REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,

WM. TYLER PAGE,

OF BALTIMORE COUNTY.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH.

THE NOMINEE.

The Republican convention of the Second Congressional district of Maryland, which met in this city on Tuesday, made no mistake in its selection of a standard-bearer in the pending campaign. Mr. Wm. Tyler Page, the nominee, is a gentleman of high character, and, though comparatively unknown to the people, has been ably discharging the duties of important official stations connected with the very body to which it is proposed to elect him. He is thoroughly commended by leading public men from all parts of the country, with whom his official relations have brought him into intimate contact, and who speak of him in the most exalted terms as eminently fitted by ability and experience to represent the people of this district in the House of Representatives. Those who saw him in this city on Tuesday and heard his remarks before the convention which nominated him, were strongly impressed in his favor and the good opinion which they then conceived of him has been fully confirmed by all that has since been learned of his past life and history. Every Republican in the district can vote for him with a good conscience and feel that he is doing his country good service in casting his ballot for such a man.

Proceedings of the Republican County Convention.

The Republican county convention, called to elect delegates to the nominating convention of the Second Congressional District, met in Odd Fellows' Hall, Westminster, at 10.30 A. M., on Monday, and was called to order by Mr. George E. Sharrer, chairman, of the County Central Committee and member of the State Central Committee.

Mr. William Wood, of Union Bridge, was elected temporary chairman, and Mr. Joseph H. Krichton, of Westminster, temporary secretary.

On taking the chair Mr. Wood, in a few brief remarks, returned thanks for the honor of presiding over the body, and then announced that the convention was ready for business. Mr. Joseph D. Brooks moved a call of the districts and the appointment of a committee of one from each, on credentials, permanent organization and resolutions, to be named by the districts respectively. The motion was adopted and the committee was constituted as follows:

Taneytown.—W. E. O. Hiner.
Uniontown.—A. P. Helwig.
Myers'.—Harvey S. Morelock.
Woolery's.—Grove J. Shipley.
Freedom.—Wm. F. Jordan.
Manchester.—Vincent McCullough.
Westminster.—Joseph D. Brooks.
Hampstead.—Albert M. Hare.
Middleburg.—M. L. Koons.
New Windsor.—Gustavus Barnes.
Union Bridge.—Frank M. Ogle.
Mt. Airy.—Charles H. Smith.

The committee retired and subsequently reported, through its chairman, Joseph D. Brooks, that all the districts except Franklin were represented, and all with proper credentials except Freedom, for which the credentials were in the hands of a delegate who had not appeared. The committee recommended that the delegates present be permitted to represent the district and the convention accepted the recommendation. The committee also recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent and the convention so ordered. The delegates from the several districts were as follows:

Taneytown.—David Trimmer, Stanley C. Reaver, W. E. O. Hiner, Dr. C. Birnie, George A. Shoemaker, Jr.

Uniontown.—Solomon Myers, Dr. J. J. Weaver, Jr., James M. Shellman, Melvin W. Routson, A. P. Helwig.

Myers'.—Edward H. Flickinger, Harvey S. Morelock, D. A. H. Tagg, Dr. J. H. T. Earhart, John Dell.

Woolery's.—Grove J. Shipley, Chas. J. Flater, Nathaniel Zentz, Jabez G. Shreeve, James Beam.

Freedom.—Joseph Gist, William F. Jordan and others.

Manchester.—Vincent McCullough, Noah Miller, Cornelius Miller, John Seipp, John W. Bull.

Westminster.—Joseph D. Brooks, George R. Brown, Joseph H. Krichton, Charles Starner, A. Bailey Morelock.

Hampstead.—Charles M. Murray, Joel Ebaugh, Albert M. Hare, George C. Richards, Thomas J. Hunt.

New Windsor.—Gustavus Barnes, Henry Englar, J. Howard Devilbiss, Thomas S. Jones, Willis R. Zumbrun.

Mt. Airy.—J. Theodore Gosnell, Charles H. Smith, George T. Sank, Walter R. Rudy, Joseph Gosnell.

The committee reported a series of resolutions, one of which recommended the names of the delegates to be appointed to the nominating convention, and on motion of Mr. Brooks they were adopted without a negative. They are as follows:

"Resolved, That the thanks of the Republicans of Carroll county are due Congressman A. A. Blakeney and Senator Louis E. McComas for their zealous, unceasing and successful efforts in behalf of the appointment of Col. Wm. A. McKellip, of Westminster, to represent the Government of the United States in an important and prominent consulship in a foreign country.

"Resolved, That Walter R. Rudy, Frank M. Ogle, Joseph D. Brooks, L. H. Lynn and Charles H. Murray be and are hereby declared the unanimous choice of this convention as delegates to the Second Congressional Convention, to be held in Westminster on September 2, 1902.

"Be it further resolved, That the above named delegates be and are hereby instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Albert A. Blakeney as the Republican nominee for Congress in the Second Congressional district of Maryland."

Upon the adoption of these resolutions the convention adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

Frank T. Bechtel, of Hanover, Pa., who is held to be the champion eater of that locality, recently broke his own record by consuming, within four hours, 42 soft boiled eggs and two oyster stews, washing them down with 17 glasses of beer. The meal cost $2.02. A correspondent of the Baltimore American, who relates this story, figures it up that at this rate it would require, to supply food and drink for Mr. Bechtel, "$12.15 per day, $85.05 per week, $4,434.75 per year, within a fraction of the yearly wages of 1,408 men at $1 per day." The correspondent's arithmetic is at fault, as may readily be seen by anybody who feels sufficient interest in the matter to give it attention.

The Democrats of the First Congressional district have nominated Mr. James E. Ellegood, of Wicomico county, as their candidate for Congress.

At Keystone, W. Va., the strike in the Norfolk and Western coalfields was declared off.

Republican Congressional Convention.

The republican congressional convention of the Second district of Maryland, which met at Odd Fellows' Hall, this city, on Tuesday, treated the people of the district to a surprise by nominating a candidate whose name had never been publicly mentioned in that connection before the day of the convention was held.

It was confidently expected by the politicians and the people generally that Congressman A. A. Blakeney would be renominated, and that would doubtless have been the result if Mr. Blakeney had not voluntarily decided to decline a nomination as a majority of the delegates were instructed to that effect. Mr. Blakeney made his intention known to the delegates before the convention met and explained to them that he was constrained to that course by the conscientious conviction that it would be impossible for him to give proper attention to his numerous business interests and do justice to the duties of a congressman and the interests of his constituents at the same time, and therefore and because he now resides outside the borders of the district, he had decided not to be a candidate for renomination. He was subsequently invited to address the convention and reiterated these reasons briefly, at the same time expressing the belief that he could have been re-elected. He spoke at some length, urging united and earnest effort to secure a republican victory, which, he said, he was confident could be achieved. He emphasized the importance of such a result and the necessity of electing a Congress in sympathy with the administration of President Roosevelt. The house he said should not be divided against itself. He pledged his earnest efforts and assistance to promote the election of the candidate nominated by the convention. His remarks were enthusiastically applauded.

Not much difficulty was apparent in deciding upon a candidate after Mr. Blakeney's withdrawal and before the convention met it was bruited about that William Tyler Page, of Baltimore county, had been unanimously agreed upon as the standard bearer in the contest with J. Fred. C. Talbott, and the rumor was confirmed by the action of the convention.

THE PROCEEDINGS.

The convention was called to order by C. C. Pusey, acting chairman of the State Central Committee for the Second Congressional district, and John B. Hanna, of Harford county, was elected chairman. In returning thanks for the honor Mr. Hanna predicted that the republican party of the district is on the eve of a great victory and will continue a republican representative in Congress. He declared that harbingers of victory are already on the horizon and that the convention would nominate a candidate who would bring about that result.

The following committees were appointed.

Credentials.—William Wheeler, Baltimore county; William Haughey, Baltimore; Walter R. Rudy, Carroll; Samuel Kirkwood, Harford.

Resolutions.—J. Frank Smith, Baltimore county; John C. Simmering, Baltimore; Joseph D. Brooks, Carroll; George A. Baker, Harford.

The committee on credentials reported promptly, recommended that the temporary officers be made permanent, and announced the following as the delegates accredited to the convention, several of whom were represented by proxies or alternates:

Baltimore, Fifteenth ward.—J. H. Benjamin and William Haughey; alternates, John M. Murphy, Vincent Toney.

Sixteenth ward.—Frank S. Strobridge and Thomas W. Cromer.

Baltimore county.—J. Frank Smith, R. Frank Upton, T. Irwin Zimmerman, Guy B. Groff, William Wheeler, J. M. Swam, James T. Curry, W. W. Boyce, Laban Sparks, Col. B. F. Taylor, Lewis F. Bowen, William T. Page, J. Henry Volz, John H. Gross.

Harford county.—Harry A. Hughes, Cecil W. Gibson, Millard F. Wright, Samuel M. Kirkwood and George H. Baker.

Carroll county.—Joseph D. Brooks, Frank M. Ogle, L. H. Lynn, Walter R. Rudy and Charles M. Murray.

While the committee on resolutions was deliberating Mr. Harry Ulrich, of the Baltimore City Council, was loudly called for and addressed the convention. He declared that the action of the convention presages a Republican victory in the district. He said the Democrats had given no platform of issues, but were trying to work the trust issue. The Republican party would meet and properly manage that issue, as it had every other issue that has arisen in the past.

The committee reported the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

"We affirm the principles of the republican party as set forth in the national and state platforms.

"We heartily indorse the wise and patriotic course of President Roosevelt. He has so ably continued the policies that have brought such great prosperity to our people in every section, and declare that a republican majority in the next Congress is absolutely necessary to uphold the hands of our faithful President in continuing these policies which have proved so beneficial to the country.

"We call attention to the fact now generally well known of the general lack of purpose and unanimity of the democratic party upon any of the great questions of the day. It is, indeed, a party 'without an issue,' plainly illustrated by the recent convention at Havre de Grace, which made a nominee, but was unable to tell the people for what he stood.

"We commend the course of our representative in Congress, A. A. Blakeney, and are confident that his vote in favor of the great measures that passed the first session of the present Congress has and will meet with the approval of a large majority of his constituents. He has been a careful and conservative representative, and in removing from our district he carries with him our sincere wishes for his future success."

Then nominations were in order and the secretary called the roll of the city wards and counties. To delegate Laban Sparks, of Baltimore county, was accorded the honor of presenting the name of Mr. William Tyler Page, of that county, who became the nominee. Mr. Sparks modestly preferred performing this duty from his place in the convention, but upon the urgent demand of the delegates, took the platform and made a ringing speech. He spoke in high eulogy of the character and ability of Mr. Page, whom he designated as a "Marylander of Marylanders; a thorough Republican and a man who will not be lost in Congress." Mr. Sparks also expressed great admiration for Mr. Blakeney, into the fight for whose renomination he had gone, heart and soul.

As the city wards and the remaining counties were called, Messrs. Harry Ulrich and John C. Simmering, of Baltimore; Joseph D. Brooks of Carroll, and Millard F. Wright, of Harford, each in turn seconded the nomination, which was then made by acclamation amid a scene of wild enthusiasm.

Messrs. Curry, Simmering, Benjamin, Rudy and Hughes were appointed a committee to wait on Mr. Page, who was in the city, and escort him to the hall. As, accompanied by the committee, he appeared in the convention he was greeted with loud and prolonged cheering. In addressing the convention he spoke in a manner that at once attracted the attention of his audience and held it to the close of his remarks. In well chosen language, with distinct enunciation, and with the force of personal conviction he presented the claims of the Republican party to the support of the people. In graceful and appropriate speech he returned his thanks to the convention for the honor of the nomination.

He said: "You have conferred upon me a distinguished honor, and I would indeed be ungrateful if I did not feel deeply thankful for your kind action so heartily expressed. I am sensible of the grave responsibilities which my nomination imposes, and also realize the difficulties to be encountered and overcome to insure my election. But from the harmony existing in this convention and the enthusiasm displayed here, I believe that you will all go back to your respective districts and work faithfully and loyally to keep this district Republican, and that you will succeed in doing so. We should not underestimate the strength of our opponent. He is resourceful, but I believe him to be vulnerable. We have difficulties to face, but the Republican party is used to facing difficulties, and whether they assume the proportions of a mouse or of a lion, they are met and overcome. But this is to be more a battle for principle than for candidates. Our enemies have failed to devise a clearly defined issue. They have failed to make an issue of our course in the Eastern Islands or by maligning the conduct of our soldiers. We are not afraid to stand on the issue of trusts. But it is an academic rather than a political question. Our President and Attorney-General are now prosecuting cases against two of the greatest trusts which have violated the Sherman act, and the Supreme Court will decide whether our laws are sufficient to prevent combinations. If they are not sufficient to justly regulate the evils complained of the Republican party will enact others by which they can be legitimately controlled. "What power," he asked, "will Talbott, if elected, and his colleagues have in Congress. They can do nothing except destroy the magnificent temple of our prosperity. Republican principles enacted into law have raised this nation from a debtor nation to the highest pinnacle of success." Republican policies have brought this prosperity and success. "What was it," he asked, "that in the first half of the last decade brought us to a debtor nation and the people to poverty? We all know the history of that period, and we know that the democratic party was then in power. We know, too, what followed the election of McKinley in 1896 and the enactment of the Dingley tariff law. The world looks on in amazement at the magnificent results which have followed these events and made us in the last five years the most prosperous nation in all the history of the world."

Referring to the results of the war with Spain he said: "We have given to Cuba a republic, to Porto Rico a government with which its people are satisfied and under which they are becoming prosperous and wealthy, and we have pacified many provinces in the Philippines and have given them an educational system under which they will be fitted for intelligent self-government."

At the conclusion of Mr. Page's address Mr. J. Reese Pitcher, of Baltimore, was elected a member of the Board of Appeals for the Second Congressional District, and the convention then adjourned.

SKETCH OF THE NOMINEE.

Mr. William Tyler Page was born in Frederick City, Md., October 19, 1868, and is a son of William Y. Page, who was for years connected with the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court for Frederick county. He is a grandson of the late Dr. William Tyler, of Frederick, in his day one of the most eminent physicians in the State. Mr. Page received his education at the Frederick Academy and in the public schools of Baltimore. At the age of 12 years he was appointed a page in the House of Representatives at Washington, and was successively promoted to index clerk, assistant file clerk, journal clerk and tally clerk.

He was appointed by Hon. Melville Bull clerk to the Committee on Accounts, the position he now holds and which he has occupied for five years. In addition to the regular positions he held in the House, Mr. Page has been called upon to perform special work, and assisted in several Congresses in the compilation of the House manual of parliamentary practice. His familiarity with the rules of the House and the methods of doing business in that body caused him to be selected as an assistant secretary in the caucuses of the Republican members of the House.

During the last campaign Mr. Page rendered signal service to the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, for which he received high commendation. The members of that committee are all personal friends of Mr. Page. Mr. Page was originally appointed in the House by the late Edward McPherson, of Pennsylvania. It is thought Mr. Page's long service in the House renders him peculiarly available for the position of representative, as he is familiar with the duties.

Mr. Page lived in Baltimore until about three years ago, when he moved to St. Denis, Baltimore county. He was married to Miss Mamie Weigandt, of Baltimore, six years ago, and has one boy and three girls. Mr. Page has not heretofore been a candidate for office.

Narrow Escape of President Roosevelt From a Fatal Accident. Secret Service Agent William Craig Instantly Killed.

President Roosevelt and several of those who have been accompanying him on his tour through New England, met with a serious accident at Pittsfield, Mass., on Wednesday morning. The President's party had just started in coaches to drive to Lenox and the coach in which he was seated was run down by an electric street car, driven at great speed. The accident, which was apparently caused by willful carelessness on the part of the motorman in charge of the car, was witnessed by hundreds of people. Secret Service Agent Craig, who was seated with the driver of the coach, saw the car approaching and stood up and waved his hand to warn the motorman of the danger, but no heed was given to the warning, and in a moment the collision occurred. The coach was overturned and its occupants dashed to the ground. Mr. Craig fell on the track and the car ran over him killing him instantly. The Presidents' lip was cut and he was severely shaken up. Secretary Cortelyou received a severe wound on the back of his head, and the driver of the coach, David J. Pratt, was seriously injured. The only person in the coach who escaped unhurt was Governor Crane, of Mass. The President was able to continue his trip and said a few words to people assembled at several places, but most of the prearranged plans for the day were abandoned.

The Republican primaries held in the Third and Fourth Congressional districts on Thursday elected delegates favorable to the renomination of Hon. Frank C. Wachter and Charles R. Schirm. Mr Schirm was unopposed in his district, but a hot contest occurred in the Third district between Messrs. Wachter and Sproesser, Mr. Wachter's delegates receiving 6,822 votes and Mr. Sproesser's 2,692. The Democrats have nominated Mr. Lee S. Meyer in the Third district and Hon James W. Denny in the Fourth.

The eruptions began August 25th and and on the 30th the most violent of any yet experienced occurred. At the same time the volcano of Soufriere, on the Island of St. Vincent showed signs of renewed activity, and, it is reported has since been in eruption, causing the death of 2000 people.
