Do you Want to Save Money

WE have just published a new and very valuable work, entitled "Household Economy" which is destined to save much of the expense in families. It consists firstly of the Whole Art of Dyeing, simplified and adapted to general use. This portion contains full and practical instructions for so explicit and clear as to enable any one to bleach, and color any desirable hue as well and much cheaper than the best dyers, including beautiful scarlet, green, &c.

Dyeing, in all its Varieties,

The second part is entitled

and contains genuine formulas for making all the preparations now made by city monopolists that are adapted to general use. Among these may be found recipes for the

the actual cost of which is less than ten cents a pint; one for Imitation of Cider Vinegar which does not cost six cents a gallon, does not contain sulphuric, tartaric or any other injurious acid. It is strong and pure, and cannot be told from cider vinegar—not even by chemical analysis. To any family its value is apparent. The manner of making the best family Medicines of all kinds, Cements, Hair Dyes and 'Restorers,' Leather Preservers and Polishes, &c., including almost everything now manufactured and advertised in the newspapers.

The third part consists of a collection the names of which it is useless to attempt to enumerate,

The value of the book is in its originality—it is NEW. We claim a saving of $25 a year to every family owning a copy.

INHALING,

The Persian Fever Charm.

FOR the prevention and cure of Fever and Ague and Bilious Fevers. This wonderful remedy was brought to the knowledge of the present proprietors by a friend who has been a great traveler in Persia and the Holy Land.

While going down the river Euphratees, he experienced a severe attack of Fever and Ague. On discovering his condition, one of the Boatmen took from his person an Amulet, saying, "Wear this and no Fever will touch you." Although incredulous as to its virtues; he complied, and experienced immediate relief, and has since always found it an effectual protection from all malarious complaints.

On further investigation he found that the boatman attributed to it miraculous powers, and said that it could only be obtained from the Priests of the Sun. Sometime afterwards, the gentleman in conversing with a Priest obtained from him the secret of its preparation, and ascertained where the medicinal herbs were found, of which it was compounded.—The wonderful virtues of this article have induced a full belief in the minds of the natives in the miraculous healing powers of their Priests.

Since his return to America, it has been tried with the happiest effect by several Ladies and Gentlemen of high character, who have given it the most unqualified praise. This remedy having been a specific in Persia for hundreds of years, for the prevention and cure of Fever ane Ague and Bilious Fevers—is now offered to the American people.

It will be sent by mail, prepaid, with full directions for use, on receipt of one dollar.

CHESTNUT GROVE WHISKEY C.W.

The enterprising proprietor of CHESTNUT GROVE WHISKEY, (the purest Medicinal Agent ever known,) has furnished the community a stimulant, Pure, Healthful and Invigorating, at the same time a mild, delicious beverage. It is calculated to do away with the vile drugged stuff that is palmed off on the community, and which is injurious to body and mind. In addition to the certificates beneath, he has received a Diploma from the STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, and additional testimony from Dr. JACKSON, of Boston, who testifies under oath to its absolute purity.

CERTIFICATES:

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9, 1858.

We have carefully tested the sample of Chestnut Grove Whiskey which you sent us, and find that it contains none of the poisonous substance known as Fusil Oil, which is the characteristic and injurious ingredient of the whiskeys in general use.

NEW YORK, Sept. 3, 1858.

I have analyzed a sample of Chestnut Grove Whiskey, received from Mr. Charles Wharton, Jr., of Philadelphia, and having carefully tested it, I am pleased to state that it is entirely free from poisonous or deleterious substances. It is an unusually pure and fine flavored quality of whiskey.

JAMES R. CHILTON,
Analytical Chemist.

BOSTON, March 7, 1859.

I have made a chemical analysis of commercial samples of Chestnut Grove Whiskey, which proves to be free from the heavy Fusil Oils, and perfectly pure and unadulterated.—The fine flavor of this Whiskey is derived from the Grain used in manufacturing it. Respectfully,

THE GREAT SOUTHERN WEEKLY.

The Family Journal for 1860.

ON the first Saturday in January will be commenced a new volume of this popular Southern Illustrated Paper. One year ago the JOURNAL was begun as an experiment to establish a literary paper south of Mason and Dixon's line, which, while it should not contain anything sectional in its columns, might be a means of freeing the South from its dependance on the North for its literary food.—It has been too long a subject of just reproach to the South, that her popular literature is almost wholly borrowed from Northern sources. This preference arises not from any lack of intrinsic merit in the writers of the South, but from an unfounded assumption that no good book, magazine or paper can be expected unless coming from a Northern publishing house.

To remove this unfounded stain upon the literary talent and enterprise of the South, was the great object for which the Family Journal was established. To aid in this high and patriotic undertaking, we earnestly invite the co-operation of the South. We pledge ourselves to devote our entire time and energies to ensure the success of so good a cause. Nor shall we rest satisfied with producing a paper whose sole claim upon Southern readers shall consist in its being published in their midst. Unless the Journal can in every respect compare with similar papers published elsewhere, we do not expect the support which we now solicit.

It may not be inappropriate here to announce that we have succeeded in securing the valuable services of F. H. NORVELL, Esq., late Professor in Marshall Female College, Mississippi, as Associate Editor. The exalted character of Mr. Norvell, and his acquirements as a scholar, offer our best guarantee for the moral tone and literary excellence of the Journal.

Each number of the paper will contain three or four complete stories by the popular authors of the day. They will be written with great care, and specially adapted to interest those persons who do not read the continued stories.

Sketches of Travel and Adventure will also form a special feature in the coming volume, as well as Biographical Essays, which will contain the lives of all the popular authors.

Useful Information.—Under this head will be comprised interesting anecdotes in Natural History, Chemistry, new inventions in Science and Art, items for the Farmer and Housekeeper, &c.

Particular attention will also be paid to original Poetry, extreme care being taken to present such only as shall command the praise of every lover of this divine art.

The Ladies' Portfolio will continue to be a prominent feature in the ensuing volume.

The Family Journal is a mammoth eight-paged paper, containing forty columns of closely printed reading matter. Each number is handsomely illustrated, talented artists having been specially engaged for this purpose. No advertisements whatever will be taken in the new volume; thus devoting the entire space to the reading matter.

The Family Journal is published every Saturday, and is mailed to subscribers at $2 per annum; two copies sent for $3. Terms invariably in advance. Any postmaster sending us eight subscribers at $1 50 each, will be entitled to a copy free.

Subscribers are particularly requested to write in a plain hand the name of the place, county and State, so as to prevent mistakes. Remittances, properly authenticated, at our risk. Single subscribers can forward postage stamps.

Volume 15.

Address of the National Democratic Executive Committee.

To the Democracy and the People of the United States:

Fellow-citizens: The election of the next President and Vice-President of the United States is at hand. Four distinct organizations are in the field. The Republican party making bold and open war upon the institutions of fifteen sovereign States of this Union. The Constitutional Union party, repudiating all platforms and standing simply on the catch words "Constitution and the Union." Two parties, each calling itself Democratic; one, however, following the fortunes of one man, Mr. Douglas, and differing from the Republicans in making insidious, instead of open, war upon the South. The other, standing inflexibly on the Constitution of the country, makes no concealments as to its interpretation of that instrument, its rallying cry being the equality of the States. We purpose, calmly and impartially, to survey the field, and to give the reasons why the latter party should be considered as the Democratic party, and how the dearest interests of country, race and of human progress, are concerned in its success.

Why is it that the democratic party is disrupted, and its wings arrayed in bitter opposition to each other? Why is it that the veterans who achieved its time-honored triumphs no longer move with the old energy and harmony to meet the antagonists they have so often defeated? What firebrand has been thrown into their midst, lighting up intestine fires, and consuming as with a devouring flame? Let the plain, unvarnished record answer.

In 1856 the democratic party, after a most bitter contest, elected Jas. Buchanan President, and John C. Breckinridge Vice-President of the United States. The new administration was inaugurated and went into operation. Its policy was foreshadowed in the inaugural address. The Supreme Court, in a case before it, the Dred Scott case, gave its decision on the question of difference in the democratic ranks—a decision which previously every democrat had solemnly pledged himself to abide by, as the authoritative exposition of the democratic faith. That august tribunal declared the Missouri Compromise act unconstitutional and void; enunciated the right of the South to take and hold their slave property in the Territories; denied to the Territorial Legislature any right to interfere with such property, and proclaimed that a Territory could only settle the question of slavery at the time it came to form a constitution, preparatory to its admission into the Union as a sovereign State.

This was looked upon by all sound democrats as the final settlement of the question, and it was believed that the agitation of slavery would be forever withdrawn from the halls of Congress. Who has kept up this agitation? Who has resisted this decision? Who has declared that: "It matters not what way the Supreme Court may hereafter decide as to the abstract question, whether slavery may or may not go into a Territory under the Constitution, the people have the lawful means to introduce or exclude it, as they please." And, again: "No matter what the decision of the Supreme Court may be on that abstract question, the right of the people to make a slave Territory or a free Territory, is perfect and complete under the Nebraska bill?" Mr. Douglas thus, in his Illinois contest, set the people above the Constitution, and violated his own pledges in the Kansas-Nebraska act.

Now was presented to the country the sad spectacle of our once valiant champion exerting his entire energies to overthrow the party which had so honored him; and, with the flag of rebellion and insurrection in his hand, endeavoring to seduce the party from its principles. His friends
