VOL. 76 — CHESTERTOWN, MD. SATURDAY, APRIL 4, 1914. — NO. 1

Your purse strings

will loosen as you pass our store and see the windows "crowded with bargains."

Let us suggest to you, Mr. Farmer, the early selection of your needs for this Spring. The time to make this selection is NOW, the place is HERE.

Note the prices—pick out the ones you like—and have them put aside for you until you are ready for them.

If you have never dealt with us, it is your fault; but if you deal with us just once and do not continue, it is our fault. So come in to see us and give us a chance.

We enjoy showing our goods just as much as you do seeing them, and we will see if we cannot show you some bargains.

We are yours for business.

Next Door to Chestertown Bank

THE CHESTERTOWN BANK and THE GALENA BANK always mindful of the interest of its patrons, have decided to

Pay 4 Per Cent Interest

on deposits in the Savings Department to take effect as of March 1, 1914.

We trust that our friends who are not doing business with us will appreciate this liberal offer and start an account with us.

We especially appeal to our friends up the county in and around Galena, who have a bank right at their door, and if they will stop and think of the advantage and the prestige it gives to the community, we feel that they will be glad to support the Institution, have you ever thought of it this way, consider it, and see if you will not agree with us that we have a right to ask you for your business.

Found Dead In Stable.—Harry C. Walls, of near Crumpton, was found dead in his stable early yesterday morning. He had gone to the stable early to feed the horses and not returning his wife went to call him to breakfast and found him leaning up against a stall in the stable dead. Dr. Landis, of Crumpton, was called and pronounced his death due to apoplexy. He married a daughter of Mr. Chas. W. Copper, formerly of Chestertown, who survives with three children.

IMPORTANT NEWS TO THE FARMERS

Well-Known Broker in Baltimore Tells of Higher Prices For Canned Goods—Says Canners Do Not Want Prices to Advance Until After Contracts With Growers Are Completed—Kent Canneries Anxious to Give Good Prices.

The following comment upon the condition of the market for canned tomatoes is taken from the weekly circular letter of Thomas J. Meehan & Co., well-known brokers of Baltimore, under date March 28th. It indicates a very hopeful outlook for higher prices for growers if they hold to their demand.

The circular says in part: "The tomato market was again active this week, and every order called for hurry-up shipment, which is the best character of buying. The average size of the orders increased again this week, and the market broadened out more than at any time since the first of the year. Strange as it may seem to the uninitiated, the canners in this section do not want the market prices to advance at this particular time for the reason that it would be an added incentive to the growers to hold out for a higher price for the coming crop, which they seem bent upon obtaining. At this writing, however, it looks as if there is an active demand coming to cover the requirements of the spring trade.

"For future delivery the buying has increased very materially and several of the Baltimore canners announced that they have booked enough orders to cover all the tomatoes that they intended to sell at the opening prices. There are still enough sellers, however, to meet any ordinary demand for Baltimore delivery. The canners located outside of Baltimore do not show any disposition to push the sale of their goods at the present prices because they have not yet contracted with the growers for their supplies of the raw material next summer, but as yet they do not turn away any desirable business that we put up to them."
