CHRISTMAS AT THE COUNTY HOME

When I made my annual request for aid in carrying the Christmas cheer to the inmates of our County Home, I was so confident that a liberal response would come from the good people of Carroll County, that I began the preparations for the entertainment before I had received a single re- before I had received a single response. And the very generous contributions received from the different parts of the County and from former citizens in other parts of the State, proved that my confidence was not misplaced. I have tried to thank every individual by a card with Cristmas greetings, but those who sent their contributions anonymously can only be reached through the medium of the press, and I sincerely thank all who helped, my only request being, that the impassable, condition of the roads and the unpleasant weather, prevented some who expected to be present from enjoying the day with us. In addition to the individual contributors, thanks are due the Press of the County, the Presbyterian and Lutheran C. E. Societies of Taneytown, the Sisters Air Society of the Church of the Brethren, Linwood; the Sunday school of W. Md., College, the children and teachers of Medford and Warfieldsburg public schools; T. W. Mather and Sons; Babylon and Lippy, Nusbaum and Jordan, Dinst Grocery Co., the Misses Fringer, Mathias and Zahn, and Albaugh and Babylon Grocery Co., for liberal contributions. Last year some of my notes of thanks miscarried, and I would appreciate it, if any contributor failing to receive an acknowledgement, would notify me, so that I can inform them of the receipt of their gift. On Friday afternoon a large company assembled in the tastefully decorated dining room, which the Steward and his family had made bright with Christmas greens and bells. In spite of the inclement weather, the brightness indoors made us forget the dreariness outside and everyone seemed filled with the Christmas Spirit.

The program as rendered was as follows:—

Hymn—"Hark the Herald Angels sing."

Prayer—Rev. John Gonso, Carrollton.

Anthem—By the choir of Centenary M. E. Church, Mrs. H. M. Kimmey accompanist.

Reading of a Christmas poem by Miss Nettie Whitmore.

Address—Rev. S. Hilton Orrick, rector of Ascension Episcopal Church.

Anthem—By the choir.

Distribution of gifts.

Recitation—Master Billy Ditman.

Hymn—"God be with you till we meet again."

Benediction—Rev. John Gonso.

Mr. James E. Smith also made a few remarks in which he congratulated the people of the county, in the improvement in the conditions and surroundings of the inmates and consideration and kindness with which they are cared for by the present management. The gifts had been carefully selected with the kind assistance of the Stewardess, Mrs. A. G. Humbert, so that each one received some wished for article, the men who are out of doors, each receiving a pair of comfortable gloves, and the women, woolen skirts, white aprons, felt slippers and other useful gifts. Another year I hope, more of those who aid so materially may be present, for without their assistance and cash contributions, it would be impossible to carry on the work. Wishing everyone, on behalf of the inmates, a very Happy New Year,—

Yours, "In His Name,"
Mary Bostwick Shellman.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving remembrance of my father, Reuben N. Conaway, who departed this life six months ago, July 3, 1912.

'Tis not the tears at the moment shed
When the cold earth has just been thrown over him
That tells how beloved is the one who is dead
Or how deep in our hearts we deplore him.
'Tis the tears in many a long day wept
'Tis life's whole pathway shaded,
'Tis the one remembrance fondly kept
When all lighter griefs have faded.
Have you a father? Love him well
While he is spared on earth.
Wait not till death shall call him hence
To know his precious worth.
Oh, soothe him in his hour of pain,
Be gentle and be mild.
How sweet 'twill be for you to know
That you have been a faithful child.
Leaves and snow may cover his grave,
And winds may blow around,
There is one that still will linger.
Near the spot where he is laid
And will come and scatter flowers
O'er the grave that death has made.
'You are not dead to me, dear father,
But as a star unseen,
I feel that you are near me
Though death intrudes between.
Through the house I wander sadly,
Through my home so sad and drear,
In each room I find some token
Of my dear father, who is not here.
Oh, the misery of that morning
When we stood around his bed,
Till death stole upon him softly
And we knew his soul had fled.
Oh, the blow was hard to bear
Only those who have lost a father
Can my life long sorrow share.
How long he struggled against disease
That baffled skill and care,
How long he lingered racked with pain
And suffering hard to bear.
Earthly sufferings all are ended
Borne with resignation sweet
On this earth, but God has called him,
And in heaven we hope to meet.
Before his spirit took its flight,
He said that all was well
And in his daughter's arms he died.
He has gone with Christ to dwell.

By his daughter
Cora Brandenburg.

We miss him, Oh we miss him,
When we see his vacant chair
But how sad the room without him
For there is no grandpa there.

By his grandson,
Emile Swanson.
