REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR CONGRESS,

WM. TYLER PAGE,

OF BALTIMORE COUNTY.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 4TH.

Next Tuesday, October 7, is the last day for registration in this county. All who are not registered and do not register on that day, cannot vote at November's election.

Trusts sometimes come to grief. Receivers have been appointed by Chancellor Magie, of New Jersey, for the Salt Trust, legally known as the National Salt Company. It is alleged that the trust is hopelessly insolvent, having liabilities to the amount of $1,150,126 and assets of only $858,418. It is said the company has on storage more than 1,000,000 barrels of salt for which it can find no market.

Armour & Co., of Chicago, are reported to have made millions of dollars by a deal in September wheat, which, by cornering, they pushed up, notch by notch, from 70½ till at the end of the month it sold at 95 cents. This was on the Chicago market. The price on the Eastern markets was not apparently affected by the Chicago deal. Of course the millions made by Armour & Co. were lost by other speculators. The transaction was, as the courts have frequently decided in similar cases, plain and unequivocal gambling, and thus immoral and evil. To suppress such transactions by law would be as logical as to impose penalties for card-playing, crap and other methods of gambling.

It was found necessary, some days ago, to use the knife again on President Roosevelt's injured leg, an increase of the inflammation and swelling having occurred. It was then discovered that the bone was slightly involved in the injury. The operation brought relief and the attending physicians give assurances that a speedy cure will follow. Injuries to the bones of the lower limbs, however, are sometimes very troublesome and men have lost their lives from causes less severe, in the beginning, than that experienced by the President. Fortunately in his case fairly prompt treatment was employed and the progress of the injury to the bone had not advanced far enough to occasion serious concern. He will doubtless find it necessary to observe caution for some time to avoid a recurrence of the trouble.

THE ADVOCATE ANSWERS THE ADVOCATE.

The SENTINEL, as its readers are aware, has been quoting some expressions from the Advocate, giving its opinion of Hon. J. Fred. C. Talbott and his congressional aspirations and prospects, in the not very recent past. That opinion, as everybody who reads the Advocate, or who saw the quotations referred to, knows, was not very flattering to Mr. Talbott. It threw the greatest doubt upon the chances of his election, in the event of his nomination, even if antagonized by a weak Republican candidate. Now, this Democratic critic of the "perennial candidate," as it denominated Mr. Talbott, is talking in a strain strongly in contrast with its utterances when he was only an aspirant for the nomination. Last week it had this to say about him:

> Hon. J. Fred. C. Talbott was in Westminster on Wednesday. He spoke very confidently of his election. He believes he will practically get all the votes of the Democrats and many Republicans are voluntarily offering him their support.

Incidentally it may be remarked of the adjective "many," used in this quotation, that it has remarkable elasticity and is very indefinite when employed to designate numbers. One in a hundred would not be regarded as "many," and yet it is more than doubtful whether one Republican in a thousand of those in the Second Congressional district has tendered Mr. Talbott his support or will vote for him. The Democratic candidate is not the sort of man to command Republican votes and, it is very certain, cannot command the full Democratic vote, by a very large margin, as has been frequently shown by the Advocate, within the last few months. That paper has presented substantial reasons for Democratic opposition to Mr. Talbott. The Baltimore County Democrat, a Democratic newspaper published in Towson, in an editorial article in its issue of August 9th, advocating the nomination of Mr. Talbott for Congress, contained, among other expressions in support of that contention, the following paragraph:

> The candidacy of Mr. Talbott should, therefore, appeal to the Democracy of the district, as he is the choice of the organization in this county.

Commenting on this declaration the Advocate, issued on the following Saturday, August 16th, less than two months ago, said:

> That is what is objected to—he is the choice of the organization—a machine built up and dominated by Mr. Talbott, and the party had very little to say in the matter. The Democrat will not deny that there are hundreds of Democrats in the county opposed to Mr. Talbott and will not vote for him, and the same condition exists all over the district. In 1899 Governor Smith carried that part of Baltimore county then in the second congressional district by 1550 majority, and the next year Mr Talbott had but 341, less than one-fourth. In 1901 Comptroller Hering carried the county by 1141. These figures show Mr. Talbott's popularity at home, and he is weaker today in Baltimore county and all over the district, than two years ago. These facts will not be disputed by any one familiar with public sentiment in the party, and we ask, then, what is the sense in endeavoring to force upon the party a man who cannot poll the party vote—a man that the party has tired of?

Thus the Advocate of August 16th answers the Advocate of September 27th, and there is no need of further comment.

Reports from Eastern Turkestan state that by the series of earthquakes in that locality, lasting from August 22 to September 3, 667 people were killed and 1000 injured. The town of Artush was destroyed. Eastern Turkestan is in the western part of the Chinese Empire. On Tuesday afternoon of last week there were 70 distinct shocks of earthquake at Salina Cruz, Mexico, on the Gulf of Tehuantepec, followed by an immense tidal wave that lifted blocks of stone weighing 33 to 50 tons, apparently as easily as if they had been cockle shells. Part of the town was invaded and some of the houses destroyed. No loss of life was reported. A new sea wall was swept away and a huge crane destroyed, causing a loss of $500,000. Salina Cruz is the Pacific terminus of the Tehuantepec National Mexican Railway.

Last Registration Day.

TUESDAY of next week, October 7th, is the last day upon which voters can be registered. See that every Republican attends to this matter. It is very important. A person whose name is not on the registration books by next Tuesday cannot vote at the November election.

ARE THEY TAKING WARNING?

It is possible that the "Coal Barons," as they are sometimes called, may be reading the signs of the times and may be led to realize that a speedy ending of the miners' strike will save them from more embarrassing conditions. Various movements throughout the country indicate that drastic measures may be resorted to by the people unless the operators and miners soon come to an agreement and settle their contention with such promptness as to cause reasonable expectation that a sufficient supply of coal will be on hand when the rigors of winter shall be upon us.

Among these movements is an application, at Boston, Mass., to the Supreme Court of that Commonwealth for a receiver for the railroads operating coal mines and others engaged in the business, the purpose being to have the work carried on under the supervision of the court, which shall fix the rate of wages, cost of transportation and the price of coal to consumers. This, of course, is a legal proceeding and may be considered chimerical, though there are persons possessed of legal acumen who think otherwise. The courts, however, are probably not yet prepared to resort to a measure so radical, though the exigencies of the case might eventually lead to such action, which, backed by the people, would be made effective. Conditions do sometimes arise in the history of all countries, when necessity makes law. Every student of history is aware of this. It would be worse than deplorable if the necessity should eventuate in mob law, which is always to be apprehended when statute or common law fails to provide a remedy for public grievances. An uprising of a great body of the American people would bring into operation a force so terrible that it can only be contemplated with horror. Yet such an uprising would be possible if peaceful means could not be found to redress their grievances.

Another movement for the regulation of fuel mining operations is political. It is yet in embryo, but may develop if present conditions in the mining region shall be prolonged. It takes the significant title of the People's Coal League, plans for its organization having been begun a few days ago at Springfield, Mass. It demands that "the federal government own the coal mines and administer them in the interest of the whole people." It proposes the election of Congressmen who will pass laws to that effect.

Still another movement for the purpose of devising means to secure a supply of anthracite coal has had its inception in Detroit, Mich., where a committee of the Common Council was appointed for the purpose, which has resulted in an invitation from the mayor of the city to the governors of all the States in the East, Middle West and Northwest, and the mayors of the principal cities in those States to meet in conference on the subject on the 9th instant, said conference to be held at Detroit.

All these movements are indicative of a condition of anxiety and unrest in the public mind and a purpose to find, in some way, the relief imperatively needed. Are the operators taking warning from these indications of the state of public feeling? They will act wisely if they do so. President George F. Baer, of the Philadelphia and Reading Company, is quoted as saying that there will be plenty of coal and that the idea of a coal famine is only a scare. This looks like flippant dealing with a serious question. With coal selling in the tenement section of New York at 75 cents a bushel, or $25 per ton, there is abundant evidence that the famine is in actual existence, and President Baer will not satisfy the public by treating the subject in a light vein. Prompt resumption of mining operations is the only course likely to abate the anxiety of the people and arrest the movements described in this article.

President Roosevelt is taking active steps, as far as he can do so properly, to terminate the strike by interceding with the representatives of the operators and of the miners to agree upon some basis of settlement of their dispute. On Wednesday he sent to

> Geo. F. Baer, President Reading Railway System, Philadelphia, Pa.;
> W. H. Truesdale, President Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad Company, 26 Exchange Place, New York, N. Y.;
> E. B. Thomas, Chairman of the Board, Erie Railroad Company, 21 Cortland street, New York, N. Y.;
> Thomas P. Fowler, President New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company, 56 Beaver street, New York, N. Y.;
> R. M. Olyphant, President Delaware and Hudson Company, New York, N. Y.;
> John Markle, 527 West Thirty-fourth street, New York, N. Y.;
> John Mitchell, President of the United Mine Workers, Wilkesbarre, Pa.;

telegrams inviting a conference with them at Washington, D. C., yesterday. The telegram to the operators and Mr. Mitchell were identical, except that he notified each of his invitation to the other. It reads, otherwise, as follows:

I should greatly like to see you on Friday next, October 3, at 11 A. M., here in Washington, in regard to the failure of the coal supply, which has become a matter of vital concern to the whole nation.

Several of the operators and Mr. Mitchell responded favorably, and the conference was doubtles held yesterday, but its result has not been made public at the time the SENTINEL goes to press.

On next Wednesday, October 8th, the twentieth annual convention of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church will convene in the Lutheran Church of Middletown. The sessions will begin at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon and continue until Friday, the 10th instant. The convention is composed of about 100 delegates representing the missionary societies of the different Lutheran congregations in the Maryland Synod. It is usually a gathering of much interest, and in the convention to be held next week some important questions will come up for discussion. Mrs. P. H. Miller has been elected delegate and Miss Ida Yingling alternate to the convention, by the Woman's H. and F. M. Society of Grace Lutheran Church, this city.

Gov. A. T. Bliss, of Michigan, has appointed Gen. Russell A. Alger United States Senator until the election of a successor of the late Senator James McMillan by the legislature of that State.

STRANGE DOCTRINE FOR DEMOCRATS.

In their anxiety to make political capital out of the great coal miners' strike the Democrats of New York have enunciated a doctrine strange to Democratic ears. The platform adopted by their State convention, held at Saratoga on Wednesday, contained the following as the first plank:

> "We advocate the national ownership and operation of the anthracite coal mines by the exercise of the right of eminent domain with just compensation to the owners. Ninety per cent. of the anthracite coal deposits of the world being in the State of Pennsylvania, national ownership can but be in the interest of the whole people.
> "Fuel, like water, being a public necessity, we advocate national ownership and operation of the mines as a solution of the problem which will relieve the country from the sufferings which follow differences between labor and capital in the anthracite mines. This course will insure peace in the mining regions and remove the cause for differences leading not only to suffering, but ofttimes to bloodshed and insurrection. It will relieve the consumers of coal, not only in this State, but throughout the country; insure steady employment and ample compensation to labor; transfer children from the mines to the schools; insure, strengthen and preserve stability of the business interests and popular institutions of our country. Whatever differences of opinion may exist over other propositions of public ownership, the propriety of the policy as applied to anthracite coal mines must be apparent to every citizen."

It has generally been held by the adherents of other parties, as well as by Democrats, that the right of eminent domain, as the term is employed and understood in the aforegoing resolution, is vested in the States, respectively. True, the people of many other States than Pennsylvania are dependent upon the anthracite coal deposits of that State for a supply of that species of fuel, but there is nothing in the Constitution of the United States conferring upon the Federal Government the right to enter upon and control the peculiar deposits of any State, whether mineral or vegetable. Water is universal, but coal deposits are local. It is pushing the principle of eminent domain to its extremest limit to hold that, without direct constitutional warrant, it reposes in the General Government to the extent of authorizing it to appropriate the coal deposits of Pennsylvania to the public good, compensation, of course, being made therefor. The exercise of such a power by the United States would be beyond its constitutional authority and, if attempted, would be nullified by the federal courts. The authority, however, which does not now exist, may be conferred by amending the federal constitution. This is the method legally open to accomplish it. But the New York Demecrats call for an action by the federal government that is utterly at variance with all the traditions of their party and directly in the teeth of their interpretation of the meaning of States' Rights. The sincerity of their deliverance on the subject may well be doubted, but they have placed themselves upon record as favoring such a centralization of power as no Republican ever dreamed of. Shade of Thomas Jefferson! what thinkest thou of this phase of modern Democracy?

Lieutenant Commander William V. Bronaugh, of the United States Navy, committed suicide on Tuesday on the battleship Kearsarge, at the navy yard, by blowing out his brains with a revolver. He was executive officer of the ship, and, it is said, was worried by the manifold duties of the position, which are more exacting and arduous than those of any other rank in the navy; and to this cause his suicide is attributed by his friends. Commander Bronaugh was a native of Kentucky. He entered the Naval Academy in 1873.

Gen. Adam E. King, of Baltimore, has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the reunion of the Sixth Army Corps, to be held in Washington on the evening of October 7. The reunion is to be held in the Sheridan tent at Camp Roosevelt during the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic. General King is one of the survivors of the crops, and he will participate in the dedication of a monument to the memory of General Wright at Arlington in the afternoon of October 7.

At about 2 o'clock Tuesday morning fire of unknown origin destroyed a large bank barn on Mr. R. Rush Lewis' farm, near Frederick. Of the 43 cows stabled in the barn only eight or nine escaped uninjured, a number of the injured will have to be killed and seven were burned to death. Thirty tons of hay and a lot of wagons, implements, etc., were also burned. The loss is double the amount of insurance.

Free delivery of mail on Route No. 2, extending westward from Uppereo, in the fourth district of Baltimore county, began Wednesday. As the result of a competitive examination held several months ago, Mr. Fetter B. Newbelle has been appointed carrier, with Mr. F. E. Hoffman as substitute. The route is 18 miles long and supplies 340 patrons.

Reports from Hanover, Pa., state that anthracite coal of fine quality has been discovered on the farm of Daniel Hoover, located near Hampton, Adams county, Pa. A number of miners are employed, and favorable reports are given. The mine will be thoroughly developed. The coal will probably not be found in large quantity.

Congressman A. A. Blakeney has had his name transferred from the voting list in the Eleventh district of Baltimore county to the Sixth district of Howard county. For the past two years Mr. Blakeney has been the manager of a factory at Savage.

The State convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Maryland was held this week in Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, Baltimore.

Twelve men were killed by an explosion of firedamp in the Lawson mine, Washington State.

On Sunday morning last snow was reported by the Weather Bureau stations in Southeastern Idaho.

Republicans who have removed from one district to another, or from one precinct to another, should not fail to obtain transfers at the sitting of the registers on TUESDAY NEXT, OCTOBER 7th. It will be the last opportunity. Take no chances on having your name retained on the list where you were last registered.

This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about twenty-five miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of thirty miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps sixty. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by all druggists.

IN MEMORIAM

My dear husband, Joshua D. Young, who died March 31st, 1902.

"Gone, but not forgotten."

'Tis hard to break the tender cord
When love has bound the heart;
'Tis hard—so hard—to speak the words
"Must we forever part?"

No day will ever seem so sad
As the day he passed away;
No words will ever seem so sweet
As the words he used to say.

By his loving wife, Sarah M. Young.
