CAN YOU STAND
The low price of Wheat and the High Price asked for the Usual Fertilizers?
WE THINK NOT!
Have You Noticed the Results of Our Goods compared with others and in nearly all cases much Higher Priced Phosphates?
If so, you have also noticed that we were better in results as well as Lower in Price.
We realize your situation. We are willing and anxious to help you. We cannot be undersold. Our goods have no equal for the money, and if price, quality and square dealing will make a customer of you, then we intend to sell you.
What do you think of $24
For High Grade Phosphate equal in every way to the Usual $35 Fertilizer?
We have such a goods that we are now offering at this price. Space will not permit, but see what our highest grade and lowest grade will yield you. The following certificates are the result of a trial test on two acres, on lawn of Jos. E. Gilpin, Esq.:
CHESTERTOWN, Aug. 1st, 1887.
This is to certify that I have measured the wheat raised upon the lawn of J. E. Gilpin. One-half of the lawn on one side a High Grade Chestertown Fertilizer was used; upon the left side of the front gate going towards the house, measuring 28½ bushels.
Signed, JOHN W. DAVIS.
On the right side of said lawn, going in, C. W. Kennard's Fertilizers were used and 32½ bushels of wheat were threshed. Signed, JOHN W. DAVIS.
I hereby certify that I attended the cutting, shocking and threshing of the wheat mentioned in the certificates here presented.
Signed, CHARLES H. BOID.
This is to certify that I attended to, assisted and saw the wheat from Mr. J. E. Gilpin's lawn, threshed and know that it was properly divided without favor to either side of lawn.
Signed, T. J. DAVIS.
Allowing 80 cents per bushel for wheat, and 400 pounds to the acre—the amount used—and our fertilizer costing $4.00 per ton less than the other, the result shows that our goods gave a clear profit over the other of twenty dollars per each ton used.
The KENT NEWS mentioned last week a wonderful result for the season on the farm of Josias Ringgold, Esq., he having threshed thirty bushels to the acre, with our lowest price fertilizer. Mr. Ringgold says:
CHESTERTOWN, Aug. 3, 1887.
Gentlemen:—The goods I purchased from you last fall gave great satisfaction, yielding thirty (30) bushels to the acre. If the wheat had not have fallen, and the fly and worm had not troubled it, I would have received forty bushels per acre. You have my order for this fall and also say that your goods are better and cheaper than any goods I have ever used.
Very respectfully, JOSIAS RINGGOLD.
J. W. Jarman, Chesterville, received a very satisfactory yield from our fertilizer.
John Edwards, Chesterville, reports twenty-eight bushels to the acre from the Monarch Fertilizer.
We could name many more, but call and see the reports and save money by giving us your order early.
C. W. KENNARD,
August 6, 1887. Chestertown, Kent County, Md.

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE!
THAT YOU HAVE NOT TRIED
Our A. A. Bone Superphosphate,
THE GREAT WHEAT AND CLOVER PRODUCER.
Then we must plead guilty for not having seen you last season. But we was kept so very busy supplying farmers who knew or had heard of its merits that we did not have the time to acquaint you with the same. But the facts are in view of the low price of grain and seeing the need of the farmers, we determined to try and meet their requirements. Having watched the market carefully we have succeeded in buying our stock LOWER than ever before, and by sharing our profits we are offering the farmers to-day Our Old $32 Goods for $27, Time Without Interest, and Deliver it Without Freight. Being the pioneer manufacturers of the Shore we necessarily have had large experience in manipulating Superphosphates and we are now thoroughly convinced that OUR A. A. is one of the finest combinations for wheat on the market without regard to price. As the whole 2,000 pounds is composed of Animal Bone, Nitrogen or Animal Matter, S. C. Floats and Potash—not one pound of Plaster, Sulphate of Soda, or any cheap or worthless materials entering into its composition—and this is not all theoretical but by reading these testimonials will be seen to be practical:
ROCK HALL, July 26th, 1887.
T. R. Hubbard & Son—Gentlemen:—In reply as to how I like your A. A. Bone Superphosphate will say I had a very satisfactory yield. We used about 50 tons of A. A. and so far got an average yield of 17 bushels for one. Also have good grass from its use.
Resp'y, R. BENNETT WILLSON.
Mr. Stewart Matthews and Mr. Wm. W. Newcomb say they used our A. A. on Stalk Ground and Fallow and got an average yield of 26 bushels per acre, and that they expect to use it again.
Mr. Allie Baker, near Fairlee, Kent county, says he used A. A. in connection with two other of the highest standard goods on the market and A. A. was equal in every respect and cost him less money.
FAIRLEE, July 23d, 1887.
T. R. Hubbard & Son—Gentlemen:—In the fall of '85 I purchased of you 12 tons of A. A. and used it on our three farms in connection with a goods that cost us $8 more per ton, and in every instance yours took the lead. Mr. Lewis on the Swan Creek place took a load of 200 sheaves from each, and whilst there was such a difference in the cost of the fertilizer A. A. yielded several bushels more per acre. My grass too was good, this led me to go into it more heavily, and we used 23 tons last fall, and whilst wheat generally is turning out poor my fallow gave me 25 bushels per acre. I expect to use it again this fall.
Respectfully, R. S. DIEHL.

It is no longer a question for the farmer to determine wether Fertilizers pay him or not; it but remains for him to determine the kind and quality which pay him best. We make a specialty of furnishing in quantities to suit the purchasers every article used for the purpose of fertilizing the soil. We sell it separate or will manipulate and mix it to order according to any formula which may be required. Our brands of Ammoniated Bone Superphosphates we guarantee to be made of the best and purest materials, and which have stood successfully the test and competition of 40 years, we respectfully commend farmers who are not governed in their purchases by the low prices regardless of the most important considerations of quality.

To Farmers and Dealers in Kent and Adjoining Counties.
W. A. HYLAND,
GALENA, MD.,
THE SEASON IS NOW HERE when the farmer should begin to turn "mother earth." The saving of labor of both man and beast is necessary to compete with the low price of agricultural products. To do this we would recommend first, the Economist Chilled Plow
as the "friend of the farmer," as the points and shares can be turned three or four times, thereby saving the expense of buying new ones. Next to the above is the OHIO CHILLED PLOW
which excels all for lightness of draft.—Persons purchasing the above not only save labor but expense of shares and points.
We keep constantly on hand all repairs for above Plows, and also for the Oliver, Advance, Syracuse, Roland, Concave, Minor & Horton and Wiley Plows at my shops at Galena and H. H. Hyland's in Chestertown.
WE MAKE THE BEST ROLLER
on the market and sell at a price to suit all.
Farmers who want Chilled Plow Castings and the best and cheapest plows on the market will find them at my Foundry and at H. H. Hyland's in Chestertown.
After long and careful study we have found the secret of how to make a good FARM BELL which we think superior to other makes.
WM. A. HYLAND,
July 30, 1887. GALENA.

WORDS OF THE CURSE.

The Words of Excommunication As Used Against Dr. M'Glynn.

The bill of excommunication which has been issued against Dr. Edward McGlynn, the late pastor of St. Stephen's Roman Catholic Church, New York, is given below. It has never been published before and is taken from the regular document issued from Rome:

By the authority of God Almighty, the Father, the Son and Holy Ghost, and of the undefiled Virgin Mary, mother and patroness of our Saviour, and of all the celestial virtues, angels, archangels, thrones, dominions, power, cherubim, seraphim and of all the apostles and evangelists, and of the holy innocents, who in the sight of the Holy Lamb are found worthy to sing the sacred new song of the holy martyrs and holy confessors, and of the holy virgins, and of all the saints together, with the holy and elect of God, We excommunicate and anathematize this malefactor, Edward McGlynn, and from the thresholds of the Holy Church of God Almighty we sequester him that he may be tormented, disposed and delivered over with Dathan, and Abiram, and with those who say unto the Lord God:—"Depart from us, we desire none of thy ways." And as fire is quenched with water so let the light of him be put out forevermore, unless he shall repent "and make satisfaction." Amen.

May the Father, who created man, curse him!

May the Son, who suffered for us, curse him!

May the Holy Ghost, who was given to us in baptism, curse him!

May the Holy cross, which Christ, for our salvation, triumphing over his enemies, ascended, curse him!

May the holy and eternal Virgin Mary, mother of God, curse him!

May St. Michael, the advocate of holy souls, curse him!

May all the angels, and archangels, principalities and powers, and all the heavenly armies, curse him!

May the praiseworthy multitude of patriarchs and prophets curse him!

May St. John the Precursor, and St. John the Baptist, and St. Peter, and St. Paul, and St. Andrew, and all other Christ's apostles, together curse him!

And may the rest of his disciples and four evangelists, who by their preaching converted the universal world, and may the holy and wonderful company of martyrs and confessors, who by their holy works are found pleasing to God Almighty, curse him!

May the holy choir of the holy virgins, who for the honor of Christ have despised the things of the world, curse him!

May all the saints who, from the beginning of the world to everlasting ages, are found to be beloved of God, curse him!

May the heavens, and earth, and all the holy things remaining therein, curse him!

May he be cursed, wherever he be—in the house or the stables, the garden or the field, or the highway, or in the path, or in the woods, or in the water, or in the church!

May he be cursed in living, in dying, in eating and drinking, in being hungry, in being thirsty, in fasting, in sleeping, in slumbering, in walking, in standing, in sitting, in lying, in working, in resting, ——, ——, and in blood-letting.

May he be cursed in all the faculties of his body!

May he be cursed inwardly and outwardly!

May he be cursed in the hair of his head!

May he be cursed in his brains, and in his vertex, in his temples, in his forehead, in his ears, in his eye-brows, in his cheeks, in his jaw-bone, in his nostrils, in his foreteeth and grinders, in his lips, in his throat, in his shoulders, in his wrist, in his arms, in his hands, in his fingers, in his mouth, in his breast, in his heart and purtenance, and in his bottomest stomach, in his reins, and in his groin, in his thighs, in his ——, and in his hips, and in his knees, his legs, and feet, and toe nails.

May he be cursed in all the joints and articulations of his members from the top his head to the sole of his foot! May there be no soundness in him!

May the Son of the living God, with all the glory of his Majesty, curse him! and may heaven, with all the powers which move therein, raise up against him, and damn him, unless he repent and make satisfaction! Amen. So be it!—so be it!

The Judiciary of North Carolina Can't Be Exhausted.

In one of the Western counties some weeks ago, when Judge James C. McRae came in to open court he began charging the grand jury by telling them he was very sleepy. He had not been able to sleep any the previous night because in the room adjoining his own gambling was carried on all night. He heard them himself, and he heard the bets made, the chips rattling and the money changing hands. "The worst of it was, gentlemen of the jury," said Judge McRae, "an officer of this court, (pointing to the solicitor), was one of the many participants. You will therefore bring in a presentment against him for gambling." This the grand jury did, and the judge ordered the solicitor to draw a bill against himself for gambling, which the astonished solicitor proceeded to do. Who says our judiciary is exhausted?—Chronicle.

An Atlanta Man at the Seashore.

An Atlanta man walked up to the clerk of the hotel at Tybee on Saturday and wanted a key to a bathhouse, as the dressing booths are called, and in exchange for his quarter received it and a bathing dress. The attendant on the beach showed him to one of the little dressing-rooms. About half an hour after the occupant opened the door a little and called the attendant to him, and inquired when the water would be up, and was told that it did not come up to the houses, and if he wanted to bathe he would have to go out there, pointing to the surf, which was rolling in in good style. The gentlemen from the capital replied that he was not going out there, and if they wanted him to bathe the water must be brought to the bathhouse. He was told, that could not be done, and so he put on his clothes and left the island, much disgusted with its bathing facilities.

Lunching at an English Inn.

We alight at the door to the right, which leads to the coffee-room, a large room with a long wide dining-table in the center. The furniture is heavy, but very comfortable, and the walls are hung with a variety of pictures, a series of which show the various accidents which used to befall the old stage coaches. We sit around the table, and when a great joint of cold beef, the half of a cheese, a loaf of bread, some butter, some lettuce and water-cresses and two or three pitchers of brown stout or ale have been placed before us, the waiter goes away and leaves us to eat and drink as much as we please. This is the usual fashion in the English inns. A portion is not brought to each one, but we cut what we like from the joint, the loaf and the cheese, and all are charged the same, whether we eat little or much.—St. Nicholas.

THERE is no better remedy for the cabbage worm than yellow insect powder, called also Persian insect powder and again Dalmatian insect powder. Mix one pound of the powder with three pounds of flour and with a small bellows apply in the dry form. This amount is sufficient for an acre of cabbage. Both the powder and the bellows can be obtained at most drug stores.

"Mr. Brown, your dog has broken his chain and has bitten your neighbor's little boy." "What! that Smith brat?" "No, the Jones boy." "Oh, you don't know how you frightened me. That Smith boy is as full of scrofula as an egg is full of meat. I would not have anything happen to that dog for money."

KEPT HIMSELF IN OFFICE.

A Shrewd Postmaster Who Holds on to His Successor's Commission for Three Years.

At Bluff Springs, Florida, the postoffice pays a pretty small salary. Mr. C. A. Moreno, who recently received an official notice of his appointment, waited in vain for many days for his commission, having forwarded his bond and other necessary papers in the premises. He then wrote to a friend in Pensacola about the matter. This gentleman replied, but Moreno never received the letter. Moreno then wrote to another friend in this city requesting him to learn whether the gentleman first written to had answered his letter.

This correspondence aroused a suspicion that the Bluff Springs postmaster was holding Moreno's mail. Acting on this suspicion Moreno went to the office and boldly informed Postmaster Williams that his mail had been intercepted, and that he had positive knowledge that his commission was then in the office or had been destroyed. Williams denied the charge, but a few minutes later entered Moreno's place of business and gave him two letters. One contained a commission and the other was the missing epistle from Pensacola. Williams excused the delay by saying that the letters had accidentally fallen into a pile of trash when the mail pouches were emptied of their contents, and had been unnoticed till Moreno called attention to their disappearance.

When Mr. Moreno glanced at his commission he found that it bore the date of October 20, 1884. He immediately wrote the Postmaster-General asking an explanation and he was informed that he had been appointed to the office on Oct. 20, 1884; that the oath of office, blank bond, &c., had been forwarded, and that in a failure to hear from him several letters asking an explanation of his refusal to act in the matter had been sent to him. None of these was received by Mr. Moreno.

In 1884 Mr. Moreno was an applicant for the office, but never hearing that his application had borne fruit he paid no more attention to the matter, thinking that Williams, who was then postmaster, had been continued in office. It is believed from all of these facts that Williams, acting in his own interests, withheld all of Moreno's mail matter that might possible throw light upon the situation and keep himself in office by keeping Moreno out for nearly three years.

MY FIRST GIRL.

Who among all of us aged, variegated sinners cannot remember his first girl—the sweet, darling, feminine object who was the very first earthly fairy upon whom we lavished with a reckless and wholesale hand our initiatory, as it were, burning love and ardent devotion? Well do I remember the young female angel—in my eyes at that time—who was the very warp to my young innocent heart, and to utterly destroy what little judgment I had at that date. After years spent in many States and Territories, foreign climes, jails and other resorts of tried humanity; after a multiplicity of matrimonial engagements, all of which I cannot begin to remember now, and in many cases not even the very names of the scores of the fair contracting young darlings, after being kissed by sweet ones so much and so often that my lips have actually worn down from No. 7⅞ to 2|. I can now distinctly remember my first charmer, and even yet feel in imagination the warm, gushing, delicious sensations of the first love kiss I ever gave or received. Please pardon me, dear reader, for a few minutes while I weep. * * * These are not unmanly tears! Oh, no!

Sixteen perfumed summers had just crowned her fair and snowy white brow with their virgin sweetness; and I was seventeen hard winters, with the other assorted seasons thrown in, and without a mustache. Ah, how we adored and adored each other! I fell in love with her the first hour I saw her, proposed with all the enthusiasm and earnestness of my tumultuous young manhood in the next daily twenty-fourth division of mundane time. She reciprocated my ever tender and loving emotion, fell in my eager, outstretched arms, softly and coyly murmured she was mine forever and a fortnight thereafter, and then we fell to work and steadily kissed each other until her mother's solemn and measured tread in the entry compelled us to cease. My first girl is married now. Been so for years and years. Has three sets of twins and six single children. I saw her going to market this morning. She did not even know me! She is very stout now; must wear a forty-seven and a-half corset, and has rather large hands. The virgin sweetness of her face has faded and gone; the fairy "sylphness" (now an expressive word—in the dictionary in 1900) of her form hath fled forever, and the way she makes the butcher and vegetable woman jump around is both a caution and a marvel, and also a wonder.

But I must cease. My paper is stained with huge drops of anguish for sweetness and beauty forever lost. More tears, dear gentle reader—more tears.

A Great English Land Syndicate.

A dispatch has been received from the City of Mexico to the effect that an English organization called the Mexican Land and Improvement Company, "represented in the United States by John V. Farwell, of Chicago," has purchased 600,000 acres of most desirable agricultural and grazing land in the States of Chihuahua and Durango, Mexico. The property has good houses and corrals, 40,000 sheep, 2,500 cattle and 4,400 horses. "Col. C. Campbell, of Chicago," adds the dispatch, who examined the property, rendered a most favorable report, and telegrams from that city say the sale may be considered as consummated."

Mr. Farwell was shown this dispatch yesterday. He said he had no interest in the matter, except that he recommended Col. Campbell as a proper person for the mission.

"Then these reports of English syndicates buying immense tracts of land in Mexico are true?"

"Yes, I presume so. Land can be had in Mexico as it used to be had in Texas—for ten cents an acre or so. It is magnificent land; none better. The tract referred to is a beautiful table-land, 6,000 to 7,000 feet above the sea level, well watered and wooded and of the richest quality; the climate, too, is delightful, it is the Italy of America."

"Where is this purchase located?"

"About thirty miles west of the Mexican Central Railroad, in the southeast part of the State of Durango. The nearest principal railroad station is Jimulco."

Mr. Farwell said he had no financial interest whatever in the speculation, but that he might possibly take an interest when he went to London. He thought he would go to London this summer, but was not quite sure. He was requested by solicitors in London with whom he was acquainted, to select a responsible man to go to Mexico and examine the land, but this was merely to confirm a previous report of a most favorable character. He had not heard from Colonel Campbell since he left, but expected him back within a week. Col. Campbell is connected with the stock yards, and owns a farm at Grant, Kankakee county, Ill. The tract purchased is about six miles long by fifteen wide.

FORGOT HIMSELF.—A well-known lawyer in Chicago, who was also notorious for the monumental repulsiveness of his features, once attacked the prisoner at the bar with great bitterness. The judge advised him several times to use moderation, but the lawyer continued his tirade: "The wretch bears his character in his face—anyone may read it. Why, he is the ugliest man I ever knew." "Counsellor," again remarked the judge, "you are forgetting yourself."

A CHICAGO man visiting Cincinnati was being shown around by a citizen who said: "Now let's go and see the Widows' Home." The Chicago man put his finger on the side of his nose and winked, and then said: "Not much, Mary Ann; I saw a widow home once and she sued me for breach of promise and proved it on me, and it cost me $16,000. No sir, send the widow home in a hack."

AN Indiana farmer made his boys burn all the bumblebee nests, and was astonished that he was unable to make a crop of clover seed. The bumblebees are the chief agents in carrying the pollen of the clover from one bloom to another, and thus fructifying the plant. Hereafter he will be apt to offer a premium for their preservation, rather than for their destruction.
