DEAREST HOME.

AIR—Dearest Mae.

'Tis within a vale that blooms
With flowers of every hue—
That with their sweet perfumes
Odor an Eden view—
Where trees in graceful blending
Embower a fairy home,
And calm content is lending
Its charms, you'll find my home.
O, dearest home!
If ever I should roam,
You'll beem so bright,
In mem'ry's light,
And sorrow drive away!

When evening sprinkles far up there
Her twinkling starry light,
And moonbeams flood the air
With silver glories bright,
No faries then dance on the green,
Nor sylphs thro' woodland roam,
So light at heart as I, I ween,
At peace within my home!
O, dearest home!
If ever I should roam,
You'll beem so bright
In mem'ry's light,
And sorrow drive away!

The pomp of power, wealth or state,
The pleasure these may bring,
In me no longings can create—
They are an empty thing!
All may worship there that will,
At mad ambition's throne!
But gladly forth in song I'll trill
The joys of peaceful home!
O, dearest home!
If ever I should roam,
You'll beem so bright
In mem'ry's light,
And sorrow drive away!

Throughout the world so dreary,
Perchance I oft must roam,
And then what thought so cheery
As that which tells of home?
A home were love is blooming
In wife and child so dear!
And when return from roaming,
How sweet will home appear!
O, dearest home!
If ever I should roam,
You'll beam so bright
In mem'ry's light,
And sorrow drive away!

Advertise!

"Do you want business? My friend, the surest and best way to get it is to advertise!" So said a retired merchant, the other day, to a young man just commencing business, who was complaining of "a lack of trade." And he was right. If a man wants business, let him advertise—and as surely as the sunshine succeeds the storm, so surely will business follow advertising. The experience of all who ever tried it thoroughly attest this. If a man has a hundred cases of prints which he wishes to sell, yet knows not his customers—what shall he do? Keep them boxed up and tell nobody of his wishes? Of course he will be no such fool. He will at once adopt some method of getting the fact that he has the goods and wishes to sell them, known among those who would be likely to buy. How will he do this? He will not go personally, because while he is absent from his store a trade may be lost—worth the whole profit on the prints he wishes to sell. He will not send his clerk, because his services are worth more at home. He will not print hand-bills and send them round, because not one may fall into the hands of a buyer. None of these things will he do if he is a shrewd business man. He will in one minute write an advertisement, saying that he has "on hand and for sale, 100 cases of prints suitable for the season, which will be sold at a bargain;" and for a couple of dollars he get it inserted in the paper of his choice half a dozen times or so; with but little expense and less trouble he tells his story to a thousand traders, who either do or may want the very article in question—what follows? What so natural as that by informing the demand where the article may be obtained it will seek it there? It needs no more from us to those who have thoroughly tested the business of advertising, to convince them of its utility. It is to those who have as yet not tried the experiment, that we would speak. It is for the interest to investigate the subject, and profit by our advice, if they will. Hundreds—yes thousands will still travel on in the beaton and worn out tract of the hundreds and thousands who have gone before them, grumbling at their want of success in business, yet making an effort in the right direction, to better their condition. Some few, those "ones of the thousand," whose prosperity is often ascribed to "luck"—taking advantage of every wind, however light, which shall urge onward their little trading craft towards the harbor of fortune—will take pains to tell of the goods he has for sale, and will sell them. Others will not spend the breath it will cost, and will either make a long passage, or be wrecked and lose all together. Young man, or old, do you want business?—Advertise! thoroughly and effectually; and for every dollar you expend you will be rewarded ten fold.—V. B. Palmers Register.

Medical & Surgical Institute.
No. 43 Second Street.

BALTIMORE, MD.

ESTABLISHED for the suppression of QUACKERY, and to render speedy and permanent relief to those afflicted with Private and Chronic diseases.

DR. DOW has for many years devoted his whole attention to the treatment of Private Complaints, in all their varied and complicated forms. His great success in those long standing and difficult cases such as were formerly considered incurable, is sufficient to commend him to the public as worthy of the extensive patronage he has received.—Within the last eight years Dr. D. has treated more than 29,500 cases of Private Complaints, in their different forms and stages; a practice which no doubt exceeds that of all the other physicians now advertising in Baltimore, and not a single case is known where his directions were strictly followed, and medicines taken a reasonable time, without effecting a radical and permanent cure; therefore persons afflicted with diseases of the above nature, "no matter how difficult or long standing the case may be," would do well to call on DR. DOW, at his office, No. 43 SECOND ST., and if not effectually relieved, no remuneration will be required.

STRICTURES. Dr. Dow has discovered a new method by which he can cure the worst form of stricture and that without pain or incovenience to the patient. Irritation of the urethra, of prostrate gland, or neck of the bladder, is sometimes mistaken for stricture by general practitioners or charlatans.

YOUNG MEN

and others afflicted with Seminal Debility, whether originating from a Certain Destructive Habit, or from any other cause, with the train of bodily and mental evils which follow, when neglected, should make an early application, thereby avoiding much trouble and suffering, as well as expense. By his improved method of treatment, Dr. D. can safely guarantee a speedy and perfect cure in all cases of this complaint.

TO FEMALES.

All diseases peculiar to Females, (such as Suppressions, irregularities, &c.) speedily and effectullay removed. The efficacy of his remedies, for the cure of the above affections, have been well tested in an extensive practice for the last twelve years.

DR. DOW'S "PREVENTATIVES," for Married Ladies, whose health will not admit, or who have no desire to increase their family, may be obtained as above, or sent in any direction by mail. Price $5.

PERSONS AT A DISTANCE may consult Dr. D. by letter, post-paid, describing case, and have medicine securety put up and forwarded to any part of the United States, always accompanied with full and explicit directions for use. Communications considered strictly confidential. Office arranged with separate apartments, so that patients never see any one but the doctor himself.—Attendance daily, from 8 in the morning till 9 at night, (Sundays excepted.)

N. B. Persons afflicted with any of the above complaints, will do well to avoid the various

NOSTRUMS AND SPECIFICS,

THE WORLD CANNOT PRODUCE STRONGER EVIDENCE THAN THIS, kindly handed to us by J. STOCKBRIDGE, Esq., of the Fountain Hotel, Light street, a gentleman extensively and favorably known.—The writer of the letter, Captain Canot, is the brother of the celebrated Physician to Louis Napoleon, President of the French Republic. Numbers of our most respectable citizens will give equally strong testimony in favor of HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE. It is a certain cure for Dyspepsia, Scrofula, Liver Complaint, &c., and all diseases from impure blood.

BALTIMORE, June 4, 1851.

Mr. Stockbridge, of the Fountain Hotel, Light st., Baltimore—

Dear Sir:—Being on the point of leaving the city, I avail myself of a few idle moments to thank you kindly for the medicine you sent me, and which has restored me to the use of my limbs. I beg you to send me four bottles more, to carry on my voyage. Since I had the fortune to use Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, my confidence is so strong that, in grattitude to the proprietors of said medicine, I beg you to present my respects to them, and induce them to make it more publicly known as a sure Rheumatic cure Having called on me on the 19th of April last, and seen me prostrated on my bed, useless in all my limbs, you can appreciate nearly as well as myself the prompt relief I received from Dr. Hampton's Tincture, and I am positive had it not been for your strong and forcible recommendations I should still have been in bed.

It is really a pity this specific should not be approved by medical men, and like all pattent drugs it should suffer the imputation the public generally give to such preparations. I myself, who was always opposed to a patented certificate took this medicine with reluctance, and without confidence in it, and it was only through your disinterested, friendly recommendations, and my critical situation, that induced me to try this really beneficial Vegetable Tincture.

You may inform Messrs. Mortimer & Mowbray that they are at liberty to make use of my name in the support of the good effects of Dr. Hampton's Vegetable Tincture, as it has cured me, in 5 weeks, of a chronic inflammatory Rheumatism, contracted under tropical climates, and of seven years' periodical duration. I have only used three bottles, and find that even the deformed parts of my hands are fast returning to their former natural appearance.

I have been under the treatment of several physicians in London and Paris, without any apparent benefit; also while in New York, having tried the Thompsonian and Homœpathic remedies, after having been tormented with galvanic batteries, cold and aromatic baths, and hundreds of internal and external medicines, all to no effect. I am, so far, cured by this Hampton's Vegetable Tincture only. Therefore, my dear sir, accept of the assurance of my gratitude, and believe me your well wisher.

[Signed] THOMAS CANOT.

The Great Discovery of the Age!

HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE—superior to any of the preparations now in use, for the cure of diseases. It exerts a powerful influence in renovating and purifying the blood, and freeing the system from all impurities. Whilst thus acting as an alterative, it also stimulates the liver to a healthy action, and exerts a pleasant and healthful influence over the bowels, urinary organs and skin. In all diseases peculiar to females, in eruptions of the face or body, it is unequalled. Its operations, though mild and pleasant, is powerful in searching and cleansing the system of all morbid matter, &c.; and those all weakness and lassitude, at once become robust and healthy, full of energy under its influence. It counteracts the weakness of the female frame, which is the cause of barrenness. This wonderful Tincture, when taken as directed, will cure all chronic diseases as Rheumatism, Gout, Scrofula, Dyspepsia, Cough, Sore Throat, Tetter, old sore, Pain in the Back, Spinal Disease, Piles, Fistula, with a number of other diseases. We ask the afflicted to call on Agents and get pamphlets (gratis) with certificates of cures effected every day among which is that of Captain Canot, (brother to the Physician to Louis Napoleon, President of the French Republic,) who was sick seven years, and pronounced incurable by the best Physician of Europe and America. Never was such an array of genuine testimony given in favor of any other medicine as that offered, unsolicited, to "HAMPTON'S VEGETABLE TINCTURE."

WONDERFUL CURE of HEREDITARY SCROFULA.

The following certificate is from an eminent Lawyer of Kentucky, who is known in all of the States, having for a number of years represented his state in Congress.

It affords me pleasure to state that DR. HAMPTON has effected a most extraordinary cure of my slave boy Albert.—The patient was three years of age, and had the scrofula. His father is scrofulous. The boy was a moving masss of sores from head to foot. The upper lids of the eyes were much swollen and turned inside out, exhibiting horrible mattering ulcers, and protuded over the eyeballs so as to produce blindness. It is strange, yet true, this child—that I

EDITORS AND PRINTERS.

With lively heart and joyous brow
The happy farmer speeds to plow,
And while he sleeps, both flock and fields
Their ample pay for labor yields.
'Tis not so with the noble craft,
Which moves the world with iron shaft,
But when their daily labor's done
The hardest toil has just begun.
With sinking frame and reddish eye
The weary "Typo" 'stributes "pi,"
And while the rich sport with the fair,
His heavy eyelids hang with the fair,
Long sleepless nights and sluggish days,
Contentedly at work he stays,
And strives to live an honest life.
Amid the worldly scenes of strife.
Like statue, firm he stands "at case"
And "spaces out" with magic grace—
He "locks the forms" and planes them down
And starts the "Devil" round the town.
For "out," and "deub's" he "spaces them,"
To get some trifling sentence in,
And when he thinks the "copy's done"
The Editor has just begun
To scratch his head and skin his brains
To 'nounce a death or want of rains;
And when the last bad manuscript
Is done, there's something else been skip'd,
And must go in or "Jacob Brown
Will come and tear the office down."
Oft o're a "case of pi'd Brevier"
Have I seen "Henry" drop a tear,
And George and Tom and Bill and Dick
Take half a night to "fill a stick,"
And then they'd raise a mighty squall
And swear that they had "done it all."
Of all the lots that men can mourn
No harder one can e'er be borne—
No worse a life in fortune's wheel
Than Editors and Printers fell.

The Wife's Repose.

Why art thou sad, my love, to-day?
What grief is frowning o'er thy heart?
Why dost thou droop and turn away?
And why do tears unbidden start?

When first I woo'd thee in thine isle,
Thy Erin, Emerald of the deep;
I saw thee, sweetest, only smile,
Nor even deem'd that thou could'st weep.

Recall the smile that made me glad,
The beaming eye that gave me life;
I cannot joy when thou art sad,
Then cheer thy spirit, dearest wife.

The sun of summer lights the earth,
The zephyr's kiss is on thy cheek;
All nature calls thee back to mirth,
Then be not, prythee love, so weak.

While thus I spoke, my bosom's queen,
One deep, fond glance upon me stealing,
Exclaim'd, "Be jabers, but you're green'
It's onions, sure, I'm afther peeling!"

A YANKEE DINING AT A Modern Hotel.

Some weeks ago, a very long, brown Down-Easter, attired in one of those costumes which are nowhere to be met with except on the stage, a tall, bell-crowned white hat, short waisted blue coat, with enormous pewter buttons, a vest as "yaller" as a barberry blossom, and a pair of corduroys whose highest ambition seemed to be to maintain their ascendency over a pair of enormous cowhides that had trodden many a hundred miles of loggering paths, "might have been seen," jacknife and shingl in hand, wending his way up Long Wharf, in the realization of his life long anticipations of "seein' Boston." At the corner of Merchants Row, his progress was arrested by the lumbering transit of a two story house on wheels, drawn by half a dozen yoke of oxen, with the people inside pursuing their usual avocations.

"What on airth is that 'ere?" he asked of a bystander.

"O, nothing," replied the 'towney'; "the folks are only moving, that's all.—When we move down here—we do it house and all."

"Je-rusalem! Wall! that beats all nature. Wall, cap'n, what's there 'ere big stun house over t
