"CLEAN UP SQUAD" IN WESTMINSTER

Important To Ex-Service Men

The "Clean Up Squad" will be in Westminster October 18 and 19. This squad is sent out by the Government to assist soldiers who have claims against the Government, especially claims for Compensation and Vocational Training.

The Carroll County Chapter Red Cross is asked to get a list of all men in the county having claims and it is urged that they send their names and addresses at once to the Chairman of the Red Cross, Westminster, and then come to Westminster on October 18 or 19 and see the "Clean Up Squad." We are asked to impress upon the men the necessity of bringing with them all papers that they may have in regard to their claim.

Also their discharge, a certificate from any doctor who may have treated them since their discharge and affidavits from at least two persons stating that the soldier was in good health when he entered the service and that he has been in poor health and unable to follow his former occupation since his discharge.

The "Clean Up Squad" states that the failure to bring the papers in reference to claims, discharges, and affidavits is hampering the work and making it impossible to render the assistance they otherwise could.

This will be the last and only time these men will be here and no ex-service man in the county having a claim should fail to see them.

WOMAN'S CITIZENSHIP MEETING

On Thursday October 13th, in the Firemen's Building, this city, there will be held a meeting of vital interest to every woman in Carroll county. The meeting is under the auspices of the Woman's Clubs of the county in co-operation with the League of Women Voters. The purpose is to perfect the organization of the League in Carroll county and to arrange for citizenship schools in various sections. Miss Engel and the state president of the League will be among the interesting speakers of the day. Possibly the national president of the organization will be with us.

There will be a business meeting at 10 o'clock followed by lunch and social hour. All out-of-town visitors are asked to bring their lunches with them. The program of the afternoon will begin at two o'clock. There will be no evening session.

Invitations are now being issued through the county by leading women of both the Democratic and Republican parties. It is hoped that many representatives will be sent from each of the fourteen districts.

The League of Women Voters is strictly non-partisan. It urges women to affiliate with the party of their choice and work through that party for the improvements advocated by the League. Its aim is to give women instruction in the art of county, state, and national housekeeping. Politics need not be "dirty" politics unless we sit idly by and refuse to use our ballot brooms. The aim of the League is to unite women of both parties to work for the passage of laws that are vitally concerned with the welfare and happiness of all the women and children of our county, our state, our country.

A number of choruses were sung by a delegation from the Jubilee Young People's Branch of Baltimore. Mrs. Fannie A. Drummond, State secretary of the Ohio Young People's Branch, delivered an address.

On Wednesday morning, the nearly two hundred delegates, representing about 5,500 women composing the membership of the Union, from all sections of the State, assembled in Firemen's Hall. Mrs. Mary R. Haslup, of Baltimore, who has been the president of the union for 27 years, called the convention to order and presided at all sessions. Mrs. Annie D. Starr, corresponding secretary gave a review of the years work. During the morning and afternoon sessions, standing committes and superintendents made their reports. In the State Armory on Wednesday night, before a large audience, Dr. Clinton Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., made an address on "A New Day, and a Better Tomorrow."

Superintendent George W. Crabbe, of the Anti-Saloon League was present for a short time on Thursday afternoon, and was given the privilege of the floor, and urged the women to vote for candidates for the legislature, who would seek the passage of a State law for the enforcement of the provisions of the 18th amendment.

Officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. Mary R. Haslup, of Baltimore, president, for the 28th time; Mrs. Rebecca Bowen, Towson, vice-president-at-large, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Milton Stewart, Baltimore, recording secretary; Mrs. Catharine A. Lips, Baltimore, treasurer.

Resolutions were adopted urging the necessity of stressing total abstinence education and urging Congressmen to vote for the Willis-Campbell Anti-beer bill and the Fess-Capper Physical Education bill.

The three chief resolutions were the following:

First, "That Maryland possesses the unenviable distinction of being one of the two States in the Union which still permits racetrack gambling and that we endeavor to pledge candidates for the Legislature before election to enact legislation to banish this menace."

Second: "That as respect for law and obedience to its mandates are the chief safeguards of democracy and, indeed, of civilization, we deplore the increasing tendency of the press of Baltimore city to flout the Volstead law and to cast scorn and contempt on its defenders. We favor the enactment of an enforcement code for Maryland. We believe principle to be above party and pledge our suport to those candidates for the Legislature who are committed to the enactment of such an enforcement code."

Third:-"We stand for international justice and friendship for the settlement of all disputes by means of arbitration and by international courts of justice. We stand for the reduction of armament as an essential in the establishment of mutual confidence among the nations and the restoration of peace to the world.

The convention closed with a meeting in the armory on Thursday night and a address by Mrs. Deberah Knox Livingston, of Rhode Island chairman of the National Board of Directors of the young people's branches and the director of the good citizenship work of the union, who made an eloquent address on the subject of law enforcement.

Resolved, that the members of the Woman's Democratic Club of Carroll County do hereby enter the field of politics, generally alleged to be unclean and unattractive, with the firm women to take a vigorous interest conviction that it is possible for and an active participation in the support and election of candidates for office without lowering their standards of morality and fair play; and above all, without soiling their hands by the deplorable custom of "mud-slinging at their political opponents. Rather defeat, than success obtained through abusive censure or offensive personalities.

And be it further Resolved, that this organization place itself on record as opposing all methods of procedure in the campaign not in strict accord with the foregoing policy.

PARADE AND MASS MEETING OF BIBLE CLASSES OF CARROLL COUNTY

The Carroll County Sunday School Association, under the leadership of Rev. W. C. Parrish, of New Windsor, superintendent of adult bible class work, is arranging a big parade of the men's bible classes of the Sunday schools of Carroll county to be held in Westminster on Sunday afternoon October 30, followed by a great mass meeting for men, to be held, probably in the armory and if arrangements can be made a similar meeting in one of the churches for women, each to be addressed by Sunday school workers of national reputation. This is expected to be a great day in the history of Sunday school work in our county and all the schools are asked to take note and prepare to take part.

Further particulars will be given given later. Frederick county has had such a celebration for several years past and leaders there are unanimous in the opinion that it is by far the biggest event of its kind in that county in the year. Their meeting this year will take place on November 6.

Mr. Parrish has been very active in this department of the work and has the honor of having in his school the largest men's class in the county numbering 125 men. They expect to have them all in line that day.

DUKE OF WESTMINSTER INJURED AT YORK FAIR

Yesterday Duke of Westminster, a fast pacing gelding owned by Mr. George N. Hunter, of this city, was injured so badly at the York, Pa., fair that he will probably not be able to enter any more races this season.

The Duke, with eight other pacers, was making a fast mile when, in rounding into the homestretch, the horse immediately in front of him fell on the track. As usual in such cases with the horse following, Duke leaped over the fallen horse and sulky and threw his driver William McHenry on the ground.

The Duke, however, finding himself clear of the fallen horse kept on pacwithout a driven and finished sixth, When the judges rang the bell for the horses to return to the judge's stand Duke turned, as he was accustomed to do, and paced slowly back to the stand.

A boy, who thought he would stop him stepped in front of the horse, threw up his hands, or did something which frightened Duke, who ran into a fence, which, on account of the blinders on his head he could not see, and received five serious cuts on his legs and body, which will put him out of racing for the balance of the season.

Mr. Hunter will have his horse brought to his home, this city. The man driving the horse which fell had his collarbone and three ribs broken.
