A NEW YEAR'S BLAZE

An Unoccupied Dwelling in Chestertown Burned Sunday Night—Hundreds Witness The Blaze—A Full Dress Affair.

An unoccupied dwelling, near the electric light plant, and in the rear of W. W. Hubbard's, James Brice's and other homes on Washington Avenue, took fire 8.45 o'clock Sunday night and was entirely consumed. The alarm was sounded by bells and otherwise and more than five hundred persons stood about the burning building and watched the flames slowly devour the structure. The two officers hauled the heavy hose reels to the scene and after coupling the two pieces of hose were enabled to reach near enough to play on the fire and soon subdued same. Everyone ran to the fire and left officers Hudson and Cooper to do more than their share. There was plenty of water.

The house belonged to Mr. Robert G. Nicholson and had been vacated by Mr. Crossley, an employee at the Electric Light plant. It had been rented to other parties who were to have removed therein Monday. It was insured for $350. Mr. Nicholson places his loss at $650.

A panic was avoided at the M. E. Church at the time of this fire by the thoughtfulness of Rev. Mr. White and several of his congregation. The pastor was notified of the fire and he quietly told the people of it and dismissed the congregation.
