The Inconsistency of The Democratic Advocate

In a recent editorial on the subject of the price of wheat and its relation to the tariff we said that a home market was the best thing for the farmers of this country as the home consumption regulated the price. If men were out of work they would not consume as much as if they were employed regularly and that the protective tariff kept the men at work and, therefore, increased the home demand and the price. The statement, however, was laughed at by our Democratic neighbor and we were informed by that luminary that our statement would not be a credit to a child, or words to that effect. The contemptable attitude assumed by it, however, did not disprove what we had previously stated. Among other things it said:

Editorial of Advocate Sept. 6,1912.

"Moreover, neither high nor low tariff has anything to do with the price of wheat in our market, that is fixed in Liverpool, which dominates the wheat markets of the world; we are not importers but exporters of wheat; we don't buy wheat of foreign countries we sell it to them, and the price is regulated by their necessities."

It will be observevd that the Advocate now asserts that the price of wheat is fixed in Liverpool and that neither the tariff, nor the home consumption, has anything to do with the price.

How different, oh, how different was the song of our Democratic neighbor during the campaign of 1892 when Mr. Cleveland was elected upon a platform demanding a repeal of the McKindley tariff which had put the country on its feet once more, after the Democratic party had thrown it down during the year between 1884 and 1888! The Advocate then said:

Editorial of Advocate Oct. 1, 1892

"McKinley Republicanism is a worse foe to wheat, or the price thereof, than smut, or weevil, or hessian fly, or darnell, or garlic, or any other foe to the wheat crop which the farmer has to encounter. The farmer toils and sweats and denies himself of almost everything to get together a little money to buy fertilizer to make a wheat crop and when he has made it, in steps McKinleyism to destroy a living price for it by restricting the foreign market, while the home market is glutted and cannot consume the annual product. There can be no more good times for the farmer until the McKinley tariff is lowered and it will never be lowered until the Republicans are turned out of power and the executive and legislature branches of the government are placed in the hands of the conservative Democracy. A high tariff is the bane of agriculture. It pays the tariff tax for the benefit of the wealthy manufacturers."

The farmers of the country listened to the siren voice of the Democratic party and placed it in power. The Wilson tariff law was passed and the country was plunged into bankruptcy. Our neighbor was not lacking in excuses for the condition of the country. The farmers were appealed to to vote for free silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 because, in the opinion of our neighbor, it was the only salvation for them. During the campaign of 1896, which resulted in the utter route of the Democracy pary, the Advocate got hysteria. Here are a few of its editorials taken at random from the files of that paper now in our office:

Democratic Advocate Editorials August 1st., 1896.

"FACTS THAT CANNOT BE DENIED"

"That mortagages are multiplying.
That public debts are increasing.
That most of the railroads are bankrupt.
That prices of farms have greatly fallen.
That the prices of farm products have fallen fully one-half.
That tramps are numerous."

The editor of the Advocate on the same day quotes the following from the Baltimore Sun and comments on it:

"A remark often made by politicians when urging farmers and others to try their schemes of debaseing the currency is this: "The situation couldn't be worse." But in this they are mistaken. The financial and industrial situation, bad as it is, could be a great deal worse.—Baltimore Sun

"Yes the situation could be a little worse. There are a few more farms to be mortgaged and labor could be further oppressed by reducing the number of days they are given employment. At the present prices of farm products there is not much hope of the principal of debts being paid, and not all debtors are able to pay all of the interest. All other interests depends upon agriculture. When it is depressed manufactures and commerce are depressed. When agriculture is prosperous, manufactures and commerce are prosporous."

Democratic Advocate Editorial of September 5th., 1896.

"No farmer can raise wheat at 50 cents a bushel and prosper. How can a farmer, then, with a mortgage on his farm, expect to maintain his family and pay off the mortgage?"

Democratic Advocate Editorial of Oct. 10th, 1896.

"Is there a farmer in Carroll who is satisfied with the present condition of affairs? Is there one who is making any money raising wheat at 60 cents a bushel, corn at $1.25 a barrel and potatoes at 25 cents a bushel?"

Democratic Editorial of Oct 17, 1896

"All legislation for the past thirty years has tended to fleece the farmers for the benefit of others.

If Bryan is elected legislation will be enacted that will help the farmer as well as other citizens." (When the above was written the Democratic party had been in power for the four years preceding and was therefore included in the statement).

Democratic Advocate Editorial Oct. 31, 1896.

"The contraction of the currency by the demonetization of silver in 1873, has Doubled Debts.

Doubled Interest.
Doubled Taxation.

It has cut down the price of Farm Produce one-half, and reduced by nearly one-half the price of Farm and Real Estate.

The free coinage of Silver as well as Gold means more money and higher prices for farm products and more regular employment of labor."

We do not think any intelligent farmer can be fooled by any statement the Advocate may make in the present campaign touching his interest. In September 1912 the tariff has nothing to do with the price of wheat because that is fixed in Liverpool by our English cousins; in 1892 the McKinley tariff was keeping the price of wheat too low; in 1896, after the Democrats had passed their Wilson tariff law and wheat had gone down to 50 cents, corn to $1.25 and everything else as correspondingly low the only salvation for the farmer was free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to1.

If everything the Democratic Advocate then stated turned out to be incorrect what value has its statements during the present campaign?

The Sentinel may be edited by a "Kindergarten scholar", as stated by our neighbor, because the older one gets the more he is convinced that he does not possess very much of this world's knowledge. One may learn even from fools, but one who so consumed by his own importance and his supposed knowledge of the political conditions of the country is passed redemption. The sure enough learned editors are consistent and do not tell their readers one thing in 1892 and the opposite in 1896 and still an entirely different story in 1912, and expect them to believe them.

STATEMENT FROM ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE

The Anti-Saloon League of Maryland has issued the following official statement concerning the outcome and effect of the Salisbury debate upon the local option record of Hon. Jesse D. Price, President of the Maryland State Senate:

We expected Senator Price's friends to stand by him. We were aiming at the great body of temperance voters, not a part certain that the Senator opposed the local option bill. The debate has removed all possible doubt by forcing the Senator, in order to justify himself, into attacking the state-wide bill before a great audience of his own constituents and into openly liningup with the Baltimore City liquor ring, all of whose city Senators were present to vouch for him. These were the points which the League charged and with them made clear there can be but one ultimate outcome.

As an evidence of the opinion of the temperance people of Salisbury, the League reports that the Salisbury field day on the Sunday following the debate was the best in the history of the League. Senator Price's church, the Southern Methodist, refused to open its pulpit to a League speaker but the Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Protestant and Presbyterian churches, subscribed more to carry on the League work than ever has been subscribed previously by all of the churches of the town. Superintendent Anderson spoke in the Methodist Protestant church to the largest congregation which he has ever addressed at a church service in Salisbury. This church which last year subscribed $64.00 this year raised it to $192.00.

Copies of the full text of Senator Price's record as set out in the debate will be mailed to any person absolutely free upon receipt of a two cent stamp.

Because we always have just what you want and its always at the popular price of 10c and less. If its bargains that you are looking after why you certainly know where to head for, sign boards not necessary as every one knows where "The Home of a Thousand Bargains" is located.

HERE IS THE ANSWER

To those who said they would wait and see how our proposition turned out this year.

Our party has now been for more than a week in the famous

YAKIMA VALLEY, WASHINGTON,

They are seeing for themselves the marvelous conditions existing there.

Mr. Charles E. Fink, who is with the party, has telegraphed as follows:

ALL DELIGHTED WITH TRIP AND WELL. THE FRUIT-LADEN TREES VERIFY PICTURES AND ARE BEYOND BELIEF FOR THOSE WHO HAVE NOT SEEN THEM. OUR TREES AND POTATOES LOOK FINE AND WE ARE NOW SURE EVERY PURCHASER WILL RECEIVE ABOUT ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS PER ACRE FOR HIS HALF POTATO CROP.

Last spring we sold to different parties one hundred acres of this land, which, with our own sixty acres, was then planted with apple trees and potatoes. These parties will now receive about ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS PER ACRE FOR THEIR HALF OF THE POTATO CROP.

JUST THINK OF IT,

Each of these people will get approximately ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS from the ten acres of land they have owned only six months!

Why Not Profit by Their Experience?

We have more of this land to sell. It will be planted with apple trees and potatoes next spring and you will get your first crop returns next fall. BUT, the price of this land takes two upward jumps between now and next spring. Hence you should buy now and avoid the regrets you will have later on if you do not.

Overland

A Foreword About 1913

And a Word of Advice to the Buyer

Most of you will remember that just before the 1912 season opened, we advised the public to wait and see what we had to offer before they bought.

We promised to save them considerable money. We told them how we could. And we did. Everyone knows that we made good on this. Tens of thousands followed our advice and profited by doing so. Our famous $900 Touring Car took the country by storm. It proved the equal of any $1200 car shown during the entire 1912 season. To date we have had to refuse thousands of orders for this model and more are still pouring in.

Our advice for 1913 is the same as it was for 1912. Wait for the Overland announcement.

We will make our 1913 announcement on August 17th. On this date the world at large will awaken to still more car for still less money.

A few week's wait cannot make much difference to you; yet it will make a big difference by saving you considerable money.

On August 17th you will get all the facts, specifications and particulars. Buy The Saturday Evening Post on that date. Watch the newspapers in your city.

On that date the new Overlands will be in every city in America—ready for your demonstration.

August 17th will be the red letter day of the 1913 automobile year.

Remember the date and . . . . . wait!
