DEFEAT OF THE FRUIT MEASUREMENT BILL.

A Spicy Passage Between County and City Members in the House.

Mr. Thompson's bill providing for a uniform measurement for truck and vegetables was taken up in the House of Delegates on the 22d inst. The correspondent of the Baltimore Sun gives the following synopsis of the debate:

Mr. Fitzgerald offered an amendment to provide that the uniform measurement apply only to peaches and tomatoes. The amendment also specified the dimensions of the box in which peaches and tomatoes are to be packed.

Mr. Purnell proposed to postpone the bill indefinitely.

Mr. Thompson opposed the motion, stating that the members of the House were not acquainted with the provisions of the amendment.

Mr. Fitzgerald wanted the amendment thoroughly understood by the House, and he moved to postpone its consideration until Friday, by which time the House could acquaint itself with the bill. He said that he had no personal interest in it, and that the standard of measurement as suggested by the bill was desired both by the seller and purchaser.

Mr. Newberry said that he opposed the bill in its original shape, and he found nothing to recommend it in its amended shape. "It is an iniquitous measure, and like all other iniquitous measures it has originated in that corner," pointing to that portion of the House occupied by the city delegation.

Mr. Baker of Kent made his first speech of the season, being opposed to the measure. He said: "As a producer of fruit I feel an interest in this motion. We want the privilege of selling our fruit as we please. If you pass this bill you will drive the fruit trade from Baltimore to Philadelphia, where we can sell it as we choose. If you don't want our fruit say so, and we will ship it elsewhere. The timber has been cut and sawed for the peach boxes for the coming season, and if this bill is passed, it will cause a heavy loss to timber manufacturers."

Mr. Griffith thought the measure a compulsory one, and similar to the inspection law for tobacco, which had been so obnoxious to Southern Maryland, and which compelled Southern Marylanders to carry their produce to Baltimore. "After awhile," he concluded, "they will want us to carry our hens to the city to lay eggs."

Mr. Campbell said that he had opposed the bill in its original shape because then it would require that watermelons and cabbages should be sold in crates, but he believed the farmers wanted the bill in its present shape.

Mr. Newberry—"No, sir; the farmers want to be let alone."

Mr. Purnell moved to strike out the enacting clause of the bill. The motion prevailed.

ONE MONOPOLY PRODUCES ANOTHER.—High tariffs and natural monopolies go hand in hand, says Dr. Ely in his article in the Baltimore Sun of Wednesday, which is devoted chiefly to setting forth the truth that artificial monopolies not created by law have their main support in their connection with natural monopolies. The tariff facilitates the putting up prices—the one thing dear to all monopolies—but a low tariff will not necessarily destroy all combinations to pluck the public. A low tariff will cheapen a great many articles used by the poor, and this is the main consideration. It will not prevent all enhancements of price by trusts and other like associations, but it will reduce their evil effects to a very considerable extent. The anti-monopoly crank must not expect, therefore, complete happiness from any law Congress may pass. Nothing will bring that. Practical men, however, will be content with practical results.

Why Do We Have Eggs at Easter?

Easter is observed among all Christian people as the anniversary of the great event of the resurrection of Christ. He was dead, but returned to life. The egg is taken as emblematic of a return to life. It is to all appearance dead, but we know that if placed under proper conditions life will come forth from it. The use of eggs at Easter was adopted from an usage older than our era. It was the custom in very early times to celebrate the return of spring by making presents of eggs.

"Why does not Easter always fall upon a fixed day? Christmas is always on December 25th, why should not Easter be fixed with equal certainty?" Easter must always be on Sunday. It is not a particular date that is observed, but a particular Sunday. How to decide upon the Sunday gave the very early churches much trouble, and there were differences on that account, but the matter was settled at a council held at Nice in the year 325. The rule was adopted that: "Easter day is always the first Sunday after the full moon, which happens upon or next after March 21st, and if the full moon happens on a Sunday, Easter day is the next Sunday after. This gives Easter day a wide range of dates, as it may occur on any Sunday from March 22d to April 25th.—American Agriculturist.

A MINNESOTA judge in pronouncing the death sentence, tenderly observed: "If guilty, you deserve the fate which awaits you; if innocent it will be a gratification for you to feel that you were hanged without such a crime on your conscience; in either case you will be delivered from a world of care."

WHEN a big sum of money is to be raised in China, as is the case in the recent great flood, the salary of all officials are stopped for a year. Suppose such a scheme should be tried in this country?

KEEP busy. Heartaches are seldom felt when the hands are busy.

A CALL FOR A CONVENTION
—OF—
FARMERS and FRUIT GROWERS

IN these days of trusts, combinations and monopolies, it is imperatively necessary, if farmers would guard their interests, that they organize and co-operate in order to secure economy in transit and sale of their productions. The methods practiced in the past in performing this important service have well nigh stripped them of living profits, while others have received the reward of their labors. Extravagant freights, cartage, commissions and other contingent expenses have almost ruined our business. When the millions of young peach trees, recently planted and contiguous to the waters of the Chesapeake bay and its tributaries come into bearing, the gluts and confusion will be complete. We must have method. The advantages gained by the adoption of some system are incalculable, and we need but to organize and co-operate to secure them. A location adapted to our purposes has been selected. Farmers we need your help, your wisdom and your judgment in organizing this grand movement.

Therefore, we, whose names are hereunto subscribed, in behalf and by authority of the respective organizations we represent, do hereby call a convention of the farmers of the State of Maryland and the East Baltimore Business Men's Association, to meet in Baltimore, at the White Hall Building, Bank street, near Broadway, on the 24 day of April, 1888, at 2 o'clock P. M., and continue in session until the business of the convention shall have been concluded.

President Still Pond Agricultural Association.

The Only Remedy
FOR
Contagious Blood Poison.
Mr. D. B. Adams, Union, South Carolina, writes: "I was afflicted with a terrible case of blood poison for about thirteen months. I was treated by the best physicians, and used various kinds of remedies, but received no substantial relief. I finally tried the Swift Specific, and about four bottles cured me sound and well."
Col. B. H. Kieser, editor and proprietor of the Opelika, Ala., Times, under date of August 3, 1885, writes: "When I was a young man, through indiscretion, I contracted a disease which has stuck to me for years. Some five or six years since I was troubled with pains, so as to make it difficult for me to walk. Having advertised the S. S. S. in my paper for several years, I concluded I would try it to see if there was any efficacy in the medicine. I commenced using it according to directions and used half dozen bottles. I was once at a way station and, getting left, I walked the seven miles and have never felt any return of the old malady. After experiencing the good effects I must say I am satisfied with the result. I am sixty-eight years of age and I feel now like a young man and can go to the case when necessary and set up from six to eight thousand ems without any inconvenience. I send you this without solicitation."
Mr. F. Woehl, 211 North Avenue, Chicago, under date of June 15, 1887, writes: "I deem it my duty to thank you for the cure I received from your excellent medicine. I contracted a very severe case of blood poisoning about two years ago. Hearing of your medicine, I went to a drug store, the proprietor of which persuaded me to buy a preparation of his own, which he said was a sure cure. I used six bottles of his stuff and grew worse all the time. At last I got disgusted and despaired of a cure. I met a friend who told me that your medicine had cured him. I went to the same druggist again and demanded your medicine. He reluctantly sold me twelve bottles, and I am now perfectly cured. I write this for the benefit of sufferers, to prevent their being deceived by false representations. I think you again for the benefit derived from your medicine."
Dr. J. N. Cheney, a prominent physician, residing in Ellaville, Schley County, Georgia, in a letter recounting the infallible success he has in curing contagious blood poison cases in his extensive practice, writes: "Those who know the almost inevitable, permanently dangerous effects of mercury will welcome your discovery of S. S. S. as a boon to humanity. The medical profession, always wary of proprietary medicines, is coming slowly, and in some cases secretly, to the use of S. S. S. in cases of blood disorder. Of course a medicine that cures poisoning in its worst form must purify the blood of every disorder."

Coal, Coal.
TO OUR FRIENDS AND PUBLIC.
THINKING that our brother Coal merchant might put some false impressions into your minds in reference to having the best coal sold in this market, we must state that we don't agree with him. While we don't claim to have better than our competitor, we do claim to have as GOOD COAL AS IS SOLD ON THIS OR ANY MARKET. There is no Coal that is better adapted to ALL USES than the SCHUYLKILL COAL, operated by the largest coal operators in the country. We also claim that we have prices to meet the lowest coal quotations. Hoping to be favored with your order, we remain, very respectfully,
July 16. J. D. BACCHUS.
