The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Westminster held its regular monthly meeting Thanksgiving evening at 7.30 o'clock. The meetings are held in Temperance Headquarters room, Times Building, the last Thursday of every month in the evening. This meeting falling upon Thanksgiving, the program was varied.

Asking our Heavenly Father to keep us out of war and to give us courage to keep up the fight against the liquor traffic until the map of our beloved country is all white.

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

BARN, HOG PEN, AUTO SHED, 2 HEN HOUSES, 12 COWS, 1 CALF AND TWO HORSES

A fire occurred on the farm of Mr. Nevin Royer, of Springdale, Wednesday morning, at about 8.30 o'clock when a large barn, hog pen, auto shed, two hen houses, twelve cows, one calf and two horses were burned.

Mr. and Mrs. Royer were at a neighbors, helping to butcher, when one of the women of the house went out to empty a tub and saw a large volume of smoke and made the remark that one of the neighbors was burning brush. When Mrs. Royer saw the smoke she immediately exclaimed "it is our barn." Mr. and Mrs. Royer, accompanied by the neighbors, then started for their home, but the fire had gained such headway that it was impossible to save any of the stock.

The sparks were carried by the high wind over the adjoining farm of Mr. Samuel Greenholtz and set a woods afire beyond it.

One of the horses died in its stall and the other died at the doorway. There were four horses in the stable when the fire started, but two were gotten out by the young negro who was in the stable at the time.

The negro was carrying one of the horses when he felt some heat behind him and turning quickly, saw some blazing straw. He endeavored to extinguish the blaze but without success.

The cattle which were at the other end of the barn might have been saved, had the negro not lost his presence of mind, as the barn was about 70 feet long. The cattle died in their stalls and their burnt bodies were lying side by side with the body of the calf near them.

Besides the stock more than 100 barrels of corn, about 30 tons of hay, 1 load of fodder, gasoline engine, fodder cutter, chopping mill, 2-horse wagon, horse rake, and all the harness was destroyed.

A number of neighbors came to assist in saving what they could, but the timbers in the barn were falling in when they arrived.

The fire quickly spread to the other buildings. The fence around the hog pen, in which were about 8 large hogs was broken down and the hogs saved. A new automobile was gotten out of the shed, but was slightly damaged.

Mr. Royer's loss was estimated as between $3,000 and $4,00 and was only partly covered by insurance.

PLEASE REMEMBER THE INMATES OF OUR COUNTY HOME

Christmas is drawing very near, and once more I make appeal to the charitable people of Carroll county, to help us carry a little of the brightness of the Christmas season to these aged and helpless wards of the county.

Because of changed conditions and the hight cost of living, we may not be able to give them as much as in former years, but surely we can all share a little, to make, what may be the last Christmas for many of them, a happy one. I feel sure, that those who have contributed in the past, thereby making it possible to hold this annual festival, will not fail us this year, even if their contributions must be smaller; but there are many who have never given anything, who, I feel confident, will help, if reminded of it, and to them I especially appeal.

Any contribution, no matter how small, will be appreciated and acknowledged.

Please send as early as possible, as it requires time and thought to select suitable gifts and arrange for the entertainment.

Please send all contributions to the care of

MARY BOSTWICK SHELLMEN,
Westminster, Md.

CIRCUIT COURT

Judges Thomas and Forsythe heard argument by Messrs. F. Neal Parke and Charles E. Fink, Friday, on demurrers interposed to indictments against 14 persons accused of violating the anti-saloon law in Carroll county. These demurrers attacked the substance of the indictments and raised the question of the constitutionality of the law. The court sustained the state, declaring the indictments were sound.

The Court convened on Tuesday morning and heard the following cases, with Judge Forsythe on the bench:

State vs. Harry Clary and Harvey Hood, selling intoxicating liquors; tried before the court; plea of not guilty by State as to Harvey Hood; verdict of guilty to Harry Clary. Seabrook, Weant and Steele, for State; Fink for traversers.

State vs. Elisha Beall; selling intoxicating liquors; tried before the court; verdict of guilty on two counts. Seabrook, Weant and Steele for State; Fink for traverser.

State vs. Oscar Baumgardner; selling intoxicating liquors; plea of guilty confessed by Baumgardner in three counts.

State vs. Jefferson D. Hooper, seling intoxicating liquors; tried before a jury; verdict of guilty. Seabrook, Weant and Steele for State; Fink for traverser.
