REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,

WILLIAM B. BAKER.

OF HARFORD COUNTY.

Election Tuesday, Nov. 8th, 1898.

A Vote for Hon. Wm. B. Baker will be a vote to hold up the hands of President McKinley in our controversy with Spain.

The time for argument is past. Now let us have action—concerted action—poll the full Republican strength of this county and give Hon. Wm. B. Baker a substantial majority.

The right of suffrage is the highest privilege of an American citizen. No man should be indifferent to it. Exercise it on Tuesday next by voting for Wm. B. Baker, sound money and national prosperity.

The Republican who heard the superb argument of Senator Wellington, on Wednesday night, must be convinced that it is his duty to vote for Mr. Baker. The Democrat who listened could hardly fail to admit that it was unanswerable.

It is hardly necessary to call anybody's attention to the fact that next Tuesday, November 8th, will be election day; yet out of abundant caution the date will be found repeated several times in this issue of the SENTINEL, lest it be overlooked by some one entitled to the suffrage.

The Republican party is the party of progress and prosperity. Every true Republican is convinced of the truth of this declaration, and it is fully demonstrated by the history of the last forty years. Conceding this, it is impossible to escape the conclusion that the Republican who shall voluntarily fail to cast his ballot for Hon. Wm. B. Baker, at the approaching election, will be neglecting to do that which would be to the best interests of his country.

Election Tuesday, November 8th, from 8 A. M. till 6 P. M.

TO HOLD THE PHILIPPINES.

This seems to be the final determination of the American Government, as there appears to be no doubt that the Spanish Peace Commissioners have been so notified by the American Commissioners, who are acting under instructions from the President. The terms of the cession, it is said, proposed by the representatives of this country, embrace a proposition to assume a debt of forty millions of dollars contracted by Spain for improvements in the Archipelago; but of this $40,000,000 no money is to be paid to Spain, that country being properly chargeable with a much larger sum on account of the great cost of the war on our side.

The President has been already violently assailed by the opponents of Expansion, or, as some term it, Imperialism, for adopting this course of procedure and will, no doubt, be further denounced by many who are without knowledge of the propriety of his action. Eminent Republicans and Democrats favor the absolute acquisition of the Philippines and other Republicans and Democrats, just as eminent, entertain exactly opposite views. On both sides opinions in relation to the question were formed very hastily and, in all probability, without much knowledge on the subject, and opinions once formed, even without sufficient data, are not readily changed in the case of most men.

It should be realized, however, that President McKinley is not, in this instance, at least, in that category. His desire and his efforts to avoid war with Spain, in the first place, are well known, and it was only when forbearance had reached its utmost limit that he gave assent to the proceedings which resulted in the war. The country had reason to believe that he did not look with favor upon the acquisition of the entire Philippine Archipelago when the peace protocol was agreed upon, and wisely left the settlement of the question to further consideration.

Now, if, as is asserted, he is decided in favor of insisting upon the cession of the Islands to the United States, is it not reasonable to suppose that he has given the subject the most careful investigation, and that he has learned more than any other American of the causes and conditions which make such action more desirable than the mere acquisition of a coaling station would be? President McKinley is a man who does not act upon hasty impulses, or upon ill-considered data. It is to be believed that in this case he has carefully weighed the reasons for and against the acquisition of the Philippines—for and against Expansion or Imperialism, if you will—and should not be denied the confidence of the people because the uninformed judgment of some other people has reached a hasty conclusion on the other side of the question.

The President should not only have the sustaining confidence, but the supporting votes of the people in this emergency, so that, when Congress meets, his course and the course of the Peace Commissioners may be submitted to the action of a House in friendly accord with him, rather than to political opponents who will feel it a partisan duty to hamper and obstruct the consummation of the plans of his administration. And this consideration forcibly emphasizes the duty of every Republican in Carroll county to vote for Baker, the friend and supporter of McKinley, on Tuesday next.

A vote for Mr. Tippett will be a vote to turn back the wheels of progress and bring again the desolating influences of free trade upon the country.

A CALL TO THE REPUBLICANS OF CARROLL COUNTY.

There seems to be a general impression among the people of this county that the approaching election for members of Congress is of comparatively little importance and that it will make very little difference, so far as the interests of the country are concerned, whether Republicans or Democrats are elected. It is said that even some Republicans in this county, actuated, no doubt, by purely personal motives, are endeavoring to create such an impression, and that some are quietly urging their friends among the Republicans to vote for Mr. Tippett, the Democratic nominee, against Hon. Wm. B. Baker upon the ground that Mr. Baker's defeat can do no harm to the country and will be a rebuke to persons whom they dislike. Admitting that these persons are sincere in entertaining this opinion, a moment's reflection should convince every Republican that they are mistaken—tremendously mistaken—in holding it, and that the pending election is of vast importance and fraught with momentous consequences to the country which we all love.

One of these consequences will be its effect upon the issues of the war with Spain, which are now being considered by the Peace Commission at Paris. Can anybody doubt that the election of a Democratic Congress would greatly embolden the Spanish Government in demanding concessions which should not be made; or that such demands, in that case, would be backed up by the moral influence of most, if not all, of the European Powers? Do you ask why this would be so? Think for a moment. Many Democrats condemned and are now condemning the war with Spain, in toto. They did not rise to a patriotic denunciation of the destruction of the Maine. They did not care for the oppressions and outrages visited by Spain upon our Cuban neighbors, nor heed the cries of the starving and dying concentrados and their wives and children. They now denounce what they are pleased to term Imperialism, or Expansion, because, as compensation for the cost in American lives and in money, the country has taken Porto Rico and may hold the Philippine Islands. Is it not logically clear that the triumph at the polls of those who hold these views would be an acknowledgement on the part of the people of this country that their Government is in the wrong in its dealing with Spain? and is it not entirely logical to assume that Spain will make the most of this acknowledgement, and, backed by other Powers, be in a position to greatly embarrass the administration in enforcing its views in relation to the settlement of this Spanish affair?

Another consequence of a Democratic victory would be its obstruction of legislation designed to settle definitely and on a solid basis, the question of the currency. The Democratic National and Congressional Committees are conducting the campaign on the free coinage of silver basis, at the 16 to 1 ratio, and a very large majority of the Democratic candidates for Congress hold to that doctrine. Those of them who do not are bound to submit to the purposes of a majority of them as they will be expressed in caucus. Hence, it is clear that with a Democratic majority in Congress, legislation to establish a solid standard of circulation will be impossible. An anti-Republican majority in the Senate of the Fifty-fifth Congress prevents such legislation now. The Senate of the Fifty-Sixth Congress will be Republican and with a majority of Republicans in the House of Representatives the law necessary to assure a continuance of sound currency will be enacted. If the Democrats shall be in a majority the law will not and could not be passed.

There are other questions of importance involved in the canvass, but those referred to are of paramount consequence and ought to be sufficient to move every Republican to an active interest in the pending election.

These considerations should constitute a strong appeal to active participation in the campaign, not for Mr. Baker's sake, but for the sake of the administration and of the country which have received his full support in its conflict with Spain, by his votes in the House of Representatives, and who has also stood unshaken for a sound and stable currency. It is not even for the sake of the Republican party that this appeal is made. Country is higher than party, higher than self and it is the appeal of the country to her patriotic sons.

Will you not, if you have felt indifference concerning the result of the election, throw off that indifference, and not only go to the polls yourself, but see that your Republican neighbor also is posted on the issues herein presented and induced to cast his ballot in behalf of our own country against a foreign foe, and for sound money against a debased and depreciated currency?

It is a crisis, a momentous crisis in the affairs of the nation. Will you not, by vote and influence aid in steering the ship of State through the angry waters to a safe and quiet harbor?

A SPANISH AMERICAN WAR SOCIETY

A society, having for its object the perpetuation of the memories of the Spanish-American war and the development and maintenance of unselfish patriotism among the people has been organized in this country, with the name of The National Society of the Spanish American War. Miss Clara Barton is its president, Mrs. V. Jefferson Davis represents the South, Mrs. John A. Logan the North, Gen. Miles the Army and Admiral Schley the Navy, as vice-presidents. An incidental purpose of the society is the erection of a monument to the Americans who perished in the war, which will be placed in the city upon which a majority of the members shall decide. The primary object, however, or, at least, the vital element in the work of the society will be its memorial lectures.

The society, it is announced, is now organizing a staff of lecturers, under the leadership of Dr. Guy Carleton Lee, one of the most brilliant and talented orators of the century, who has been appointed chief of staff lecturers. The nucleus of the staff will be some of our best known public speakers. Grouped around them will be men of lesser note, though of sterling merit. Assisting, and at the same time being trained to platform work, will be the volunteer lecturers of the society. Applications for membership in the volunteer division will be received by the society. The motto and the insignia of the society has been most happily chosen. The motto is, Lest We Forget, and one hears the Recessional sounding as the words are uttered. The badge of the members is a thirteen pointed star of dark blue enamel bearing thirteen golden stars encircling the letters L. W. F., standing for the motto. The executive officers wear signet rings with which all official communications are sealed. The rings are in the form of eagle claws grasping a sard upon which is engraved the L. W. F., and the insignia of the official position of the wearer.

The work of the lecture corps is divided into three classes. The classes are of equal importance though widely differing in methods of work.

The first division of work embraces the Secondary schools of the country. It extends from the Kindergarten through the Common and High School. In this line of work the boys and girls are talked to. They are instructed in the meaning of true patriotism. They are led to a realization of what good citizenship means. The memory of the dead is cherished, their glory is preserved and their example held up to the young pupils. Here then is the foundation work of the society. The second division of work finds its assigned field of labor in the colleges of the country. We have over 388 colleges and these form bases of work that are of unexcelled strategic importance. At least once a year at each college it is designed to deliver a free public lecture on some great topic of the day. For the next year the subject will bear upon the Spanish war.

This lecture will be a commemorative one. It will be a memorial lecture of great force. It will be popular in tone and of thrilling interest but it will convey a deep, true lesson of earnest patriotism.

The third and broadest field of effort is the public memorial lectures that will be delivered wherever practicable.

This society will depend largely upon the patriotic liberality of the people of the United States, for its success and maintenance, and to them it makes the following appeal, to which, as requested, a place is given in the columns of the SENTINEL:

Office of
THE NATIONAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.
1707 Bolton Street, Baltimore, Maryland.

To the People of the United States.

This society having set forth its plan of work through the medium of this paper, makes the appeal to the American People and particularly to the American women.

First—We wish to extend our membership to every home in our beloved land. We invite every patriotic American, eligible under our constitution, whether man or woman, in every State or Territory or Possession to join with us in inculcating true patriotism through memorials to our heroic dead.

Second—We desire all persons interested in our great work to put themselves in touch with us. We particularly desire to communicate with persons who will undertake the formation of Local Councils and the arrangement of lectures. With officers of civic and government clubs and, generally, with all those who will lend voice or pen to our cause.

Third—We ask all editors before whom this article comes, to publish the plans of our society and this appeal.

Fourth—We solicit contributions to our memorial fund. We earnestly appeal to your generosity. Any amount, be it small or large, will be gratefully received and promptly acknowledged.

All contributions should be sent to the National Treasurer, The Commonwealth Savings Bank, Baltimore, Md. All other communications to the National Executive chairman, Guy Carleton Lee, Ph. D., Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

We trust in the patriotism and liberality of the American people.

THE NATIONAL SOCIETY OF THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

They have "Rough Riders" in North Carolina, but they are not fighting the Spaniards. They are engaged in a campaign for the suppression of the colored voters, and intend to carry the State for the Democratic party by violence.

A Republican majority in the House of Representatives of the Fifty-sixth Congress, to co-operate with the Senate, which will then be Republican, in passing laws to place the country on a sound and enduring financial basis, is a most important consideration in the present campaign. The Republican who neglects to vote for Mr. Baker simply elects to obstruct such legislation. The logic of this proposition is irrefutable.

Hon. Wm. B. Baker, as the Republican candidate for Congress, stands for honest money, the prosperity of American industries and labor and for sustaining the administration of President McKinley in the settlement of the questions growing out of the Spanish-American war. His opponent, while declaring for the gold standard, voted for Bryan in 1896 and for a free silver candidate for Congress. He is opposed to protection and hostile to the administration on the war question. No Republican, under these circumstances, should hesitate a moment to cast his ballot for Hon. Wm. B. Baker.

Rumors are current in Paris that the Spanish members of the Peace Commission will withdraw from its deliberations if the terms presented by the American members in relation to the Philippine Islands are insisted upon. The rumor is discredited at Washington and no uneasiness is felt, it is said, by the President concerning the matter. He is confident that the terms proposed will be accepted. Presumably the dissolution of the commission would restore the conditions in existence when the peace protocol was signed and hostilities might be resumed. Such an event is, however, extremely improbable.

Election Tuesday, November 8th, from 8 A. M. till 6 P. M.

BUSINESS LOCALS.

In response to a letter received from Miss Clara Barton, President "American National Red Cross," a box of jellies and other delicacies for the sick will be collected and forwarded direct to Miss Barton, for use in the hospitals and in her relief work in Cuba. Jelly, cornstarch, gelatine or anything suitable for invalids will be acceptable. All donations will please be sent to the residence of Miss Mary B. Shellman, 206 East Main street, where the box will be packed, on or before Monday, November 14th. In her letter, Miss Barton says: "I need scarcely tell you, how much I appreciate the steadfast support the women of our country have given me, these many years; and indeed, but for their loyalty to me, I could not have accomplished one-half the good work it has been my lot to do. Kindly say this to your friends, and tell them the little donations of the loyal women of this country saved many lives in Cuba, and that our work is still going on under tried and true agents, and will continue as long as we are able to do anything for the suffering."

A SURE SIGN OF CROUP.

Hoarseness in a child that is subject to croup is a sure indication of the approach of the disease. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has appeared, it will prevent the attack. Many mothers who have croupy children always keep this remedy at hand and find that it saves them much trouble and worry. It can be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Diclman, New Windsor.

Experimented with many other's, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at A. H. Huber and Jos. B. Boyle's Drug Stores.

FROM NEW ZEALAND.

REEFTON, New Zealand, Nov. 23, 1896.

I am very much pleased to state that since I took the agency of Chamberlain's medicines the sale has been very large, more especially of the Cough Remedy. In two years I have sold more of this particular remedy than of all other makes for the previous five years. As to its efficacy, I have been informed by scores of persons of the good results they have received from it, and know its value from the use of it in my own household. It is so pleasant to take that we have to place the bottle beyond the reach of the children.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by Joseph D. Zepp, Druggist, Westminster, and Lewis H. Diclman New Windsor.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. EXECUTORS' SALE
OF A MOST DESIRABLE FARM
Medford Station.

By virtue of an order of the Orphans' Court of Carroll county, the subscribers, as executors of David Englar, late of said county, deceased, will sell at Public Sale, on the premises, adjacent to Medford Station, on the Western Maryland Railroad, on

SATURDAY, 5th DAY OF NOVEMBER,

1898, at 1 o'clock, P. M., the Farm now occupied by Mr. Jesse Baile of P., containing

81 ACRES, MORE OR LESS.

The improvements on said Farm consist of a large two-story Frame Weatherboarded Dwelling House, Bank Barn, Carriage House, Grain, Wood Shed, Hogpen, Chicken House and all other necessary outbuildings. All the buildings are in first-rate condition. There is a well of good water, with wind pump and reservoir from which the water is piped into the house and also to the barn, and there is a large cistern at the house. There is on this farm an apple Orchard of choice fruit; also other varieties of fruit in full bearing, among which are fine pears, quinces and grapes. There is also running water on this farm.

About 6 acres of the land is first-class Meadow and the remainder is under cultivation, has good fencing and is fertile and productive.

This farm is situated in the celebrated Wakefield Valley, in an excellent neighborhood, convenient to churches, schools, markets, &c. The buildings are located on a beautiful slope, within three minutes walk of Medford Station, and there is no more attractive or desirable property on the line of the Western Maryland Railroad. This description scarcely exhibits its attractions or does it justice. Its sale offers a rare opportunity to any person wishing to purchase a comfortable and delightful home with the amount of land it contains. Persons wishing to view it previous to the sale can call on Mr. Baile, the occupant, or on David Englar, Jr., one of the executors, at Medford Station.

Terms of Sale as prescribed by the Orphans' Court.—One-third cash on the day of sale, or on the ratification thereof; one-third in six months and one-third in twelve months, the purchaser or purchasers to give bonds or single bills for the credit payments, with security to be approved by the executors and bearing interest from the day of sale.
