TUESDAY NEXT.

Mr. George R. Gaither, the Republican candidate for Governor, and the other candidates on the State ticket began their campaign yesterday afternoon at Upper Marlboro and followed the meeting last night by another at Broadway Institute, Baltimore. To-night they are to speak at Kensingston, Montgomery county. Hon. Frank C. Wachter presided at the Broadway Institute last night. They will speak in Westminster, Saturday, Oct. 19th, at 8 P. M.

From Mr. Baker's Point Of View.

In the Baltimore American's cartoon of last Saturday, not only does The Sun "adorn a tale" (excuse the pun), from Mr. Baker's view point, but strongly does the cartoonist's idea "point a moral," applicable to State affairs and full of suggestion in view of certain local conditions, manifest to all who have made a comparative analysis of the two tickets in Carroll county.

Found Wanting.

A "That reminds me" story is suggested by the remarks of two Democrats of Carroll, during the past week. One of them, a leader, prominent in his party's councils, said of the Republican ticket: "Taken as a whole it is a good one. Indeed I am surprised that you were able to frame so strong a ticket. Your best men in the county are not officeseekers, and I know you had to persuade some of them to accept place on the ticket. Our trouble is we do not have to use much persuasion or pressure."

Another, not so prominent, but an influential Democrat, speaking of one of his party's nominees, said: "Vote for him, no! He has had it once, and now he thinks he has a mortgage on it. Elect him and he will think that he has foreclosed, and will want to hold on to it forever. There are some Democrats, who are always wanting everything in sight."

That's where the "that reminds me" comes in. An old negro preacher in the south announced as his subject, The Handwriting on the Wall. After describing in his quaint way the great feast of Belshazzar, he announced his text "You'se weighted in de balunces and found wantin'", and said "Belubed brethring, dese old heathums is not de onliest uns dats been weighted in de balunces, and dey aint de onliest uns dats been found wantin', dats de way wif lots uv you triflin' niggars, you'se allus wantin' sumfin, an it don make no difrunce how you gits it. You better watch out or you'll be weighted in de balunces, and den what'll 'come uv you."

So it may be said of some of our Democratic friends who "are always wantin' sumfin", "You better watch out, or you'll be weighted in de balunces, an' den what'll come of you?"

REPUBLICANS

who are not registered are earnestly exhorted to have their names placed on the lists on TUESDAY NEXT.

The Potomac Synod of the Reformed Church will meet in Washington, D. C., on Tuesday, 15th inst.

FROM MR. BAKER'S POINT OF VIEW

"He's off!" is the cry, as 'round the ring
The docile animal prances;
And the master cracks his great big whip
While the little donkey dances.

"No Matter What Ticket You Name It Will Be a Good Deal Better Than Any Republican Ticket That Can Be Nominated.

(From address of Chairman Democratic County Central Committee to his party's convention.)

"The only way to determine the relative merit of two party tickets is by considering the men whose names they bear. In determining the relative merit of men, they must be judged by certain qualities, and among intelligent people the qualifications, which mark a man as good, better or worse, are INTELLECTUAL OR MORAL. Fixing this as standard of judgment, placing the two tickets side by side, considering each as a whole, or in part, and man by man, the Republican party invites rigid comparison and does not hesitate to say: "Let the best man win, whether he be Republican or Democrat."

(AMERICAN SENTINEL, editorial, Sept. 27th, 1907.)

THE REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES.

The Republican party in Carroll county has reason to congratulate itself upon the personnel of the ticket nominated September 24th. The ticket as a whole is one of the best that has ever been named by either party in the county. The space in the SENTINEL usually filled with editorial matter is given this week to brief biographical sketches of the party's candidates. All are well known men in their respective localities, and all who know them will agree that in no case is there any overstatement of worth and merit. In an analysis of the ticket there are many interesting facts which are patent to all. One of these by way of illustration is the fact that eight of the thirteen candidates are life long and successful farmers. Another is that every man is a member of some one of the churches of the county, and many of them officers in their respective churches. All have been prominently identified with the business interests of their several communities, and most of them have filled positions of trust in various fiduciary relations. Their eminent success in the conduct of their own business affairs is the guarantee that the interests of the county could not be entrusted to safer hands. Of the peculiar fitness of individuals for the places for which they ask the suffrages of the people much might be said with truth.

FOR STATE SENATE.

Mr. Edward E. Reindollar, of Taneytown, is the party's candidate for the State Senate. Mr. Reindollar is one of the best and most favorably known citizens of the county. He is a son of the late David Reindollar, and was born in 1853. He is one of Maryland's most successful business men. After having for many years conducted the business of warehousing and milling alone, he organized the Reindollar Company, of which he is the president, continuing the grain and milling business. With Mr. George H. Birnie and Dr. G. M. Motter, he established the Birnie Trust Company of Taneytown and is the president of that corporation. For a number of years he has been the president of the Pennsylvania State Milling Association, and at the meeting of that body a few weeks ago was its unanimous choice for reelection, but declined the honor. He is a director of the First National Bank of Westminster and of the Westminster Deposit and Trust Company. Mr. Reindollar's farming interests are also extensive. He owns and operates a farm of about 700 acres. From earliest manhood, thus closely identified with the county's business interests, few have done more than he for its development and prosperity. Strong, not only as a business man, but a trained thinker, with a comprehensive grasp of affairs, a graduate of Pennsylvania College, Gettysburg, Pa., he is just the type of man that the county needs as her representative in the Senate of the State. Mr. Reindollar is an earnest and active member of the Lutheran Church.

FOR HOUSE OF DELEGATES.

James P. Beam, whose postoffice address is Patapsco, is worthy of the suffrages not only of all Republicans, but of all the voters of Carroll, irrespective of party, who desire the election of men of character and intelligence to the House. Prominent in his neighborhood in affairs of Church and State, he has the respect of all who know him. He was a soldier in the Union Army, a member of Co. D, 67th Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and served with credit for three years and until the close of the war. He is a member of Emory Methodist Episcopal Chapel, of which church he is a trustee, and president of its Epworth League Chapter. He was a Justice of the Peace during the administration of Governor Lloyd Lowndes, and filled the office so acceptably that he was reappointed by Governor John Walter Smith. Like every other of the Republican candidates for election to the House of Delegates, Mr. Beam is a farmer. He has been a lifelong Republican, and has raised a family of boys, who are following in their father's footsteps.

Mr. Luther M. Bushey needs no introduction to the people of Carroll county, among whom he has lived for fifty years. While known to all classes, he is best known by the farmers of the county, of whom he is one of the most progressive and successful representatives. Mr. Bushey's ancestors have been farmers for generations. In his early life his home was in Taneytown district. More than thirty years ago he purchased the property, which is now his home, in Freedom district. The land bought at that time was so poor that for a year or two the best results obtainable were from 2½ to 3 barrels of corn per acre. From year to year Mr. Bushey improved his farm, until now his yield of corn is 15 barrels and sometimes more to the acre. Mr. Bushey has not only been successful himself, but is earnestly interested in all that pertains to the development of the agricultural interests of the county, an active participant in Farmers' Institutes and always ready to impart to others the secret of his success. He is a member of the present Legislature, and his record in that body is the best argument for his reelection. He has been a member of the Lutheran Church, from boyhood, and active in all its interests.

Mr. Jacob B. Lynerd was born at Manchester, April 22nd, 1860, and has always lived in the district, except during two years spent in traveling in the Western States. He returned from his western tour in 1888, and having married Miss Ella E. Zahn, daughter of the late Henry Zahn, of Westminster, went to farming. On his well kept farm, one mile west of Manchester, he makes fruit growing and the raising of thoroughbred poultry a specialty. Mr. Lynerd was census enumerator of Manchester district in 1900. A member of the United Brethren Church, Mr. Lynerd is a man of upright, Christian character, and is a worthy colleague of the other candidates for the Legislature on the Republican ticket.

Mr. R. Smith Snader, of New Windsor, is a grandson of the late Richard Smith, and the son of Mr. Philip B. Snader. Mr. Levi N. Snader, of Westminster, is his uncle. Though only 34 years old, Mr. Snader enjoys the enviable reputation of being one of the representative farmers who have made Carroll one of the best agricultural counties in the State. His farms and everything about them evidence his industry, energy and intelligence, and show the touch of a master hand. He was educated at New Windsor College. He married the daughter of the late Elhanan W. Englar, and niece of Mr. George P. Buckey, of Union Bridge. An active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, he has and is worthy of the confidence of his neighbors, who know him best.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

Mr. Joseph Englar, of Linwood, the peer of any man, who could be nominated by any party, on any ticket in Carroll county, in intelligence, integrity of character and business acumen, is a son of the late Josiah Englar, who laid the foundation of the store at Linwood. He is a member of the grain firm of Englar Bros. & Co., of that place, and has perhaps the best equipped lumber and coal yards on the Western Maryland Rail Road. He conducted the business alone from 1877 to 1900, when the present partnership was formed. He has been the agent of the W. M. R. R. for 30 years. As a boy he attended the schools of Cumberland, Md., his birthplace, and in 1869 and 1870 was a a student at the Western Maryland College. He has been a trustee of his alma mater for 10 years. A member of the Methodist Protestant Church of Uniontown for 14 years, and one of its trustees for 12 years, he is an earnest Christian gentleman, zealous in every good work. As has been said by one who knows him best, "Joseph Englar does not live for himself alone." He was the moving spirit in the building of Linwood Hall, in which is conducted one of the best schools in the county, and also a Union Sunday School in which he takes deepest interest, believing that education and religion should go hand in hand. The Board of County Commissioners of Carroll county never included a better business man nor more progressive member than he.

FOR THE ORPHANS' COURT.

Mr. Ira G. Lawyer, of Myers' district, is one of the best known and most popular men of that section of the county, a man of ability, judgment and high character. He was born July 27, 1860, near Silver Run, at the well known Lawyer homestead, where he grew to manhood. He is the son of Josiah and Anna M. L. (Bowman) Lawyer. He received his early education in the schools of the county. After leaving school he chose farming as his vocation, and has pursued his calling with great success for 22 years. He has always filled many positions of trust and responsibility and is at this time a director of the Union Mills Savings Bank, and interested in a number of other business enterprises for the betterment of the community in which he lives. One of the leading members of St. Mary's Lutheran Church, of Silver Run, he is recognized by all who know him as an upright, conscientious Christian gentleman.

Mr. Francis J. Leatherwood, of Freedom district, whose post office is Woodbine, is the son of the late Hanson Leatherwood. He was born near Woodbine, and has lived in the neighborhood all his life. He is now and has always been a farmer, and his well cultivated fields and comfortable home, with evidences of thrift on every side, tell the story of his life. He received his early education in the public schools near his present home. He was a judge of election in the fifth district of Carroll county for four years under the old regime, and has been register and judge for four years under the present system. Mr. Leatherwood is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church and has been a class leader at Morgan Chapel for fifteen years.

Mr. James N. O. Smith, of Taneytown, is well known all over the county, a man of character and strength, in the very prime of a vigorous manhood, having been born in 1862. He has lived in Taneytown district since his boyhood. For several years he engaged in business as a huckster and thus gained a wide circle of acquaintances and friends. To these he has added others from year to year, as he has traveled in many parts of the county as an auctioneer. Genial in manner, he is exceedingly popular with all who know him. Mr. Smith, as the other candidates for the Orphan's Court, is a farmer, owning and operating a nice little farm about one mile from Taneytown, on the road to Westminster. He is closely identified with the civic and church life of his locality. He is a trustee of the United Brethren Church of Taneytown, has been the leader of the Taneytown Band for 20 years, and is a director of the Taneytown Fire Insurance Company.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

Mr. Wm. R. Unger, of Pleasant Valley, who is the principal of the Pleasant Valley school is one of the county's best known and most successful school teachers. He was born in Uniontown district. His father is Mr. Josiah Unger, who now resides in Baltimore, and his mother Mrs. Rebecca Reese Unger, daughter of the late Andrew Reese, of Cranberry Valley. After finishing the course in the public schools, Mr. Unger attended the Eagleton Institute, at Taneytown, until the death of its principal, Mr. Andrew McKinney. He then spent two years at the Millersville State Normal School, Lancaster county, Pa. By his own efforts, without aid from anyone, alternately attending school and teaching, he not only completed his course of training for his profession as a teacher but was able to take a course at the Southern Shorthand and Business College, Atlanta, Ga., whose motto is "The Best Quality is Economy." Before becoming the principal of the Pleasant Valley school, Mr. Unger was clerk and bookkeeper for several years at the Englar elevators, Linwood. He has taught in the schools of the county for 16 years and in his present position for eight consecutive years. He is an officer of the Reformed Church. By training, experience and character he is well qualified for the responsible office for which he has been nominated.

FOR STATE'S ATTORNEY.

George L. Stocksdale, Esq., was born in Hampstead district, January 25th, 1860, the son of a farmer. Like most country lads his early opportunities for receiving an education were limited, but he took advantage of the county schools of Carroll and Baltimore counties, in the neighborhood of his home, going as far as they could carry him. In 1880 he entered the law office of Judge James A. C. Bond, and, after reading law for two years, was admitted to practice, upon examination in open court by Hon's. John E. Smith, William P. Maulsby and Joseph M. Parke. In all his life he has sought to carry out the injunction of Jacob Algire, his step-grandfather, given him upon leaving home, "Be honest, honorable and straightforward in all things, and success must follow," and has fully proved the wisdom of that worthy man's advice. He has always been jealous of his personal character and professional record, and upon neither is there a stain. In his practice as a lawyer for nearly twenty-six years he has been eminently successful. His clients recognize the fact that he is not a stirrer up of litigation, and that whenever possible it has been his policy to settle his cases out of court, when by so doing he could save them from expense, though often at the sacrifice of personal advantage. He is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

FOR SHERIFF.

Jeremiah Belt Townshend was born in Baltimore city, in 1867, where his father was a member of the firm of Townshend, Perry & Co., commission merchants. Soon after his birth his father bought a small farm in Carroll county, and made his home here. He died when Belt was only five years old. His mother went to Prince George's county with the children, but soon returned to Carroll. When Belt was only thirteen years old his mother died, leaving the boy alone in the world. He became a farmers' boy for a time. The last farmer for whom he worked was Mr. Columbus Cover. Then, after clerking in the store of a cousin in Prince George's county for a few months, he came back to Carroll and was associated with Mr. Will. Crawford, near Taylorsville, Mr. Crawford running the store and young Townshend the huckster route. He was then only nineteen years old. From 1889 to 1894 he clerked for Mr. David E. Stem, at Sam's Creek. In 1894, he clerked for Mr. C. A. Lindsay, at Unionville for a few months, and then accepted a position with the Albaugh-Babylon Company, Westminster, remaining until 1900, when he was offered and accepted a position with the Levering Coffee Company, as traveling salesman, and has remained with them until this time. Every position that has ever come to him has come unsought, and everywhere he has made good. A quiet, unobtrusive gentleman, recognized by all as a sincere Christian, an active member of the Methodist Episcopal Church and president of the Epworth League Union of Carroll county, Mr. Townshend is held in highest esteem by all who know him. In every sense of the word a selfmade man, he is true to his convictions, but not a crank. His own personal experience has given him a sympathetic heart, and while firm in his handling of men, he believes in giving to all "a square deal" and will make an ideal sheriff.

FOR COUNTY SURVEYOR.

Elder William E. Roop was born at Roop's Mills, on Meadow Branch. On the paternal side he is the descendant of a long line of millers and farmers. He was educated at Western Maryland College and was graduated from that institution in 1886, the second honor man of his class. After a post graduate course in Civil Engineering at Yale University, he taught in the public schools of Carroll county. He then occupied the responsible position of professor of Mathematics in Bridgewater, Va. He was the first president of the Maryland Collegiate Institute, at Union Bridge. At present he is a surveyor, of the firm of Cassell & Roop, is the civil engineer for the Mayor and Common Council of Westminster, and engaged in bridgework for adjacent counties. Mr. Roop is a minister of the German Baptist Brethren Church.
