Governor's Labor Day Proclamation.

Governor Crothers has issued his proclamation constituting Monday, September 7th, a legal State holdiay as Labor Day. It will be a national holiday, also, under an act of Congress. The Governor prefaces the proclamation with several whereases, one of which, considering the wild utterances of the Democratic candidate for President, appears to be in conflict with the ideas of that gentleman. "Whereas," says the Governor, "labor and capital are inseparably connected, each being dependent one upon the other, no antagonism should exist between them, but each should accord to the other its just dues."

Mr. Bryan's perfervid appeals to the prejudices of labor against capital are calculated to foment discord and distrust between them, and Governor Crothers is evidently disposed to take a more conservative view of the subject and probably desires to neutralize the effect of these appeals upon the minds of thoughtful Democrats, who cannot fail to see that Bryan is sowing a wind from which a whirlwind of disaster and destruction may spring up. In the "whereas" quoted the Governor has given expression to sound doctrine, but it is at variance with the ostensible attitude of his party's candidate for the Presidency, and, indeed, is not in harmony with the official utterances of the recent Democratic national convention, which was dominated entirely by Mr. Bryan and did his bidding with entire subserviency.

A Pernicious Proposition.

Mr. Taft, in a speech delivered at Gallipolis, Ohio, a few days ago, very thoroughly exposed the pernicious character of that plank of the Democratic platform which declares in favor of trials by jury, in the cases of persons held by the courts to be in contempt. The adoption of such a system would make it impossible to enforce legal processes, and the courts would be in a condition bordering on absolute paralysis. Their mandates would be set at nought upon the slightest pretext, jury trials would be multiplied, jury business largely increased and the cost of the courts made a heavy burden upon the taxpayers. And these would be comparatively the minor evils of such a system. The worst feature of it would be the general contempt in which the courts would be held and the ease with which their authority could be defied. Unwilling witnesses could not be punished by the bench without first obtaining the judgment of a jury to determine whether they must appear in court or answer questions propounded by counsel and ruled admissible. Citizens summoned to act as jurors would feel free to decline without the court's consent, knowing that any old excuse, however flimsy, would probably pass muster with a jury if they should be brought to trial for contempt. In fact there would be no end to the difficulties and perplexities which the courts would encounter if Mr. Bryan's ideas on the subject should be made the law of the land.

The fact is that no more dangerous proposition has emanated from that inventor of wild theories of government, Wm. Jennings Bryan, than this proposed interference with the proper authority of the courts.

The Vermont Election.

The SENTINEL hasn't room this week for scare heads and an elaborate account of the Vermont election, held on Tuesday. It is enough to say that the Republicans won by a plurality of more than 29,000, only a few hundred less than their plurality in 1904, when Roosevelt carried the country by a popular plurality of about two millions. As a precursor of the result of the national election this fall it points to an overwhelming majority for Taft and Sherman.

Make Use of Your Leisure Time.

If you have an hour to spend each day don't idle it away, for time is valuable. It will pay you to write to the Circulation Department of "The Philadelphia Press," mentioning this paper and they will send you an interesting book of advice, telling how to make use of your spare moments and how to make a considerable sum of money for a little work you can do very easily. A postal card will bring this information to you. Don't put it off, write at once, for 'twill mean dollars to you. Address Circulation Department, "The Press," Seventh and Chestnut Streets, Philadelphia.

Veterans go to Toledo.

Among those from this county to attend the Forty-second National Encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, at Toledo, O., Aug. 31 to Sep. 5, is a party composed of the following: Messrs. R. N. Conaway, Nathan Hymiller, Lemuel F. Brandenburg, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer E. Jenkins and Miss Cora Hymiller. Leaving Baltimore Friday, Aug. 28th, the party journeyed to, Niagara Falls, N. Y., thence to Toronto Canada, and "Thousand Islands," leaving for Toledo after two days of sight seeing. After visiting the "Falls" three times is the past Mr. Conaway again fell a victim to its alluring magnetism. While in Toledo, the Department of Maryland headquarters were established at the Schuchman Hotel.

The state badge this year is thought to be the best yet worn by the Maryland Department. The base, which is about six inches long, is of gold and black silk, with "Dept. of Md., G. A. R. National Encampment, Toledo, 1908," in gilt letters; the bar shows a photogravure of one of the familiar marsh scenes along the Chesapeake and tributaries, with the inevitable oyster, crab, terrapin, and duck shown in their respective haunts, a tassel of red white and blue silk is suspended from the bar, with a metal pendant of the Maryland coat of arms, with the Battle Monument as a center piece, thus typifying both the State and city.

Prohibition Convention.

The Prohibition State convention and conventions for the Second, Fourth and Fifth Congressional Districts were held in Baltimore on Saturday. Candidates for electors were nominated and members of the State Central Committe appointed by the State convention. The electoral candidates are:

At Large—Joshua Levering, William Klemle.
First District—James T. Anthony.
Second District.—William S. Norris.
Third District.—James R. Whitehurst.
Fourth District.—William Gisriel.
Fifth District.—Wm. H. Feldmyer.
Sixth District.—Francis B. Sappington.

Mr. Emory C. Ebaugh, of this county, and Mr. C. R. Woods and Dr. E. B. Fenby, formerly of this county, were appointed members of the State Central Committee. Messrs. F. P. Fenby and J. E. Evans were delegates to the convention from this county.

The nominations for Conrgess are as follows:

Second District, John H. Grill, of Baltimore county; Fourth District, Charles R. Woods, of Baltimore; Fifth District, Samuel W. James, of Baltimore.

A memorial meeting was held during the day, at which a list of the names of prominent Prohibitionists who died during the past year was read. Among the names was that of Mr. Jesse F. Shreeve, who died at his home in this city a few weeks ago.

For the Sentinel.

Cranberry Victorious.

Cranberry easily defeated the Pleasant Valley Stars on Saturday, August 29th, at Pleasant Valley, by the score of 8 to 4. The Cranberry boys, with Stansbury in the box, put up a good game and at no time were they in danger of losing. Neither side scored till the fourth inning. Then the Cranberry boys started things up by Leppo knocking out a two bagger, which was followed by three singles in succession and the berry boys scored twice in this inning. In the fifth the Valley Stars evened up the score on an error made by the berry's third baseman. After the sixth inning Stansbury had the Stars at his mercy and only one reached third base in three innings. The features of the game were two great one-handed catches in center field by Royer, a Cranberry boy. Another game is scheduled to be played in the near future. Score by Innnigs:

Innings	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9
P. V. Stars	0	0	0	0	2	2	0	0	0	4
Cranberry	0	0	0	2	0	2	1	2	1	8

Batteries—Pleasant Valley, C. Yingling and W. Yingling; Cranberry, Stansbury and Stoffle.

DIED.

In loving remembrance of my dear mother, Eva Cook, who passed to her sweet rest 20 years ago today, August 31, 1888.

A other, dear, we remember
Your words of prayer and love.
We, too, some day shall meet you
In our home, sweet home, above.
By her daughter, M. E. Shipley, Bird Hill.

IN MEMORIAM.

PRUGH.—In memory of my dear son, William E. Prugh, who died 6 years ago to-day, September 5th, 1902.

Farewell, farewell, my son, so dear,
Now in the grave you sleep;
Your much loved little son resteth near
And o'er you both I weep.

'Twas hard indeed to give you up,
I loved you both so well;
While I am drinking sorrow's cup,
I hope with the saints you dwell.
By his mother, Mrs. S. L. Prugh.

FISCEL.—Emma L. Fiscel, died August 21st, 1908, aged 47 years, 3 months and 2 days.

O, dear wife, I would have kept you,
But, O, that could not be.
For God saw fit to call you,
So I must part with thee.

But dear wife, in that home on high,
Where parting is no more,
I hope to meet thee by and by,
When this brief life is o'er.
By her husband, D. C. F.

Affliction sore, sometime she bore,
Physicians were in vain,
God thought it best that she should rest
And eased her of her pain.

Now we have parted, sister, thou art dead,
On its last resting place, we have laid thy head,
A little while, a few short years of pain,
And one by one we'll come to thee again.

Your kind old father shall seek out the place
And rest with thee, the dearest of his race.
Your dear, dear mother, broken with sorrow and grief
Shall lay her head by thee in sweet relief.

We will think of her in her lonely grave,
In her heavenly home so fair,
And we will trust, with a hopeful trust,
That we will meet our dear sister there.
By her sisters.

Farewell mother, may your slumber
Be as gentle as your love,
And when God shall call us homeward,
May we meet you in heaven above.
By her daughter.

IN MEMORIAM.

BRANDENBURG.—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear sons, Teodore, who died April the 9th, 1905, three years and a half ago, and Nelson, who died September the 1st, 1907, one year ago.

"Loved in life, in death remembered."

To Theodore:

A little crib, some little toys, a little vacant chair,
Another voice in heaven's angel choir:
A mother's heart, how keen the smart, to-day as yesterday,
But with the hope of meeting on the morrow.

To Nelson:

Some little shoes, that no feet use,
Some shining curls of hair;
Oh! the tearful pleasure, of each priceless treasure,
As they lay before me there.

My darling we miss you, and long so to kiss you,
Asleep in your narrow bed,
Where the grass, green and tender, and the clover's red splendor,
Hideth your beautiful head.

In that great cloister's stillness and seclusion,
By angel hands led,
Safe from temptation, safe from sin's pollution,
He lives whom we call dead.
Father and Mother.

We cannot sing the songs he sang,
The toys he loved we all revere,
We do not play the games of old
Since brother Nelson is not here.
Brother Carlton and Sister Cora.

One year ago, September first,
Little Nelson bade us all farewell,
Only to be born in a brighter world,
Where the good shall ever dwell.
Uncle Harry.

Ere sin could blight, or sorrow fade,
Death came with friendly care,
The opening bud to heaven conveyed,
And bade it blossom there.
Aunt Eva.
