BEASTS ROAR AT JEWS IN CAGE

Refugees of Massacre in Sultan's Menagerie.

7,000 NAKED AND HOMELESS

Wild Mobs Of Mutinous Moorish Soldiers Tore the Clothing From Men, Women and Children.

Fez, Morocco.—The Jewish quarter of Fez presents a lamentable spectacle as a result of the recent pillaging and looting by the revolting populace and mutinous Moorish soldiers. On the occasion of the preceding ravaging of the quarter the scenes enacted did not approach in horror and devastation those which occurred last week.

Of the 12,000 Jewish residents of the capital no fewer than 7,000 have been rendered homeless by fire, and these have now taken refuge, naked and hungry, in the gardens of the Sultan's palace.

Hundreds of emaciated human beings are huddled together there in empty cages of the Sultan's menagerie, and these are surrounded by cages containing wild beasts, which, maddened by the sight of human flesh, fill the gardens with their roars.

When they attacked Mellah, the Jewish quarter, the people composing the infuriated mob were chiefly bent on pillage. They tore the clothing from men, women and children alike, and these, shrieking with terror, raced for refuge into the palace gardens.

The mob then ransacked and burned at its leisure, destroying everything that came in its way. The synagogues were wrecked and the sacred books and parchments torn and burned.

Objects too heavy to be carried off, like beds and furniture, were first hacked to pieces and then piled in the streets and set on fire. The streets are a picture of desolation. Here and there are to be seen the naked corpses of persons who were struck down while trying to escape from the frenzied Moors.

At the French, British and other consulates bread is being supplied to the starving refugees and the consuls are endeavoring to find some kind of shelter for the homeless.

The bodies of the French officers, a number of whom were killed in the recent fighting, have not yet been all found, but those recovered show that the soldiers suffered terrible tortures and their corpses were mutilated.

FLOOD DEATH TOLL.

Area Damaged Over 50,000,000 Acres.

Memphis, Tenn.—The death toll in the overflowed Mississippi delta section will reach 300, according to reports received from rescue parties at Greenville, Rosedale and Natchez. Most of the dead are negroes. The loss of stock will amount to half a million dollars and the flood area has spread over fifty million acres.

Three hundred hamlets have been washed away. Many will be abandoned. Late reports from the sinking of the steamer Concordia, near Natchez, Miss., say 15 persons were drowned and 300 head of stock, valued at $10,000, lost. The boat was doing rescue work in the fields of Louisiana, opposite Natchez, and struck a submerged snag. She sank in 20 feet of water.

Thousands of poor whites and negroes left in their crude cabin homes are starving.

Settlements 50 miles back from the Mississippi River are surrounded by water 10 to 15 feet deep. Supplies are cut off and rescue parties report that many were compelled to kill dogs for food. Help is being rushed to these people by the government. The Mississippi River, at Rosedale, Miss., is over a hundred miles wide.

Agrees To Germany's Proposition For International Action.

Washington.—The State Department has assured the German Ambassador of its acceptance in principle of the German proposition to endeavor to safeguard the lives of passengers on the high seas by the combined action of the great maritime powers. The department has professed a lively interest in the success of the negotiations. It is expected Germany will call the international conference.

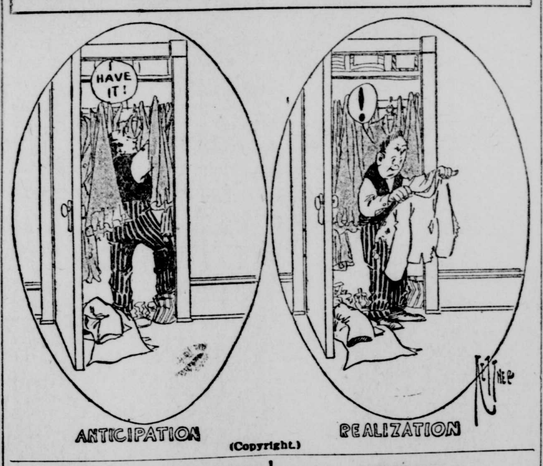
Funds For Titanic Memorial.

New York.—The American Science and Historical Preservation Society, of which J. Pierpont Morgan is the honorary president, and the Seamen's Benefit Society, are raising funds to give the lighthouse tower and time ball on the new Seamen's Institute here as a permanent memorial to the Titanic victims. This memorial, as previously announced, is to commemorate the death of every man and woman whose life was lost when the vessel went down.

LIFE'S DISAPPOINTMENTS



FUGITIVES TELL OF CRIMES

Woman Beaten By Bandits—Citizens Of United States Compelled To Leave Homes and Property To Thieves.

Galveston, Texas.—Forty-seven passengers, all except one citizens of the United States, who arrived here from Vera Cruz on the steamer Texas, tell of alleged torture and assassination of Americans in the Republic.

All the refugees left their lands, homes, furniture and everything they possessed except money enough for passage and the clothes on their backs.

Among the entire party there are only four or five trunks.

Refugee Tells Story.

M. H. Ish, one of the refugees, told of the murder of an American citizen named Wait.

Mr. Wait was a neighbor to me," said Mr. Ish. "He had sold several head of cattle and hidden the money. A band of desperadoes came to his hacienda and demanded money. Failing to get it, they deliberately beheaded him with their machettes, herded his cattle together and drove them off. There are many instances just like this.

"We lived in a little settlement where a colony of 11 American families had founded the town of Sanburn. All of these 11 families left because we were afraid to remain longer, knowing we would all be killed or tortured. I am 64 years old. I went to Mexico one year ago, put all I had, $1,650, in land and improvements there, and today I have only this—showing his two hands—and the clothes on my back.

"Before leaving we filed our claims for damages with the American consul in Mexico City."

27 BODIES IDENTIFIED.

Cable Ship Sends First List Of Titanic Victims Recovered.

New York.—The first list of names of bodies recovered from the Titanic disaster by the cable steamer Mackay-Bennett was received here through wireless messages to the White Star Line offices.

The list of 27 names contain none of the most prominent men who perished, unless it be that of "George W. Widen," as sent by wireless, refers, as is believed probable, to George D. Widener, of Philadelphia.

The original passenger lists of the Titanic do not mention "Widen," which apparently establishes the identity of the body as that of Mr. Widener, a son of P. A. B. Widener, one of the directors of the White Star Line, who, together with his son Harry, was lost.

The wireless message, after listing the names, concluded: "All preserved," presumably referring to the condition of the bodies.

A number of the 27 names in the list do not check up with the Titanic's passenger list, which leads to the belief that a number of the bodies received are members of the Titanic's crew.

GERMANY TAKES LEAD.

Urges International Agreement For Greater Security At Sea.

Washington.—Germany has taken the lead in a movement to secure greater safety to passengers on the high seas by international agreement. Count Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, informed the State Department that the safety of passengers on transAtlantic liners always had been a subject of deep concern to the German government. The imperial government, he said, believed that the time was now ripe for an agreement between all maritime nations.

The infant was but slightly injured.

COAL STRIKE MENACE IS PAST

Anthracite Miners and Operators Agree.

INCREASE OF TEN PER CENT

Recommendation Of Terms and Conditions Of Adjusting Differences To Be Acted Upon Thursday, May 2.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Confirmation of the report that the anthracite miners and operators had reached an agreement in settlement of their dispute as to wages and hours of labor was had when the office of President Baer in this city gave out the following:

"Mr. George F. Baer, the chairman of the operators' committee, has issued a call for a meeting of the general committees of operators' and miners' representatives in New York on Thursday, May 2, at 2 P. M., to receive and act upon the report of the subcommittee appointed by the general committee to suggest a method of settling differences, the sub-committee having unanimously submitted a recommendation of terms and conditions looking to an adjustment of all differences.

"The terms and conditions of this report, however, will not be made public until after the meeting of the general committees on May 2."

The report that the sub-committee of anthracite miners and operators had reached an agreement in New York and that the new pact includes a 10 per cent. increase in wages was received with satisfaction in all parts of the anthracite regions.

The new working arrangement will be presented to the full committee of 10 operators and 10 miners on May 2. If this committee approves it, the postponed agreement will have to be ratified by the miners before it can be put into effect. This probably will be done at a convention of delegates from the three anthracite districts.

According to the reported agreement, the miners are conceded a 10 per cent. increase in wages. They asked for 20 per cent.

The board of conciliation created by the anthracite coal strike commission after the strike of 1902, with some modifications, is continued. The miners asked for a "more convenient and uniform system of adjusting local grievances."

The sliding scale by which the men were given an increase of 1 per cent. when the price of coal was advanced five cents a ton above the $4.50 basis at tidewater is abolished.

A four-year agreement is reported. The miners asked for a one-year arrangement.

Nothing has yet been made public regarding the demand for a reduction of hours, recognition of the union or the minor demands.

The sub-committee has been meeting almost daily since April 11. It is expected that if the agreement is ratified by the miners the 170,000 men who have been idle since April 1 will have returned to work by May 10. It is possible that the executive committee of the three anthracite districts, headed by National President John White, may order the workers back at an earlier date and trust to the convention to indorse their course.

SAY THEY SAW TITANIC SINK

Mount Temple Was Only Fifty Miles Away.

RUSHED TO AID OF SHIP

British Vessel Makes Report and Premier Of Canada Sends Word To Washington—Officers Will Be Examined.

Washington.—Harold G. Lowe, fifth officer of the sunken Titanic, Wednesday told the Senate Investigating Committee his part in the struggle of the survivors for life following the catastrophe. His testimony developed that with a volunteer crew he rescued four men from the water, saved a sinking collapsible lifeboat by towing it astern of his and took off 20 men and one woman from the bottom of an overturned boat. Every one of those under his charge he landed safely on the Carpathia. From first to last Lowe's story showed that he played the man.

Ordered away in charge of lifeboat No. 14, he packed it to its capacity on the top deck, and, fearing that some might attempt to jump into it while it was descending, kept up a fusillade from his revolver. Once afloat, he took charge of a flotilla of small craft, which eventually were picked up by the rescue ship without the loss of a life.

Saw Titanic Sink.

Competing in interest with the day's testimony was the interchange of telegrams between Senator William Alden Smith, chairman, and the acting Premier of Canada, George E. Foster. The latter told of the docking of the steamer Mount Temple at St. John, N. B., with passengers aboard who claimed to have seen the Titanic sink. It was believed that the Mount Temple was the ship that was only five miles from the White Star liner when she took her final plunge.

Senator Smith has requested that the depositions of the officers and crew of the Mount Temple be sent to him. In addition, he accepted the offer of Dr. F. C. Quitzman, of Toronto, to appear before the committee. Dr. Quitzman was one of the passengers who said they saw the Titanic sink.

Acting Premier Foster's telegram, dated, follows:

"Captain Mount Temple reports received corrected message from Titanic 12.30 A. M. ship's time Monday. Was then 50 miles west and south of position sent out by Titanic. Immediately altered course to reach Titanic, but did not arrive at her position until 4.30 A. M., when could not see Titanic's light. Saw no sign of ship or boats. Cruised around position until received message from Carpathia at 8.44 A. M. that she had picked up 20 boat loads and that Titanic had sunk. Received another message at 8.50 from Carpathia; no need to stand by, as nothing more could be done. Under these circumstances it does not seem necessary to detain boat due to sail Friday evening. If considered necessary, commission will be appointed to take captain's evidence. Will no doubt be examined later by British commission."

Wants Officers Examined.

In reply Senator Smith dispatched the following:

"Telegram received. I will greatly appreciate it if depositions of captain of the vessel Mount Temple, which is scheduled to sail from St. John, N. B., Friday, could be taken by commissioners, as suggested by you, and forwarded to me at Washington relative to the movements of his ship on Sunday evening, April 14, stating relative positions to Titanic and Carpathia, together with a detailed report of all wireless messages sent and received."

MINERS TO GET HIGHER WAGE.

Grievances To Be Settled Directly With the Men.

New York.—The sub-committee which is arranging the terms of settlement in the anthracite situation has raised the wage increase, it is reported, from 5 to 5.26 per cent. and may further increase it. It is said that the operators will agree to abolish the conciliation board and substitute a plan by which grievances will be settled directly with the men.

WOMEN BALKED AT LEAP TO LIFEBOAT

Cause of Many Being Left Explained at Hearing.

INDIVIDUAL EXAMINATIONS

Boats Hung Out Three Feet From Ship's Side—Ship's Crew Say Builder Aboard Passed Word She Was Sinking.

Washington.—Why many women were lift to drown on the Titanic was explained to Senator Smith in his private office by F. O. Evans, a Titanic sailor.

Senator Smith announced that 14 members of the crew were examined at night by individual members of the investigating committee. About 12 more men remain to be disposed of in the same manner, and most of the crew probably will be released without testifying in open session. The evidence taken at night will be entered in the regular testimony.

The committee members seem to be well pleased with the examination of witnesses by individual members of the committee, and this procedure will be followed with all of the members of the crew here, and may be adopted with the passengers. The individual examinations are a great improvement on the plan first adopted, and, according to indications now, the investigation will be concluded some time this week. If the old manner of questioning all witnesses in open session had been followed the investigation would have taken several weeks.

ASTOR AND STRAUS BODIES.

Found By the Mackay-Bennett Cable Ship.

New York.—The bodies of John Jacob Astor and Isidor Straus, who were lost in the Titanic disaster, have been recovered and embalmed and are now on board the funeral ship Mackay-Bennett. This information was contained in a wireless dispatch from the Mackay-Bennett to the White Star Line offices in this city. In the dispatch was given a list of 34 names of additional bodies recovered, and a list of 15 which have been embalmed.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says:

"Trade is steady as a whole, and in many lines the volume of business is in excess of that done at this time last year. Still, more or less irregularity has developed, and there has been some recession from the activity witnessed in recently preceding weeks. This trend is due in part to the fact that near future spring requirements have been covered. However, the undertone of affairs is strong."

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

"Reports from the leading trade centres indicate that the recent progress toward increased business confidence and activity continues and no current development, however disturbing, seems to check the movement. The growth of a more optimistic business sentiment is especially conspicuous in the West and Southwest. The fearful disaster to the steamship Titanic has had a more or less depressing effect upon the market and is a matter of special concern in shipping and insurance circles."
