Special Meeting.

The Republican State and County Central Committees for Carroll county, and the Candidates will meet at the

FIREMEN'S HALL,
IN
WESTMINSTER, MD., ON TUESDAY, SEPT. 8TH, 1903, at 10 o'clock, A. M., for the transaction of important business.

BY ORDER,
WALTER R. RUDY,
Chairman.
DR. GEO. E. BAUGHMAN,
Sec. and Treas.

The third and closing race of the series between the Reliance and Shamrock III, for the America's cup, was sailed on Thursday. The Reliance was an easy winner in all three races and proved her decided superiority to the challenger on every occasion. In the matter of seamanship, too, her commander and crew exhibited decided superiority, although Sir Thomas Lipton, the owner of the Shamrock, acknowledged that he had the most skillful officers and crew that England can supply, all his men having been picked for the races with the greatest care. The result is, therefore, not only a triumph for American skill in yacht building, but in quality of seamanship also.

The result of the Republican primary election in Baltimore, yesterday, leaves no manner of doubt that the State convention will be controlled by the friends of Mr. McComas, and that Hon. Stevenson A. Williams will be the nominee for Governor. The organization, under the leadership of Collector Stone and Stephen R. Mason, won an overwhelming victory, carrying at least 18 wards out of the 24, and possibly one or two more. Three of the four legislative districts will be well nigh solid in favor of that wing of the party. The anti-organization, led by Congressman Wachter, is given but three wards, according to the American's report; five by the Sun's, and six by the Morning Herald's. It may possibly have control of one of the district conventions, but even that is doubtful. Certainly, in three of the districts the nominees for the General Assembly will be in favor of the re-election of Senator McComas, who now has such a lead that if the Republicans shall have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature, his return to the United States Senate will be a practical certainty.

REGISTRATION.

Every Republican in this county who is entitled to register and vote at the election in November, but whose name is not now on the list of registered voters, should give attention to the notice of registration published in another column of the SENTINEL this week. In this advertisement the Election Supervisors give notice of the times and places when and where the officers of registration will sit for the purpose of registering applicants and erasing the names of persons not entitled to vote. These sittings will be on Tuesday, September 29th, and Tuesday, October 6th. After these dates it will be impossible to register this year. The only other sitting will be for the purpose of revision. The importance of the election this year cannot well be exaggerated, and every Republican should put himself in a position to be able to use the franchise. A Democratic victory will mean more tinkering with the election law and the practical disfranchisement of many citizens. This purpose should be defeated and can be by a united effort on the part of the Republicans. Many Democrats desire the simplification of the already complex election law, rather than the imposition of further hindrances to the exercise of the franchise. Some of them will aid the Republicans in their efforts to prevent the contemplated tinkering with the law. Surely no Republican should be so indifferent to the situation as to fail to place himself in a position to aid in the effort to thwart the purposes of the Democratic bosses. Every unregistered Republican is earnestly importuned to have is name placed on the list of registered voters on one of the dates named, and, as delays are dangerous, prudence will dictate that advantage be taken of the first sitting of the registers, on Tuesday, September 29th.

At Oyster Bay, N. Y., a young farmer, supposed to be insane, made an attempt to shoot President Roosevelt, with a revolver, on Wednesday, but was prevented from firing the weapon. The young man said he wished to marry the President's daughter.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Commenting on a declaration of Ex-Gov. Lowndes to the effect that "the Republican party of the State has no bosses," the Advocate, last week, said: "At present there are two combinations struggling for the mastery of the Republican organization. On one side are McComas, Williams and Stone; on the other Mudd, Jackson, Wachter and Lowndes. Whichever combination wins will boss the party, dictate nominations and control the Federal patronage."

Mixed up with a modicum of truth there is a considerable degree of error in this statement. In the first place, it is an error to class Mr. Williams with any combination. His own declaration that he is not identified with any faction should be enough to set that suggestion at rest. Mr. Williams is a man whose past life is the strongest guarantee of his integrity of purpose and the sincerity of his utterances. That, if nominated and elected Governor of the State, he will act independently and uncontrolled by factional influences, nobody that knows him will doubt for a moment.

It is reasonable, also, to conclude that Senator McComas, whose term will continue to the close of the present National Administration, will exert a controlling influence in the matter of federal appointments in Maryland, during that time, no matter what the result of the pending struggle in the primaries. The substitution of another element in authority in the affairs of the party in the State will not divest him of the just influence of his station as a Senator in Congress. That he aspires to another term in the Senate is not at all an unreasonable ambition, nor is it surprising that others should seek the same high station.

And therein lies the difference between the Republican and Democratic parties in Maryland. Mr. McComas is an experienced statesman and politician. He has served creditably in both Houses of Congress and on the bench. He has had years of training on the practical side of politics and is well equipped for leadership. But his position in that respect is being sharply contested at this time. Has anybody ever actively contested the will of Mr. Gorman in relation to the control of the machinery of the Democratic party in the State? Can anybody truthfully deny that his will is the supreme authority in his party? that he is the acknowledged boss of the Democratic organization?

Nothing more clearly indicated that fact than the silence which for a time fell upon the Democratic press of the State when an impression went abroad that Mr. Gorman was not favorable to the nomination of Mr. Edwin Warfield for Governor. At that intimation newspapers which had been lauding Mr. Warfield to the skies suddenly ceased their panegyrics and turned their attention to other matters, until it was announced that the head of the party had graciously consented to the candidacy of their acknowledged favorite. And, when the restraint was removed, how quickly and gladly they resumed their praises of the man from Howard.

The meaning of all this is plain. The Democrats are boss-ridden. They have peace, but it is the peace of abject submission to autocratic power. Of course there are individual Democrats, and a good many of them, who repudiate and resent this state of of things in their party, but not in the form of organized opposition. The contention among the Republicans, to which the Advocate refers, is the sure evidence that the masses choose their own leaders and are not the subjects of any. Bossism never has and never will flourish in the Republican party of Maryland. Factional strife, to be sure, has its drawbacks, but it is infinitely better than supine submission to the will of a boss.

IMPORTANT TO VOTERS.

It is not generally known that the Legislature of Maryland, at the famous —or infamous—special session called by Gov. John Walter Smith, passed a law making it necessary for any adult male person coming into this State with the intention of residing therein, and who may desire to become a voter, to register his name, residence, age and occupation in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court for the county of which he may become a resident. He must then remain a full year in the State, from the date of such registration, before he can become invested with the privilege of the ballot. This is one of the unnecessary hardships imposed by the extra session legislation enacted for the especial benefit of Mr. Gorman. It is a fact that should be made known to all citizens, and readers of the SENTINEL are requested to make a note of it and keep an eye open for immigrants from other States, that the information may be imparted to them promptly.

A fatal accident occurred at Littlestown, Pa., on Tuesday morning, of which several accounts, differing considerably, have appeared in print. The victim of the accident was Ralph or Walter Wehler, aged 13 or 14 years, son of Mr. John Wehler, of Littlestown. According to one account he was playing on the cob pile at the canning factory of Messrs. B. F. Shriver & Co., when he attempted to climb on the drag-chain which carries the cobs and husks from the cutter, but was caught by one of the sweeps and drawn along until both arms, both legs and his neck were broken. Another account says he was husking corn for the factory and was caught by the drag, which is used to carry the corn to another part of the building, and horribly mangled, all the ribs in his body having been broken, one arm pulled from the socket and his head and body terribly mutilated. He died instantly.

Mr. Jacob S. Royer, a retired farmer, was instantly killed on the Cumberland Valley Railroad, near Half Way, on Tuesday morning, while attempting to drive across the railroad track in a wagon. He was 80 years old and very deaf. His wagon was struck by a shifting engine, under which he was thrown. One leg was cut off and his skull crushed. He formerly resided at Berryville, Va. He leaves seven children. One of his grandsons, Albert J. Long, is the Democratic candidate for States Attorney of Washington county. Deceased was a distant relative of the Royers of this county.

In Memoriam.

In sad and loving remembrance of our dear husband and papa, William E. Prugh, who died one year ago today, September 5th, 1902.

Dear husband would you speak to me,
And would you live again.
My longing heart would then be healed,
But this I wish in vain.

My heart is sad and lonely now,
My grief too deep to tell,
But time will come to me
That I may with thee dwell.

You are not forgotten husband dear,
Nor will you ever be,
For as long as life and memory last,
I will remember thee.

Now that you are dead, dear papa,
And mid sweet flowers laid,
Out in the quiet cemetery
Out in the quiet shade.

By his wife and children.

In Memoriam.

Prugh.—In loving but sad remembrance of my beloved son, William E. Prugh, who departed this life one year ago today, September 5th, 1902.

"Gone but not forgotten."
The midnight stars are beaming
Upon our William's grave,
Where sleepeth without dreaming,
The dear one we could not save.

God retaineth now our treasure,
Earth the lonely casket keeps,
And the sunbeams love to linger
Where our dearest William sleeps.

In the graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one I love so dearly,
In his lonely silent grave.

Farewell William, may your slumber
Be as gentle as your love,
And when God shall call me homeward,
May I meet you in heaven above.

By his Mother.

In Memoriam.

Prugh.—In loving but sad remembrance of my dear brother, William E. Prugh, who died one year ago, September 5, 1902.

Dearest brother how I miss you!
Miss you more than heart can tell;
Every hour and day that passes,
Brings me nearer you to dwell.

Friends may think I'll soon forget you,
And my wounded heart be healed;
But they little know the sorrow
That's within my heart concealed.

O, brother, thy gentle voice is hushed,
Thy warm, true heart is still,
And on thy pale and peaceful face,
Is resting death's cold chill.

Thy hands are clasped upon thy breast,
I have kissed thy lovely brow,
And in my aching heart I know
I have no brother now.

MAIN'S CIRCUS.

To form an idea of the magnitude of the Walter L. Main's enormous shows, which will exhibit in Westminster, on Friday, September 11, the following array of figures taken from the show's ledger may aid in arriving at a definite conclusion. The Main shows are owned solely by Walter L. Main and collectively is the largest piece of show property in the world. Three trains of cars equal in length to one ordinary train of 84 cars are needed to transport it from town to town. The assessed valuation of the show is $5,000,000 and the daily running expenses are $4,200. Over 1,000 names are carried on the pay roll. Eight tents covering acres of ground are needed to care for its patrons and people. The seating capacity of the large tent in which the performance is given is 12,000, but 15,000 can comfortably be cared for. Seven special detectives are in attendance to protect its patrons and fifty uniformed ushers are present to care for the ladies and children. Forty one hundred power and human animals are in the menagerie and in round numbers 500 head of horses are in its stables. The daily requisition for supplies is as follows: Hay, 10,000 lbs.; straw, 5,000 lbs.; oats, 140 bushels; corn, 140 bushels; bran, 1,5000 lbs.; bread, 450 lbs.; milk, 50 gallons; potatoes, 60 bushels; meat, 1,800 lbs. This does not include that served in the dining cars. Three kinds of meat are served in the cook house at each meal, and at least three kinds of vegetables. Six cases of any one kind of canned goods are required for a meal. Four cases of eggs are consumed every morning for breakfast. Tea, coffee and milk are served at every meal. Two down town ticket agents, four outside ticket agents, and twelve inside ticket agents are required to sell tickets to the crowds.

The bill prays a decree for the sale of said lands, and for the proceeds of such sale to be distributed amongst the persons entitled thereto, according to their respective interests.

It is thereupon, this third day of September, A. D. 1903, ordered by the Circuit Court for Carroll county, sitting as a Court of Equity, that the plaintiffs, by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Carroll county, Maryland, once in each of four successive weeks before the fifth day of October, A. D., 1903, give notice to the defendants who are non-residents of the State of Maryland, of the object and substance of the bill of complaint in this cause, warning them and each of them to appear in this court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 26th day of October, A. D., 1903, to show cause, if any they have, why a decree ought not to be passed as prayed in the bill of complaint.

INCORPORATED.

Please bear in mind that we are doing business at the same place, where for 20 years it has been our effort to please our patrons. Many of the older men, with whom we did business have been succeeded on the farm by their sons and tenants. It is to them we appeal. If you don't know us come and get acquainted with us. We propose to do the same reliable business that was conducted by our predecessor. We handle the same well known that they handled, made better than ever and especially adapted to our land. Give us a trial this fall. Exchange some Rye Straw for Fertilizer.

Brands of Fertilizer

You Will Find None Better as to Quality or Condition and Lowest Prices.

WHEAT! WHEAT!!

Don't forget us when you sell your Wheat. We can use 500 bushels a day. It takes quantities of wheat in our mill and we must have it; prices guaranteed. We also have our own make. Why buy Western Feed when you can get home-made feed, which all admit is much better, and you can get for the same price as the Western feed.

Fresh Ground Mill Feed,

We want all the

RYE STRAW

that is grown within a radius of 12 miles from Westminster. Give us a call whenever you have any produce to sell.

Yours Respectfully,
