WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

W. L. W. Seabrook - Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JUNE 23, 1894.

The weather has been hot during the past week, but the Lexow Committee made it hotter for New York City officials. It is estimated, from the data already in hand, that the Tammany Society and the officials owing it allegiance, have exacted about ten millions of dollars per annum from houses of ill fame, whisky and beer saloons, green goods men and other swindlers and law breakers for police protection. No wonder Boss Croker grew rich almost in a day, and less wonder that he finds the atmosphere of New York too insalubrious for his health at this time.

Some increase in the rates of duty in the cotton and wool goods schedules was made in the pending tariff bill during the past week. Quicksilver was also transferred from the free to the dutiable list. Little or nothing of importance remains free except wool, lumber and salt. These are interests as much entitled to protection as any other. The raw wool interest pertains particularly to the domain of husbandry, and its destruction, which will certainly follow its withdrawal from the protected list, will be a heavy blow to the farmers of the country, who were to have been the objects of special care at the hands of the successful Democracy, while, in fact, the representatives of that party in the Senate have been spending their best energies in devising ways and means of swelling the gains of the Sugar Trust. Evidently there has been "sugar" in it.

While the Baltimore Sun is being fiercely assailed by some of the county Democratic journals in this State for its outspoken opposition to the Senatorial-Sugar Trust deal, and its criticisms of other features of the pending tariff bill and of Democratic Senators also, it is fair to say that it has been much more consistent on the tariff question than most of its assailants. The Sun has constantly advocated the original Wilson bill as embodying, in a general sense, the ante-election pledges of the Democratic party. It has as constantly opposed the tinkering which has converted the measure into an inconsistent, half-and-half scheme of free-trade and protection and a promoter of the worst trusts in the country. While the Sun does not deign to reply to its critics it has, at least, the merit of consistency, which can be claimed for few, if any, of its assailants.

Some of the Democratic newspapers which are loudest in their denunciations of the Senatorial surrender to the Sugar Trust, are ungenerous enough to liken the proposed schedule to the McKinley law. Nothing could be more unfair. The McKinley law abolished all duties on Sugar below No. 16 Dutch Standard. Above that grade a duty of half a cent a pound was imposed. That was for the purpose of legitimate protection of the refineries and their employees, against the product of low-priced foreign labor. The Senate caucus bill, now pending, increases and imposes a 40 per cent. tax on raw sugar, which is not to go into effect until January 1st, 1895. This will enable the Trust to import the crop of this year free of duty and sell it plus the duty after the schedule becomes effective, whereby a profit of probably more than fifty milli ons of dollars will be realized There is a vast difference between legitimate protection and this wholesale and sweeping bonus to the Trust. In condemning the pending schedule Democratic newspapers should keep in mind the feature that is most objectionable, and that justifies the strongest suspicion of bargain and corruption.

The Future of the Pending Tariff Bill Uncertain.

In the Washington correspondence of the Baltimore Sun of Tuesday the following paragraph appeared:

One of the Democratic Senators who has consistently supported the finance committee ever since the compromise tariff bill was reported to the Senate said today: "There are a good many things in the bill that will be materially changed by the conference committee. Coal will probably be placed upon the free list, the sugar schedule will be revised and duties on manufactured goods will be reduced." Having expressed himself in favor of free coal, he was asked why he had not supported Senator Hill in his effort to make coal free. "It was not," the Senator replied, "the right time for such a fight. It would only have prolonged the discussion and probably have jeopardized the prospects of the bill. The time to correct the glaring defects in the bill will be when it is before the conference committee."

Possibly the Senator who is credited with making these assertions may be mistaken in his calculations. It is just as confidently asserted that Speaker Crisp will appoint on the Conference Committee, to whom the bill will be eventually referred, on the part of the House, members who are committed to the interests of the Sugar Trust, and who will agree to the sugar schedule as adopted by the Senate. Then the bill must be defeated as a whole, or this monstrous fraud on the people must be consummated. It can, however, scarcely be doubted that the bill cannot be made bad enough to occasion its defeat, as the Democrats feel bound to pass some sort of a measure. It is the character of the measure, not its passage, that is uncertain.

The Baltimore Sun of Wednesday says: "One of the curiosities of the market in Baltimore yesterday was the relative price of wheat and oats. Wheat sold for 60½ cents a bushel. Oats sold for 51 cents. A bushel of wheat weighs 60 pounds and oats 35 pounds. Wheat sold for a cent a pound and oats for about 1½ cents, oats selling for 50 per cent. more than wheat. This is perhaps unprecedented."

Miss Kate Warehime sang a solo and a duet with Mrs. Cofiel; Miss Neta Oursler recited the "Last Hymn," and Master David Myers sang a solo, Miss Laura Myers at the organ. They were all royally entertained by Mr. William Brown and family.

On Sunday evening during a passing thunder storm the smoke house of Mr. Thomas Riley, on the summit of York Hill, was struck by lightning and the boards were charred and blackened. His hogs near by in a pen were stunned by the shock but soon recovered.

Mr. William Miller, living 2½ miles east of town, smoked his meat in a neighbor's smoke house which was broken into on Saturday night last and all the year's product of meat stolen.

On the 14th inst. Miss Annie Roeder enjoyed a pleasant party given by her parents, with a number of little friends, on her eighth birthday.

On Tuesday last while Mrs. Cornelius Miller was enjoying a pleasant evening at her home on South Main street with her friends Mrs. Schod and Mrs. Otto, of Baltimore, their pleasent conversation was suddenly interrupted by a large company of friends who not only took possession of Mrs. Miller but her home also, in her utter surprise, it being her birthday. Miss Fannie Ross having engineered the same was successful in making the surprise complete. After enjoying the laugh and a pleasant social chat an invitation was given to the dining room where all enjoyed the good things provided by the ladies of the company, and it was a late hour ere the good nights were said. Mrs. Miller received the good wishes that she may enjoy many more such occasions. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Roeder, G. W. J. Everhart and wife, Wm. N. Gettier and wife, L. H. Hoffacker and wife, Luther Trump and wife, Wm. H. Shower and daughter Lotta, Mrs. M. L. Morelock, Mrs. Otto, Mrs. Schod, Mrs. D. L. Dubbs, Mrs. J. W. Burns, Mrs. Julia M. Motter, Mrs. E. G. Sellers, Misses Celia Shower, Maggie Crouse, Sarah Trump, Fannie Ross, Messrs. Rob. Shower and Geo. Motter.

Mr. E. J. Lawyer and Master Clarence paid us a flying visit on Tuesday last, and as usual Ned brought with him his extra good appetite, with his voice keyed high for cherries, leaving us with a bountiful supply, both in the inner man and his buggy surroundings.

Cherries have been quite plentiful in this section, selling at 3 and 4 cents per quart. One party near town sold 18 bushels.

Twenty members of Hanover, Pa., Masonic Lodge paid a fraternal visit to Lebanon Lodge No. 75, A. F. and A. M., of this place, on Friday evening. A pleasant time was enjoyed. The lodge was called off during the summer months.

Protection Lodge, Jr. O. U. A. M., of this place will hold a pic nic in La Motte's grove, York Hill, July 4th. The Sunday Schools and other organizations will participate.

Our farmers are busily engaged making hay and plowing corn.

Our hay crop will be better than was expected.

Corn is coming out fine.

Messrs. P. H. L. Myers and Son have caught on to the spirit of improvement by painting their large and handsome residence, which presents a fine and inviting appearance; Stegner & Zepp, painters.

Messrs. Crowl and Panebaker have repainted the house on the farm of Panebaker Brothers, which is quite an improvement. They are now painting Bixler's Church, which will aid much in beautifying its appearance.

Mr. Edward Frock, while mowing in company with Edward Nusbaum and Samuel Sullivan, along a creek, noticed a large fish flashing about in the water, and in an instant they set about to capture it, in which, by their united strength and strategy, they succeeded. The fish proved to be of the German carp species, measured 21 inches from head to tail, and 12½ inches in circumference and weighed 4½ pounds. These are champion fisherman.

Dr. William M. Panebaker, who graduated at the Southern Homœpathic Medical College this spring, has located in Baltimore. We wish him success.

The weather is warm.
