REPUBLICAN CLUB.

The McKinley, Roosevelt and Blakeney Club, of Westminster District, will meet at Odd Fellows' Hall, on Monday Night, Oct. 8th, at 7.30 o'clock.

PROMINENT SPEAKERS will address the Meeting.

The registers of voters will sit in this county on Tuesday, the 9th inst. If you have not already registered you must have your name entered in the registration books on that day, otherwise you cannot vote in November.

Senator John T. Morgan, of Alabama, supports Mr. Bryan on the free silver issue. He is in favor of free silver coinage, at the ratio of 16 to 1, and says there is no other issue. Senator Morgan, according to Bryan and the Democratic platform, is an imperialist. He is in favor of expansion and believes this country should hold on to the Philippines. This sentiment is common in the South and is entertained by many prominent and leading Democrats. If Mr. Bryan extends his stumping tour to the Gulf States he will find it necessary to revise that portion of his speech which makes Aguinaldo a second George Washington and demands the abandonment of our sovereignty over the Philippines.

Uncertainty still exists as to the probable action of the Powers in relation to a settlement of the Chinese question. The Emperor of China has ordered the punishment of a number of princes and dignitaries who supported the Boxers in their terrible work of assassinating missionaries and native christians and in their efforts to drive all foreigners from Chinese soil. The United States and Germany are in accord in accepting this edict as an honest determination for the restoration of order in the empire. It is said that American commercial interests exceed all others in North China and that American merchants are protesting against the withdrawal of our troops. American citizens at Tien Tsin have passed resolutions to that effect.

At a meeting held at Freedom on Saturday night the Democrats organized a campaign club for Freedom district, with, we are informed, 110 members. If our information is correct, and it comes from a reliable source, the selection of a name for the club was attended with considerable difficulty. A proposition to call it the Bryan, Stevenson and Talbott Club of Freedom District was voted down by an overwhelming majority. It was then given the name of Freedom District Democratic Club, although there were several votes against the motion to that effect. The presumption is that Mr. Nicholas W. Steele's friends constitute the bulk of the club's membership. Mr. Talbott will probably run far behind Bryan and Stevenson in Freedom district. State Senator Johnzie E. Beasman was elected president of the club.

The tide is unquestionably setting in strongly in favor of McKinley and Roosevelt. The inconsistencies into which Bryan and his supporters are forced by their diverse views on leading questions probably has a good deal to do with the evident drift of public sentiment in this respect. In some localities hostility to imperialism is the principal sentiment in the Democratic mind, coupled with devotion to sound money standards. Elsewhere the Democrats are in favor of expansion and the retention of the Philippines, precisely as are the Republicans, but opposed to the gold standard, as the Republicans are not. In some sections anti-expansion and free silver go hand in hand. Some Democrats favor tariff protection while the bulk of the party is hostile to anything in that line but a tariff for revenue. There is, in fact, no homogeneity among the supporters of Bryan, even in the Democratic camp, and when Populists and Free Silver Republicans are taken into consideration, the diversity of views among them is extensive and extreme. Naturally there cannot be much cohesiveness among these diverse elements and concert of action is next to impossible. The greatest factor, however in promoting a tendency upon the part of the American people to "let well enough alone" by re-electing McKinley, is to be found in the remarkably prosperous condition of the country under the present administration. Barnum said the people enjoyed being humbugged, but they have so often experienced the evil consequences of entrusting power to the Democratic party that they are not inclined to submit to the humbug of free coinage, anti-imperialism and the like, which constitute the stock in trade of the Bryanites.

J. G. Johnson, of the Democratic National Committee, is the "funny man" of that organization. He sends out a forecast of the result of the November election, in which he gives McKinley only the electoral votes of the New England States, Iowa, Oregon and Pennsylvania. All the remaining States, except Michigan and Minnesota, he claims, are certain for Bryan, the two mentioned being doubtful. Knowing Democrats will be vastly amused by this exhibition of cheap wit on the part of Mr. Johnson, but many will accept it as the deliberate opinion of the prophet and build false hopes of Democratic victory upon it. The New York Herald, an independent Democratic paper, has made, upon thorough information received from well posted correspondents in all doubtful States, an estimate which will strike the intelligent reader as pretty close to the mark. This estimate gives McKinley 258 electoral votes and Bryan 168, leaving Idaho, Indiana and Montana, with 21 votes, still in the doubtful column. The Herald considers the election of McKinley as assured, beyond question.

A Soldier's View of the Case.

Gen. Edward B. Williston, who was recently retired from the Regular Army and a few days ago returned from the Philippines, confirms a statement which the SENTINEL has repeatedly made, to the effect that the Democratic policy of a protectorate over the Filipinos resolves itself into a practical purpose to protect the Tagalos in their efforts to subjugate all the other tribes of the archipelago. Gen. Williston has had abundant opportunity to form a correct estimate of the characteristics and purposes of this Tagalo tribe, and he says:

"The Tagalos, a tribe numbering about 1,500,000 people, are the only natives now under arms. They are, and always have been, thieves and robbers. They are much worse upon the native Filipinos than upon any one else, and subsist almost entirely upon tribute which they levy upon the native villagers. The only semblance of war these Tagalos put up is when a small detachment of our soldiers or some engineers or telegraphers are moving across the country. Then they assemble in large force, and sometimes manage to assassinate a few of our men. Fortunately, they are very poor shots, and as soon as they have fired a volley they disappear in the grass and bamboo thickets and cannot be found. When our men reach the village to which they are bound the same men who formed the attacking party will be among the natives who come to greet them with "Buenos Americanos," and they will very likely have something they wish to sell to us. The whole trouble seems to me to be that there has been from the first a misunderstanding between us and the Filipinos. Outside of the Tagalos the native population is satisfied and reconciled, and the people are pursuing their ordinary avocations. The more intelligent and educated leaders of the Tagalos long ago surrendered, and have taken the oath of allegiance to the United States. Remaining leaders are having more authority, more money and a better time than they ever had before in their lives, and they and their followers, having been ground down under Spanish oppression for three centuries, cannot understand our motives, and are suspicious of us. They say: 'Yes, you promise all right; but the Spaniards promised all right, too!' "

Gen. Williston, with Mrs. Williston and Miss F. E. Chatfield, are guests at the Hotel Westminster, in this city. At the breaking out of the Spanish war the general was in command at Fort McHenry, Baltimore. From thence he was ordered to Camp Chicamauga, and assumed command of all the artillery organized for that war. After the war in Cuba ended he was ordered to the Philippines, and became Military Governor of Manila, which position he held until his retirement a few months ago. He returned much broken in health and is sojourning here in the hope that the invigorating air of this place will be of benefit to him.

The Issue of Imperialism is Becoming a Failure.

The Democrats are making desperate efforts to keep up the "Imperialism" racket, but are finding it uphill work. Not one man in a thousand honestly believes that the retention of the Philippines means a change in our form of government from a republic to an empire. Even Mr. Bryan, who has been induced to present imperialism, in some localities, as the paramount issue, does so at the cost of extreme inconsistency, having done more, probably, than any other one man to influence votes in the Senate for the ratification of the treaty by which we paid Spain twenty millions of dollars for the sovereignty of the islands. Sensible people are not slow to discover that the President is bound to use all the force at his command to subdue revolt against the authority of the government, in any territory to which we possess an indefeasible title. His oath of office requires him to execute the laws and there is no higher law than that of a treaty. Mr. Bryan aided, with all his influence, in the acquisition of this government's title to the Philippines, and hence is more than particeps criminis in the transaction, if it were a crime. The people are rapidly discovering the inconsistency of his present course on the subject with his zeal in promoting the payment of a large sum of money for Spain's title to the archipelago, and can only logically conclude that he and his party are using the cry of "Imperialism" solely for the purpose of catching votes.

Mr. Bryan knows very well that if he were in the Presidential chair it would become his duty, under the law, to use the army for the purpose of maintaining the authority of this government in the Philippines. If he failed in that respect he would be guilty of violating his oath of office. Logically, therefore, the assaults of himself and his party upon the present administration for enforcing existing law are totally at variance with their assumption of high respect for the constitution and laws of the country. The people begin to understand that they are to be fooled if they accept the dictum of Bryan and his party platform upon the subject, and this is one of the causes evidently increasing the drift of public sentiment in favor of the Republican ticket. The issue of Imperialism is becoming a failure.

The registers of voters will sit in this county on Tuesday, the 9th inst. If you have not already registered you must have your name entered in the registration books on that day, otherwise you cannot vote in November.

He's The Same Bryan.

Democratic journals are making much of what they are pleased to term the "New Bryan." According to their theories Mr. Wm. J. Bryan has become a "new" man since he made the blasphemous speech in the Chicago convention which won him the nomination for the Presidency in 1896. They say he has broader views and has developed in mind, character and statesmanship since the campaign in which his free silver heresy was repudiated by the American people. People who know Mr. Bryan closely are of the opinion that two qualities of his nature have been abnormally developed—egotism and personal ambition—but that apart from these his mind runs pretty much in the old groove. They believe that the issue of Imperialism, which he alleges is paramount in this campaign, was taken by him purely as a means to an end—his election to the Presidency. That in truth, if the Philippine Islands had been abandoned by the present administration he would now be denouncing the Republicans as false and treacherous to the best interests of the country for that action.

It must be conceded that there is reasonable ground for this assumption in the fact that Mr. Bryan was one of the most earnest advocates of the ratification of the treaty of Paris, by which this country paid twenty millions of dollars of "good" money for an unquestionable title to Philippine sovereignty. It would have been the height of folly on his part if he meant to advise that that title, acquired at such great cost, should immediately be abandoned. In fact, it is not reasonable to suppose that such a proposition would have been entertained by him for a moment if power to dispose of the question had been lodged in his hands. Certainly he has shown no breadth of statesmanship in his inconsistent course on this subject.

In two things, however, he has been thoroughly consistent—his advocacy of the free coinage of silver at the 16 to 1 ratio, and his generally Populistic views. He is also consistent in his policy of predicting the destruction of the business interests of the country in the event of his defeat as a candidate for the Presidency, in the face of the utter failure of his ante-election predictions four years ago. In fact he's the same Bryan who played the role of demagogue and false prophet in 1896, and, if at all changed, has only grown narrower and more contracted in his views on these and kindred subjects.

Not So Easily Embarrassed.

The Baltimore Sun of June 28th, 1899, in referring to the Silver Trust said:

"As an opponent of trusts Mr. W. J. Bryan is somewhat embarrassed in the fact that he is assisted in his effort to advance the price of the product of the silver mine owners by a combination of silver smelters and refiners, formed in March last. These gentlemen all became members of one corporation, with the result that silver now sells for four cents more an ounce than it did before the 'trust' was formed. But the fact that the silver mine owners were co-operating to advance their product has long been known. The silver agitation had its origin, it is believed, in the pamphlets and oratory of the senators of the silver mining states who were mine owners, or their Agents."

Neither Mr. Bryan nor the Sun seems so easily embarrassed by the condition thus described. Mr. Bryan goes on denouncing trusts and the Sun goes on supporting him in spite of his free silver heresy, although an extreme gold standard paper.

But, if Mr. Bryan were at all given to embarrassment by reason of inconsistencies in himself or his close political friends and allies the silver trust is not the only organization calculated to suggest caution in his utterances upon the subject. The New York Ice Trust, headed by Croker and other Tammany leaders, who are among Mr. Bryan's most ardent supporters, is one of the most oppressive and conscienceless combinations in this or any other country. Chairman Jones, of the Democratic National Committee, is also said to be deeply interested in trust organizations peculiarly detrimental to the cotton planters of his own section and his record in the Senate is by no means clear of favoritism to some of the most objectionable trusts in the country.

These things, however, cause Mr. Bryan no embarrassment. Consistency on his own part, as well as on that of his party, is not, apparently, regarded as an important virtue, and he continues his efforts to humbug and mislead the people by attributing to others conditions which apply with extreme force to himself and his party friends.

Untrustworthy Predictions.

Mr. Wm. J. Bryan is engaged at this time, as he was in 1896, in making predictions of the dire consequences to fall on this country and its people if the Republicans shall triumph at the approaching election. Mr. Bryan proved an utter false prophet of evil in 1896. Contrast some of his predictions then with the actual results which ensued:

Savings bank depositors know that under a gold standard there is increasing danger that they will lose their deposits because of the inability of banks to collect their assets, and they still further know that if the gold standard is to continue indefinitely they may be compelled to withdraw their deposits in order to pay living expenses.—From Mr. Bryan's Madison Square Garden speech, August 12, 1896.

We have arrayed against us those who desire to lessen the volume of money so that they can corner it more easily.—From a speech delivered in Youngstown, O., by Mr. Bryan, October 19, 1896.

If we adhere to a gold standard we will beggar millions more and double the burden of every burden-bearer in the United States.—From a speech delivered in Anderson, Ind., by Mr. Bryan, October 21, 1896.

Now, not only have depositors in savings banks not lost their deposits, as Mr. Bryan predicted they would, but they have increased them to a truly marvelous extent. In 1896, 988 savings banks had on their books the names of 5,065,494 individual depositors whose aggregate deposits were $1,907,156,277, or an average of $376.50 for each depositor.

IN 1899, 977 BANKS REPORTED 5,687,818 DEPOSITORS WITH $2,230,366,954 ON DEPOSIT. THAT MEANS AN INCREASE IN THE NUMBER OF DEPOSITORS OF MORE THAN 600,000, AND AN INCREASE IN DEPOSITS OF $323,210,677.

Furthermore, while the depositors have grown in number the average deposit has increased from $376.50, in 1896, to $392.13, in 1899.

These figures mean that for every man, woman and child in the United States there was on deposit in the savings banks—this does not include national banks and trust companies—$29.24 last year, as against $26.68 in 1896. Moreover, the savings deposits of the wage earners of this country are more than double those of any other people on earth.

And this:

Under a gold standard farmers cannot pay their mortgages, and simply have to lose what they have invested.—From a speech delivered in Benton Harbor, Mich., by Mr. Bryan, October 16, 1896.

In Mr. Bryan's own State, Nebraska, the value of mortgages which were released or canceled in 1898, the second year of McKinley's administration, was $27,408,070, which is $9,300,000 greater than the value of mortgages paid off in 1896.

Instead of farm lands depreciating in value, they have appreciated tremendously. On this subject the American Agriculturist recently said:

"Agricultural real estate is now worth $1,230,000,000 more than it was a single year ago; the percentage of farms occupied by owners is now larger than ever before, while the number of farms under mortgage has materially decreased.

"THE AMOUNT OF MORTGAGES ON FARMS OCCUPIED BY THEIR OWNERS IS ESTIMATED AT ABOUT $300,000,000 LESS THAN AT THE BEGINNING OF THE DECADE. MORTGAGES NOW AVERAGE ONLY ABOUT 27 PER CENT. OF THE VALUE OF THE FARMS THEY ARE ON, THE RATE OF INTEREST HAS DECLINED, AND THE GREAT BULK OF MORTGAGES NOW IN FORCE WERE INCURRED TO BUY THE FARM OR TO IMPROVE IT."

Many other predictions made by Mr. Bryan in 1896 have been as thoroughly falsified as those quoted. Some of them will be shown in the SENTINEL between this time and the election, that its readers may see how utterly untrustworthy and unreliable he has proven himself to be in matters of this sort.

Sheriff Edward T. Shea, of Prince George's county; his brother, Wm. Shea; Todd Fox and Herbert Boteler, white men, are held for the action of the Prince George's County Circuit Court, upon a serious charge—felonious assault upon a young white girl named Lucy Hart, aged about sixteen years. The crime, it is alleged, was committed near Branchville. They were committed by Justice James E. Sears. Pending legal inquiry in the case Judge Merrick has appointed Samuel Sweeney elisor to act during the sheriff's disability. If really guilty of the crime with which they are charged the extreme penalty of the law should be visited upon the accused.

The miners' strike in the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania still continues. Mine owners and operators have offered an increase of ten per cent. in wages and have made other concessions towards a settlement of the difficulties, but seek to accomplish this without a recognition of the Miners' Union. Of course it is the policy of the well salaried leaders of the union to object to this purpose of the operators, and hence the propositions of the latter have not been accepted.
