Boy Wanted

Somwhere in this town is one boy who is a "go-getter" spirit, full of grit and ambition, and absolutely honest. We want that boy. He will be the only boy agent in this town for the famous MOVIE WEEKLY MAGAZINE. He will work after school and other spare time. His pay will be what he makes it; besides fine prizes and free Movie Tickets. When he makes good, he will be promoted. If you are between 14 and 19 years old, determined to "make good" and truly think you are the boy for this job, then apply by letter to Mr. E. L. Gilbert, "Personal," 3d floor, 119 West 40th street, New York City. Give full details of any past selling experience; your age; parent's full name and business; your school grade and at least two references.

Out of writing paper? We have just what you would like, no matter who you are. Come and see! The American Union.

LESSON FOR JUNE 4

JEHOIAKIM TRIES TO DESTROY GOD'S WORD

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 36.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Word of our God shall stand forever.—Isa. 40:8.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 55:8-11; Matt. 5:17-19.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Burning of a Good Book.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jehoiakim Burns the Prophet's Book.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A King Who Scorned God's Word.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Meet the Forces Antagonistic to God's Word.

I. The Book Being Written (vv. 1-4).

1. The Time of (v. 1). In the fourth year of Jehoiakim, Jeremiah had been exercising the prophetic ministry some thirty years.

2. Against Whom Spoken (v. 2). They were directed against Israel, Judah and all the nations.

3. The Purpose of (v. 3). The grand object of the Lord in sending this message by the prophet was Judah's repentance.

4. Method of (v. 4). Jeremiah dictated the words of the Lord to Baruch the Scribe, who wrote them upon a roll of a book.

II. The Book Being Read (vv. 5-21).

Jeremiah was unable to speak the message of the Lord to the people, as he was "shut up" (v. 5). "Shut up" most likely means a royal ban against Jeremiah's proclamation of God's Word to the people or against his entering the temple.

1. To the People (vv. 6-10). The occasion which brought the people together was a day of fasting (v. 6), because of the threatening of the Babylonians. Jeremiah directed Baruch to read to the people the words of the Lord which he had dictated to him, with the hope that the people would present their supplication before the Lord and return every one from his evil way.

2. To the Princes (vv. 11-19). While the reading of the book unto the people seemingly created no great impression, yet Michaiah was so deeply moved that he went to the scribe's chamber where the princes were assembled and declared unto them all the words which he had heard Baruch read. The princes sent for Baruch to come and bring the roll with them. Baruch came and read to them with the result that (1) they were aroused with fear (v. 16). (2) They inquired as to how he had written the words (vv. 17, 18). To this he replied that he had written in the book the words which Jeremiah had dictated to him. (3) Their concern for the safety of Jeremiah and Baruch (v. 19). They were instructed to hide themselves from man's sight.

3. To the King (vv. 20, 21). The princes regarded the words of the Lord to be of such importance that they should be read in the hearing of the king, for he was mainly involved in the judgments pronounced. Upon their report of the matter to the king, he had Jehudi bring the roll and read it to him in the presence of the princes.

III. The King Destroying the Roll (vv. 22-26).

Instead of becoming penitent and afraid he became enraged and cut the roll leaf by leaf and threw it into the fire until it was consumed. This he did against the intercession of some of the princes. When the roll was destroyed he ordered Jeremiah and Baruch arrested.

IV. The Roll Rewritten (vv. 27-32).

The burnt roll was reproduced by the command of the Lord, and many like words were added unto them. We should learn from this incident—

1. The Indestructibility of God's Word. Men may cut it to pieces and burn it, but the Word of God shall stand forever. It comes to light again with woes added to be visited upon its would-be destroyers.

2. The reason men attempt to destroy God's Word. It is because of the authoritative rebuke of their sins. The Bible arraigns man for his pride and wickedness and asserts God's sovereign power over man and his demand for a personal surrender unto Him and worship of Him.

3. The Method of Attempted Destruction of God's Word. It was part by part. "When Jehudi had read three or four leaves he cut it with a penknife." The rationalist today cuts out the biblical conception of God as a being whose essential nature demands punishment of sin; therefore he cuts out the Bible doctrine of man as created of God in His likeness and image. Instead of that he makes man a product of evolution; therefore he explains away the fall of man.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

CULLING STANDARD AND MIXED BREEDS OF POULTRY

In Knox County, Ind., half the number of flocks of hens culled under the supervision of the county agent, employed cooperatively by the United States Department of Agriculture, the State Agricultural College, and the county, were standard bred and the other half mixed breeds, so their comparative merits could be considered through culling.

The 9 standard bred flocks numbered 1,087, while the 9 of mixed flocks numbered 1,103, or sixteen more hens. The week before culling, the standard bred hens laid 2,906 eggs and the mixed breeds 2,547, or 352 less. In culling, 314 standard bred and 355 mongrel hens were removed from the flocks, leaving 773 standard bred and 738 mongrels, or 35 more standard breds. Two owners of the standard bred flocks, being breeders, culled much closer than the owners of the mixed flocks. The week after culling the standard bred hens laid 2,724 and the mongrels 2,433 eggs.

The figures show that among the 1,087 standard bred hens there were 41 less culls than among the 1,103 of the mixed flocks, and that they laid 359 more eggs the week before culling and 291 more the week after.

Pointed Poultry Paragraphs.

The busy hen is the one that makes the best layer.

The tamer the flock the more valuable and profitable they usually are.

Regularity in feeding is one of the secrets of success with fowls.

Look out for the lice when your chickens look droopy and sleepy.

Keep charcoal where the fowls have ready access to it at all times.

Filth causes more sickness than anything else. Clean up and keep things clean.

Laying hens and hens being fattened for market should not be kept in the same pen.

Some folks occasionally take the roosts down and wash them with boiling soap suds to kill the lice.

Exercise makes the hens lay better, insures fertile eggs, and makes the chicks grow strong and healthy.

Be kind to your fowls; make friends with them and they will repay you. Fright reduces the egg yield.

Eat or sell off all your surplus cockrels before commencing on the pullets.

It pays to feed the young fowls liberally until they are full grown.

Give the fowls plenty of encouragement to scratch by keeping a portion of each house or pen deeply bedded with leaves or straw. Nothing like it for promoting thrift and contentment among a flock off fowls of all ages and at all seasons.

Sell off all surplus roosters and all old hens. Keep only hens under three years old for laying, and not a single rooster more than is necessary for breeding Feeding useless birds soon eats up all the profits.

Shade, fresh water, clean quarters, good ventilation after night, and freedom from vermin, are cardinal essentials for the thrift and well being of fowls in hot weather.

Geese grow fast and need no ffeed in the summer if they have a grassy run.

Give your hens careful attention during the moulting season, and you will get many more eggs next winter.

Never locate the hen's nests too high—it's better to have them just so the hen can step in and not have to jump in. This will save eggs from being broken.

FIGHTING CATTLE T. B. IS SUCCESSFUL BY AREA PLAN

In addition to systematic eradication of cattle tuberculosis by accredited-herd plan, interest in the "area plan," as it is called, has lately developed in many states, according to the report issued by the United States Department of Agriculture describing progress during March. The eradication of tuberculosis under the comprehensive plan generally includes a county as a unit and all the cattle in the county are tested. The report that in states where the eradication work was concentrated in certain localities in an effort to wipe out the disease entirely, a great many more animals were tested than in states where the area plan is not yet followed to any considerable extent.

In one month, Nebraska, working on the area plan, tested 21,000 cattle. A number of other states made high records as a result of the concentration of effort in a few counties. During March, Michigan tested 19,817 head; New York, 13,076; Missouri, 12,799; Indiana, 11,933; Wisconsin, 11,778; Iowa, 11,250; and Tennessee, 8,455. The total number tested in all the states during the month was 228, 779.

The area plan of testing is a valuable supplement to accredited-herd work which has resulted in the eradication of many thousand head of tuberculous cattle and the establishment of more than 13,000 herds accredited as free from the disease

There are now more than 305,000 accredited cattle in the country; over 1,250,000 tested once and found free of tuberculosis; more than 2,133,000 under supervision; and about 408,000 on the waiting list. Wisconsin leads in number of accredited cattle with 36,759, and Minnesota follows with 33,759. However, the rate at which the work is going on in some other states, these two will have to keep very busy to stay at the top.

You may be lucky—but everybody's luck changes some day. Play safe! The Demon FIRE is no respector of persons and in a short time may play havoc with a life time's savings. Why not take out that Policy today?

Give Their Legs to Uncle Sam

Living pictures no less than drawn pictures tell their story at a glance. Here is a photograph of a living combination used to advertise the recent Chicago Carnival for Disabled Veterans. Students of advertising as well as students of human ingratitude can learn a lesson from this story without words.

FARMER JONES was progressive. He believed in good barns, good outbuildings. But there he stopped. He thought that fire insurance was too expensive. "Would never need it, either."

One day a pile of straw and litter caught fire. From a small fire it became a big one. It consumed his barn, and seriously damaged his homestead.

—and Farmer Jones lost EVERYTHING! He was not insured!

Are You Farmer Jones? Where would you be if your property was consumed? Remember, every day of the year fires are busy devouring the work of years. It may visit you tonight. Tomorrow——?

Be safe—be sure—INSURE—at once, Today. Let us tell you how little fire insurance really costs.
