At a special meeting of the directors of the Carroll County Fire Insurance Company, held on September 29th, Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., of Uniontown, was elected president and Dr. J. H. Residents of Finksburg, this county, are angry because the Western Maryland Railway Company proposes to abandon the station near that town and establish another half a mile farther away, under the name of Asbestos. A petition was filed with the Public Service Commission asking that the Railway Company be prohibited from making the change. According to the petition, the change is contemplated because at the new point there has been established an asbestos factory. The story of the objection to this change of name was published in the Sentinel a month or more ago.

The Union Bridge Pilot of Friday last says: "After almost innumerable delays the new artesian well was finished the beginning of the week at a depth of about 170 feet when the drill broke through into a two-foot subterranean stream which it is hoped will meet the heavy drain made on the other wells and relieve the cloudy condition of our drinking water which has existed the past several months. On Thursday, after pumping about 6 hours delivering about 400 gallons per minute, no material lowering of the water in the well was recorded and the company is highly elated over its prospects for furnishing the town with an unlimited supply of pure water."

A resolution was adopted declaring the committee entitled to recognition in making recommendations for appointments to office. Every member earnestly favored the resolution. Dr. Coonan had offered a similar resolution in the State Central Committee at its recent meeting in Baltimore, but it was rejected, and these Carroll county Democrats are not willing to be shut out of their just privileges.

Several weeks ago it was announced that the Westminster High School would attempt to raise the sum of $100.00 to be used in connection with contributions from the Women's Civic League and the School Commissioners for the purpose of beginning the work of beautifying the High School grounds according to the plans prepared some time ago, at the suggestion of the Civic League, by Prof. Amspan, the landscape artist of the Md. Agricultural College. The last dollar was raised yesterday and the fund is now complete. The greater part was contributed directly by the pupils and teachers of the High School, only about $15.00 having been received from persons not directly connected with the school. It is expected that Prof. Amspan will come to Westminster in a few days and the work will be begun immediately. The part of the work to be done this fall will include the leveling and grading of the front part of the High School grounds, laying out walks and lawns and planting ornamental trees and shrubbery. More money will be raised next year and the work carried forward until the plans of Prof. Amspan are carried out in full When the work is finally completed the High School grounds will compare favorably in appearance with those of any other school in the State.

On Tuesday last Mr. Ephraim Bachman exhibited at the Sentinel office a receipted bill from T. B. Fleming & Sons, of Woodbine, paid them in 1906, for lumber, by Dr. Samuel Hess, whose buildings were destroyed by the cyclone of last week. The bill was picked up on Mr. Bachman's farm in Bachman's Valley, more than 20 miles from the home of Dr. Hess. A new cypress shingle was also picked up on Mr. Bachman's farm where it was carried by the storm. Where it was driven from is not known, but undoubtedly from some point in the path of the cyclone as it swept over Berrett district. Mr. Bachman states that laths, with plastering still adhering to them, were carried some distance beyond his farm. They must have been from Dr. Hess' residence, which was the only house entirely torn to pieces. The terrific violence of the storm is forcibly illustrated by these facts.

At a special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Union National Bank, of Westminster, held the latter part of last week, Mr. Jas. Pearre Wantz, who had been assistant cashier of that institution since 1907, was elected cashier to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. J. W. Hering. Mr. Wantz has been connected with the bank for fifteen years. He entered it as a runner in 1898; May 11, 1900, he was elected bokkeeper to fill a vacancy, caused by the resignation of the late Hugo E. Fiddis, and in June 1902 was promoted to the office of teller upon the resignation of the late Charles E. Hering. This position he held until 1907, when he was made assistant cashier. The absence of Dr. Hering in the discharge of his duties as Comptroller of the Treasury and later as a member of the Public Service Commission, threw much responsibility for the proper sonduct of the bank's affairs upon Mr. Wantz(and that he had, in all the stations filled by him, discharged his duties efficiently and well was attested by the unanimous action of the board in calling him to the cashiership. Mr. Wantz is the elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles V. Wantz, well known and prominent residents of this city, a grandson of the late Judge James Pearre, of Frederick county, and a relative of the late John Fisher, who established the bank as a state institution nearly 100 years ago. It was the first bank in the city, which was little more than a country village at the time he start-

HELP THOSE WHO SUFFERED BY THE CYCLONE IN SOUTHERN CARROLL

Contributions in Their Aid Solicited

An appeal in behalf of the sufferers by the terrific storm in Berrett district, on the 21st ult., is being made to the people of Carroll county. It is an appeal that should not be ignored. In numbers of instances the losses ran up into thousands of dollars and in no cases were they so small that some help will not be appreciated. This appeal does not come from those whose premises were devastated, but is made by their neighbors who were fortunate enough not to have been in the path of the destructive storm, and who are doing their part in contributing towards the relief of those whose property was destroyed.

Contributions for this purpose may be sent to Mr. L. H. Gosnell, of Woodbine, who will see that they are properly distributed and applied.

JOHN REARDON

CENTENARIAN WHO DIED TUESDAY IN BALTIMORE

Mr. John Reardon One Hundred Years Old, a Resident of Maryland 75 Years, Succumbs

At the age of 100 years, Mr. John Reardon, a native of County Cork, Ireland, and for the last 75 years a Marylander, died Tuesday morning, September 30, 1913, at 9 o'clock at his home, 1507 West Fayette street, Baltimore. His death was due to the infirmities of age, from which he had been weakening for nearly a year. At his bedside Tuesday morning when he died were three generations of the Reardon family.

It was in this county, near this city, that for nearly half a century Mr. Reardon farmed after trying his hand at mining for a period following his coming to America. And to the air of this county, the clean life of a farmer and the vitality of the Reardon stock is attributed the wonderful longevity of the man.

Up to within a year of his death his interest—outside of horses and live stock, which were his hobby—centered in no one thing. He took keen delight in the news of the day, and followed events and changes in things with much interest for one of his age.

While farming in this county he was for a time postmaster of Gist Postoffice. He had left Ireland when 25 years old, and shortly after met in this country Anna Arthur, an Irishwoman of County Mayo. They married and lived happily together for half a century, when Mrs. Reardon died. Their sons—John J. and Dennis Reardon—and daughters—Mrs. Anna Williams and Miss Ellen Reardon—survive them.

During the Civil War Mr. Reardon was drafted twice, substituted and continued with his farming, retiring 25 years ago to make his home in Baltimore and live the declining years of his life. When he came to America two brothers, Daniel and James, made the voyage with him, later settling in Illinois.

Five years ago a reunion of the three brothers took place at the Fayette street home of the Reardon's. The brothers had been separated for 65 years, and there was great rejoicing on that occasion. Both brothers are well up in years also, Daniel being 80 and his brother James 89.

Mr. Reardon was a staunch Catholic and a patriotic Irishman, and had many friends in this county.

Besides his brothers, sons and daughters the centenarian leaves 13 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

The body was brought to this city this morning on the train that arrives here at 9.30 o'clock, and the funeral service, conducted by Rev. J. C. Mallon, was held at St. John's Catholic Church with Requiem High Mass and the interment was in the adjoining cemetery. The pallbearers were members of the family. Messrs. F. A. Sharrer and Son were funeral diectos.

Mr. Sterner was a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Sterner, late of this county, and is survived by his wife, whose maiden name was Miss Mary Elizabeth Frock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Frock, of Bachman's Valley, Md.; two sons and three daughters—Herbert M. Sterner and Mrs. W. W. Smeach, residing in Hanover; Clarence E. Sterner, living at Coatesville; Chester county; Mrs. Harry Zahn, residing in Virginia, and Mrs. Chas. Wagner, of New Oxford. WILLIAM H. WAESCHE

William H. Waesche, 80 years old, died of the infirmities of age Friday, September 26, 1913, at the home of his brother, John A. Waesche, near Beallsville, in Montgomery county.

Mr. Waesche was the son of the late Henry Waesche, with whom, at the age of 16 years, he started for the California goldfields in 1849. His father was president of one of the companies which were organized at that time to seek gold and head a large organized body. While crossing the Isthmus of Panama the elder Waesche was stricken with fever. He died on the Isthmus and was buried there. The son then determined to return to his home in Maryland and after some months made his way back.

Mr.Waesche was born in this county, where his family is a well-known one. After his return from Panama he lived in Maryland for some years and then went to the Valley of Virginia. He led a retired life for many years, most of the time at Harrisonburg. He never married and in late years had spent much of his time at the home of the brother with whom he was staying when he died. He is survived by four other brothers, Randolph and Theodore Waesche, of Thurmont; Joseph A. Waesche, of this city, and Charles Waesche, of this county.

Hall, died at a temporary home in Roland Park, Baltimore on Friday morning last, in her 82nd year, having been born at the family home, known as "Buckingham Place," near Buckeystown, Frederick county, January 24, 1832. Her father, B. Amos Cunningham, was a Judge of the Orphans' Court of Frederick, and in 1864 one of the members of the constitutional convention from that county. He was an uncle of the late Wm. A. Cunningham, of this city, of whom Mrs. Hall was a first cousin. Her husband was for many years a prominent Baltimore merchant and was one of the founders of the Westminster Gas Light Company. Mrs. Hall is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alice L. Rice, of Frederick and Mrs. Bruce Thomas, of Washington, D. C.; and by five children, Charles L. Hall, of the firm founded by his father; Mrs. John R. Wightman, of Oberlin, Ohio; Mrs. Hiram Woods, Mrs. Frank C. Woods and Miss Elizabeth Hall, of Baltimore.

ERNEST E. WRIGHT

Mr. Ernest E. Wright, an employee in the W. M. R. R. shops at Hagerstown, died Sunday, September 28, in the Washington county hospital at that place from severe injuries sustained by being crushed between an engine and a door. For the past eight years he was employed as machinist at Union Bridge and later at Hagerstown.

His remains were taken from Hagerstown to his home in Bark Hill Monday. Services were held in the Methodist Church, Uniontown, Tuesday, 30th, at 2.30 o'clock. His pastor, Rev. T. H. Wright, assisted by Rev. G. W. Baughman and Rev. Powers, of Hagerstown, officiated. Interment was in the Lutheran cemetery at Uniontown. The Union Lodge, of Hagerstown and Knights of Pythias, had charge of the body and held a beautiful and impressive service at the grave. The pallbearers were members of the Union and fellow workers. They were Messrs. Edward Young, Garfield Rout, Charlie Morningstar, William Boone, Edgar Myers and Jacob Schultz. The large audience gathered at the funeral and the liberal floral contributions showed the esteem in which Mr. Wright was held.

He leaves a wife, an aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Wright, a brother, Wm. Wright, near Uniontown, and a sister, Mrs. B. L. Rinehart, of Washington, D. C.

Too much cannot well be said in his praise as husband, son and brother and there are few persons probably who ever commanded more entirely the affection and esteem of the community in which they were born and lived and none are perhaps more sadly missed. He bore his brief and painful injury with pious resignation. Our loss is his eternal gain and though the heart will relent we will not repine. He has gone before and beckons us on. May divine grace be vouchsafed to his now infirm and deeply bereaved relatives and friends. About 100 Union men attended the funeral in a body.

Mr. Charles Suiter had charge of the body in Hagerstown and Mr. Frank Shriner, of Union Bridge, was funeral director in Uniontown.
