PROGRESSIVE FARMERS.

Silos Being Erected on Kent Farms—Mr. Walter Morris Has Two—A Fine Herd of Cattle.

MILKING-TIME.

Deep fall the shadows over land and sea.
The sun is sitting in the golden west
The birds go flying home to nest and tree,
And little children drowse on mother's breast.
So! hither come, large-eyed, unto the shed,
The patient kine, with slow unhurried tread.

It was at this hour that we chanced to visit the dairy farm of Mr. Walter T. Morris, about five miles from Chestertown. Mr. Franklin Mason, the superintendent, had the fine herd of Guernseys brought up to water and a more striking picture would be difficult to find. This herd consists of about forty cows. They are kind and gentle and are as regular in coming up to feed as the average working man. A clock could not keep better time than does these cattle. Promptly at 5 P. M. we noticed the whose herd wending their way towards home. The gate was opened and all come up for water after which they were put in night lot and fed with a fresh lot of sugar corn.

At 2.45 A. M. they are driven into stalls in the stable and fed. While they are eating one man and two boys do the milking and the average yield is about 45 gallons. They are then put on pasture until 10.30 A. M., when they are watered, stabled, fed and sprayed with "Tough on Flies," and at noon are again milked. After this milking they are turned out and remain until 5 o'clock. This routine is followed every day.

Mr. Morris has been successfully serving a milk route in Chestertown for some years and much of his success is due to the fine quality of milk and to his efficient superintendent, Mr. Mason.

Improvements are continually being made at this dairy farm. Mr. Walter Willis is now erecting a tenement house on the farm for use of a helper while a carriage house, milk house and other improvements will be added in the near future.

The Feed For Cattle.

The feed for these cows is to a large extent supplied from two silos, one of which is 12x30 and the other 16x30. Messrs. John E. Hadaway and Hugh McCloskey have a splendid outfit for filling silos and have been quite busy the past month. About twelve acres of corn are cut off and fed through a cutter and blown into the silo—corn, fodder and stalk. Mr. Morris had Master Walter Copper, the heavy weight, to press the food and level it in the silo. It remains fresh and green and the cattle relish it more than chop or corn.

Mr. John P. Nicholson has erected a silo 16x30 and filled it within two days. It required eight acres of corn.

Mr. Walter Skirven filled his 16x30 silo with ten acres of corn, making about 80 tons of feed.

Mr. John E. Hadaway has a large silo and Mr. Benj. Coburn a smaller one 10x20.

MAKE your X mark in the small square after the word Democratic, whenever it occurs, and nowhere else.

THE biggest pumpkin yet reported was grown by Mrs. Rambo, of Morgnec. It weighs 90 pounds. Mr. W. E. Jarrell has a sixty acre field of pumpkins and is supplying his friends with this "delicacy."

THIEVES made a raid on milk buckets up town Saturday night. The raiders' net profits were two milk buckets and two cents! It is said that the buckets were used in the Calithumpian band that serenaded Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Howard on the same evening.

THE Constable sale in Chestertown last Tuesday was largely attended. The ladies especially were interested bidders and when once they decided they wanted a certain article it was nearly useless for the men to bid against them. Everything sold well. The fine little bay horse brought over $90. One solid mahogony bedstead brought $16, the silver service of six pieces brought $14, and the cut glassware and large mirrors also brought good prices. Auctioneer Greenwood kept the crowd in good humor and made the bidding lively.

MR. GEORGE W. MCWHORTER, liveryman, lost one of his best horses on Wednesday. The animal slipped his halter Tuesday night and wandered down to the railroad tracks at the foot of Mill street. The train frightened him so next morning that he tried to jump over a wire fence, injuring himself so severely that he had to be killed.

A HERRING was caught off Chester river bridge Wednesday by Mr. John Duyer. He also caught twenty-one small rock.

JOS. GUEST has purchased of Fred. G. Usilton the house in Lynchburg adjoining the property of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Morrison.

WEDDING BELLS.

Coming Nuptial Events Forshadowed.

Following closely upon the wedding of Mr. John F. Howard, which was reported in the NEWS last week, comes that of his widowed daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary J. Howard to Mr. Ralph W. Barnett. The time and place of the ceremony was a surprise to everyone with but a few exceptions, it having been performed Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage at Pomona by Rev. Mr. McCann. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Satterfield. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Satterfield at which refreshments were served. The bride was attired in a traveling suit of dark blue broadcloth with hat to match and looked specially attractive.

The couple have friends living at Pomona and it was near them that they wished to be united. After the ceremony they came to Chestertown and took up their residence in the cozy home opposite Sacred Heart Church recently purchased by Mr. Barnett and furnished throughout with taste. They were welcomed by a few intimate friends and start on the matrimonial sea with best wishes of a large circle of friends.

The bride was Miss Mary McKeyitt, of Rock Hall, and is one of Chestertown's attractive young ladies while the groom is the popular tonsorial artist and a young gentleman of high character.

Mr. Joseph M. Stein, of Rock Hall, was married Monday night to Miss Mary E. Ostendorf at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lawton,, parents of Mr. Stein's first wife, 1647 Riverside avenue. Baltimore. Rev. Hirst Reed, formerly pastor of Brooklyn Methodist Episcopal Church performed the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Jessie Skull, and the best man Mr. Charles Keys. The bride and her attendant wore white Persian lawn, Mr. and Mrs. Stein left Tuesday for their home at Rock Hall.

Miss Margaret Payne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Payne, of Snow Hill, and Mr. Wilbur W. Hurlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hurlock, of near Chester bridge, were married in All Hallows Episcopal Church Wednesday by the Rev. William C. Butler.

The bride was dressed in a gown of white panne crepe de chine, trimmed with duchess lace with seed pearl girdle and collar and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The tulle veil was fastened with orange blossoms and a diamond crescent, the gift of the groom.

The only attendant, the maid of honor, was Miss Nellie Payne, a cousin of the bride, who wore a lace robe over chiffon and taffeta and carried a bunch of American Beauties. The best man was Mr. Edward H. Thompson, Jr., and the ushers were the Messrs. J. Ingram, A. S. Goldsborough, Ernest Roberts, Morgan Wood, Frank Dudley and Lewis Evans. Miss Lucile Collins played the wedding march. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride to the immediate family and intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurlock drove to Pocomoke, where they took the midnight train for an extended trip North. They will have apartments at the Preston in Baltimore and will be home after December 1.

Among the out-of town guests were Mrs. James Ingram, Jr., Miss Helen Williams, Mrs. Gilbert Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Hurlock, Mrs. R. S. Guest, George House and James Clayton.

The wedding of Miss Beulah Hayes, daughter of the late Theodore Hayes, and one of Chestertown's most attractive young ladies, to Mr. Thos. W. Perkins, the popular teller in the Kent County Savings bank, is announced to take place in Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, at 6.30 P. M., Thursday, October 15th. No cards will be issued in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Azariah M. Kendall, of Fairlee, have issued announcements of the wedding of their daughter, Alice Naomi, to Mr. Francis Burton Warren, of the same town. The ceremony will be performed in Salem M. E. Church, Wednesday evening, October 14, Rev. W. C. Poole officiating.

Mrs. J. A. Wiegand and her daughter, Miss M. Virginia Wiegand, of Westminster, Md., who have been spending several days with Mrs. J. Chase Phillips, at Walbrook, left this week for Queen Anne's county, where they will visit for a few weeks. Miss Wiegand will be married in November to Mr. Harry Lynn Fooks, of Jersey City, N. J. The ceremony will be performed by her father, Rev. J. A. Wiegand, a retired member of the Methodist Protestant church, in the Methodist Protestant Church in Westminster, and will probably occur on November 18.

Mrs. Samuel Taylor has issued invitations to the wedding of her daughter, Miss Florence Bell, to Theodore Ferguson, son of ex-Clerk of the Orphans' Court Colen Ferguson, of New Castle county. The wedding will take place in Asbury M. E. Church on Wednesday, October 7th, at 3 o'clock.

Mr. John S. Usilton, of this county, and Miss Laura Volk, of Wilmington, Del., were married by Rev. J. B. Merritt, at Worton Station, Wednesday evening, September 30.

GUS SUN'S "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be here next Tuesday. They will bring their own special scenery and will heighten the effect of same by the use of electric machinery.

THE result of the registration Tuesday shows a gain for the Democrats in Kent of about eighteen.

Be sure and see to it that your neighbor is on next Tuesday.
