Since the passage of the Dingley tariff law rapid progress has been made in the development of the beet sugar industry in this country. Thirty factories are in operation and the production is increasing year by year. At Rocky Ford, Cal., a plant has been erected at a cost of a million of dollars and farmers in that vicinity have contracted to cultivate 8000 acres in sugar beets, each year, for five years, for the factory. This factory will be ready for the crop of this season. It will consume 1000 tons of beets daily during the season. A factory at Sugar City consumes 500 tons daily, and gives employment to 1000 people. Of the 2,000,000 tons of sugar consumed annually in this country, at a cost of, say $200,000,000 to the consumers, a large quantity is now imported, but it is thought that not many years hence, under present conditions, the country will provide its own supply and the cost of production will go into the pockets of our own people. The prospect is a strong plea for the propriety of the protective system.

The Advocate repeats, last week, advice which it is in the habit of giving semi-annually to Democrats of the county who aspire to nominations on the county ticket. Practically, the gist of the advice is that any such aspirant who believes that some other man, who wants the same nomination, is stronger than himself, should retire in order to avoid difficulty and division in the ranks. But who ever supposed that some other man was stronger than he? And after all who is to be judge of that question? Isn't the convention to determine it? And why shouldn't any aspirant submit his claims to a nomination to the representatives of his party, in convention, with the understanding, of course, that he is to accept their judgment? Somehow, the Advocate's advice savors of an apprehension that there is danger of Democratic defeat in the county. For our own part we have always felt that it was any citizen's privilege to ask a nomination to office from his party, and that there is no more reason why one man than another should practice the self-denial of "stepping down and out" for the benefit of a rival in the ranks.

Registration and Voting.

The registers of voters will have sittings on three days, in the several districts of this county—October 1st, 8th and 15th. The last sitting will be for revision only. Voters will be registered and transfers given at the first and second sittings, but not at the last. A transfer given on the 1st or 8th of October cannot be used on the 15th. It must be consummated by entry at the new place of residence of the voter, not later than October 8th.

Under the law, persons who had removed to other states prior to the passage of the law, cannot vote in this State without they made oath before the clerk of the Circuit Court, within 30 days from its passage, that by such removal "they did not intend to change their legal residence within the State, but that they had a fixed purpose to return at a definite time, and that they intended to return to this State and take up their actual habitation and domicile therein on or before six months next preceeding the Tuesday after the first Monday of November next succeeding the making such affidavit." There is no doubt that this provision of the law applies to the election in November next, but, from the peculiarity of its phraseology, it is doubtful whether it will be in force after that event. It was evidently designed to give the Democrats an opportunity to disfranchise as many Republicans as possible, as the law was published only in Democratic newspapers: but the Republicans should not fail to take advantage of it to have the names of any Democrats stricken from the registry lists who were out of the State for thirty days immediately succeeding the dates upon which the law was passed, without having made the affidavit required. If any Republican in the county knows of such a case, let him see to it that the law is enforced. Such action will be entirely legitimate and proper under the circumstances.

On Saturday last the Western Maryland Railroad paid to City Register Numsen, of Baltimore, the interest in full to September 1st, on the $875,000 3½ per cent. refunding loan maturing in 1950. The amount was $5,104.77. The company also paid $1,060.29 to reimburse the city in that amount of State tax recently paid on account of the railroad's city loans.

Abram Sanders, alias Abram Moore, colored, received twenty-five lashes in the jail at Hagerstown, well laid on by Sheriff Zeller, for wife-beating, last Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Stoner, of Waynesboro, Pa., died suddenly at Hagerstown on Wednesday, whither she had gone that day to visit a relative.

Destructive Thunderstorms.

A destructive thunderstorm passed over Washington county on Saturday evening last, during which several barns were struck by lightning and destroyed by fire. One of these was on the farm of Samuel Ringer, four miles from Hagerstown, on the Boonsboro turnpike, and another on the farm of Joseph Hade, four miles north of Hagerstown. A large barn was also destroyed in Leitersburg district and two valuable horses which belonged to Wolford Stouffer, near Funkstown, were killed by lightning.

The same storm passed over Frederick county and the barn of David W. Summers, near Harmony, in that county, was destroyed by fire caused by lightning. Its contents, consisting of 1000 bushels of wheat, a large amount of hay, farming implements, &c., were burned.

On Sunday evening a terrific thunderstorm swept over the northern part of Baltimore county, doing much damage. Wesley Methodist Episcopal Chapel, near Monkton, on the circuit of which Rev. J. Tolly Marsh is pastor, was struck by lightning and destroyed by the fire which ensued, entailing a loss of $5,000, partially insured.

The barn of J. Keeny, near Eklo, was struck by lightning and burned, with its contents of wheat, and other grain, hay, farming implements, two mules, a horse and a calf. The loss is estimated at $5,000 partially insured.

The large barn of W. R. Griffith, in the Eighth district, suffered a similar catastrophe, and eight horses and 25 sheep perished in the flames. A lot of hay and straw and several wagons were burned.

The barn of Leonard and August Krach, near Baltimore, with a lot of wheat, hay and farming implements, was destroyed in the same manner during the storm.

Near Hoffman's Store, in the Fourth district, lightning shattered and tore away one end of the residence of Mr. Cornelius Gill. Mr. Gill, his wife and three children and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Wilhelm, who were in the house at the time, were all stunned by the shock, but none of them seriously injured.

Seven cows, valued at $400 and owned by Mr. Milton Slade, near White Hall, were killed by lightning during the storm.

Miss Elizabeth Hudson Davis, vice-principal of Franklin High School at Reisterstown, was fatally injured on Saturday night by jumping from an electric car, near her home in that place, while the car was in motion. She had requested the conductor to stop the car at her home, but he was a new man on the road and not familiar with the locality and did not give the signal to stop until Miss Davis had left her seat and started toward the platform. The car was running at the rate of 12 or 14 miles an hour and the conductor says he caught Miss Davis by the arm and attempted to prevent her from jumping, but was unable to do so. She fell to the ground, striking on the side of her head and face and sustaining concussion of the brain, from which she died early Sunday morning. She was 35 years old and had been vice-principal of the High School for a number of years. She was a lady of superior intellect, fine mental culture and estimable character and her sad death is much deplored.

Carrollton Items.

This vicinity was visited on Sunday evening last by one of the heaviest rains of the season. The rainfall was just tremendous, the flashes of lightning vivid and the roar of heaven's artillery was deafening. Numerous were the washouts on the lands of many of the farmers. Outside of this no material damage was done.

The annual festival of the Wesley M. E. Church Sunday School was held in the grove adjoining the church on last Saturday, and despite the threatening aspect of the weather the attendance was really good. The event was for the benefit of the school and church. A great many of the farmers in this vicinity have been hauling their wheat to Drechsler's mill at Carrollton Station this week. The sound of the threshing machine and the blowing of the steam whistle can be heard in almost every direction in these regions. Mr. Koons, general manager of the mill, has received some very pretty wheat the past week.

Rural free delivery in this vicinity will soon take a start. It begins at Patapsco, follows along the Bush road, thence onward to Wesley, taking in about 21 miles of travel, supplying a large number of families on the route.

Mr. Edward O. Davis, who died in Baltimore on Thursday of last week, was well known in Carrollton. Mr. Davis was 36 years of age. The general subject of gossip is the new railroad. There seems to be a contention as to where the depot shall be located, whether at Taylorsville or Crawford's store. I am impressed that they had better take the old darkey's advice in giving the receipt for cooking the coon—first catch your coon.

Mrs. H. M. Zile took in 119,456 pounds of milk in the month of August, at his Winfield creamery, and 53,426 pounds at his Smallwood creamery, a total of 172,882 pounds, for which he will pay 70c per hundred, making a money value of $1,210.10.

Union Mills Items.

One day last week, the eldest son of Mr. Nelson Unger, residing near Bish's school house, aged fourteen years, sustained a compound fracture of the lower jaw. A horse, that he was driving in a spring wagon, became unmanageable and ran away. The wagon was demolished, the horses hind legs were terribly lacerated and the lad was injured as above stated. When he was brought to the office of Dr. J. J. Stewart, of Union Mills, for treatment, one side of the jaw was about an inch higher than the other, the fracture being through the center of the chin. After adjusting the fractured parts the doctor bound wire about the lower teeth to assist in holding them in position. The patient suffered greatly from unavoidable swallowing of blood, and will have to be sustained on liquid food for several weeks. Two younger brothers were on the wagon when the accident occurred, but they escaped injury.

FIELD CONTEST of CORN HARVESTERS.

GLYNDON, MD., AUGUST 30TH, 1901.

At a field trial today on the farm of Mr. Chas. A. Councilman, between the McCormick and the Deering Corn Binders, the McCormick came out victorious. It made the rounds of the field, choking but ONCE, the Deering made the same rounds choking FIVE TIMES.

We, the Judges, consider the draft of the McCormick much lighter than the Deering and superior on all points.

The McCormick was placed in the field by the S. L. Lamberd Co., of Baltimore, and the Deering by the Lumber Coal & Supply Co., of Westminster.

Mr. Councilman accepted the decision of the Judges, and kept the McCormick.

A GENTLE HINT.

In our style of climate, with its sudden changes of temperature,—rain, wind and sunshine often intermingled in a single day,—it is no wonder that our children, friends and relatives are so frequently taken from us by neglected colds, half the deaths resulting directly from this cause. Mid-Summer Blanket - Sale. -

Warm weather for Blanket consideration we admit, but the chilly nights suggest that blanket season is near at hand. Assortment is now the best in the year, and the prices the lowest. All our blankets are carefully selected and may be strictly relied upon. We buy and sell only the best blankets—correct in finish and desirable in wear. Peculiar time to have a blanket sale, isn't it? What care you if the opportunity for saving money is presented. By being foresighted we saved on our blanket purchases. You may do the same if you act likewise. Consider these inducements.

10/4 White and Gray Cotton Blankets, Blue and Red border, well worth 75c, this sale 50c a pair, less 10 per cent. Think of buying a good Blanket for 45c a pair.

10/4 White Eiderdown Blankets, soft finish, heavy weight, four different color borders, silk bound edges, $3.00 a pair, less 10 per cent. Same blanket last year sold for $3.50, think of it now for $2.70.

10/4 Sanitary Gray Blankets. You may remember that we sold so many of them last year. During this sale we will sell them for $3.50 a pair, less 10 per cent. See this wonderful value at $3.15.

10/4 California Blankets, White, very fine texture, large variety of handsome borders, sold last year at $6.00, this sale you buy them for $5.00 a pair, less 10 per cent. Think of a $6.00 Blanket for $4.50.

10/4 All Wool, extra heavy Blankets. They come in Red, Gray and White. During this sale we are going to sell them for $3.50 a pair, less 10 per cent. This is the first chance for several years that you could buy an All Wool Blanket at anything near this price. Regular $5.00 value, this sale, $3.15.

11/4 Extra size All Wool Blankets. These are the same as the 10-4. Also come in Red, White and Gray, only they are extra size. Regular value $8.00, but we say during this sale, $5.00 a pair, less 10 per cent. Think of an extra size 11-4 All Wool Blanket for $4.50.

Remember these are all new goods just in the house as we did not carry over a pair last season. Take advantage of this sale and save money.
