the right to bridge the Middle branch of the Patapsco river and to condemn a right of way to Light street wharf and along the route which has already been granted by an ordinance of the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore.

The Western Maryland Company claims the right to condemn property in Baltimore city, but this right has been questioned, and the object of Senator Betts' bill is to clear away all doubts.

The Frederick County Agricultural Society has selected October 18-21 as the date for holding the next fair of the society, on the grounds at Frederick.

RAYNER ELECTED SENATOR.

The struggle over the election of a United States Senator to succeed Hon. Louis E. McComas, came to an end on Wednesday night, when a caucus of the Democratic Senators and members of the House selected Hon. Isidor Rayner, as the party candidate. The vote in caucus was: For Rayner, 50; Smith, 29; Carter, 10.

The action of the caucus was ratified on Thursday, when the Senate and House, in joint convention, elected the nominee, whose term will begin March 4, 1905. The election occurred on the 13th ballot, all the Democrats present, 86, voting for Mr. Rayner, and all the Republicans, 36, voting for Mr. McComas. Four Democrats and two Republicans were absent.

The result may be taken as a great victory of the people over the Democratic bosses, especially Mr. Gorman, who seems to have been anxious to make Mr. Bernard Carter the successor of Mr. McComas, but next preferred Smith or anybody but Rayner.

Mr. I. Freeman Rasin is accused of treachery by the Gorman people and he was roundly denounced by young State Senator Arthur P. Gorman, Jr., while the caucus was in session. The pith of the story is about as follows, as given by the Baltimore newspapers.

When young Gorman saw that the Baltimore City men had voted solidly against the secret ballot he hurried into the committee room where Mr. Rasin and Ex-Governor Smith were waiting to hear the result and asked whether or not Rasin had issued instructions. To this came the reply that he (Rasin) had done all he could.

"Then," said young Gorman, angrily, "you have grossly deceived my father, for in my presence you told a very different story. It was because of your statement that he advised a call for the caucus."

He then proceeded to tell in plain language what he thought of Rasin's conduct. Lloyd Wilkinson and two or three other persons were in the room.

"You traitorous — — — —!" cried young Gorman, as he turned to go; "you played a trick on us and threw down the organization! You promised us seven votes and couldn't deliver them."

Rasin is said to have raised his hands in protest and to have denied that he made such promise. Gorman repeated his assertion and angrily left the room, retiring to the caucus. The colloquy did not occupy more than two minutes.

The Democratic leaders from this county and the Senator and Delegates were badly divided in the fight. Chas. E. Fink, Esq., warmly espoused the cause of Mr. Rayner and spent some time in Annapolis earnestly laboring to promote his election. Edw. O. Weant, Esq., was also a strong Rayner man, visited Annapolis and did some effective work for his favorite. B. F. Crouse, Esq., was with the Gorman people, making the situation for the Carroll county Democrats a very interesting one. Senator Baesman stood by the organization to the bitter end and voted for Carter in caucus. Delegates Haines, Kain and Oursler voted for Rayner and Mr. Fuss for Smith. Messrs. Haines and Kain were Rayner men from the beginning, while Mr. Oursler voted generally, during the long balloting, for other candidates.

There seems to be no doubt that the organization would have considered the election of Smith their victory and if the latter could have drawn sufficient strength from the Rayner people to have secured his election with the additional support of the Carter force it would have gone to him in caucus. "Anybody but Rayner" is said to have been the organization's watchword.

The Jackson and Miles contingents, however, could not be handled by the bosses and went to Rayner, whose previous supporters generally stood firm, and made his nomination in caucus an easy result of the combination.

Maryland School for the Deaf.

The Maryland School for the Deaf and Dumb, at Frederick, has issued its thirteenth biennial report to the General Assembly. President Black states that several hundred young men and girls have completed their course of study and training in this school. Many of them have greatly exceeded expectations in securing quick employment. Some have become owners of farms which they are successfully cultivating, and a number of them have secured employment as teachers in schools for the education of deaf-mutes which they are creditably filling at good salaries.

Principal Charles W. Ely reports the attendance during the two years was 130—72 boys and 48 girls. Thirty of these were new admissions. The number to date this session is 99—52 boys and 47 girls. The county distribution is as follows: Baltimore city, 59; Allegany county, 11; Anne Arundel, 5; Baltimore, 3; Calvert, 1; Caroline, 1; Carroll, 5; Charles, 2; Dorchester, 4; Frederick, 5; Garrett, 7; Harford, 5; Howard, 1; Kent, 1; Montgomery, 7; Queen Annes, 1; Somerset, 1; St. Marys, 2; Talbot, 1; Washington, 4; Wicomico, 1; Worcester, 3.

Mr. Jacob H. Medairy, senior member of the firm of J. H. Medairy & Co., booksellers and stationers, 5 North Howard street, Baltimore, died on Thursday morning, at his home on McCullough street, of paralysis, after upwards of three weeks' illness. Mr. Medairy was past eighty years of age. He was one of the oldest members of the Masonic Fraternity in the State and was probably better known to his brethren of the order than any other Mason in the State. In fact, he was, as Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge, known by reputation all over the world. He was elected to that office, first, about 1862, and was annually re-elected thereafter, until the end of his life. He was a man of pure and honorable character, a member of the M. E. Church and a christian gentleman.

Mr. Wm. Rippeon died at his home, near Mt. Pleasant, Frederick county, on the 9th of January, of smallpox; Edward his three-year-old son, succumbed to the disease January 26th, and a year old daughter January 29th, leaving only Mrs. Rippeon and a five-year-old daughter, of the family, remaining and they both seriously ill with the same malady.

At a meeting held at Gettysburg, Pa., on Monday, the following directors of the Western Extension B. & H. Division of the Western Maryland Railroad were elected: Geo. B. Beaver, J. Emory Bair, F. A. Landstreet, H. W. McKnight, Winslow S. Pierce, C. C. Wooden. Howard E. Young was elected president.

Mr. James W. Troxell, a farmer, resident in Emmitsburg district, Frederick county, while walking to Rocky Ridge from a train on the Emmitsburg Railroad, which was blockaded by snowdrifts, fell and expired. His body was found shortly afterwards by passengers on the train. He was 72 years old.

Mrs. Sarah E. Frizzell, 82 years old, 1421 West Lombard street, died suddenly at her home from heart failure Wednesday afternoon. She was born at Harrisonville, Baltimore county, Md.

A Grand Reception.

On Thursday, Jan. 28th, at their residence, 803 Floyd street, Lynchburg, Va., Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Long gave a reception in honor of their debutante daughter, Pauline Virginia, and guest, Miss Elizabeth Gilmore Slagle, of Westminster. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather the affair proved to be a grand success, with quite a large number present, and all spent a very enjoyable evening. The guests were introduced by Mrs. F. A. Jennings to the hostess, her debutante daughter, and guest, who received under an arch of evergreens from which were suspended three cherubs, making a very attractive and beautiful display of artistic work. From the reception room the guests were ushered to the drawing room where they were met by the host, Miss Clara M. Bankert, of Baltimore, and Mr. W. Scott Zepp, of Lynchburg. The music rendered by Miss Slagle, whose perfect mastery of the piano is beyond description, and the sweet, melodious voice of Miss Sarah Singleton, of Lynchburg, added greatly to the enjoyment of the earlier part of the evening. Refreshments were served at 10.30 in a most beautifully decorated dining room. The soft, mellow light reflected from the many candelabra which surmounted the tables, together with the artistic decorations, gave to one a feeling of ease and comfort. At 12 o'clock the company was invited to the dining room, which had been cleared for the purpose, and all entered into the old time Virginia reel, two-steps and waltzes. When the hour of departure arrived it was with many regrets that we donned our coats and hats and bade good night to our very hospitable friends.

Gist Items.

Mr. Ray Brown, who has been in Baltimore in the employ of the Baltimore Traction Co., as conductor, is home at his father, Mr. Chas. Brown's, near here, sick with a complication of diseases.

Mr. Wm. B. Grimes lost a very valuable horse recently by giving it an overdose of aconite, having been mistaken in the directions.

Ice is plentiful along the banks of the Big Morgan Run, having been washed out at the thaw a couple weeks ago, but we believe most ice houses are already filled.

Messrs. Harry Stitely and D. E. McQuay took loads of produce to Baltimore last week and report that they realized good prices for everything they hauled except apples, for which there seemed to be no demand.

At this writing many of the public roads are blocked with snow. The Road Commissioners should have seen that the obstruction was removed immediately.

Mr. Levi Barnes and daughters, Misses Viola and Pauline; Mrs. George Frizzell, and Mrs. Henry Shoemaker, of Gamber, visited Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Myerly and Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Shipley on Sunday last.

Mrs. Harry Creswell has been on the sick list.

Mr. M. L. Blowerson, our village blacksmith, is kept very busy these rough cold days.

The senatorial contest at Annapolis reminds us very much of some of our county conventions, only there is more chicken with the gravy.

According to the ground hog, as well as Mr. Hicks' forecast, we are to have much more severe weather.

Quite a social event was the outcome of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. J. Stitely, near Winfield, inviting many of their relatives to dine with them on January 30th. About 6 o'clock the guests began to assemble and in a short time the home rang with the merry sound of voices and laughter. Many amusing incidents of the once boys and girls together, were related, to the great delight of the now men and women. About 8 o'clock all were invited to the dining room, where they found the table groaning under the choicest delicacies of the season to which all did ample justice. Oysters were the chief features of the menu, and were served in all styles. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. G. Stitely, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. McQuay and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Fryman and family, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Diehl, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. McQuay and family, Mr. Chas. H. Buckingham and family and Mr. David N. McQuay, the last named being the father of Mrs. Stitely who resides at the old homestead.

Masquerade Party at Winfield.

Socials, pit, panic, and flinch parties, dances and entertainments of almost every description have been the rage in these parts for the past month, but that which occurred at the Winfield Academy Hall, Friday evening, Jan'y. 29, 1904, was something out of the ordinary and will long be remembered, by all who were present, as the leading social happening of the season. The occasion was a select masquerade party given by the young folks of Winfield. About 8 o'clock the masqueraders began to arrive, and by 9 o'clock the hall was buzzing with a jolly lot of "Funnie Fellows." Singing, playing, cake-walking, etc., were the chief amusements during the masquerade part of the program. After the judges, consisting of Messrs. Aubrey J. Stem, C. Edward Stem and Howard M. Zile, had given their decision for the best costume, all were asked to remove their masks. From that until quite a late hour party plays, flinch and pit were indulged in. About 11 o'clock refreshments, consisting of ham sandwiches, coffee and cake, were served. The prize, which was a beautiful Gibson Girl cushion, given for the best costume, was won by Miss Laura Buckingham, of Winfield. The lucky girl wore a dress of blue trimmed in gilt stars. The makeup was that of a queen. There was quite a number of elaborate costumes present, among the most attractive of which were "Night," worn by Miss Elsye Albert, and Mrs. Grace Stem; "Little Red Riding Hood," by Miss Stella Aldridge; "The Bride," by Miss Vera Pittinger; "Bat," by Miss Golda M. Frizzell; "Santa," by Mr. Elmer Bennett and "King Lear," by Mr. Arthur M. Zile. Those present were: Misses Maggie Eisenhart, Vera Pittinger, Flora Gosnell, Edna Pickett, Minnie Pickett, Lottye Eylor, Grace Frankin, Effie Koontz, Susie Caples, Minnie Waddell, Adie Barnes; Mrs. Margie Hering, of Westminster; Misses Laura Buckingham, Florence Brandenburg, Mabel Dorsey, Maggie Houck, Mary Brandenburg, Mary Houck, Stella Aldridge, Mary Bennett, Goldie Frizzell; Mamie McDaniel, of Frederick; Grace Stem, Adie Dickson, Clara Foutz; Elsye Albert, of Westminster; Debbie Zile, Bettie Cover, Maude Stem, Carrye Shoemaker, Abbye Shoemaker, Mattye Shoemaker, Messrs. Truman Naill, John Eisenhart, Harry Pickett, Arthur Albert, Clifton Waltz, Harry Bushey; Robert Brandenburg, Roscoe Aldridge, of M. C. I.; Wilbur Buckingham, Willie Hines, Elmer Bennett, David Stem, Arthur Zile; N. H. Delaplane, of Baltimore; Enos Gosnell, Ernest Cover, Ermand Shoemaker, Frank Brandenburg, Ollie Pickett, John Bushey, Prof. V. S. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Zile, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sleep, daughter dear, and take your rest;
God called you home, he thought it best;
It was hard indeed to part from thee,
But Christ's strong arm supported me.

We were weeping round her pillow,
For we knew that death was nigh;
It was night within our bosom,
It was night within the sky.

By her Mother.

I am home in heaven, dear ones,
Oh, so happy and so bright;
There is perfect joy and beauty
In the everlasting light.

All the pain and grief are over,
Every restless tossing passed;
I am now at peace forever,
Safely home in heaven at last.

Mamma, when my sisters are weeping
And say where is Katie gone?
Tell them that I am sweetly sleeping
At the Saviour's holy throne.

Sisters, when my mamma is crying,
Dry the tear drops from her eyes;
Tell her there is peace in heaven
Where love and friendship never dies.

Sisters do not weep for me,
Though you tended me with care;
Happy you and I will be
When we meet each other there.

By her sisters, Annie and May.

more or less, improved by a Two-story Frame Dwelling House, containing eight rooms; Stable, Wash House, Hen House, and other necessary outbuildings, all in good repair. Well of good Water with Pump at the kitchen door and convenient to the Wash House.

There is a number of fine Pear Trees on the premises in good bearing condition. About two acres of the land is in fine Timber and the arable land is in a good state of cultivation.

This is a very desirable little property, located in an excellent neighborhood, convenient to churches, schools, mills, stores, &c., and its sale offers an excellent opportunity to anyone desiring to do so, to purchase a very pleasant home.

At the same time and place the subscriber, executor as aforesaid, will sell at Public Sale, the following Personal Property, to-wit:

Two Bedsteads and Bedding, including two Feather Beds; one Bedroom Set, one Bureau, one Wardrobe, one fine Double Table, five other Tables, one excellent Marbletop Stand, several other Stands, one Sideboard, a set of fine haircloth chairs, including a Rocker; two other Rocking Chairs, a lot of Caneseat Chairs, a lot of Wooden seat Chairs, two clocks, four Looking Glasses, one Wash Bowl and Pitcher, two Tenplate Stoves, 1 Cooking Stove, Enterprise Lard Press, a lot of Queens and Crockery Ware, Knives, Forks, Spoons, &c., about 100 yards good Carpet, a Wheelbarrow, one Iron Kettle, a small lot of Hay, a small lot of Potatoes, and many other articles too numerous to be mentioned.

Terms of Sale of the Real Estate.—One-third cash on the day of sale, or on the ratification thereof; one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months from the day of sale, the credit payments to bear interest from the day of sale and to be secured by the notes, or single bills of the purchaser, or purchasers, with security to be approved by the executor.

A deposit of $25 cash will be required from the purchaser on the day of sale.

Terms of the Personal Property.—All sums under $5, cash; on all sums of $5 and upwards, a credit of six months will be given, on notes, with approved security, and bearing interest from the day of sale. No property to be removed until settled for.

JOSHUA F. MAGEE, Executor.
