A PROCLAMATION

BY THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND:

WHEREAS, it is a prevailing custom with the people of all Christian States, annually to set apart from the time usually employed in the labor and business of life, at least one day, to be observed as a day of general praise and thanksgiving to ALMIGHTY GOD, the High and Mighty Ruler of the Universe, for his manifold mercies and blessings; AND WHEREAS, it is well that to this duty one day in the year should be given, that the united voices of a whole people may be poured forth in fervent prayer to that God, who holds at his will the destinies of men, that we may be delivered from all evil; that a continuance of his mercy and goodness may be vouchsafed to us; that we may be permitted long to enjoy the enduring benefits of peace; that pestilence and famine, sedition and conspiracy, civil strife and dissension may be put away from us; that the bonds of our National Union may be maintained and strengthened; that the high state of freedom, both civil and religious, which has so long marked our political condition may be preserved to us, and the generations that may succeed us, until time shall cease, and that all such other temporal blessings as to him may seem meet for his people may be bestowed on us; AND WHEREAS, the day thus to be observed as one of prayer and thanksgiving to God has usually been designated by the Executive authority of the several States—

Now, therefore, I, T. WATKINS LIGON, Governor of the State of Maryland, do, hereby, designate and set apart THURSDAY, the 23d day of November next, as a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God, to be kept and observed by the people of the State of Maryland, whom I earnestly exhort carefully to abstain on that day from all secular employments, and to devote themselves to such devout services and exercises as are appropriate to a day of thanksgiving and prayer.

Given under my hand and the great Seal of the State of Maryland, this ninth day of October, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and fifty-four.

(L. S.)

By the Governor,

T. WATKINS LIGON.
