Dr. Pierce's FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

Give it a fair trial for banishing those distressing pains or drains on one's vitality. This prescription of Dr. Pierce's regulates all the womanly functions. It eradicates and destroys "Female Complaints" and weaknesses that make women miserable and old before their time. Every girl needs it before womanhood. Every mother needs it. It is an invigorating tonic for the female system. All medicine dealers have sold it with satisfaction, to customers for the past 40 years. It is now obtainable in liquid or tablet form at drug stores—or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box, to R. V. Pierce, Buffalo.

DR. PIERCE'S PLEASANT PELLETS

IN A BAD FIX.

Down in Georgia there is a mail carrier who is a foe of the parcel post law. Since it has been effective this particular carrier's life has been over-burdened with woes, and they are faithfully depicted in a letter received by Representative Thomas W. Hardwick, of Georgia. Mr. Hardwick is informed by his constituent that Congress has placed the rural mail carrier in "a devil of a fix" and that immediate relief is sought.

The letter, which Mr. Hardwick regards as a gem in its line, is from F. T. Deason, of Irwinton, Ga., and reads in part as follows:

"I seat myself with pen in hand to write you a few lines to let you know that you have played the Devil with me. I am the mail carrier from McIntyre to Irwinton, and I took the contract to carry the mail three times a day a distance 3½ miles, for $319 a year. At that time the express company was doing a pretty good business, and I got 10 cents for each express package and 10 cents and a drink for every jug.

"You fixed the law so I couldn't carry the jug, and now you have fixed up a thing called the possum post and the express company doesn't handle any more small packages, nor do I handle any more dimes. When I made this contract I could carry the mail in a road cart and a Texas pony and carry the express on the side; now the express has shrunk and this post business has swelled so I have to get a mule and wagon.

"Now when I made this trade to carry the mail I didn't know anything about the foolishness of sending live stock and farming implements through the mail. I thought that this was just campaign talk, and had no idea that Congress would be fool enough to pass any such law. I ain't a man to quit his job, and I never get my bondsmen in trouble, but I tell you this thing is getting serious and I want some help.

"You have just about ruined the express company, and you have worse than ruined me. The express company has made enough to quit, but I was not making a good square living at first and now I am working for nothing and feeding myself. I wouldn't mind working three more years for nothing but the feed is about out.

"Can't you make some arrangements about this thing? You know they should not add the express business to my mail contract. If you know of any relief study it up and write me. I know that Uncle Sam doesn't want one of his hard-working citizens to do the express companies business for nothing. I am willing to do the work if you will get me a pair of mules and a wagon, and something to feed the mules.

"See the man who handles the money up there, and ask him if he will raise my wages, or cut McIntyre and Irwinton off from the post business."

GALENA ITEMS.

Miss Lucy Ford, who has been visiting relatives in Queen Anne's county, returned home on Saturday.

The stork visited our town one day last week and presented a little daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bolton.

Miss Pearle Ford, who has been visiting in Delaware, returned home Saturday evening.

Miss Mary Scott, while visiting relatives in Baltimore, contracted scarlet fever, and is quarantined in the city. Her many friends hope she may speedily recover.

The stork presented a dear little girl to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Vandyke last week.

Sunday was a day of large congregations for Olivet M. E. Church. Nearly every chair was filled three times during the day. The morning sermon by the pastor was from Eph. 4: 27, "Neither Give Place to the Devil," and contained much good advice about keeping off of his territory and keeping him off of ours, etc.

The Church Wagon Committee of Georgetown and Fredericktown are planning to sell lunches next Wednesday during Mr. Samuel Caldwell's sale. Hunt them up and have a nice dinner.

Mr and Mrs. H C. Woodburn, who are spending some time at Pelham Manor, New York, are quite sick with la grippe at this writing.

IN MEMORIAM.

It becomes our sad duty to pay a last tribute of love to the memory of Mrs. Sarah E. Crew who died at her home in Chestertown on Monday evening Jan. 13 1913, at 4.20 of Pneumonia in the 76th years of her age. This deceased was a good Christian woman, and a devoted mother to her children. Death came like a sweet sleep God knows what is best and all should bow to His righteous will. In His word we find our comfort.

There is no death. An angel form
Walks o'er the earth with silent tread;
He bears our best loved things away,
And then we call them dead.
And ever near us, though unseen,
The dear immortal spirits tread;
For all the boundless universe
Is life—there is no dead.

A. FRIEND.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Fannie Hepbron, beloved wife of Ex-Senator Wm. T. Hepbron, died on Monday, Jan. 20th. The funeral services were held at her late home near Kennedyville, on Wednesday the 22nd at 2 o'clock p. m. Her pastor, Rev. F. X. Moore, officiated and was assisted by Rev. Sewell Hepbron, a relative of the bereaved family. The remains were interred in the family lot in Still Pond cemetery. For fifty-eight years she and Senator Hepbron had lived together in the happy bonds of matrimony. Hence one can readily imagine what her demise means to her aged husband who is left to continue the declining years of his life's journey alone. His affliction elicits the profound sympathy of all.

For more than half a century Mrs. Henbron was an active and consistent member of the Still Pond Methodist Episcopal Church. Many good and noble deeds are recorded to her credit and her memory will linger in the minds and hearts of the many who have found comfort and inspiration in her kind and holy influence.

She lived to be seventy-six years of age, more than half of which time she was a great sufferer from the disease which finally resulted in her death. But notwithstanding her suffering she was usually cheerful and never compained.

Beside her husband three daughters remain to mourn her loss: Mrs. J T. Usilton, Mrs Robert Hill and Mrs. Chas. Gill.

Wash Day Afternoon in the Park.

Mrs. Com Plaint—"Did you see that Mrs. Smith pass by? Here it is wash day and she is trotting the children out for an afternoon in the park."

Mrs. Nocker—"I suppose her house is full of unwashed clothes. She ought to stay home and clean up, as we do."

Anty Drudge—"My dear ladies, Mrs. Smith's wash is all done and dried. She uses Fels-Naptha Soap. Do the same, and you will be able to go out to the park, wash-day afternoon, too."

Ask the woman who knows Fels-Naptha to go back to the drudgery of the old-fashioned wash-day.

Not she! Fels-Naptha means too much to her. She knows too well what a labor saver it is—what an economy.

Fels-Naptha actually does most of the wash for her.

Instead of boiling or scalding and hard rubbing in the old way, she simply soaps them well with Fels-Naptha, in cool or lukewarm water and soaks about 30 minutes. Fels-Naptha dissolves the dirt.

Her wash-day starts after breakfast and ends at noon instead of at supper time.

Fels-Naptha saves fuel; saves clothes.

And when the wash is done, she is fresh and happy and the clothes are far cleaner, than if she had boiled and hard-rubbed them for a whole day.

Be sure to use Fels-Naptha the Fels-Naptha way—in cool or lukewarm water.

Follow the directions on the red and green wrapper. Use any time of year.
