Rally Of Adult Bible Classes

1000 MEN IN LINE. FIVE BANDS.

DR. H. L. ELDERDICE DELIVERED ADDRESS TO MEN.

MRS. JOSEPH APPLE SPOKE TO WOMEN IN ARMORY.

Sunday afternoon last the seventh annual rally of the adult Bible classes of the Sunday schools of this county was held in this city.

The parade formed at Court House Square and on the adjacent streets, and moved promptly at 2:00 o'clock, in three divisions. Officer Dutrow, of the State Automobile Police force preceded the parade and cleared the way of all traffic.

George E. Matthews, mayor of Westminster; the Rev. Dr. M. J. Shroyer, president of the Carroll County Sunday School Association; the Rev. John S. Hollenbach, superintendent of adult work; George Mather, superintendent of religious work in the schools of the county; and the Rev. Dr. C. E. Forlines, of Westminster Theological Seminary, led the procession, in which delegations from about forty schools, with about 1,000 men and five bands of music took part.

Following the leaders came the Patriotic Order Sons of America Band of Hanover with the men of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, New Windsor, 100 strong. This delegation was preceded by a group of girls in white, carrying a large United States flag, followed by a group of boys bearing another similar flag. Then came delegations from the Bible classes of the Church of God, Carrollton; Methodist Protestant church, Uniontown; Wesley Methodist Episcopal church, Hampstead circuit; Mt. Airy Methodist Episcopal church with Mt. Airy band; Mt. Pleasant Methodist Episcopal church, Mechanicsville; St. Benjamin (Krider's) Reformed church; and men of the classes of Deer Park circuit Methodist Protestant churches.

The second division was led by the Westminster Band, 40 strong, followed by eighty members of the Bible class of Centenary Methodist Episcopal church, this city, with George R. Gehr, its teacher. The delegation, with its white caps, and white capes, with red circle over the right breast, the insignia of the International Association of Bible Classes, gave color to the parade, and attracted much attention. Following came delegations from St. John's Lutheran church, (Leister's) Sandyville Methodist Protestant church; Grace Lutheran, Westminster; Wakefield Church of God; St. Mary's Lutheran, Silver Run; Trinity Reformed, Manchester; Union Bridge Band; Keysville Lutheran; St. Paul's Reformed, Westminster. The third division was led by the Hampstead band, followed by delegations from Greenmount United Brethren Church; Westminster Methodist Protestant church; Emmanuel Lutheran church, Manchester; Messiah Lutheran, Woodbine; Trinity Methodist Episcopal South, Mt. Airy; Trinity Lutheran, Smallwood; St. Mark's Union, Snydersburg; Lineboro Union, and Western Maryland College.

The Rev. John S. Hollenbach presided at the large men's mass meeting at Alumni Hall, Western Maryland College. The Rev. Dr. A. Norman Ward, of the college, through whose courtesy Alumni Hall was available for the meeting, occupied a seat on the stage, with the officials of the county Sunday Schol Association, and clergymen participating in the service. The Rev. J. Walter Englar, of the Church of the Brethren, former president of the County Association offered prayer. The Rev. J. B. Rupley, pastor of Grace Lutheran church, this city, read as the scripture lesson, and the men sang "My Anchor Holds" and "Which Way Shall I Take?"

The speaker of the day was the Rev. Dr. Hugh Latimer Elderdice, president of the Westminster Theological Seminary, who was a delegate to the great World Conference on Faith and Order held at Lausanne, Switzerland, last August. The address of Dr. Elderdice was a powerful appeal for a United Christendom at home for the sake of a united Christendom in foreign lands. He declared that such a gathering as that Sunday with a dozen different denominations represented, demonstrated that this community can do team work, and is a miniature picture of the united Christendom that is sought to be brought about by the religious leaders who have directed the great world conferences held in the interest of church unity. He said that at the conference nearly 200 Christian denominations were represented by Christian leaders from every nation in the world, all branches of the Protestant Church, and the Patriarchs of the Greek Orthodox Catholic Church. At the conference, the five great subjects discussed were: The Cnurch, Its Message, The Gospel: The Church, Its Nature; The Church, Its Confessions of Faith; The Church, The Christian Ministry; The Church, The Sacraments; The Unity of Christendom. He said that as the first their was perfect agreement, but as to all the others there was such divergence of opinion, and sentiment, that agreement as to any basis of union seemed far in the future. As an encouraging sign, however, he pointed out the fact that at this conference for the first time representatives of the Greek Church and Protestant churches sat together in council, and that the body was united in singing hymns of praise, each group singing the hymns in its own language, and each in its own language joining in the Lord's Prayer. He closed his address by declaring that the unity of Christendom will be brought about when it does come not by the clergy and theological professors, but by the laymen in the church.

The hymns "Stand Up, Stand Up For Jesus," "Saviour, More Than Life to Me," and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," were sung by the audience, with Charles Forlines at the piano, and the Rev. Dr. Edward Hayes pronounced the benediction.

About 1,000 women and children attended the Women's Mass Meeting held at the Armory, many turned away when all chairs were taken. Mrs. J. W. Reinecke presided over the meeting and the following program was rendered: Trombone solo, H. M. Loats, Manchester; hymn, "Stand Up, Stand Up, For Jesus;" Scripture reading, Mrs. Martha Shaw; prayer, Mrs. John N. Garner; duet, Evangelistic song, "Some Glad Morning," Mrs. Little and Mr. Hawkins; trombone solo by Mr. Loats while the offering was received; hymn, "Saviour More Than Life To Me." The address was given by Mrs. Joseph Apple, wife of the president of Hood college, Frederick. Mrs. Apple spoke of the duty of the home and the Sunday school in the training of the child and the responsibilities of the parents to their children and the future generation. A pleasing feature of the program was the musical numbers. The choir was composed of members of the different choirs of the city, under the direction of Mrs. Harry M. Kimmey. The

PAGEANT OF CARROLL COUNTY ANNOUNCEMENT

The citizens of Carroll county are hereby invited to cooperate with Western Maryland College in the presentation of a pageant depicting the history of Carroll county, to be held on Hoffa Field, Westminster, Maryland, June 4th and 5th, 1928.

Miss Dorothy Elderdice, who has a national reputation as a pageant director, will write the pageant and direct it. The pageant will be given in connection with the Commencement of Western Maryland College. The public schools, the churches, the lodges, the civic and literary clubs, the business firms, and all county organizations will be asked to participate in making this historical pageant the greatest spectacular event that the county has ever known.

A. N. WARD,

President, Western Maryland College.

TERROR CAPTAIN NOT BADLY HURT

Orville "Greasy" Neal, captain and star back field ace of the Green Terrors, is not hurt as seriously as it was reported on Saturday evening. The Terror leader's arm was X-rayed Saturday by two Baltimore surgeons and they reported that the star's arm was not broken, but slightly dislocated. The Terror captain will probably not be in the game to-morrow with Loyola, but will be in uniform and will go in if he is needed. However Neal will be allright for the Fort Benning game, Friday, November 11. The Western Maryland ace was injured in the closing minutes of the third quarter in the game with Gettysburg last Saturday afternoon, when he carried the ball for a short gain. He was tackled and when he got up after the play it was noticed that his arm was hanging limp.
