WONDERFUL REPORTS FROM WELL-KNOWN CITIZENS.

Piles and the Rheumatism.—Some remarkable cures are daily coming to light: Charles Sexton, Esq., ex-Mayor of the city of Camden, says the "Electric Oil" cured his Piles by six applications; also, Rheumatism. He says it is a very valuable remedy, and everybody ought to know it.

Neuralgia.—Mr. David Mann, 499 Vine street, says, De Grath & Co.'s "Electric Oil" cured him, and that he was a great sufferer.

Stiff Neck.—Mr. Mann's daughter was much afflicted with stiff and swollen neck, which this Oil cured immediately.

Bad Sprain.—Mr. A. D. Highfield, No. 12 Howard street, met with a serious accident, which laid him up, says: He tried everything, even the usual cold water shower without any benefit—used a single bottle of the oil, which cured him—also says it cured frosted feet.

Catarrh in the Breast.—Mr. Wardlow's little girl was cured. This is a very interesting case.

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

During the present week no less than six of our friends, who have been induced to try Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil for Rheumatism and Deafness, in consequence of having seen this preparation advertised in our columns, have called upon us to state the result of their experiments. These persons assure us that their Rheumatic pains have been entirely cured by a few applications of De Grath's "Electric Oil," and they recommend its use to all who are afflicted with any of the diseases which it is designed to cure.

It seems that Rheumatism, Deafness, Neuralgia, Swollen and Stiff Joints, and other complaints to which we are all subjects, have lost their terrors. Prof. De Grath's Electric Oil is warranted to relieve any case in a short space of time, and with a trifling expense. It always cures Scratches, Sprains, Galls and Splints on horses.

SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL for 1861.
SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL for 1861.
SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL for 1861.

THE coming year inaugurates the third volume of this favorite exponent of SOUTHERN literature. It is a source of no little gratification to us that in announcing the third volume of the JOURNAL, we are enabled to give the best possible reproof to the discouraging predictions of Northern publishers, as well as to the gloomy forebodings of even hearty well-wishers in our own section of the country.—Yes, we are proud to say that the brilliant success of the SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL has proved the existance of literary talent and enterprise in the SOUTH which fears no rivals:

The friends of SOUTHERN literature have often declared that, could they get a SOUTHERN paper which, in point of intrinsic merit and in price, could compete with Northern weeklies, they would cheerfully support it.—We offer this desideratum; we ask these promises to be redeemed. We ask a comparison with other papers of its class, and are satisfied that the SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL will be found equal to the best. Arrangements have been made with the

BEST WRITERS OF THE SOUTH,

and the Publishers have no hesitation in saying that the JOURNAL must become a

WELCOME GUEST IN EVERY SOUTHERN HOME.

For the ensuing year we are enabled to report a host of new and interesting features, comprising among others

BRILLIANT ADDITIONS TO OUR STAFF OF CONTRIBUTORS;

an intensely interesting series of

DETECTIVE STORIES;

important and varied additions to our justly celebrated

BIOGRAPHICAL ESSAYS.

We also trust to have it in our power to announce, early in the Spring, the commencement of a series of

SKETCHES OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL.

With this view we have entered into negotiations with a highly popular author to furnish us with a regular correspondence.

With the January number will commence a STORY of unprecedented power and beauty and thrilling interest, entitled

ARLINE ADAIR;

OR,

Who's the Captain?

A Historical Romance of Frontier Life

BY CAPTAIN R. C. KENDALL.

Besides the varied entertainment offered in the foregoing summary, the SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL will present, as heretofore, an unsurpassed collection of SHORT STORIES, (complete in one number.)

ADVENTURES, (by flood and field.)
ITEMS OF NEWS, (at home and abroad.)
GOSSIP, (about men and things.)
WIT & HUMOR, and POETRY.

We may also add

ANECDOTES IN NATURAL HISTORY.
FACTS FOR THE FARMER AND HOUSEKEEPER.
NEW INVENTIONS.

In a word, a varied miscellany of instructive as well as entertaining matter.

The SOUTHERN FAMILY JOURNAL is a mammoth eight paged paper, containing forty columns of closely printed reading matter. Each number is handsomely illustrated.

The Southern Family Journal is published weekly and mailed to single subscribers at $2 a year; two copies sent for $3. Terms invariably in advance. Any postmaster sending us eight subscribers at $1.50 will be entitled to one copy free.

Specimen copies sent free when requested.

GROWING OLD.

BY E. J. DAVY.

Our years are quick and fleeting,
They move with iron pace;
But 'mid the stormy bleating
We dread to quit the race.
We see the goal come nigher—
The story oft is told—
Our aim is still cast higher,
For we are growing old.

Time moves with reckless power,
Nor stops to count our grief;
We pass through weal and sorrow,
Nor wait for unbelief.
Our brow with wrinkles furrowed,
Makes age seem plain and bold;
That gnawing tooth of nature
Says we are growing old.

OFF to the VIRGINIA RACES.

Oh be easy, don't you tease me,
While I sing a bit of fun;
Soldiers flying, niggers crying,
See them push to Washington.

Off they scamper! Oh what a damper
To their tender, humane hearts;
Muskets dropping, hearts a throbbing,
Bodies left behind in carts.

LEE's a coming! Hark, the drumming!
Fly you hireling Hessian knaves;
He will scourge you, he will purge you,
Run you dirty Lincoln slaves.

JOHNSTON's mettle will make you settle
Down in just and upright men,
If you promise for the future,
Not to take up arms again.

Oh, what sorrow, on to-morrow,
When you find your knapsacks gone;
Bread and water—what you fought for—
You'll not find in Washington.

Despised as traitors, brother-haters,
You shall bear the mark of Cain;
Foolish gunners, first-rate runners,
Shed your brothers' blood for gain.

Shame will crown you, tears will drown you,
Of the misery you have made;
Peace will leave you, Conscience grieve you
Dupes of Abram Lincoln's raid.

Oh be easy, don't you tease me,
I have sung you all the joke;
See them coming, see them running,
Heavens! see the awful smoke.

Speech of Vice-President A. H. Stephens, C. S. A.

From a speech delivered on the 11th inst., by Alex. H. Stephens, to a large audience assembled on the College Green, Augusta, Ga., we make the following extracts:

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen of Richmond County:—I appear before you to-day in the discharge of a duty assigned to me by the Confederate Congress:

My business to-day is, to unfold to you the exigencies of this war and its requirements. The Congress, it is known to you, provided for raising one hundred thousand men. Nobly, gallantly and patriotically has that call been responded to, and is now being responded to. Thousands and tens of thousands—the exact number I am not now able to state to you—have gone to the battle field. These men, however, must be clothed, they must be fed; they must be armed; they must be equipped.

The amount estimated by the Secretary of the Treasury to meet the requirements to support an army of this number, was fifty millions of dollars—a large amount. This am't must be raised. How to do it is the question. But since that adjournment—since that estimate—this war has assumed a wider and broader range. It has taken on larger and more gigantic proportions, and instead of one hundred thousand men we may have to send two hundred thousand to meet the enemy; instead of fifty millions of dollars, we may have, and the probability is that we shall have, to raise one hundred millions of dollars; and it may be, it it goes on and increases, that we shall have to raise more. The estimate, however, of the Secretary of the Treasury was fifty millions of dollars, and whatever number of men and whatever amn't of money will be necessary must be raised. We do not intend to be subjugated. Mr. Lincoln has increased his call from seventy-five thousand to four hundred thousand men. He has increased his demand for money from the five millions first asked for (the amount I do not exacly recollect,) and asks his Congress, now in session, for four hundred millions of dollars. Whether he will raise his men or his money I know not. All I have to say about it is, that if he raises his four hundred thousand men, we must raise enough to meet him, and if he raises his four hundred millions of money, we must raise enough to meet it.
