WILL YOU HELP?

We call attention to the appeal for Near East Relief which appears in our advertising columns this week. Here is a cause worthy of the support of every citizen. It appealed to some last year so that the highest individual gift from this county was $100.00, while the highest Sunday school gift was $161.00. Other liberal gifts were numerous. At least one contributor has given monthly, so that the total of his contributions would be more than any of these. But many gave nothing. Nearly half the county was scarcely represented among the contributors. Will you help this year? This is a continuous work, carried on throughout the year, and it must continue until conditions in the Near East make it possible for these people to support themselves. We can hardly form an idea of the extent of the suffering through which these unfortunates have passed, and of the helplessness that still exists.

CARROLL COUNTY EXHIBIT ART DEPARTMENT

What was probably the most interesting phase of the County Exhibit, was the Art Exhibit, staged in the County Agent's office. The large well-lighted room was a lovely background for the exhibit. Two sides of the room were taken up by the Exhibit loaned by the Maryland Institute. Miss Edith Royt Stewart, who has charge of the exhibit, was present on both Thursday and Friday, to explain the Exhibit, and to give short talks on "Art in the Home". The other half of the room, and the tables, were occupied by the local exhibit, contributions from the various local artists. One of the most interesting features was the work in Arts and Crafts. The article which attracted most attention was a lamp, made from a shell, with a parchment shade, made from a will found in one of the ruined villeges of France, and hand-painted. Following is a list of prizes. Miss Stewart was judge of this Department.

Oil Painting: 1, Grace Williams; 2, Mrs. Lillian Erb Byers; 3, Mrs. Ferd A. Dieffenbach.

Water Color: 1, Miss Grace Williams; 2, Miss Bessie Roberts; 3, Mrs. E. J. Manahan.

Chrome: (No competition) 1, Miss Grace Williams.

Basketry: 1, Miss Bessie Roberts; 2, Mrs. Martha Shaw; 3, Miss Mary Cunningham.

Metal Work, Brass (No comp.) 1, Miss Schaffer.

Tapestry Picture (No comp.): 1, Mrs. Hendrickson.

Stamp Collection (No comp.) 1, Master Parrish.

Lamp: (No comp.) 1, Miss Bessie Roberts.

China Painting: (Collection) 1, Miss Bessie Roberts; 2, Miss Grace Williams; 3, Mrs. C. E Nusbaum.

The rest of the china deserved honorable mention, Miss Stewart considered it all well executed.

Several new ideas were given in bastetry, one on exhibition being made from honeysuckle, and one from crepe paper. There were also some beautiful trays on exhibit. A beautiful one of hammered brass, which was given first prize in Metal Work, and a carved wooden tray, were made by Herman Schaffer.

In this room on Friday, Miss Ola Day gave one of her interesting talks, and demonstrations, on how to test various fabrics. She urged the women to back the "Truth in Fabric" Act, a bill which will be brought up in the next session of Congress. This Act requires the manufacturer to print on every bolt of cloth its composition. Women will then know whether or not they are getting their money's worth, for they will know just how much wool or linen they are receiving.

THE BOOTHS AND TABLES

Miss Rachel Everett wishes to thank the committees who so kindly took charge of various features of the work. Especial mention is made of Health Booth, in charge of Mrs. Edgar Myers. Her committee also made arrangement for the Health Moving Picture film, and the morning program for school children of Westminster, at which Dr. Stone talked. Expenses of booth were paid by the Parent-Teacher Association.

The Milk Booth was in charge of Mrs. Madeline Dieffenbach. This booth, and the attractive bar maids were one of the best features of the Exhibit.

Mrs. Mather and Mrs. Bare arranged a very interesting exhibit, which caused much favorable comment. It was a day's menu, cooked and served, for a child of two and five years, respectively

The Sales Table was a new feature, and was not as widely known as it will be next year. Women who have an extra supply of one canned product, might easily sell, or exchange it for something else. Mrs. DuVall and Mrs. Gladhill had charge.

Mrs. Beacham had a popular booth. Her committee had a busy time supplying ice cream sandwiches to the crowd. They took in about $67.00.

The convenient kitchen had several good features. The committee selected the various articles of equipment from the various stores, and they cooperated by delivering, and in help in arranging. We hope next year each store will have a booth of its own. A practical kitchen table was loaned by Mrs. Ed. Stoner. It combines the best features of a kitchen cabinet, at one-half the price. A local store has ordered some, if you are interested. Also another store is handling a wire dish drainer, and now has a supply on hand. Thanks is given to al lwho contributed. Mrs. Martha Shaw was chairman of this committee.

Mrs. Chas. Eckard, Mrs. Kindig and Mrs. Walter Myers worked at the Food Table. Carroll county should have a larger exhibit along that line. Mrs. Ira Englar arranged the Miscellaneous Table.

Mrs. Guy Nusbaum and her faithful committee, had charge of arrangeing the exhibit of fancy work. This should have been larger, but was very good.

Miss Ada Fulton had charge of the work of the colored women, and some very good work was shown.

THE SOLICITING COMMITTEE

We must not forget the committee which raised the funds for all of this. The Soliciting Committee, Mrs. H. Scott Roop, Mrs. Chas. Peltz, Mrs. Jas. M. Beacham, Mrs. Michael E. Walsh and Mr. Guy Cookson. By small contributions they received $249.00.

We wish to thank all who gave so fully of time or money, for this Exhibit, which we believe is a credit to the county.

9 Year Old Randolph Brooks Saves Brother From Icy Lake.

Then Gives Him Hot Bath as 'First Aid' Measure

(From Chicago Tribune Nov. 29, 1920)

Randolph Brooks, 9 years old, yesterday saved his 4 year old brother, Gerard, from death in icy Lake Michigan.

The little boys' father, William G Brooks, is an official of the Westinghouse Electric company. They have spent their whole lives near the lake. Their home, at 5715 Kenmore avenue, is only a short distance from the beach.

Yesterday Randolph went out on a little low pier to throw stones into the lake. Gerard tried to follow him, but when half way out he slipped on the wet pier and fell in. Randolph, who has quite a reputation as a swimmer, heard his brother's cry, and, hesitating only long enough to jerk off his little overcoat, plunged in and dragged him ashore.

Gives First Aid, Too.

Then Randolph, remembering what his mother had done to him when he got his clothes wet, took his brother home, gave him a hot bath, wrapped him up in blankets, and put him to bed.

"To my mind that was the most wonderful thing of it all," Mrs. Brooks said later. She was out when the boys came home. "I found Gerard's little clothes hung on the radiator to dry, with his little shoes underneath, and the boy himself, wrapped in heavy blankets, sound asleep.

Cares for Brother First.

"Disregarding his own wet clothes, Randolph had undressed his brother, given him a hot bath and put him to bed. Then he called up a neighbor and asked if there was anything else he should do."

..Note. Randolph and Gerard Brooks are grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Brooks, of this city. Last Summer Randolph spent about six weeks with them.

The Mission will close with solemn services on next Sunday evening when Father Fallon will preach on the "Promulgation of The Law."

These special exercises will be most impressive.

PLEASANT VALLEY COMMUNITY SHOW.

Pleasant Valley was a pleasant place Wednesday night, in spite of the rainy weather. A crowd of nearly 300 people attended the community show and oyster supper. Anyone would know it was a community of good cooks, by just looking at the display of pies, cakes, candy, etc. And then, after you had a chance to eat the fried oysters and the rest of the delicious supper, you did not wonder that Pleasant Valley people were proud of their community.

The women's work in canned goods and jellies showed a high standard among t oheheisuwvTARO standard among the housewives of the community.

Excellent band music added to the enjoyment of the occasion. The judges were, Mr. Oldenburg, Grain Specialist of the University of Maryland, and Mrs. Stover, Home Economics Teacher, of Western Maryland College.

At the close of the program, the people voted to hold a Farmers' Institute in February.

The Frederick and Woodsboro turnpike, the last toll road in the State has been condemned by the Attorney General.

The Western Maryland Railway Company has begun to lay off employees, especially among the clerical force.
