It's no easy task to select a vehicle. There is the kind, the style, the make and the many details necessary to appearance, comfort, safety and wear. And there is also the price. For these reasons it is important to investigate early. Our new lines for 1907 are ready, including a fine assortment of the celebrated which have a National reputation for style and quality. For the man who wants a stylish, long-wearing, economical vehicle there is nothing quite so suitable and satisfying as a Cortland Wagon Company job.

Cortland Wagon Company Vehicles

Besides them our stock includes about everything you could possibly want in a vehicle. There is sure to be something to your liking in style, quality and price. You have buggies, surreys, road wagons and dozens of other styles to choose from. They are all from the best factories; all new, smart and different from the ordinary run; all fully guaranteed. Better have a look at them before spring brings their actual need.

WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

A. A. Herren, Finch, Ark., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar is the best preparation for coughs, colds and lung trouble. I know that it has cured consumption in the first stages." You never heard of any one using Foley's Honey and Tar and not being satisfied. Sold by all druggists.

The Rising Sun RESTAURANT.

NOTICE.—On May 1, 1907, there will be a re-opening of THE RISING SUN RESTAURANT on 132 Maple Ave. This was the old Wm. Perkins Building, an old resident. She shall shine forth in her beauties and blessed is every one that her rays shall shine upon, for in here there shall be oysters in every style in their season. Then comes hard crabs in every style and soft crabs. Picked Hard Crabs.

Ice Cream in varieties. Snow Balls, Milk, Ice, Cakes and Pies. This being a Rising Sun her rays shall shine. This building is three doors from the corner of Cross street and Maple Ave., one block from Main street and two blocks from Chester Bridge, only a pleasant walk. If you will not come just whisper through the phone and your order will be delivered or have special attention.

Ice Cream by the gallon, quart, pint or plate. Just give me a chance before you order from any one else. Notice day of opening.

SUCCESS OF THE JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION

Harper's Weekly Lends Far-Reaching Publicity To Generous "Boosts" For Ter-Centennial.

The current number of Harper's Weekly says: The Jamestown Exposition has been having a hard time with some New York papers of late. So as to settle the matter once and for all, and to get its certificate of character, it sent for W. I. Buchanan, late of the Buffalo Pan-American exposition, and the right-hand man of David R. Francis at the St. Louis Fair. Mr. Buchanan says that the character and the scope of the exposition are vastly greater and more extensive than he had anticipated; that there are indeed certain features of the exposition that are, in every sense, distinctly better than those of any exposition since Chicago, notably the exhibits of the United States government; secondly, the States' exhibit building, both of itself and the exhibits it contains, he thinks, surpass any State exhibits heretofore attempted. Even if nothing more were done to the buildings and their contents than had been done when Mr. Buchanan was there, there would still be a show worth looking at, for he said, "there is vastly more to be seen and enjoyed in architectural beauty, in landscape and water effects than any one has reason to expect."

Meanwhile a great deal has been done. Between three and four thousand men have been set to work completing the buildings, the roadways, walks and grounds. Mr. James M. Barr, the former successful president of the Seaboard Air Line railroad, has been made the head of the exposition, and a director of advertising has been appointed.

Virginians are not excitable people; they never get nervous, and they do not hustle, and they all go at enterprises slowly; but when they begin, they stick to it. This is the Virginia characteristic, that they never give up an enterprise, a cause, a friend or an enmity. If they take hold, they keep hold.

The setbacks the Exposition has received have taken effect to get up Virginia's fighting blood. The fair will be a greater success for the dull opening. As things stand now, it promises to be complete by the middle of July, and then if the incessant rain will stop for a bit and the sun will shine, it will be difficult to imagine a more beautiful stretch of land than that lying along Sewell's Point, with the broad Hampton Roads waters stretching before it, the cool pines on either side, and the beautiful coppices of bay and laurel bushes, the beds of pansies, tulips, narcissus, rhododendrons and roses everywhere. Apart from all other exhibits the natural beauties are enough to attract visitors.

It is impossible to give much praise to Warren Manning, the Massachusetts man who laid out the lovely grounds and cleverly used all the wealth of indigenous plants and wild flowers that decorate the earth about this locality. Even the wild Adamask lily carpets the charming thickets back of the Arts and Crafts village, and the mocking birds and cat birds sing and robins and wrens twitter freely along the slashes. The offering the expositien makes to lovers of nature has, perhaps, been less dwelt upon than any other of its aspects, but it is one important enough not be overlooked. And to real lovers of nature the winding paths and natural lanes amongst the pines and live oaks will always be more lovely than the most careful and beautiful of formal gardens.

Altogether, there is a great deal to tempt the sight-seer to the exposition, and perhaps to an intelligent traveller, the greatest sight will be that of the land and its people, for in few places in the United States has a type been so long maintained without a mixture of alien strain, and Virginians are almost as definitely a people and a type as Frenchmen or German. Undoubtedly a new cosmopolitanism must evade them before many more generations pass; perhaps this very exposition will do its part toward obliterating the old; but while there remains a vestige of the old Virginia, as it once was, it is well worth a journey to see it.

WAS IN POOR HEALTH FOR YEARS

Ira W. Kelley, of Mansfield, Pa., writes: I was in poor health for two years, suffering from kidney and bladder trouble, and spent considerable money consulting physicians without obtaining any marked benefit, but was cured by Foley's Kidney Cure, and I desire to add my testimony that it may be the cause of restoring the health of others." Refuse substitutes. Sold by all druggists.

Famous Doctor Opposes Drugs.

Sir Frederick Treves, physician to the King of England, speaking at the opening of a London hospital, expressed the belief that the time was not far when bottles on doctors' shelves would be reduced to a very small number and when people would "leave off the extraordinary habit of taking medicine when they are sick." At that time people would resort to simple living, suitable diet and plenty of sun and fresh air. He said the time would come when it would be as anomalous for people to die of scarlet fever, typhoid, cholera and dyphtheria as it would be for a man to die of a wolf's bite in England. He referred to the discoveries in bacteriological science as being capable of reducing mortality from infectious diseases to the zero point.

WAR AGAINST CONSUMPTION

All nations are endeavoring to check the ravages of consumption, the "white plague" that claims so many victims each year. Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds perfectly and you are in no danger of consumption. Do not risk your health by taking some unknown preparation when Foley's Honey and Tar is safe and certain in results. The genuine is in yellow package. Sold by all druggists.

OPEN PUBLICITY THE BEST GUARANTY OF MERIT.

When the maker of a medicine, sold through druggists for family use, takes his patients fully into his confidence by frankly and fearlessly publishing broadcast as well as on its bottle wrappers, a full list of all its ingredients in plain English, this action on his part is the best possible evidence that he is not afraid to have the search light of investigation turned full upon his formula and that it will bear the fullest scrutiny and the most thorough investigation. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for the cure of the weaknesses, periodical pains and functional derangements of the organs distinctly feminine, is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for woman's special use, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence by such open and honest publicity.

A glance at the published ingredients on each bottle wrapper, will show that it is made wholly from native, American, medicinal roots, that it contains no poisonous or habit-forming drugs, no narcotics and no alcohol—pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol, both for extracting and preserving the active medicinal properties found in the roots of the American forest plants employed. It is the only medicine for women's pecular diseases, sold by druggists, that does not contain a large percentage of alcohol, which is in the long run so harmful to woman's delicate, nervous system. Now, glycerine is perfectly harmless, and serves a valuable purpose by possessing intrinsic value all its own, and besides it enhances the curative effect of the other ingredients entering into the "Favorite Prescription."

Some of the ablest medical writers and teachers endorse these views and praise all the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is composed—recommending them for the cure of the very same diseases for which this world-famed medicine is advised. No other medicine for women has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any number of ordinary testimonials. If interested, send name and address to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for his little book of extracts from the works of eminent medical writers and teachers, endorsing the several ingredients and telling just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of. It's free for the asking.

Chew What You Know About and Know What You Are Chewing

There is real pleasure in chewing the best tobacco grown—where the best tobacco grows—in the famous Piedmont Country.

Only choice selections of this well-matured and thoroughly cured tobacco is used in making SCHNAPPS. That's why SCHNAPPS and others of the Reynold's brands, as shown by the Internal Revenue statistics for a fiscal year, made the wonderful growth of six and one-quarter million pounds, or a net gain of one-third of the entire increased consumption of chewing and smoking tobaccos in the United States.

Evidently, chewers cannot resist the flavor and they cheer SCHNAPPS because SCHNAPPS cheers them more than any other chewing tobacco, and every man that chews SCHNAPPS passes the good thing along—one chewer makes other chewers—until the fact is now established that there are many more chewers and pounds of tobacco chewed, to the population, in those States where SCHNAPPS tobacco was first sold than there are in the States where SCHNAPPS has not yet been offered to the trade.

SCHNAPPS is like a cup of fine Java coffee, sweetened just enough to bring out its natural, stimulating qualities. SCHNAPPS pleases all classes of chewers: the rich, because they do not find a chew that really pleases them better at any price; the poor, because it is more economical than the large 10c. or 15c. plugs and they get their money's worth of the real snappy, stimulating flavor so appreciated by tobacco lovers. All imitations contain much more sweetening than SCHNAPPS. They are made that way to hide poor tobacco improperly cured.

For the man who chews tobacco for tobacco's sake, there is no chew like SCHNAPPS.

Sold at 50c. per pound in 5c. Cuts. Strictly 10c. and 15c. Plugs
