Wilson Nominated on Forty-Sixth Ballot

The hoped for Democratic lovefeast has resolved itself into a family row.

The air is full of politics but a strong wind in August will blow most of it out to sea.

They have reached the calling-each-other-names stage in the Democratic Convention in Baltimore.

The Baltimore News is doing a lot of lecturing. Some one must have hurt its feelings.

The Republican convention was stormy but compared to the Democratic one it was a mere summer breeze.

The Republican party does not elect its candidates until November. Some other parties have theirs elected in July or August—in their minds.

The political winds have blown before but the one now blowing is getting to be a gale. Oh you harmony Democrats!

Mr. Stanchfield, a New York delegate in the Democratic Convention yesterday accused Mr. Bryan with being a partner of Mr. Roosevelt. The plot is thickening. What next?

La Follette is now abusing Roosevelt. Before very long we will hear Bryan abusing Wilson. The so-called progressives seem to be falling out with each other. They all want to be generals.

During all the hubbub that has been going on for the past few weeks President Taft has been the quietest man in the country. That is the advantage of having a judicial temperament. Mr. Taft never gets excited.

Some of the delegates to the Democratic convention are making a lot of fuss about the New York delegation supporting this or that candidate but along about November the same people will be very glad to receive substantial financial support from the people whom the delegation is charged with represnting. It takes a "barrel" of money to run a campaign and the people who are howling about Tammany Hall will be licking its hands before November.

Sherman said if he had the making of the songs of a nation he cared not who made its laws. But in this generation they say give us the "barrel" and we care not who makes the sentiment or inaugurates reforms in the nation. It ought not to be so, but we are very much inclined to believe it is so. It takes a lot of money to run campaigns because we are a lot of busy people and no one cares to do anything unless he is paid for it. And we don't mean buying votes either, because everything done in a campaign means money, even the oratory and other fire works.

The farmers have rescued this country from demagogues before and will have to do it again this year. The noise this year is being made by some of the people of the large towns and cities because of high prices of food stuffs and because of some imaginary grievances but it will avail them nothing even if they succeed in electing their candidates. The food will be just as high and there will still be other things for them to complain of. The farmers are now having their innings and are not worrying very much about the political situation. They will act at the proper time.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreet's says:

"Better weather, favorable crop reports, increased orders for future delivery, better retail trade, heavy consumption of finished steel, which taxes mill producing capacity, and higher prices for plates, shapes and bars, comprehend the leading features of the week.

"Withal, current trade in the larger lines has decreased, as a natural proceeding at this season of the year, when wholesale dealers and jobbers are about to take stock to find out how they stand from the viewpoint of profits and to make preparations for fall and beyond. Jobbers, especially those purveying staple goods, have done a little better in the way of reorders. Still, as a general proposition, these distributors, especially those engaged in selling the various lines of dry goods, are doing little on regular spot business, although clearance sales of odds and ends, suitable for the bargain counters of retail dealers, tend to prevent marked dullness.

"Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 3,187,531 bushels, against 4,734,034 bushels last week and 21,078,405 bushels this week last year. Corn exports for the week are 149,635 bushels, against 59,463 bushels last week and 613,848 bushels in 1911."
