FRIDAY, MAY 1, 1908.

In passing a resolution instructing the delegates at large to Chicago to vote for William H. Taft as the Republican candidate for President of the United States, and to use all honorable means to secure his nomination, the Republican State convention, held in Baltimore yesterday, only carried into effect the wishes of a vast majority of the Republican voters of the State. This sentiment in favor of Mr. Taft has been so strongly expressed in various ways that no other action by the State convention would have satisfied them.

Gorman to Supersede Rayner.

At a complimentary dinner to State Senator Arthur P. Gorman, son of the late U. S. States Senator Gorman, given at the Howard House, Ellicott City, on Tuesday, the recipient of the honor was presented as the choice of the Democratic organization to succeed Hon. Isador Rayner in the United States Senate. About 300 persons were present at the banquet, including leading Democrats from all parts of the State and, while the occasion did not admit of the adoption of formal resolutions announcing the candidacy of Mr. Gorman for the Senatorship and his endorsement for the position by the banqueters, speeches to that effect were roundly cheered by the assemblage. Comptroller Hering, of this city, who was the first speaker, sounded the keynote by saying that he hoped the career of Mr. Gorman would equal that of his illustrious father. This was taken as a direct reference to his candidacy for the United States Senate and furnished a text with which the subsequent speakers were in full accord. Ex-Governor Warfield was the subject of ridicule, by innuendo, by several of the speakers, and uncomplimentary references to him received unstinted applause.

From all of which it is probable that nothing can prevent Senator Rayner from being supplanted by Mr. Gorman except a Republican victory in Maryland next year and the election of a Republican majority in the next General Assembly. That is the only way by which the cinch of the bosses on the Democratic machine can be broken. Never in the history of the Democratic party has it been more completely boss-ridden than at present and, in any event, the retirement of Senator Rayner at the end of his single term can be predicted with as much certainty as any future event. He has taken high rank in the Upper House of Congress, but his own party organization will have none of him and, of course, his re-election by a Republican Legislature could hardly be expected.

Independent Democrats must make up their minds to either lie down and permit themselves to be walked upon and spit upon by the bosses, or once more rebuke their party autocrats by turning over the State to Republican control, as they did in 1895, to the very great though unfortunately temporary betterment of the political affairs of the State—temporary, because the bosses were returned to power again before the good work of reformation was thoroughly completed.

Republican Conventions.

SECOND DISTRICT CONVENTION.

In the Second District Republican Convention, held at Walbrook, on Tuesday, 28th ult., the delegates from this county voted with the combination, which had been effected between Baltimore county and the two wards of Baltimore city, refusing to instruct the delegates to the Chicago convention to vote for Secretary William H. Taft as the nominee of the Republican party for the Presidency, and in adopting instead the socalled "hope" resolutions passed by the Baltimore county convention last week, as follows:

"We the representatives of the Republican party of the Second Congressional District, in convention assembled, hereby indorse the wise and patriotic administration of the Republican party and the courageous acts of President Roosevelt in the just enforcement of the law, as we believe that every law upon the statute books should be rigidly enforced by those charged with the duty, regardless of what interests, persons or corporations should thereby be affected, and that the certainty of the enforcement of the laws should never be open to doubt.

Whereas, the time has arrived for the selection of a standard bearer in the approaching presidential campaign, who will fittingly represent our great party, and who will continue the policies which have made for its success in the past, and while we believe that the party is to be congratulated upon the great number within its ranks of presidential caliber, any one of whom could fill this high office with credit to himself and to the whole country, we feel that Hon. William H. Taft, whose wide experience, judicial temperament and the marked executive ability shown in the many high positions of trust that have been conferred upon him, prove him especially fitted to be the chief magistrate of this great nation, and we therefore express the hope that his candidacy will receive the endorsement of the National Convention, in which event we will look forward with certainty to an administration whose aims will be as high and achievement as great as any in our history.

The members of the committee on resolutions, submitting the aforegoing for adoption by the convention, were Messrs. T. W. Meeks, Laban Sparks, and John B. Hanna, and Dr. George E. Baughman.

Mr. Hanna made a minority report, offering the following amendment to the second paragraph:

Believing that the nomination of the Hon. William H. Taft would be eminently wise and is desired by the Republicans of the Second congressional district, we hereby instruct the delegates this day chosen to vote for him at Chicago.

Mr. Hanna and Senator William B. Baker, of Harford county, made strong arguments in favor of the proposed amendment, but when it was put to vote it received the support of the Harford county delegates alone.

Three names were placed in nomination for delegates to the national convention: William T. Henry, of Baltimore city; C. Ross Mace, of Baltimore county, and Stevenson A. Williams, of Harford county. Messrs. Henry and Mace received the four votes from Baltimore city, seven from Baltimore county and five from Carroll county. Harford voted only for Mr. Williams, preferring to make no choice between Messrs. Henry and Mace. As alternates only two names were presented, Messrs. Alonzo Wyszeki, of Baltimore city, and Thomas V. Richardson, of Baltimore county, and these gentlemen were elected unanimously.

Dr. Luther Kemp, of Uniontown, this county, was unanimously chosen a presidential elector.

STATE CONVENTION.

The Republican State Convention, held in Ford's Opera House, Baltimore, on Wednesday, the 30th ult., was one of the most harmonious conventions in the history of the party in Maryland.

Joseph D. Brooks, Esq., of this county, was a member of the committee on resolutions, which was composed of one delegate from each county. When Mr. Phillips Lee Goldsborough, for the committee, read the proposed resolutions, the reading was greeted with tumultuous applause, and they were unanimously adopted, as follows:

RESOLVED, That we, the accredited representatives of the Republican party of Maryland, in regular convention assembled, indorse and applaud the national administration. By the wisdom and fearlessness of our president, Theodore Roosevelt, this American republic has become the recognized power of the world in thought, action and accomplishment. Recognizing that among Maryland Republicans public opinion has clearly indicated the Hon. William H. Taft, of Ohio, as their choice for the successor of Theodore Roosevelt, this convention indorses him as the candidate of the Republican party for the presidency, and instructs its delegates to use all honorable means to secure his nomination.

RESOLVED, That the State Central Committee shall fill any and all vacancies that may occur among the electors named by this convention.

On motion of Col. Pearre, the names of the presidential electors who had been chosen by the district conventions were ratified. They are as follows: First district, Robert S. Adkins; Second, Dr. Luther Kemp; Third, Joseph Brooks; Fourth, Millard F. Burgess; Fifth, J. Webb Thomas; Sixth, Moses Bomberger.

The electors-at-large were named as follows: John A. Robinson, Harford; Albert G. Towers, Caroline.

Mr. Parran, of the State Central Committee, put in nomination for delegates-at-large to the Chicago convention, the names of Sydney E. Mudd, Fifth District; Gen. Felix Agnus, Baltimore; William P. Jackson, First district, and George A. Pearre, of the Sixth district. The nominations were seconded by A. Lincoln Dryden, of Somerset; Charles O. Waggaman, of Washington, and B. H. Warner, of Montgomery, chairman of the convention, and the election of those named followed unanimously.

The alternates to the delegates-at-large were then chosen in the following order: John D. Urie, First district; George B. Merrick, Fifth district; Charles R. Schirm, Baltimore; Chas. D. Waggaman, Sixth district.

The convention adjourned at 2.45 o'clock.

WHAT IS "LAW"? WHAT IS IT FOR? AND WHY NOT APPLIED?

There is a law extant that "Road Commissioners" be appointed by the County Commissioners, and they are. In any and almost every other instance the law is carried out, but in the matter of working the public roads there don't seem to be any that applies. If a poor hungry man lifts a chicken from a roost and is apprehended, a Magistrate issues a warrant, the constable arrests the poor unfortunate and he has a trial and is penned till court convenes, is tried, found guilty and sentenced to the Pen. In the meantime his family suffers and is helped by the neighbors.

The Road Commissioners are appointed by law. They work the roads whenever they please, which is after cornplanting, as a general thing, and after the Tax-Payers have worn out their vehicles and bumped through and over the rough roads until it suits the convenience of that great man, the road commissioner. The office is so much sought after that it would seem that a man could be selected in the various districts, who would have enough pride to see that the roads were worked at the proper time. There is a time when "The Court," (if no other authority is sufficient to compel the roads to be worked) should use its authority, and the Mr. busy Supervisor or Commissioner, whatever he is called, should be compelled to go on the roads, or resign the much-sought-after position; and that is when the ground is soft and pliable. Then if worked it will not only turn off the water when it rains but the roads will harden just as a field will harden when worked too wet. It seems so strange that road makers are so slow in catching on to this very important part of road making. But year after year the same old way is pursued and there is no word of complaint, and to-day after at least ten years of road-machines and thousands of dollars road money spent, the roads are just like they were in the olden times.

The road from James Beachem's to Westminster has not been touched, looks like it had been ploughed with a furrow plow, holes and gullies across at places which are dangerous. True, they are worn down—(but at the expense of the wheels of the vehicles.) If roads were worked when the ground was soft, early in spring, we would have goods roads, no dust, no mud, for the reason that with the rounded road-bed the water will run off as fast as it falls. If the Honorable The County-Commissioners will take the trouble to investigate; will go to New Windsor District, where the roads were dragged with the king road drag early this spring, they will get a lesson that will convince them that there are other ways, to make and improve the dirt road, beside the old fogy idea, that its sufficient, that the socalled road Supervisor goes on a day or two when it suits his convenience, whether that be after harvest or after cornplanting. The road worked with drag never was as good, never was worked as early never had as little dust since it has been a road, as now and to prove it, come and see. I would suggest that the Commissioners get a team and ride over the road to New Windsor, examining it as they come along, and see the improvement after leaving Wakefield, where the road is being widened, and the hill cut down.

It is an easy thing to see why a road, worked when dry and hard, should cost more and would grind into dust, and wash away—to say nothing of the inconvenience, and the mud, and rough roads during March and April and longer. The law should step in and compel, under a penalty, the working of roads; and a man of brains should be selected to superintend the work—and not some goody-goody party worker, who never did anything for himself on his own premises. It is the money he is after—after all, and he gets it all.

Hundreds Killed in Storms.

A cyclone or wind storm of tremendous velocity swept over Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia on Friday evening, destroying much property and causing the death of 300 to 500 persons. In Louisiana 12 towns were partially wrecked, in Mississippi 19, in Alabama 6 and in Georgia 9. Substantial buildings generally withstood the fury of the storm, but the weak structures, most of which were occupied by colored people, collapsed and many of their occupants were killed.

But it was not alone in the town that property was destroyed and people killed. Death and desolation were caused along the entire track of the storm. In the neighborhood of Alenon, Miss., W. K. Howell and his wife and seven children were killed and all the members of a family of seven, 10 miles southwest of Richton, Miss., lost their lives. The dead are estimated to number not less than 350 (some estimates place the number at 500) and fully 1000 persons were injured. Many thrilling experiences and narrow escapes are related.

Oklahoma, Arkansas and Tennessee felt the storm to some extent, but the destruction of property and loss of life were small in those States in comparison with its effect in the other States named.

On the day preceding this great storm a tornado devastated a strip of territory 50 miles long in Texas. The town of Florence was partially wrecked and, it is reported, 15 people killed.

Tornadoes and cloud bursts occurred at other points in Texas on Saturday, when several towns were destroyed and a number of people killed.

Friday night a tornado destroyed 12 farm houses and 20 other buildings in Northern Nebraska. Over 100 head of livestock were killed and 14 people injured, but none of them fatally.

The same evening 23 buildings were destroyed by a tornado in Valley Springs, S. D., but no lives were lost.

The little town of Notre Dame de Salette, on the Lievre river in the Province of Quebec, Canada, was destroyed by a landslip on Monday. Most of the town was on the east bank of the river, which is only 50 yards wide. The west side was a bluff, 60 feet high, of blue clay on top of which were several buildings. This bluff slipped into and across the river destroying the 20 houses situated on the east bank and killing about 30 people.

TO THE CITIZENS OF WESTMINSTER.

I desire to call the attention of the citizens of Westminster to the fact that I was regularly nominated for the honorable position of Mayor of Westminster at the town meeting held at Odd Fellow's Hall, on the evening of April 24th.

I had previously agreed with friends of Mr. John B. Saylor, that if I should be defeated for the nomination, I would support the ticket nominated, and I believed that the successful candidates would receive manly treatment and that the action of the town meeting, which was regularly called by due notice, and fairly conducted, would be ratified by the fair minded people of this city.

Since the PUBLIC and REGULAR nominations for Mayor and Common Council were made, a few men at a private house in Westminster named a ticket in opposition to the people's ticket, without inviting the public.

I deem it to be the duty of every good citizen of Westminster to attend the election on Monday next and participate in the election of the regularly nominated ticket on which are men, who will contribute their efforts toward a government of law and order, an economical and careful administration of the finances of the city, the immediate repair and improvement of the streets and highways, and the payment of the bonded debt.

I desire to say that the statements which have been made by certain persons "that I have promised to make certain appointments if elected" are untrue and were stated by persons who knew them to be false when spoken.

The gentlemen on the regularly nominated ticket desire to thank the citizens of Westminster in advance for their support.

Respectfully
MICHAEL E. WALSH,
Candidate for Mayor.

A father's broken heart
Can only tell the agony,
How hard it is to part.

Oh our baby you have left us,
Left us, yes forevermore,
But we hope to meet our loved one
On that bright and happy shore.
By his parents.

Angels called our darling baby
From all cares and pain untold,
To the realms of life eternal,
To the land of purest gold.
By Grandmother.

Another little lamb has gone
To dwell with Him, who gave;
Another little darling babe
Is sheltered in the grave.
God needed one more angel child
Amidst his shining band,
And so He bent with loving smile,
And clasped our darling's hand.
