THE KENT NEWS

CHESTER TOWN, MD.

Great Victory.

By reference to another column will be found an account of a great and glorious Victory achieved by the illustrious soldier of three Wars, with about 5,000 men, mostly Volunteers, over the "Napoleon of the South," and 15 or 20,000 men. This Battle will rank among the most renowned in history and will place Gen. Taylor high in a niche in Fame's enduring Temple.—When the public mind was in intense excitement and apprehension for the safety of Gen. Taylor and his little band, and every ear open to catch the first sound from the seat of War, the gratifying intelligence, was announced that a fourth Victory was the fortune of the brave, prudent, and skilful General. To the army, the officers and men, who rallied around the weather-beaten chief and the stars and stripes of our country, unending thanks and praise are due. A grateful and a rejoicing country must render high and immortal honors, to the brave spirits who won, and to the memories, of those who fell, in the din and strife of battle, and almost in the hour of victory.

The smallness of Gen. T.'s force, compared with Santa Anna's, made the conflict terribly severe on the part of our forces, and to this may be attributed the heavy loss of American Officers and men. A melancholy reflection, on the horrors of War, seems to come over the senses, when we read the long list of killed and wounded, of the flower, and promise, of our young and noble young men. Many a heart will be sad, at the fall of a son or a relative or a friend—but they died, in an honorable contest, and the memory of their chivalry and heroism, will live forever. A nation mourns the loss of the gallant dead!

Washington College.

The semi-annual examination of this flourishing institution, was held on Wednesday last. In all the branches of the classics, mathematics, geography, &c. the examinations were close and searching, and the unanimous opinion of the Board of Visitors, the Professors and the Audience, was, that the pupils merited great praise, having acquitted themselves well and handsomely indeed. The professors must have laboured constantly and assiduously during the last six months, or the scholars could not have given evidence of so much ability. We believe that in the actual and substantial advantages to be derived from College education, Washington College will rank with any in the country, if not in celebrity. This institution should be particularly encouraged by Eastern Shoremen, it should become our favorite institution, and be patronised by every one having a residence on this side the Chesapeake. By educating our children here, we retain large amounts of money among us—they become attached to our shore—and in view of the strict but gentle, and yet efficient discipline, which is exercised, the morals and habits are hedged in from unproper influences, while the pride and ambition is appealed to, in a manner that must excite to study and emulation.

The vacation will end on Monday the 12th April and the next examination and public exhibition, will be held in August. The Terms of Board and Tuition, are as low as at any college in the country, we believe, and lower than many. Board is $88 per year—Washing about $9—Tuition in the higher branches $24, in others $16.

☞The sloop Gen. Washington had not arrived when our paper went to press. A rumor, not in a very tangible shape, has reached here that another battle has been fought and Santa Anna captured!

Trade in Breadstuffs.

The trade of our city in the various items of Breadstuffs, continues to be active. It will be seen, from the details given on the third page of this morning's American that during the week ending yesterday evening twelve vessels have cleared for Europe, with cargoes comprising 31,894 barrels of Flour; 129,809 bushels of Corn; 8893 bushels of Wheat; 850 barrels of Corn Meal, and other articles.

A table in the same column shows that twenty two vessels are now taking in cargoes of breadstuffs for Europe.

The sales of Flour this week, for foreign export, are at least 20,000 barrels; and the inspection returns of the week show an aggregate of receipts of upwards of 30,000 bbls.

The transactions in Pennsylvania Wheat, received by the Tide Water Canal, were to the extent of 40,000 bushels; and in Corn the sales have also been large.—Balt. American.

FROM THE ARMY!

GEN. TAYLOR VICTORIOUS

SIXTY-THREE AMERICAN OFFICERS KILLED AND WOUNDED.

SANTA ANNA'S ARMY CUT TO PIECES BY GEN. TAYLOR.

From the New Orleans Picayune of Tuesday.

General Taylor Victorious—the Mexican Army led by Santa Anna defeated at Buena Vista with great slaughter.

The following account was prepared for us by an officer of the army. It may be relied upon. We publish also Gen. Santa Anna's account of the battle from which it will be seen that he has suffered a defeat, though he covers up his retreat with a flourish of words. It will been seen that victory has been won at a sacrifice of many brave men.

Dr. Turner, of the U. S. A. who arrived at Matamoras on the 9th inst., from Monterey, brought the glorious intelligence of another brilliant victory over the Mexican army. The scene of action was at Buenna Vista, about 6 miles west of Saltillo.

The fighting commenced on the 22d February and ended on the 23d. Santa Anna retired to Agua Neuva, a distance of 10 miles, leaving 4000 killed and wounded upon the field. The loss on our part was 700 killed and wounded. Santa Anna's amounted to at least 15,000 men. That of Gen. Taylor's to about 5000, almost entirely volunteers.

His army is composed of Washington's and Brag's Artillery and Thomas Batteries, one squadron of the 1st and second dragoons, the Arkansas and Kentucky Cavalry, a brigade of Illinois and one also of Indiana volunteers the first Mississippi and second Kentucky regiments and one company of Texas volunteers.

Dr. T. brought a list of 63 officers killed and wounded. Among them was Col. Yell of Arkansas, late U. S Senator; Lieut. Col. Clay, son of the Hon. Henry Clay, and Col. Hardin, late member of Congress from Illinois

The official despatches of Gen. Taylor have been cut off.

Col. Morgan's regiment of Ohio Volunteers, being reinforced by a command from Monterey, had reached that place in safety.

Col Curtis, of Ohio, with one company Captain Hunter, of the 2d U. S. Dragoons, his own regiment, one of the Indiana volunteers, the Virginia regiment, and I think some Texas Rangers, in all about 200 men, were about to leave Camargo, to attack Gen. Urrea, who is said to be about 30 miles south of that place with an army of 4000 to 5000 men principally ranchoros.

He is believed to have with him only 1500 regular troops. A great many if not all these ranchieros, as soon as they hear of the discomfiture of Santa Anna's army, will disperse, and the gallant Colonel will no doubt obtain the victory.

This news from above proves that the various reports which had before been received of Gen Taylor's retreat upon Monterey, and the advance of a large force to attack our despots at the Brazos and at the mouth of the Rio Grande, to be untrue.

The fortifications at the Brazos, with the force of artillery and persons in the quartermaster's employ, which can be raised as a garrison, are sufficient to drive back a command of at least 2500 or 4000 Mexicans.

Nothing having reached us from General Taylor for several days, we believed him surrounded, as was reported, and gave some credit to the rumor of an advance of a large body of the enemy upon our depot.

After waiting three or four days anxiously expecting the approach of the enemy, we received the glorious news above, understood of course, that the battle of Brazos Santiago, was no go; and when I sailed the artillery of Fort Harney, instead of mowing down the Mexicans, was pealing forth a salute in honor of Old Rough and Ready and his gallant Army at Buena Vista.

Santa Anna's Account.

We annex Santa Anna's own account of the actions of Buena Vista, as translated for the Tampico Sentinel:

CAMP NEAR BUENA VISTA, Feb'y 23, 1847

Excellent Sir: After two day's battle, in which the enemy, with a force of eight thousand to nine thousand men and twenty six pieces of artillery, lost five of his positions, three pieces of artillery and two flags, I have determined to go back to Agua Neuva to provide myself with provisions, not having a single biscuit or a grain of rice left. Thanks to the position occupied by the enemy; he has not been completely beaten, but has left on the field about 2,000 dead. Both armies have been cut to pieces, but the trophies of war will give you an idea on which side has been the advantage.

We have struggled with hunger and thirst during forty hours, and if we can provide ourselves with provisions, we will go again and charge the enemy. The soldiers under my command have done their duty, and covered the honor of the Mexican nation with glory. The enemy has seen that neither the advantage of his position, nor the broken nature of the ground, nor the rigor of the season, (for it has been raining during the action,) could prevent the terrible charge with the bayonet, which left him terrified. SANTA ANNA.

Additional Particulars.

On the 22d Santa Anna began the battle, by various manœvres, attempting to outflank and terrify Old Rough and Ready.—On that day the battle was confined to skirmishing and cannonading without much effect on either side.

In the mean time Santa Anna had sent a large force to Taylor's rear, but our artillery opened upon them with great effect and they were soon compelled to withdraw.

On the 23d the battle commenced in real earnest, and raged with great violence during the whole day.

The Americans did not wait to be attacked, but with the most daring impunity charged on the enemy with loud huzzas, their officers leading them most gallantly. Gen. Taylor was everywhere in the thickest of the fight. He received a ball through his overcoat, but was not injured!

Adjutant Bliss was slightly wounded at his side. Adj. Lincoln, also, of the General's staff, the intrepid young officer who so distinguished himself at Resaca de la Palma, was killed.

The battle of the 23d lasted from early in the morning till about 4 p. m., when Santa Anna drew off his army, and retired to Agua Nueva, to await a reinforcement.

It will be remembered that Santa Anna's Corps de Reserve, commanded by Gen. Vasques, had been delayed in its march, and has no doubt joined him, a few days after the battle, but in the mean time his army is starving and many of his men deserting.

Capt. Hunter's strong artillery company was not in the action, but had left Monterey to join Gen. Taylor, with six cannon, two of them being 18 pounders.

On the 7th March one of the Ohio regiments also left Monterey to join Gen Taylor. If these and the artillery of Capt Prentiss arrive in time, the General's heavy loss will be fully repaired, and he will be ready to meet Santa Anna again.

Gen. Taylor, at the last accounts, was still maintaining his position, undisturbed by the enemy. An exchange of prisoners had taken place and Old Rough and Ready's promises to Col. Marshall, to get back C. M. Clay and his party, by taking Mexican prisoners enough to exchange for them have been fully redeemed.

Gen. Wool greatly distinguished himself in the action; and all the officers fought like heroes. After the battle, Gen. Taylor demanded of Santa Anna an unconditional surrender of his whole army, which the latter declined; but in return requested Gen. Taylor to surrender immediately. Immortal be the reply of old Rough and Ready, as delivered by the gallant Lieut. Crittenden—

"GEN. TAYLOR NEVER SURRENDERS!"

Santa Anna's adjutant general was captured by the Americans, but was afterwards exchanged. General Taylor occupied his ground on the 24th and 25th, without opposition.

Col. Morgan, of the Ohio volunteers, with a small force, cut his way through large bodies of armed Mexicans, and arrived at Marin. A detachment of three companies under command of Col. Giddings was sent to his aid, and the whole party are said to have arrived safely at Monterey.

A train of 100 loaded wagons of the United States on their way to Monterey to Camorgo, under an escort of 30 volunteers, was captured by a body of Mexican cavalry a few miles beyond Marino. Three of the men made good their escape—the rest were taken prisoners

A young lady, the daughter of an American citizen, living in Mexico and returning home from New Orleans, where she had been going to school, was taken with this train, her father having been killed by the Mexicans. She had escaped and arrived at Monterey in safety, where her misfortunes had excited the most lively sympathy. The lady's name is Miss Burns.

Col. Curtis, of the Ohio volunteers, had started on his expedition against Urrea, who was at Aldemas, a village on the San Juan river about 40 miles from Camargo.

The Colonel has a fine force of volunteers, composed of the Ohio and Indiana regiments, and two or three companies of Virginia volunteers, and Capt. Winter's company of U. S dragoons.

The Mexicans have possession of Saralvo, China, Mier and all the towns beyond Camargo and Monterey. Major Coffee, paymaster, will carry on Gen. Taylor's despatches to Monterey

From Montevideo.

A SEVERE BATTLE.

The New York Herald contains the following extract of a letter dated Montevideo, Jan 10th:

The Montevidean troops under Gen. Rivers have taken the city of Pisandue, on the river Uruguay, after a hard fought battle of five hours, in which upwards of one thousand men were killed, and the butchery after the battle was very frightful

The blockade as enforced by England and France on Buenos Ayres, amounts to nothing, as all the small vessels go and come with whatever cargoes they please without any molestation.

The prices of goods are such in Buenos Ayres as to pay nothing from the business and freights are only ten dollars per ton.

Business never was so bad as at present in Montevideo, and those who have money are obtaining four per cent a month for it on good security. Nothing offers any inducement to engage in business at the present time, and must so continue till the besieging army is withdrawn and we have communication with the country.

There are large stocks of hides on hand, but they cannot be put on board at less than 9 cts. per lb.

The besieging army give us a few cannon balls every week, sufficient to keep us reminded that the war and siege are still in existence.

Col Flores, of the Montevidean cavalry, in the camp, has been lately defeated and cut up by Gen Servando Gomen.

MURDER AND LYNCH LAW.—At Washington, Franklin county, Missouri, a slave broke into the house of Mr. Sieman, a German, no one being in the house but Mrs Sieman and her son, a boy 7 years old.—The negro's object is supposed to have been robbery. Seizing the boy he attempted to cut his throat, but in the boy's struggles he only inflicted a severe gash above the eyes. The boy fell as if dead, and the negro next attacked the mother, whom he beat to death with a club. The murderer was arrested, and put to a speedy death by the excited neighbors. The account does not say whether the boy died or not.

ITEMS OF NEWS.

A LETTER from New Orleans published in the Charleston Courier says—

Mr. Clay, who has been spending the winter in this city, leaves this evening for Natchez by the steamer Concordia, on his way homeward. He has been living very quietly at a friend's house, avoiding all display of every kind. The kind of reverential feeling with which his benignant countenance and grey hairs inspire all classes of people, is more flattering than if he had a "Senate at his heels."

FROM statistical documents presented before Congress it appears that the capital employed in the manufacture of paper in the United States is $18,000,000; the number of mills 700; the annual product $17 000,000; and the number of operatives employed 100,000.

THE New York Express of Thursday says, the demand for Corn, Meal and Flour since the arrival of the steamer continues as great as ever. The exports for the next three months, it is believed, will be much greater than they have been for three months past.

LOSS OF CROPS.—The London Bankers' Circular, of Feb. 12th, says, "If the ministers are nearly right in their estimate of the value of the potatoes lost in Ireland, the whole loss of the British Islands within the last twelve months from potatoes, barley, oats, pigs, and the disease in cattle, cannot be less than sixty millions sterling."

EARLY PEAS.—Green peas, grown in the open air, were for sale in the Charleston (S. C.) market on Wednesday last.

NAVAL.—The U. S. frigate Columbus, and the U. S. brig Bainbridge, sailed from Montevideo early in January, for Buenos Ayres.

THE exports from New York for the week ending 26th March, reach $623,086, of which $418,555 were in American vessels. The arrivals were 44, and the clearances 40, of which 65 were American.

THE sum of $10,000 was contributed to the relief of the Irish, in churches of the Western Diocese of New York, on Sunday, the 7th, in reply to Bishop De Lancy's circular.

In Broad Neck, Mrs. Gale, consort of Mr. Isaac Gale, jr.

In Still Pond, Mr. Daniel Greenwood at a very advanced age.

On Saturday last, William, infant son of Samuel B. Wheat, aged 16 months, after an illness of 4 hours.

This death was occasioned by one of the family giving the child a grain of parched coffee to play with; the little fellow put the coffee into his mouth and was immediately taken with a cough, the coffee passing into his windpipe threw him into a distressing situation, which terminated his existence in the time mentioned above. The cause of the publication of this is to guard persons from giving to infants any hard substances which they can swallow, to play with or to eat. This is truly a distressing circumstance and calls to mind the impressive truth of divine writ, that "whilst we are in the midst of life, we are in death. Yet there is one comfort left to the bereaved parent that Christ has said "suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not, for such is the kingdom of heaven."

CHANGES OF WEATHER AND CATCHING COLD.—It should be remembered that a cough is always an evidence that some impurity is lodged in the lungs, which if not speedily removed, will most assuredly so irritate those delicate organs as to bring on inflammation of the lungs—a disease which we all know is the high road to consumption.

Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills are one of the very best medicines in the world for carrying off a cold; because they purge from the body those morbid humors which are the cause of coughs, consumption, difficulty of breathing, watery and inflamed eyes, sore throat, rheumatic pains in various parts of the body, and many other dangerous complaints. Three or four of said Indian Vegetable Pills, taken at night on going to bed, will in all cases give relief; and, if the medicine be repeated a few times, the blood will be completely purified, the digestion will be improved, and the body will be restored to even sounder health than before.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.—The public are cautioned against the many spurious medicines which in order to deceive, are called by names similar to Wright's Indian Vegetable Pills.

The only original and genuine Indian Vegetable Pills have the signature of William Wright written with a pen on the top label of each box. None other is genuine, and to counterfeit this is forgery.

The genuine article is for sale by John Russell, Chester Town, and by agents, published in another part of this paper.
