AMERICAN SENTINEL.

WESTMINSTER, MARYLAND.

JOS. D. BROOKS, Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice at Westminster, Md., as Second-class matter.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1910.

The Henry Sloan Company, of Buffalo, N. Y., was convicted on Tuesday last, in the United States Court, of shipping rotten eggs to a man named Samuel Rottenberg, residing in New city.

The Democrats have gained a small victory in an off year and now they are at a loss to know what to do. They are already sending out invitations to the extreme radicals in the Republican party to come over and help them. It is a regular Macedonian cry.

Wall street voted with the Democrats in order to rebuke Roosevelt but now they are realizing that the radical Democrats and Republicans will have control of Congress and are likely to do "something" that will greatly disturb the business of the country. They are like the old fellow that prayed for rain; they have overdone the job.

Our merchants are now advertising their Christmas goods, and from the number and quality of the articles offered for sale we see no reason for our people going to Baltimore in order to purchase anything for Christmas. Many of our people offer all sorts of excuses about going away from home to do their shopping but we feel certain that in the majority of cases they can do as well, if not better, at home. Surely the goods offered by our local merchants ought to please the most fastidious.

We have always been informed that the ordinances of Westminster allowed the use of a reasonable part of the streets and pavements for the purpose of depositing building material, &c., while a building is in the course of repair or construction, but from some of the piles of soil, bricks and other materials the pedestrians are now compelled to walk over, or rather fall over, on our sidewalks it strikes us that either the officers are not enforcing the laws or some people are taking a mighty long time to do a little bit of work. A lawsuit or two may cause some people in this town to "sit up and take notice."

That the people made a mistake in electing a Democratic House will soon be realized. The great financiers and labor employers of the country are already predicting an army of unemployed before twelve months. When men are out of work the products of the farm always decline in price. What benefit then will the farmer derive from a radical Democratic House of Representatives? A Republican president will do everything in his power to prevent the trouble but fear is a hard thing to control. Many foolish things are done by people when in fear of some calamity.

On Tuesday, November 15th, 1910, the Board of Public Works authorized the sale of $250,000 worth of bonds for the purpose of completing the boulevard between Annapolis and Baltimore. With four railroads running between the two cities we are at a loss to understand why so much money should be spent on a boulevard. Southern Maryland and the Eastern Shore are getting nearly all the money authorized for road building and Northern and Western Maryland are paying the major portion of the cost and getting comparatively nothing.

In an address before the meeting of the Governors on Tuesday, in Frankfort, Kentucky, Woodrow Wilson, the newly-elected Democratic governor of New Jersey, urged a strong central government in order to control trusts and combines, alleging that the states were unable to cope with the situation.

We have always been told by the Democrats that a strong central government was one of the things they detested. It has always been state's rights with them. It is wonderful how some people change their minds when they are compelled to face certain problems of government.

The Price of Coffee.

The retail price of coffee has been advanced two cents and the uninformed will, of course, immediately begin to abuse the Payne-Aldrich tariff law which, as a matter of fact, has nothing to do with the increase, or the past, present or future price of the same. Some years ago the tariff on all coffee was lowered by our government and immediately the Brazilian government imposed an export duty of fifty cents a sack and within the last thirty days has increased the duty to one dollar per sack. The people who grow the coffee bean, as well as those controlling the sale of the same, know that the people of this country are great coffee drinkers and, therefore, like all people who have formed a habit of drinking any article are willing to pay the price. As Brazil produces the major portion of the coffee used in this country the Brazilian government collects from us every cent it can, while our government gets little or nothing from the importing of coffee. The very same condition will be brought about if the Democratic party is allowed to repeal the present law or lower the duties on any given article. All foreign governments collect an export duty on goods shipped out of the country and the very moment our government lowers or abolishes a duty the foreign government immediately raises its export duty. People who are laboring under the delusion that foreign governments are run by a lot of fools have another "think" coming to them.

The Baltimore Sun before and after the Election.

Before the late election the Baltimore Morning Sun had a great deal to say about the high cost of living and urged its readers to help elect a Democratic House of Representatives in order, as it then alleged, to reduce the cost of living which had been so expensive under the Payne-Aldrich tariff law.

Mr. J. J. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway system, in an interview on Sunday last, predicts a serious panic in the country before another 12 months, and the Sun, in an editorial in last Tuesday's issue, takes him to task for making such a statement. It paints a beautiful picture of the prosperous condition of the farmer, as follows:

"When we come to a fair consideration of the condition of the country we may well ask why there should be any panic. There never was a time, since the people of Jamestown, Va., planted tobacco in the streets, that the farmers of the United States were in better condition to buy the products of the factories than they are at the present time. An abundant cotton crop is selling at high prices, an abundant wheat crop is bringing prices that pay. The corn crop is enormous, insuring a good supply of meat. The railroads must carry the crops to market, and the money that the farmer receives is promptly spent in machinery, vehicles, lumber, clothing and various luxuries, such as pianos and furniture, perhaps here and there an automobile. This gives employment to the railroads and to the various factories. The factories need coal for motive power and various metals. That gives employment to the miners, the furnaces, the railroads and all classes of metal workers."

The farmers of the country were in the same condition before the election, the Republicans are still in power and the Payne-Aldrich tariff law is still in force.

If the above is all true, and it must be because the Sun says it is, then what benefit does the farmer expect to derive from a Democratic House which has never, in the past, been able to agree upon anything beneficial to him.
